Preparing for the Campaign.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The members of the democratic national executive committee have been summoned to New York City to assist in mapping out the features of the national campaign.

Senators Gorman, Ransom, Kenna and Senator-elect Tamm left here tonight for New York to participate in the meeting that is to be held at democratic headquarters tomorrow. In referring to the coming election, Senator Gorman remarked today that he does not expect the speaking part of the campaign will fairly begin before the first of September, but in the meantime all the political machinery in the various States will be overhauled and placed in perfect running order. The tariff question will have to be fully explained throughout the New England States, so that the workmen may not be led astray by republican utterances. Hard and continuous work will be necessary all along the line, but the great struggle will be over New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Indiana. These are the old battlegrounds of the last campaign, and they will be again the scene of most of the desperate fighting.

A BUREAU OF INFORMATION.

An immense amount of campaign matter is just now being sent out of Washington under the auspices of the democratic bureau of information. This bureau was established in the various States by a number of patriotic democrats who have no connection with the public service. Speeches delivered in Congress on all of the leading questions of the hour are being distributed by hundreds of thousands, and thereby a vast amount of useful knowledge has reached those who are most in need of enlightenment, especially on the tariff question. The expenses of this bureau have been maintained by the popular subscription. At the outset the gentlemen in charge of the bureau were obliged to struggle rather severely to keep up operations. The number of enthusiastic subscribers was small, and many of those who desired to contribute hesitated to do so because they did not fully comprehend the President's policy on the subject of donations for political purposes. When the bureau was out of funds and the gentlemen in charge were about to close up in despair, one of the number called upon the President and explained the object and the benefit to be derived from the maintenance of such a bureau. The President was also informed that many gentlemen in public office were prepared to encourage and assist the bureau, but they were afraid of violating the wishes of the President on the subject. The latter upon learning that the bureau was conducted by gentlemen in no way attached to the public service, but who were simply working for the general welfare of the democratic cause, cheerfully gave the movement his approval. He said further that it was a legitimate and meritorious work, and in no way in conflict with his civil-service utterances. As a further evidence of his sanction he forwarded the treasurer of the bureau his check for $10,000, and voluntarily obligated himself to contribute further. The action of the President was made known to other prominent officials who desired to contribute, but had refrained for fear of violating some of the President's ideas of reform. They promptly sent in their donations, and now the bureau is in excellent running order.

Two singular accidents, one narrowly missing being fatal, occurred in Chicago Tuesday. John Burgess, while on his way to work, was passing along Clark street, when a stone weighing 50 pounds fell from the fifth story of a building, grazed his forehead and mashed his foot. Later in the day a stone weighing 1,000 pounds fell from the third story of the courthouse, in the north end of the rotunda, where repairs were being made. No one was hurt.

Prof. Albert D. Hager, ex-secretary of the Chicago Historical Society, died Sunday from his effects of an accidental overdose of morphine taken Friday night.

GENERAL NEWS.

Items Clipped from our Exchanges from all Quarters of the Globe.

A letter received in Buffalo from Mr. Gladstone says he strongly supports international copyright.

A company has been incorporated in Illinois to build an underground railroad for Chicago and the surrounding country.

Ex-Gov. Carney, the second executive and war Governor of Kansas, died of apoplexy at Leavenworth Saturday. He was Governor during 1863 and 1864.

Congressman McKinley Tuesday accepted an invitation to visit the Georgia Chautauqua during August and make a speech. The invitation was tendered him by Senator Brown.

General Schofield says there is no foundation for the rumors that he was to be placed in command of the army during the temporary disability of Gen. Sheridan.

The failure of Geo. D. Morrison, a stock broker and member of the New York Stock exchange board, was announced on the floor of the exchange Saturday.

Prof. Thomas L. Norwood, dean of the faculty of the University of Tennessee, died Saturday at the home of his brother at Lenoir after a sudden illness.

S. P. Shotters & Co's. chemical works, Savannah, Ga., were burned Tuesday. Loss $10,000. Insurance $5,000.

The works had been in operation five months, and produced rosin oil.

The Brewers' Organization of the United States has 688 members. The total quantity of beer made last year was 22,400,335 barrels, or one barrel for every three people in the country.

The large paper mill of John De Varennes at East Lee, Illinois, was destroyed by fire at ten o'clock Monday evening. The mill employed 150 hands. The loss will be about $100,000 if the destruction is complete.

August Delaf, a Bohemian, shot and instantly killed John Phillips and "Skip" Larkin, in Chicago, Monday night. The shooting took place in the Bohemian park during a drunken row. The murderer was arrested.

P. P. Stout, who shot and killed his eldest son, Adolph, at Pittsburgh, last spring, became the subject of a sensational trial Tuesday. Stout was indicted for murder in the second degree, the penalty for which is 12 years in the penitentiary.

When the cases of Chapek, Chlebin and Hronck, the alleged dynamites, were called in Chicago Saturday, Chapek and Chlebin could not be found, and their bail was declared forfeited. Later Chapek was surrendered by his bondsman.

John Anderson, who had been imprisoned for ten days in a well that had been in on him at Johnston, Neb., was released Saturday in fairly good condition, his rescuers having succeeded several days before in getting food and water to him.

The Standing Rock Agency Indians were in camp all Thursday night, and after many speeches every Indian gave his assent to a proposition not to sign the treaty. The Indians finally agreed to stay until Monday, but said their minds were not like children, and that they would not sign then.

The foundry connected with the Edison Machine Works, Schenectady, N. Y., was destroyed by fire Saturday. Loss $200,000. Insurance $75,000. The building was one of ten which cover five acres of ground. A new structure will be erected immediately.

Albert G. Krothe, a well-known hotel-keeper of Wilkesbarre, Pa., died suddenly on Saturday, aged 50. About two years ago his wife ran away to Chicago with a lawyer named Charles Phelan, a boarder at the hotel then kept by Krothe and his wife had lived happily for years. Since then he had lived quietly, though oppressed by his domestic troubles.

Captain J. W. Dunham, of the ship Pennsylvania, of St. John, N. B., has been awarded a gold medal by the American government for services rendered to the crew of the United States schooner George E. Young, on the 3rd of April, 1887. Sir Adolphe Curon has been called by the marine department to make the presentation to the captain, who is now in Quebec.

General Simon Cameron, the Nestor of Pennsylvania republicanism, is reported to have said recently of President Cleveland: "He has proved himself a bright man, let people say what they will. I like the way in which he brought his party to stand by his message, and his party showed their good sense in so doing. That's the way to win."

Patrick and David McCloskey, brothers-in-law, and keepers of opposition fruit and vegetable stalls in the Union market, St. Louis, quarreled Saturday night, and David slashed Patrick four times with a butcher knife in the neck and back. The wounds in the neck are said to have severed the jugular vein, and fifty-two stitches were required to close them. At last accounts Patrick was not quite dead, and David was in the calaboose.

Chairman Hoge and Murphy, charged with being implicated in the Burlington dynamite conspiracy, waived an examination in Chicago Saturday. The bail formerly given was allowed to stand for their appearance. The information, Kelley and McGilguy, Hoge's clerks, did the same. In the trial at Aurora, Ill., the prosecution rested their case, and the complaints against Banerstein and Goding for holding dynamite into the State was then taken up.

The counts of the indictment against Ives, Stagner and Woodruff at Cincinnati. The general charge is embezzlement, and there are four captions to the counts, respectively charging the indicted persons with embezzling certain railroad shares; with destroying certificates with intent to embezzle; with removing receipts with intent to embezzle; and with committing these several acts with intent to steal and convert to their own use.

When the case of C. C. Nelson, the abducting president of the North Side Savings Bank of Atlanta, Ga., arrested in Toronto for bringing stolen money into Canada, was called on Saturday day the witness on the prosecution appeared. It was ascertained that Nelson had given two representatives of the Atlanta bank he defrauded $5,500, and that they gave him a release from all claims. He also paid the police $500 and half of the reward offered for his capture. He has remaining some $10,000 in money and valuables, and is that much ahead. No one will prosecute him.

THE GREATEST BATER ON RECORD.

In the "Dictionnaire des Sciences Medicales" Dr. Percy Willis has named Tarrare. This man was born near Lyons, and came up to Paris, where his first exploit was to eat a basket of apples at a friend's expense. On various occasions he swallowed a series of corks and other indigestible matter, which produced such violent colic that he was obliged to attend the Hotel Dieu, and while being examined almost managed to swallow the watchchain and seals of the surgeon in attendance. M. Girard, on the occasion of one of these attacks of colic it was tried to frighten him out of gross habits by declaring that it would be necessary to open his stomach, and the doctor proceeded to arrange his instruments accordingly. Tarrare, however, found an opportunity to run away, and relieving himself by taking copious draughts of warm water. Soon after he found that his appetite had really increased to an excessive amount, probably owing to the irritation produced by these absurd tricks. At seventeen years of age, when he weighed one hundred pounds, he could eat twenty-four pounds of beef in as many hours. He now entered the army, and being recognized by Surgeon Major M. Ouerelle, of the Ninth Regiment of Hussars, was detained for the sake of curiosity. From the day of his admission he was ordered quadruple rations, with pickings and waste meat, but often slipped into the dispensary and laid hands on anything eatable. One day he was observed to seize a large cat, and after sucking his blood let it in a very short time only cleanly picked bones, and hair hanging out of the corners of his mouth like that of other carnivora. He was fond of serpents and eels, swallowing them whole. On another occasion he consumed in a few minutes a re-past spread for fifteen German work people, of milk, etc., after which he was blown out like a balloon. In the presence of some officers he swallowed at one sitting thirty pounds of liver and lights. His insatiable appetite was for once in his life made useful by his being selected to carry a correspondence between General Bentharris and a French colonel, which was inserted in a box and swallowed, but he was caught and soundly thrashed. On one occasion he fell under suspicion of having eaten a child fourteen months old. It is affirmed that he was of mild and gentle manners and aspect. After death his stomach was found in a very diseased condition.—London Standard.

Seventy-Six Houses Burned.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 1.—Between 11 and 12 o'clock today a message was received in this city that a disastrous fire was raging in Suffolk and involving assistance, saying that at least 1,000 feet of houses were needed. (Editor Engineer Thomas Riddle at once dispatched steam engine No. 2; a hose carriage with 1,150 feet of hose and about twenty-five members of the fire department by a special train over the Norfolk and Western Railroad. Later Mayor Ben Riddle, of Suffolk, telegraphed Mayor Baird, of Portsmouth, saying he feared the whole town would be destroyed, and asking that another steam engine and more hose be sent. Mayor Baird at once ordered up the Chambers steam fire company, and under Chief Engineer W. T. Robinson it left on a special train to the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad.

The fire originated about 10.30 o'clock in old warehouses in the rear of the drug store of J. P. Webb, in the Escorial Block, Washington Square, and burned with the most alarming rapidity and fierceness, causing great excitement and consternation, and was not gotten under control until 1.30 in the afternoon. It extended east to the Suffolk Lumber Company's Railroad, south on both sides of Riddick street, and to the Norfolk and Western Depot north, on Main street, near Bank street. Seventy-six houses have been burned, including the Herald office, dry good stores. The fire is in the heart of the business portion of the town. Nearly the whole town has been swept. The loss is estimated at $300,000.

The following are among the principal losers: A. S. Ely, drugs and hardware, loss, $35,000; insurance, $9,000; Geo. Thos. W. Smith, $50,000 on buildings, insurance not stated; the Excelsior Block, owned by Ely, Darden & Webb, valued at $80,000, the insurance nearly covers the loss; M. Jones & Co., clothing store, loss, $10,000; insurance, $5,000; Joyner, Watkins & Co., clothing, loss $15,000; insurance paid; T. Artman & Son and J. M. Butler & Co., carriage manufacturers, loss together about $20,000; insurance not given. With the exception of the stores of Hall & Holt, Ballard & Smith, R. L. Brewer and the James P. Baker building, the entire business portion of the town is destroyed.

Several persons were injured. About two years ago the town was visited by a similar conflagration. The firemen and engines from Norfolk and Portsmouth did not arrive until the fire was well advanced. The difference, then, between the difficulty in obtaining water caused the great destruction.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. WILSON'S SCOTT'S EMULSION should always be used for children feeding. It soothes the child, cures the cough, keeps the child healthy, and is the best remedy for children's ailments.

Some of the Navajo scouts used by the government in chasing Geronimo were reported to be robbing and murdering thirty miles east of Gallup, New Mexico.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE.

By virtue of a power contained in a mortgage from George A. Goslee and Susanna Goslee, his wife, to E. Stanley Towdwin, dated the 24th day of November, 1885, I will sell at public auction, for cash at the Court House door, in Salisbury, Maryland, on Saturday, August 11th,

1888, at 2 o'clock p. m., all that farm or tract of land with the improvements, lying in Trappe Mills, Wicomico County, Maryland on the north side of the mill race, and containing a piece of the Trappe Mills Farm, and also a piece of land lying on the north side of the mill race, and between the mill race and the road leading to John S. Malone. The whole containing of land, and being the same land which was conveyed to George A. Goslee by E. Stanley Towdwin, and John T. Hammond and John T. Hammond by deed of even date with said mortgage.

E. STANLEY TOWDWIN,

Mortgagee.

Road Notice.

We, the undersigned citizens of Wicomico County, hereby give notice that we intend to petition the County Commissioners of Wicomico County, at their office in Salisbury, Maryland, on the 11th day of August, 1888, to open and make public road connecting on the north side of the mill race, from Powell's bridge to the Trappe Mills Farm, and also a piece of land lying on the north side of the mill race, and between the mill race and the road leading to John S. Malone. (That lands from New Hope, to the road that leads from Trappe Mills to Powell's bridge, and near the farm where Lemuel J. Davis now resides, in the 4th Election District.)

DOCTOR'S DAUGHTER.

BY MARY KYLE DALLAS.

"What we are to do now I cannot tell," said Mrs. Parsons, sitting wearily in a rocking-chair and gazing dolefully to and fro.

Mrs. Parsons had made this remark almost every day since that on which her husband, a good man, and a good doctor, sacrificed himself to gratify the whim of a neighbor, and the poor folk of the village, during a season of epidemic fever.

Her daughter, Mahala, had grown used to hearing it, but this time it was rather a question to the girl herself, for the cow had walked up the track to meet the noon express, and that year it was plain that the apple trees would be barren.

Those apples sold well at the grocery, and the hotel took all the milk they could carry, and every little corner when people have become so poor as the doctor's widow and her daughter had.

"I only the Shrike of Freedom had bought my poem," sighed Mahala.

"You know, Mrs. Parsons," screamed a voice from the door.

"It's Mrs. Nero," said Mahala.

Mrs. Parsons hurried out upon the porch. In a wagon at the door sat a large, red-faced lady, dressed in red and black plaid gingham, with a large shade hat and feather in her immense hair.

"I didn't like to get out, but Mahala is frisky today," said Mrs. Nero, glancing at a very old white horse with immense knees, "but I wanted to ask you if you knew what had become of Caroline Arnold."

"Mrs. Nero," said Mahala, "I don't know. I haven't seen her since she left home. She was coming and the house is all closed up. She ain't one to go much either."

All Must Dissemble.

Al! how much we hide! The most frank and candid of us all must needs keep a whole world concealed in this heart of hearts. Can we tell that hesitating proxy bore what a nuisance he is? Can we trounce that vain, affected old woman for her folly in painting her face and dyeing her hair and exposing her shriveled old flesh, which, forgotten to be young these thirty years and more?

We hide our contempt for that piece of meanness; our doubt of that statement; our belief in the disunion of those not long-faded folk; our fear of a coming financial crash where the rumor would fulfill itself, and to set the report about would be to ensure its fruition in fact. We hide our sorrow for that pretty little woman's perpetual nagging at her foolish husband—that loving mother's over-anxiety for her children's welfare, and her consequent meddling—physically and her consequent meddling—physically and her consequent meddling—physically

A Big Pie Baking.

Forty sheep are taken from the slaughter-houses to the range on each day that mutton-pie is served, and eighteen barrels of dough are baked into bread and consumed every twenty-four hours. This reminds me of the bakery, which naturally fills an important role in the Government manège. A large room redolent with odors of fresh bread, pies and cinnamon cake, forms a vestibule, one might almost say, to the vast oven, which opens into it. At the time of my visit it contained, as principal furniture, a long table completely covered with very appetizing pies. The baker informed me that the whole number for one day's dinner (of which but a small proportion was to be seen) required twelve barrels of apples for the filling, three tubs of butter for the upper and three tubs of lard for the lower crust. I said I should like to see the process of pie making. "Well, madam," said a floury personage, presumably the head baker, "you will have to take a pretty early start. The men heat up the ovens at midnight and begin filling the pans at 1 o'clock. You see they have 1,200 pies to make before 5 o'clock, when the ovens must be ready for the bread." I concluded to leave the pie making to my imagination and take the word of the soldiers on the subject.

A Sound Legal Opinion.

Reinhardt Monday, Esq., County Attorney, City of Tex., says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother also was very low with Malaria Fever and Jaundice, but was cured by timely use of this medicine. An satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life. Mr. D. L. Wilkinson, of Howe, Cal., Ky., adds his testimony, saying: 'He positively believes he would have died, had it not been for Electric Bitters. This great remedy will ward off, as well as cure all Malaria Diseases, and for all Kidney, Liver and Stomach Disorders stand unequalled.' Price 50c and $1. at D. L. Collier's."

When the case of C. C. Nelson, the absconding president of the North Side Savings Bank of Atlanta, Ga., arrested in Toronto for bringing stolen money into Canada, was called in court Saturday before the witnesses on the prosecution appeared. It was ascertained that Nelson had given two representatives of the Atlanta bank the defrauded $50,000, and that they gave him a release from all claims. He also paid the police $500 and half of the reward offered for his capture. He has retained some $100,000 in money and valuables, and is that much ahead. No one will prosecute him.

Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems, at first, only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived, but insist upon getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all Throat, Lung and Chest affections. Trial bottles free at L. D. Collier's drug store. Large bottles $1.

A Sea Story.

An English lady, who visited America many years ago, used to tell the following story: On the voyage, she was one day shocked by seeing a ship's officer knock down one of the crew, who was inclined to mutiny. So much did the sight affect her that she retreated to her state-room, and did not again appear on deck until land was sighted. Then she perceived at the wheel the man who had received the blow. Approaching him she asked, with deep sympathy: "How is your head now?" "West-and-by-nor," he replied. She was the answer.

Can He Swim?

Can your boy swim? No? Then do not trust him in any sort of boat until he has learned the art, and feels as much at home in the water as upon dry land. You might just as well send him down alone into a crowded street before he had learned to walk. He might possibly creep along all right, and reach home alive, or somebody might pick him up and care for him, but the chances would be in his favor. So in boating, the boy who cannot swim may get along very comfortably for a while, and not suffer from the defect in his education, but the time will assuredly come when he will have cause to bitterly regret it. It is one of the simplest things in the world, too, and can be learned in three or four intelligently directed lessons, such as can be had in any city swimming school, from the experts in any country village. By all means talk swim to your boy before you talk boat, and stipulate as one of the conditions of his having a boat that he shall first be able to swim a quarter of a mile without resting—Harpur's Young People.

Dioted Out.

We were going down the Mississippi, and had just pulled out of Natchez, when a man, who had boarded the boat at that place, addressed four or five of us and entered into general conversation. He was learned and intelligent, and was as calm and self-possessed as any one you ever met. By and by he coolly said:

"Gentlemen, I want your opinion on a strange question. Let each one of you give his choice of death in a case of suicide."

There was more or less jocular talk before an opinion was given. There were five of us, to be exact, and two held to landman, one to shooting, and the other two to drowning. It was agreed, however, that in none of the cases would the victim suffer much, providing he was determined to make a sure thing of it.

"Why, you ask, Colonel?" I queried after a while, seeing that he was silent.

"Because it's a personal matter with me, gentlemen, I am very glad to have met you, and to have had this pleasant visit. Good day."

He lifted his hat, bowed grandly and walked to the port side of the boat and sprang into the water before the eyes of fifty people. We stood ready in case he came up, and the boat was stopped and held, but never a sign of him did we see. The father of waters closed in over another mystery so tightly that not even a finger tip was shown to guide us. Some day his body floated to the surface, to be cast upon the bank and found, but it was to be rolled into a shallow grave and forgotten ere the month was out.—Detroit Free Press.

A Warning.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the Throat and Lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle Germs into the system, and where these germs fall upon suitable soil, they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and it allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs, causing Catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous to your life. As soon as you feel as you feel that something is wrong with your Throat, Lungs or Nostrils, obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.

Remembered in a Dream.

A prominent business man in Waterbury was, until quite recently, in the habit of giving large sums of money, which had been taken in after banking hours, into the hands of his wife for safe keeping. On the 8th of June he handed her $1,000 in bills, and at the same time remarked that he would deposit the money in the bank in the morning. After breakfast the bills were called for, but the woman had forgotten where they were secreted. A general search was instituted. Bureau drawers were upset, cupboards and closets ransacked, even carpets taken up, but still the missing money could not be found. The late husband stormed and swore by note, but the result remained the same. It was finally believed that the money had been stolen. The house was again put in order, but the wife received no more deposits for safe keeping. Sunday night she had a vivid dream, in which was revealed the money's hiding place. Hastily arising from her couch she unlocked a small chest and unfolded a pair of blankets, when the money rolled out.

A Pleasure Shared by Women Only.

Malherbe, the gifted French author, declared that of all things that man possesses, women alone take pleasure in being possessed. This seems generally true of the sweeter sex. Like the ivy plant, she longs for an object to cling to and love to look to for protection. This being her prerogative, ought she not to be told that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the physical salvation of her sex? It banishes those distressing maladies that make her life a burden, curing all painful irregularities, uterine disorders, inflammation and ulceration, prolapsus and kindred weaknesses. As a nerve tonic, it cures nervous exhaustion, prostration, debility, relieves mental anxiety and hypochondria, and promotes refreshing sleep.

An Object Lesson.

Dean Burgen, on a certain occasion not long ago, was expatiating on the nature of man. He pointed out that great distinction between human beings and the lower animals consisted in the capacity for progress. "Man," exclaimed the dean, warning to his theme, "is a progressive being; other creatures are stationary." Think, for example, of the ass. Always and everywhere it is the same creature, and you never saw a more perfect ass than you see at the present moment."

True Relief of Combination.

The relief of flavor with true efficacy of action has been attained in the famous California Liquid Food remedy. Syrup of Figs. Its pleasant taste and beneficial effects have rendered it indispensable to all. It cleanses the System, cures Constiveness, etc. Dr. L. D. Collier, Apt.

A Diamond Mine.

As the mines grew deeper, huge capstans were introduced, and were worked by horse power, and were called "whins." As the work of mining progressed the whins floated on the front of the mine, and the place of the old whins, and soon the edge of the pit was one mass of machinery. Any description of the mine itself falls short of the reality. You peered over the edge, and saw a semi-circle of stone, crossed and recrossed by banks of greater or less height, some appearing in the likeness of battlements and turrets, some like a cluster of pillars or spreading terraces or steps; others gaping like great black pits that might be full of stagnant water while 300 feet below, almost out of sight, looking like ants, labored 10,000 men in six acres of ground; a gigantic hill filled with human beings, the live resonant with the clang of the iron pick on rock or loose stones, the thrum of falling earth, the splash of water from the pumps, buckets rising and falling, pulleys creaking, ropes straining and groaning, wires humming, and through the gigantic complexity of the whins floated the great aerial derrick rising from thousands of sieves, slowly rotating and filtering back into the depths of the mine; while overhead the scorching sun beat down with burning, pitiless, vertical rays.—Doubt's Magazine.

An Explosion.

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown,—to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Biliousness, and all caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Bilious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous.

A Red Quilt Baste.

Yesterday forenoon a large, healthy-looking negro woman was coming down the street from the rear of her room at police headquarters. She must have been in the neighborhood of 240. Just as she reached the bottom of the steps a bed quilt—a thick, heavy, old-fashioned quilt, folded so as to make a ball about eight feet in circumference—fell about her feet.

She was about to pass on, without noticing the accident, when the girl behind her noticed the quilt.

"Law!" she said, "where did that quilt come from?"

The fat woman turned and recognized it.

"Dat ar's my baste!" she exclaimed, as she tucked the quilt under her arm and walked on.

WASHINGTON

LIFE INSURANCE CO., N. Y. CITY.

Has these strong points to offer:

A liberal contract.

Residence, travel and occupation unrestricted after two years.

Policies incontestable after 3 years.

Immediate settlement of claims.

Non-forfeitable dividends.

Dividends at end of first year.

Annual dividends from date on policy.

Dividends to protect policies.

Assets not subject fluctuation.

Steady growth for 28 years.

Assets $9,000,000.

A strong company, with a good record.

Life Insurance as an Investment.

A banker of New York City is insured in the Washington Life Insurance Company of New York, under Policy No. 56, for $100,000, and has paid in premiums, up to 1887,

$17,700, the amount of his credit from unpaid dividends is $60,000. This confirms his belief in the wisdom of his investment. The value of this policy today is a death claim of $100,000, and the annual dividend of $1,000, and the interest on the policy is $2,000.00.

A note: By the non-forfeitable Dividend

System of the Washington Life Insurance

Company, the policyholder is entitled to the full amount of the policy, and in case of death the policy would pay the policy and remaining dividends.

No interest. The average cost of this policy per annum is $1.19 for each $1,000 of policy. The result of this policy is a claim after 21 years—better by $1,041, than similar sums invested at the same time in Savings Bank at 6 per cent. compound inter-

NO. 10 PER ANNUM.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING.
THOS. PERRY, PUBLISHER.

By Strategy.

"Irene," exclaimed the young man, a pang of jealousy shooting through every fiber of his heart, as he noted a ring he had never seen before on one of the fingers of her left hand, "is that an engagement ring?"

"I will not deceive you, Mr. Kilford," replied the young lady, blushing deeply. "It is what might be considered a conditional engagement ring. The matter is not positively settled as yet, but mamma thinks Mr. Peduncle."

"Then it may be I am not too late," said Bartholomew Kilford, passionately, the violence of his emotion breaking down every barrier of reserve that the cold, calculating behest of expediency had erected between himself and his heart's idol. "Irene, I had not thought to say to you for months, perhaps for years, the words that now come thronging to utterance and will no longer be stifled. Give me the right, Irene, to call you my own, and to feel sure that you are mine for ever and ever, and I will stand between me and all earthly happiness."

"I will, Bartholomew."

And the eloquent stillness that followed the only spoken words of the fair young girl was punctuated by the old new sound, that rapturous, wild, fervid, unpronounceable percussion, whose ecstatic articulation marks the climax of two trusting lives.

"Irene," said the youth, after a pause, you will allow me to remove this conditional engagement ring now, will you not?"

"Certainly, Bartholomew, though it is of no importance."

"And now tell me about that conditional engagement."

"It was an engagement to meet Mr. Peduncle at two o'clock next Saturday afternoon, should the weather be fair enough for me to venture out. I put it on my finger myself. I would not forget it."

"To meet Mr. Peduncle?"

"Yes."

"Where, pray?"

"At his office, of course. Don't you know Mr. Peduncle?"

"No. Who in the name of goodness is he?"

"The dentist."

"Trapped!" said the young man in a tragic whisper.

A Successful Timber Venture.

The success of the experiment of bringing great rafts of timber in bulk from Nova Scotia to New York has been watched eagerly by many interests in this country. A year or so ago the first attempt was made with a large raft, which took the outside passage and was broken up, and the logs scattered by the waves. This time "the inside passage" was taken, with better results, and now the huge pile of 22,000 tree trunks, bound together securely in the shape of an immense ship's hull, is safely moored at its destination and ready to be taken to pieces. The arrival of the raft was a big thing for New York, which is so full of logs. Coming by way of the sound, it passed safely through Hell Gate after a little more than ten days making the trip. The raft was towed by steam tug in front and on both sides of it, and was manfully aided by a crew who had the shelter of a cabin on the after part of the structure. The masts with which the raft was provided seemed to have been used only for signal and warning lights at night. The total cost of bringing the raft from Nova Scotia to New York is said to have been $7,000, including the pay of tugs and hands. By ordinary shipment it is calculated that the cost would have been nearly $30,000. This extra cost, it is thought, will enable the successful operator, Mr. Leary, to sell the logs at a lower price than they could be bought at Bangor, Me., and will reimburse him for his previous loss. The vessel owners engaged in the Eastern lumber trade stand aghast at the success of the venture, as they fear it will be the beginning of one of those revolutions by which daring enterprise and foresight every now and then upset long-established modes and insufficient processes.

Died of Leprosy.

Dr. C. R. Cretman, of Lee Grand, Iowa, notified the State Board of Health that Helena Halverson, the leper patient of that place, had died.

Helena Halverson, nee Paterson, was born near Stavanger, Norway, and was twenty-nine years old. There was no history of the disease in the family for several generations back and no history of exposure or contagion. One of leprosy's freaks is to skip several generations and then appear again. The woman came to Iowa from Norway in June, 1888. She was married to a man of the same name and had no children. Her husband says she first complained of illness about the first of September, 1888.

A Norwegian lady friend, however, states that Mrs. Halverson admitted to health two or three years before leaving Norway; that she complained of pains of erratic character in her chest, shoulders and arms and had been very nervous and hysterical much of the time for a year back. The patient was sure she would die. The nature of the disease was very obscure until about June 5, later the disease developed rapidly, the patient dying on Wednesday. This is the second case of leprosy in this State, and both came from the same province in Norway.

Wants to Fight for Spinalia.

Gen. Spinalia, of New York, and Representative Kilgore, of Texas, recently got fighting mad in the House of Representatives over a bill to maintain State homes for disabled veterans, and Mr. Kilgore concluded his part of the farce by announcing that while Gen. Spinalia was too old for him to characterize as he deserved, if Spinalia had a headache he would dare to use Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. J. D. Collier, Druggist.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. J. D. Collier, Druggist.

A "Moonshiners" Tragedy.

A telegraph operator at Bockton, Ga., who arrived at Birmingham, gave meagre details of a bloody tragedy in Bibb county. For some time a gang of moonshiners have been operating around the coal mines and railroad camps in that neighborhood. They became so bold they defied arrest, and the last United States deputy marshal who visited that section was run out and ordered never to return. Last Sunday the gang waylaid and murdered a prominent citizen of the county for his money.

This aroused such excitement that a posse was organized to hunt the outlaws. They were soon found and, after an exchange of shots, the moonshiners took refuge in an old drift of the Brierfield Col. Mines. The posse of citizens determined to starve them to death if they would not come out and surrender. Monday night one of the moonshiners made a bold dash for liberty, but was shot at by the posse and fell dead. The rest of the gang are still in the mines and the posse is standing guard.

A Warning.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the throat and lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle Germs into the system and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and it allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs producing Consumption and to the head, causing Catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness, allowing a cold to grow without attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with you, Throat, Lungs or Nostils, obtain a bottle of Loosche's German Syrup. It will give an immediate relief.

Facts about the Bandana.

The term bandana applies to the figure and not to the goods, color, size or quality of the handkerchief. The bandana figure is an arrangement of white blocks, about a quarter of an inch square, each with a round or square hole in the center, upon a background of solid color. The blocks are grouped in diamonds, squares, circles and other geometrical figures scattered over the handkerchief in any fashion that pleases. A border of white lines, dots, bars or bands surround the whole. They are made of either cotton or silk, and come chiefly in yellow, red and chocolate colors, with occasionally a lot of blue ones. The colors are always very deep and vivid. In size the smallest are about two feet square, and from that they run up to huge spreads large enough for a child's bed.

Syrup of Figs.

Is Nature's own true laxative. It is the most easily taken, and the most effective remedy known to cleanse the System when Bilious or Costive; to dispel Headaches, Colds, and Fevers; to Cure Habitual Constipation, Indigestion, Piles, etc. Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Company, San Francisco, Cal. Dr. L. D. Collier, Agt.

The Richest Mine in the World.

The richest mine in Australia, and perhaps in the world, is the Mount Morgan, and has been recently estimated at from $12,000,000 to $20,000,000, but it is a fact that one of the Rothschilds offered $19,000,000 for the mine, but the offer was refused. The gold, as taken from the mine, is 39 fine, or almost pure.

The Richest of Combinations.

True delicacy of flavor with true efficacy of action has been attained in the famous California liquid fig remedy Syrup of Figs. Its pleasant taste and beneficial effects have rendered it immensely popular. It cleanses the System, cures Constiveness, etc. Dr. L. D. Collier, Agt.

An ugly complexion made Nellie a fright.

Her face was all pimply and red. Though her features were good, and her blue eyes were bright.

"What a plain girl is Nellie!" they said.

But now, as by magic, plain Nellie has grown

As fair as an artist's bright dream; Her face is as sweet as a flower new-bloomed.

Her cheeks are like peaches and cream.

As Nellie walks out in the fair morning light.

Her beauty attracts every eye.

And as for the people who called her a fright,

"Why, Nellie is handsome!" they cry.

And the reason of the change is that Nellie took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which regulated her liver, cleared her complexion, made her blood pure, her breath sweet, her face fair and rosy, and removed the defects that had obscured her beauty. Sold by druggists.

Philosophers who investigate further than the mere appearance of things, now offer another explanation of the well-known custom of young men fondling or gently soothing down the raven locks of their lovers. They say that it is an inherited propensity derived from their mothers' of involuntarily taking this method of securing the best places to grab for in those domestic disputes likely to occur after marriage.

Precautions Against Fire.

The supervising architect of Chicago has completed the revision of the city building laws which was ordered some time ago by the council. Among the more important provisions which the new ordinance covers are that all stages be provided with an iron drop-curtain; that schoolhouses be constructed with fire-proof stairs, with sufficient stair space to admit of easy exit; that no tenement-house shall exceed six stories in height except it be absolutely fire-proof, and that all tenement-houses shall be equipped with fire-proof stairways and partitions, and proper fire-escapes and exits. In addition to the precautions against fire, the ordinance also covers all questions of sanitation.

One would suppose that kissing would obtain in Iceland, as the act is said to give warmth to the blood; but not so. A man who oscillates an unmarried female their against her will—note the line, reader!—renders himself liable; and even if he has obtained the lady's sanction, his cruel guardian can demand legal redress by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and it allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs producing Consumption and to the head, causing Catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness, allowing a cold to grow without attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. Log Cabins were the most prominent feature of the Presidential Campaign of 1840. At the opening of the campaign, the popular cry was "Tippecanoe, Tippecanoe!" proclaimed "Tippecanoe" Harrison a low fellow, "born in a log cabin." His friends at once made the Log Cabin the emblem of the most enthusiastic of campaigns. Warner's Log Cabin Remedies and "Tippecanoe" stomach tonic are enthusiastically received by the American people to day, because they are the remedies of the common people—simple but effective.

THE ADVERTISER

Is now fitted up more completely than ever before with Machinery and material for all classes of work. We refer with pardonable pride to the work we have turned out during the past year, and we ask a comparison with that of other Offices, whether in the city or country. We make a specialty of small work, such as Pamphlets, Bill Heads, Note Heads, Envelopes, Statements, Posters, Dodgers, Legal Blanks, Checks, Tags, Invitations, and special work of all kinds. We have a fine assortment of type, good ink, competent workmen and all other requisites necessary to turn out good work. Prices are much lower than other offices that turn out the same class of work. Estimates given promptly and orders by mail will receive prompt attention.

THE ADVERTISER

ESTABLISHED 1867.

Has double the circulation of any journal on the Southern Peninsula. This is no empty boast, but a positive and guaranteed fact. Published every Saturday morning at Salisbury, Wicomico County, Md. Read what some of the largest advertisers of this country say:

"We find your paper as an advertising medium to be unequalled, and have derived much benefit therefrom."—J. H. ZELIN & Co., Philadelphia.

"The best evidence of opinion of the Advertiser, as an advertising medium is best shown by the fact that we have used it for the last five years."—S. M. BARNES & Co., Philadelphia.

"We have used the columns of the Advertiser for years, and have every reason to believe that the investment made in advertising our business in that paper has paid us handsomely."—A. C. YATES & Co., Philadelphia.

"Having for some time past watched the effects of advertising in different portions of the State, we take the liberty to express our entire satisfaction with the work The Advertiser has done for us. This journal, having been on our list since 1874, has proven itself to be an influential advertising medium, and we look upon it as a representative publication of the better class of journals on the Eastern Shore."—A. C. YATES & Co., Baltimore.

The above are but a few of the many testimonials we have, but deem those sufficient to prove the value of this journal as an advertising medium.
