CONGRESS.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Friday, Nov. 24.

Among the petitions presented this morning, was one, by Mr. Tyler, from the merchants and other citizens of Richmond and its vicinity, against an increase of the tariff of import duties, a discontinuance of credits on revenue bonds, the abolition of drawbacks, and other restrictions on commerce, which was, on motion of Mr. Tyler, ordered to be printed for the use of the House.

Mr. Smith, of Md. from the committee of Ways and Means, presented the following report.

The committee of Ways & Means, to whom was referred the memorial of the inhabitants of Salem,

Report: That the memorialists pray Congress to exempt from duty all imported books in the learned and foreign languages, whether reprinted in this country, and all works of science, in the English language, which shall not be re-printed here within the term of one year from their original publication.

The committee submit the following resolution:

Resolved, That it is inexpedient to grant the prayer of the memorialists.

The same was read and concurred in.

The engrossed bill to provide for paying to the State of Illinois the amount of three per cent, of the nett proceeds of the sales of public lands within the State of Illinois, was read a third time, passed, and ordered to be sent to the Senate for concurrence.

The House then resolved itself into a committee of the whole, Mr. Robertson in the chair, on the report of the committee of claims unfavourable to the petition of John Cowan.

[Mr. Cowan prays the allowance of 460 dollars for shoeing, at their own expense, the horses of a company of cavalry in the service of the United States, from Sept. 28, 1814, to March 28, 1815, and of 52 dollars paid for forage, in consequence of the United States failing to supply the same. The committee report against the claim, as well because the allowance of 40 cents per day ought to cover the expense of shoeing, as because of the informality of the evidence in support of the claim.]

Mr. Jones of Tennessee, moved to reverse the report in this case, so as to declare that the claim ought to be allowed.

This motion gave rise to debate; being supported by Mr. Jones and opposed by Mr. Williams, of N. C. and Mr. Rich, of Vt.

In the end, the motion to amend the report was negatived, 55 to 41; and, this being reported to the house, was there concurred in, and the original report was agreed to.

And the House adjourned to Monday.

Monday, Nov. 27.

Among the petitions presented this morning were the following, of a general nature:

By Mr. Mosely, the petition of the Chamber of Commerce of New Haven, remonstrating against the proposed increase of duties on imported goods.

By Mr. Lowndes a petition with the same object, from the Meeting of Delegates of Merchants & others from various parts of the U. States, recently assembled at Philadelphia.

Proposed Amendment to the Constitution.

On motion of Mr. Smith, of N.C. the House then resolved itself into a committee of the whole on the State of the Union, Mr. Ross, of Ohio, being called to the chair; and, on motion of Mr. Smith, also proceeded to the consideration of the motion, submitted by him, proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the U. States, as it concerns the Election of Electors of President and Vice President of the United States.

The resolution having been read:

Mr. Smith, declining entering into any argument in support of the proposition, on which his views had been fully expressed at the last session, said he had called up the question at this early day, in the hope that an expression of the opinion of the House on the subject, might be obtained at this session. He added a few other remarks. This House and the Senate he said, were not, he begged gentlemen to remember, the last resort on this question. All that was asked of them was, to allow the question to be submitted to the people of the U. States, as represented in the several State Legislatures, the consent of two thirds of whom was necessary to sanction the act. If two-thirds of the people were in favour of the amendment, it ought to take place, if on the other hand, they deemed the change inexpedient they would say so, and the proposition would of course fall to the ground.

Mr. Overstreet, of S. C. moved to amend the following clause, by striking out the words therein which are printed in Italics.

"The Electors, when convened, at the time and place prescribed by law for the purpose of voting for President and Vice President of the United States, shall have power, in case any of them shall fail to attend, to choose an Elector, or Electors, in place of him, or them, so failing to attend."

The object of Mr. O. was, that there should be a certain uniformity on this point, as well as in others embraced by the proposed amendment to the constitution.

After a few words in reply from Mr. Smith, the question was put on Mr. O's motion, and decided in the negative.

The committee then rose, and without further debate, reported the resolution without amendment.

Mr. Reid, of Georgia, then moved, with a view to allow further time for reflection on the subject, to lay the resolve on the table, which motion was decided in the affirmative, by a vote of 67 to 64—and

The resolve was laid on the table.

The House then resolved itself into a committee of the whole, Mr. Edwards of North Carolina, in the chair, on the report of the committee of claims unfavourable to the petition of the Levy Court of Calvert county, Maryland, who ask indemnification for the loss of the Court House of the county, destroyed by fire by the British during the late war in consequence of its having been occupied for military purposes.

Mr. Neale, of Maryland, moved to reverse the report, so as to declare that the petition is reasonable and ought to be granted—and supported his motion with much earnestness. He was seconded by Mr. Smith, of Maryland, and opposed by Mr. Williams, the chairman of the committee of Claims.

The motion to amend was negatived, 61 votes to 49, and the original report concurred in by the same majority.

And the House adjourned.

Tuesday, Nov. 28.

On motion of Mr. Strong, of New York, after a few remarks explanatory of his object.

Resolved that the post master general be directed to report, as soon as may be, to this house, a list, if any, of mail contractors who are at the same time postmasters, and the compensation of such contractors and post masters, designating the state or territory in which they respectively reside.

Mr. Stevens submitted the following motion:

Resolved, That the committee on public lands be directed to enquire and report whether, in their opinion, the public good requires, that a tract of land be surveyed and appropriated for laying a road from the north boundary line of the state of Ohio to Detroit, in a place most convenient for that purpose, and also sufficient to pay for working the same; and be further directed, if in their opinion such appropriation would be of public utility, to report a bill for that purpose.

Mr. S. made a few observations to shew the utility and expediency of the object contemplated by his motion; and the resolution was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Storrs, it was Resolved, That the Secretary of the Treasury be directed to communicate to this house the amount of monies drawn from the Treasury of the United States by the War and Navy Departments respectively, from the 30th day of December, 1819, to the 13th day of November instant; designating the amount drawn under each respective appropriation, together with an account of any transfers, which may have been made at the Treasury, during the last recess of Congress, from one appropriation to another; and also the aggregate amount of payments made during the same period, by the Treasurer of the United States, as agent of the War and Navy departments respectively, on warrants drawn by said Departments on the Treasurer as such agent, designating the amount of payments made under each head of appropriation respectively, during the same period.

On motion of Mr. Cannon, the bill of the last session, to provide for clothing the militia when called into actual service, was taken up, and re-committed to a committee of the whole house.

The Speaker communicated to the house a letter from the First Comptroller of the Treasury, transmitting to Congress, in obedience to acts of 1809 and 1817, reports from the Second and Third Auditors, embracing:

1. A list of the accounts which have remained unsettled, or on which balances appear to have been due more than three years prior to the 30th September, 1820, extracted from the books of the 2d Auditor of the Treasury.

2. A similar list, extracted from the books of the 3d Auditor of the Treasury.

3. A list of those persons who have failed to render their accounts within the year to the 2d Auditor of the Treasury for settlement.

4. A similar list rendered by the 3d Auditor of the Treasury, including the balances unaccounted for, advanced one year prior to the 30th Sept. 1819.

5. A list of moneys advanced, prior to the 3d March, 1809, on the books of the late Accountant of the War Department, and which remained to be accounted for on the books of the 3d Auditor of the Treasury, on the 30th Sept. 1820.

The letter was read, and, with the documents, ordered to be printed.

The house adjourned.

Wednesday, Nov. 29.
On motion of Mr. McCoy, it was Resolved, That the committee on private land claims be instructed to enquire into the expediency of providing by law for the location of land warrants issued to the Virginia state regiments, for services during the revolutionary war, on any of the unappropriated lands in the tract reserved in the state of Ohio, for satisfying the warrants to the Virginia state line on continental establishment.

On motion of Mr. Cooke, it was Resolved, That the committee on the public lands be instructed to enquire into the expediency of making some provision whereby the actual settlers upon the public lands, who settled previous to the 1st of July, 1820, shall be entitled to the preference in becoming the purchasers of a specified quantity, so as to embrace their improvements, at such price as may be deemed expedient.

The house resolved itself into a committee of the whole, Mr. Mallory in the chair, on the bill "further to regulate the entry of merchandise imported into the U. States from any adjacent territory," reported at the last session.

The bill to amend the several acts providing for sick and disabled seamen, and for establishing navy hospitals, was re-committed to the committee of ways and means.

And then the house adjourned.

Thursday, Nov. 30.
Mr. Baldwin, from the committee of Manufactures, made a detailed report on the petitions of sundry inhabitants of Belfast, Maine, and Richmond, Virginia, relative to drawback of duties—which was read and ordered to lie on the table.

On motion of Mr. Campbell, it was Resolved, That the committee on the Post Office and Post Roads be directed to enquire into the expediency of so amending the twenty-seventh section of the act entitled "An act regulating the Post Office establishment," passed the 30th April, 1810, as to require the Postmaster general, in any contract he may enter into for the conveyance of the mail, to stipulate with the person with whom such contract is to be made to carry Newspapers, Magazines and Pamphlets, other than those conveyed in the mail.

Mr. Walker, of N. C. offered the following resolution—

Resolved, That the committee on Revolutionary Pensions be instructed to enquire into the expediency of providing by law for placing on the pension list such persons as have, or may hereafter apply for pensions, under the acts of Congress of 18th March 1816, and 1st May, 1820, who may not be found on the rolls of the respective states in which they enlisted, but who, nevertheless, may be able to adduce satisfactory proof by their own oath, or other testimony, that they did serve on the continental establishment in the Revolutionary War.

Mr. Walker made a number of remarks in favour, and explanatory of, the object of his motion; and the question being put on agreeing to the resolution it was negatived.

On motion of Mr. Case, it was Resolved, That the Secretary of State be directed to lay before the House such information as he may possess or can obtain relative to the annual amount of the fees of the Clerks, District Attorneys, & Marshals of the respective courts of the U. States, the amount of whose fees do not appear in the register of the officers in the service of the U. S. and also the annual amount of the fees of naval officers, collectors, and surveyors of the customs of the respective ports of the U. States.

The engrossed resolution to authorize the President of the United States to cause the necessary observations to be made to ascertain the longitude of the Capitol of the U. States, was read the third time; and after an unsuccessful motion by Mr. Cooke to lay it on the table, the question was taken on the passage of the resolution, and carried—yeas 61, noes 45; and it was ordered to be sent to the Senate for concurrence.

The House, on motion of Mr. Cannon, resolved itself into a committee of the whole, Mr. Reid in the chair, on the bill to provide for clothing the militia of the U. States, when called into actual service.

The bill was so amended, on motion of Mr. Cannon, as to require the clothing provided for the militia, to be of such colour or uniform as may be prescribed by the legislatures of the respective states.

The bill having been otherwise slightly amended, was reported to the house; where some debate took place on the question of concurrence in the above amendment.

It was urged, by Messrs. Cobb and Brush, that it would introduce much perplexity in the arrangements for militia service, without producing any essential benefit.

In reply, Mr. Cannon vindicated his amendment, and in general defended the object of the bill, which served to place the militia in some respect on an equality of footing with the regular troops of the army, who are clothed as well as fed, at the expense of the government.

Mr. Cross, of N.Y. concurred in Mr. Cannon's general views, but thought the amendment would be more properly introduced in a different part of the bill.

Mr. Floyd wished the bill to lie on the table until a report, called for at the last session, was received from the War Department, of the number of militia who were in service during the late war, which would afford some data by which the expenditure that would arise from this bill could be estimated, which would probably amount to more than the National Treasury could satisfy. On this ground, and others, he thought the bill ought not to pass—but, if it did pass, it ought not to be without more satisfactory information on the subject, &c. Mr. F. therefore moved to lay the bill on the table.

Mr. Cannon opposed this motion, fearing that the effect of it would be, by procrastination, to defeat the bill.

The question on laying the bill on the table was decided in the affirmative, by a vote of 71 to 51.

And the House adjourned.

Episcopal Theological Seminary. CONNECTICUT PROFESSORSHIP.

On Monday last, a respectable number of the clergy and laity of the diocese, met in New Haven, for the purpose of consulting on the expediency and propriety of founding a Connecticut Professorship, in the Theological Seminary recently established by the General Convention. It was the unanimous opinion of the gentlemen present, that immediate measures ought to be taken to endow such a Professorship; and the standing Committee of the Board of Trustees were accordingly requested to open subscriptions for the purpose, and to make provision for the collection of doubtations throughout the diocese. In pursuance of this request, the committee at a subsequent meeting appointed a gentleman of the clergy, as general agent for soliciting subscriptions; and they also appointed special agents in every parish of the diocese, to co-operate with him in the undertaking. These agents will soon receive official notice of their appointments—and we doubt not that a vigorous and united effort will be made to effect an object, so very important and desirable. It gives us pleasure to add, that it is in contemplation to designate the proposed foundation, as Connecticut Seabury Professorship.

It is understood, that similar exertions are also making in other parts of the United States; and that in North Carolina, the subscriptions for a Professorship are considerably advanced.

With regard to the general prospects of the Institution, it may be truly said, that they are highly flattering. By the generous donations of several gentlemen in New-York and elsewhere, a very respectable library is already collected. At the opening of the spring term in March, the library will probably consist of at least eight hundred volumes, of the most valuable Theological Works, exclusive of a collection of more than five hundred volumes deposited for the use of the Seminary, by an individual of this diocese.

THE DISCOVERY SHIPS.

Extract of a letter, dated North Shields, October 2.

Having had an interview with Captain Warham, of the British Queen, whaler, of this port, I am enabled to add his testimony to that of Mr. Fleming, in believing if the discovery ships, under Capt. Parry, are well, they must have effected a passage through what is termed the Hyperborean Ocean into the Pacific, and through Sir James Lancaster's Sound, Baffin's Bay, in lat. 72 1-2 N. long. 84 1-2 W. or thereabouts. Mr. Warham has reason to believe Baffin's Bay is imperfectly known, and that Captain Row's account is much too brief, he not having had time to explore it. After the British Queen had found her way through the ice in Davis's Straits, and found Disco Island, lat. 70 1-2 N. long. 49 W. she went on to Woman's Isles, 73 1-2 N. and nearly the same longitude, found a clear sea; sailed across Baffin's bay for Lancaster Sound and doubts the existence of James' Island, at least it must be of inconsiderable size to that laid down on maps. He found Lancaster Sound and sailed up it 20 miles, meeting a strong swell and wind from the N. W. The Sound is about 20 miles broad, widening to the West; bold high land.—Not meeting with whales, and his voyage being to catch fish, he returned and went to the southward, where he was more successful. On Sunday morning, the 6th of August, going under easy sail, about 60 miles to the S. of Lancaster Sound, he saw a considerable inlet and a ship higher up in it; turning up the inlet he was struck with sounds from the shore which proved to be inhabitants making strange gestures and screams. He and part of the crew landed and by courteous signs overcame their timidity and was conducted by a male who had lost both feet, probably by the frost, and a female about eighteen years age, to their huts, made of the skins of seal and deer. It was found that most of the population were absent on the hills hunting; only a few males and some women, but a great number of children, being left. They seemed docile and hospitable, exchanging their skin jackets for those of the sailors, and stripping naked without the least hesitation to put on the new dress. They seemed to pay some adoration to the sun.

"The ship's company here caught some fish, and found reason to believe that the inlet communicated with Lancaster Sound. Capt. Warham found the variation of the compass to be W. of the true N. about 100 degrees, and thinks the magnetic pole is somewhere there, as the dip is prodigious. The ships then stretched N. E. for Sir Thomas Smith's Sound in lat. 78 1-2, long. 64 leaving Alderman Jones's Sound, on the larboard side; he made Hackett's Island, 77 1-2, long. 60 and completed his fishing near Cape Dudley Digges. Coming down Davis's Straits, and even to Cape Farewell he fell in with ice, and many icebergs, having in snow-showers, to thread his way through them, and finally passed the latter Cape on the 3d Sept.

"Cap. in Warham is cautious of speaking of any thing but what he saw, is a good mathematician and astronomer, and quite fitted for active and intelligent observation. "I wish I could give more succinct information on the subject of the expedition, but it is dangerous relying hopes that may not be verified."

MARYLAND GAZETTE.

Annapolis, Thursday, Dec. 7.

The following Circular has lately been issued by the Trustees of St. John's College—It affords us much pleasure to lend our aid in contributing to its circulation. We recommend it to the attentive perusal of our readers. It will be perceived that the trustees have been enabled by an arrangement recently made, to reduce very considerably the expense of education at this Institution.—The whole expense for Board and Education is but $160 per annum, which we believe is much lower than at any other Seminary possessing the same advantages.

St. John's College, Annapolis, October 31, 1820.

Sir, The recent efforts of the Visitors and Governors of St. John's College, to restore the institution to its former degree of celebrity and usefulness, have so far been crowned with success, as to justify us in recommending it to your favourable notice. Its depressed condition for some years past proceeded from the diminution of its funds, caused by the sudden withdrawal of the donation pledged to it by the state. From this depression, however, we rejoice to say, it is now fast emerging; and we confidently indulge the hope, that ere long, its reputation will be so well established, and so universally acknowledged, as to present irresistible claims to the fostering patronage of the Legislature. In the meantime, it is the anxious desire of the Visitors to render this institution as extensively useful as may be practicable. To enable them to do this, they are induced to solicit, from gentlemen of distinction and education in every part of the state, their aid and influence. The propriety of this request is founded in the sincere conviction of the strong claims which St. John's presents, to the favourable regard of every intelligent citizen of Maryland. It is at present under the superintendence of Henry L. Davis, D. D. Principal, and Professor of Mathematics and Philosophy; the Rev. William Rafferty, A. M. Vice-Principal, and Professor of Languages, and Mr. Edward Sparks, Professor of Grammar and English. The former gentleman is a native of Maryland, and has devoted a considerable portion of his life to the instruction of youth. His talents, his learning, and his attainments, are too well known, and too highly appreciated, to render any eulogium from us necessary. The Rev. Mr. Rafferty is a graduate of the celebrated University of Glasgow. He has resided in this country about ten years, during which period he has been principally engaged in the states of New-York, New-Jersey, and Maryland, in the discharge of his ministerial duties, and in the education of youth. The favourable testimonials of his character, his qualifications and his attainments, which he submitted to the Visitors, from distinguished gentlemen and scholars to the eastward, have been most satisfactorily confirmed by him since his appointment in St. John's. Mr. Edward Sparks was educated in Europe, and has for several years been engaged in teaching in various parts of the United States. The trustees can, with entire confidence, speak of this gentleman, as being eminently qualified, in every respect, to superintend the department which has been assigned to him.

A highly respectable Professor of modern languages, (Mr. C. T. Fuser) has also been obtained, who teaches French, Spanish and German; but as these studies do not constitute any part of the regular collegiate course, and a separate charge is made for teaching them, it is at the option of the student to engage in them.

To these primary advantages which St. John's possesses in so eminent a degree, in the ability and moral character of her professors, may be added others of no minor consideration to a parent, in selecting a seminary for the education of his son. Among these may be mentioned the proverbial salubrity of the city of Annapolis. As a strong and healthy situation, it may be said, to have enjoyed an unequalled amount of health, and when his health was impaired, he was enabled to recover it, and to pursue his studies with the most perfect tranquillity. With the rules and discipline of the college, (which have lately been revised) they are such as to form a most judicious and salutary system of education, and to promote the intellectual and moral improvement of the students. With respect to the course of instruction, the limits of this circular contracted to admit of a given in detail—Suffice it that it is intended to be liberal and extensive. In the English Department, the Visitors feel it to be proper to say, that the diligent avail themselves of the advantages and improvements which may be derived from other sources, in this country, in Europe, and from other sources.

Among the many improvements recently made in the organization of the College, the trustees are in having it in their power, that the establishment of the English Department promises to be of the greatest advantage, the former system, no provision made for improving the penmanship, and the Professor of mathematics was burdened with additional duty of teaching arithmetic. The establishment of the English School, an opportunity is afforded to each pupil, belonging to the College, of devoting some portion of every day to improvement in writing; and the learning arithmetic being taught in this School, the Professor of mathematics, has more leisure to devote to the peculiar branches of it is his province to teach. Those who do not wish to obtain a classical education, will be received into the English Department, where they may obtain a complete English education.

For sometime past a standing committee, consisting of seven trustees, has been appointed, to examine weekly the condition of the college to observe whether the present system of education is properly adhered to by the professors, and whether the pupils be diligent and active, and make due proficiency in their studies. From this measure the most salutary effects have already resulted. The trustees have enabled, by a late arrangement, to reduce very considerably the expense of education at St. John's. Board may now be obtained for $120 per annum, at one of the most respectable Boarding Houses in the city—the pupils to lodge in the College, under the superintendence of two of the Professors. Thus the whole expense of board and tuition for pupils, who receive a complete collegiate education, will be $1 per annum, and for those who receive an English education only, $144 per annum. The allurements to vice and dissipation are considerations, which would present themselves to the mind of every reflecting parent, when liberating about sending his son from his own guardianship, for the purposes of education. On this point it is gratifying to the Visitors to be able to speak emphatically and decidedly. Annapolis affords no opportunities for secret dissipation, and it is completely within the power of the Visitors and Professors of St. John's College, to preserve the students free from all contamination. That this power will be vigilantly and discreetly exercised, parents and guardians may, with entire confidence calculate upon.

We forbear to enumerate other advantages which St. John's may boast as a seat of learning. We feel it only necessary to add, that no exertions shall be omitted, no pains shall be spared, and no diligence shall be wanted, on the part of the Visitors, to render it in all respects an institution worthy of all commendation, and the pride and honour of Maryland. With these assurances, we feel justified in requesting you so far to aid our endeavours, as to send your children, for a short period to this Institution, in order that you may yourself be enabled to judge of the claims which it presents to your favourable consideration. We also take the liberty of requesting you to show this circular to such of your friends and neighbours as may have sons to educate. An additional Professor will be appointed as soon as the number of students shall render it necessary.

By order of the Trustees of St. John's College, WM. H. J. President GEORGE

OFFICIAL NOTICE.—The Managers of the fourth class of the Monument Lottery have the pleasure to announce that the drawing will take place, and be completed in the City of Baltimore on NEW YEAR'S DAY.

They scarcely deem it necessary to appeal to the patriotism of their fellow citizens for their support and patronage, being well assured of the respect and veneration universally entertained for the illustrious name of WASHINGTON, and of their ardent desire to see the noble monument, already so far advanced, finished. Were other motives for its encouragement to be sought, they would readily be found in the peculiar nature and novelty of the scheme, by which the fate of the adventurer is to be determined IN ONE DAY, an advantage too obvious to require recommendation.

which shake the foundations of the state.

These are times, when the fathers of the commonwealth should stand together. These are times, when men who move in a sphere, above the party contentions of the day—who draw their feelings of patriotism from sources which cannot be reached by the time-serving politician, and who cherish no other political anxieties than those which are identified with the preservation of our civil and religious institutions, should come forth to sustain the pillars of our political fabric.

The dangers to be apprehended from innovations upon our present systems of government, must be vividly impressed upon the mind of every considerate & reflecting man. No one can doubt the existence of one glaring defect in the constitution of this state. The disposition and organization of the executive power, is productive of evils, too deeply felt, to be disregarded. But in calling a Convention, the security of our whole social system ought not to be put in jeopardy. The vital importance of an able and independent judiciary, should be remembered. We should not lose sight of the tenor of various offices, in the gift of the executive, and in the gift of the people. We should not forget the safety which is found, in the judicious and wholesome exercise of the elective franchise. Balances and checks are the preservation of a free constitution. Destroy these, and you open the flood-gates of anarchy, and prepare the public mind, for a grinding and desponding servitude.

In this country, the grand contest for the elementary principles of liberty, is over. The throne of the despot, and the altar of martyrdom, are unknown to our condition.—The political institutions of the United States, are the admiration of mankind, and the hope of the human race. Their preservation now constitutes the great duty which devolves upon us. And what are the dictates of wisdom? What are the deep-toned counsels of experience? That we shall proceed to alterations, with caution, with candor, and with lively apprehensions. That party feelings shall never be suffered to invade the empire of reason, and banish the recollection, that we not only act for ourselves, but that we also act, for posterity.

In voting for the rejection of the bill to call a convention, you have kept in view the immense interests which are at stake. You have collected, that not only our constitution, but the venerable ordinances of our fathers, the rights, the security and the peace of the state, are involved in the crisis at which we have arrived. Let the election of delegates and the meeting of a convention, once take place, under furious party excitement; let the alterations of our constitution be made, to subvert the ends of any faction, whatever may be its name and pretensions, and what have we to expect but the production of an instrument bearing the features of a political monster? What have we to anticipate but unceasing anarchy and confusion? What have we to apprehend but the loss of our state glory, the extinguishment of our pride, and the degradation of our character? When such a period in our affairs shall arrive, we may look for the prostration of virtue, and the persecution of integrity and independence. The bright examples of former days will be discarded, and every thing be measured and settled by a false and pernicious standard of patriotism. A long and vindictive warfare will ensue, new and implacable parties be called up, and the very bonds of society must be violated and endangered. And when our history is transmitted to after ages, he who writes it may adopt the language of Humey.—"The various factions into which the state had been divided, and the many sudden revolutions to which the public had been exposed, had tended to debase the minds of men and to destroy the issue of honour and decorum in their public conduct."

It is not to be concealed, that the Council of Revision will be rudely and insolently assailed, for guarding the interests of the state, and crossing the foul purposes of party violence. Every thing but high and honourable motives—every thing but independence and a sense of public duty, will be ascribed to their firmness and discretion. Head not the tempest: Good men will gather round, and support you. With boldness, with spirit, and with constancy, they will wage a contest for

A sufficient number of delegates being convened, they severally qualified in the presence of each other, by taking the several oaths required by the constitution and form of government, by subscribing a declaration of their belief in the christian religion, and by taking, repeating and subscribing, the oath to support the constitution of the United States.

STATE'S CLAIM.

The following communication has been received by the Executive from John L. Kerr, Esq. agent of this state for the recovery of her claim upon the general government for monies advanced during the late war:

Esaton, December 24, 1820.

Sir—I have the pleasure to inform you, that I have this evening received by the mail, a letter from Mr. Hagner, dated the 29th of November, in which he states, that the accounts of the State of Maryland had been at last audited, and that according to the statement made in his office, the balance due to the state amounts to ninety-four thousand seven hundred and ten dollars and twenty one cents, subject to the final decision of the 2d Comptroller.

As the report of Mr. Hagner has doubtless had the previous approbation of the Secretary of War, there can be very little doubt of this sum being soon paid to the state. Mr. Hagner assures me, when the accounts are returned to his office by the comptroller, I shall be furnished with a particular statement of the differences between the amount claimed by the state, and that allowed by the United States.

I feel much satisfaction in the prospect of a speedy close of this long protracted liquidation of the state's claim.

I remain sir, with high respect, your obedient and humble servant,

JOHN LEEDS KERR.

His Excellency

SAMUEL SPRIGG.

every thing dear and sacred to us, as a people. If there be patriotism left among us, its first will kindle and glow in your caves. You have chosen to put the momentous question to the people themselves—Shall a Convention be called to alter the Constitution? And the people will feel grateful for the confidence reposed in their judgment.

That is a proud act in the life of a great man, which secures present peace and happiness to a state, and confers a lasting benefit upon a whole people. It is an occurrence, the recollection of which must ever be associated with the most pleasing reflections, and impart perpetual satisfaction, however brilliant and exalted may be his career of fame. It can be recalled, with the expression of Tully, on a memorable event of his life—Unus ille dies mihi quidem instat immortalitatis fuit.

FALKLAND.

From the Detroit Gazette of Nov. 10.

A Curiosity.—A person by the name of Robinson, has obtained and brought from the Indian country near Mackinac, an Indian, having in each arm and leg more than double the number of joints ordinarily allowed to man by Nature.—This extraordinary being is in a measure helpless, & unable to stand, yet he has discovered a contrivance by which he obtains locomotion—this is a large wooden bowl, in which he rolls himself along with considerable facility when on a smooth and level surface. This Indian, we are informed, is quite intelligent, speaking the tongues of three or four different tribes, and conversing fluently in the common French of the country.

Mr. Robinson mentions that he saw, while in the Indian country, what he deems a far greater curiosity. This is an Indian, whose body is thickly covered with long hair. The hair on the outside of his hands and fingers, which is permitted to grow, is stated to be so long that he is enabled to tie it round his wrists. His forehead, nose, and every part of his face is said to be covered with hair. The Indians of his tribe are stated to pay him much respect in consequence of his superior sagacity and hardiness.

Philadelphia, Nov. 24.

Mr. Guille's ascent.—At a few minutes before three o'clock yesterday afternoon, Mr. Guille ascended with his balloon and a small parachute, amidst the acclamations and cheerings of an immense concourse of spectators. The weather being entirely calm, and the heavens somewhat overshadowed, the ascent was gradual, affording the citizens a fine opportunity to observe the operation and effect of disengaging the parachute; which he did at a considerable height, leaving his companion (the Monkey) to the mercy of the air. The Monkey reached the earth, however in perfect safety, not many rods from where he ascended. The balloon, with Mr. Guille, after hovering over the city for several minutes, took a north westerly direction, and descended at Manua Village, near Mr. Britton's residence.

Upon the whole, the spectacle was quite gratifying, and we shall be happy to learn that Mr. Guille has experienced a larger portion of public patronage on this occasion than he did on his former excursion.

We understand, that Mr. Lukens, an ingenious and philosophical mechanic of this city, was extremely solicitous to accompany Mr. Guille in this aerial voyage.

Notice is hereby Given,

That the subscriber intends applying to the next legislature of Maryland, for a special act of insolvency.

LANDS FOR SALE.
OF GOOD QUALITY
In the neighbourhood of Annapolis, Md.

RISEING SUN FARM.
Formerly a Tavern, situated on a fine tract of land, and also adjoining a body of Woodlands, known by the name of Salmon Hills, containing together upwards of 100 acres. These lands have nearly all been enclosed by a good fence, and much improved by plaster and clover, which operates with very great effect.
The soil is generally of a red loam, and is susceptible of great fertility by clover cultivation—best of tobacco is made in the neighbourhood, especially on lands of this quality. There have been many improvements added to the house and many other conveniences erected, since it has been in the hands of the present possessors.

A credit of one, two and three years will be given to the purchaser, on paying one fourth of the purchase money down, and annual interest on the unpaid portions.
Also for sale the Land formerly held by Henry H. Brown, called "Prospect Plains," containing about 270 acres, on which Mr. Welch now resides, under certain covenants. This land is very advantageously situated on the banks of the Severn, with a most convenient landing on Plum Creek, is adapted to Plaster, and yields Tobacco of superior quality. This tract will be sold on the same terms of payment as the preceding ones—and if the whole be not sold by private contract before the first Monday in October next, they will on that day, at 10 o'clock, be sold by public Vendue at the Rising Sun stand.
Apply for particulars to Mr. James Pollard, on the premises, to Mr. Joseph Sands in Annapolis, or to the Subscribers in Baltimore.

BODKIN NECK,
I also offer for sale the land called on the river Patuxent and the Bay, containing upwards of 1100 acres.
This land is held by tenants under certain covenants, yielding $700 a year.
A part of it has commodious dwellings on it, and is in a high state of improvement—The supply of manure by depositions from the Bay, is beyond the wants of the land. There is an abundance of deer and wild turkey in the land, and a great portion of it is in wood of second and original growth. Its vicinity to Baltimore; its fisheries and other circumstances independent of its value as a farm, give it great advantages.

I will also sell all the lands that are known by the name of "The Commis-ion and Howard's Fancy," lately held by Major T. Dorsey and Mr. Yealdhall, adjoining the Blackhorse tavern, nine miles from Annapolis. They contain together, about 600 acres, and constitute one of the first positions for a farm of any location in that section of the county.
The quality of the soil is a red loam,
similar to the best lands on West River.
Plaster and clover will in one year produce great fertility, and wheat may be raised on it, yielding a great crop, as may be seen by the crops within the neighbourhood on lands of similar quality. There are the best natural meadows on this farm, of any in the neighbourhood. A long credit will be given to the purchaser for the greatest part of the money. Apply to Mr. Joseph Sands in Annapolis, or the subscribers in Baltimore.

Mr. Barney reports a supplement to the act incorporating the Commercial and Farmers' Bank of Baltimore.

Washington, Dec. 5.

The Annual Report of the Secretary of the Treasury was yesterday transmitted to both Houses of Congress. It is of greater length than usual; and, as it will be the ground work of the fiscal arrangements of the present session, has been looked for with much interest.

Not being able to publish it to day,
we have endeavoured to ascertain the general nature of its contents,
for the information of our readers.
We cannot, from a hasty glance, be expected to be very precise in our account of it, but we have from the surface of the Report gathered the following facts:

The receipts into the Treasury for the present year (including monies received from loans) are stated at 16,819,637 dollars. The payments into the Treasury during the fourth quarter from the same sources are estimated at 3,430,000 dollars, making the total estimated revenue of the present year 20,249,- 637 dollars; which, added to the balance in the Treasury on the 1st day of January last, amounting to 2,076,607, makes the aggregate amount of 22,326,244 dollars. The Expenditures for the same period estimated at 25,064,513 dollars.

There will therefore, according to this estimate, be a balance against the Treasury, on the 1st day of next month, of $2,638,169, the receipts from the customs having fallen greatly short of the amount at which they were estimated in the last annual report.

Of the expenditures of this year, it is estimated that there has been and will be paid, of the principal and interest of the Public Debt, 10,740,000 dollars, being more than two fifths of the whole current expense of the year.

The Revenue for 1821, is estimated at 16,530,000 dollars, and the certain and contingent expenditures at 21,365,417 dollars; which, added to the balance against the Treasury on the 1st of January next,
will make the sum of 24,001,586,
and will consequently leave "a balance of 7,451,586 dollars beyond the estimated means, for which provision is to be made."

We are free to confess that this is not as favourable a view of the state of the Treasury as we had anticipated, but it is such an one as leaves no room for despondency, and involves no perplexing considerations. The public debt has been lessened, during the past year, by re-demptions and purchases, more than it has been increased by loans and by the anticipated balance against the Treasury on the 1st of January next. The same may be said of the calculations for the next year; that the sum to be borrowed for the use of that year will be less than the amount of principal of the public debt which will be paid off within the same time.

For future years, the prospects are encouraging, the calculation being that the annual revenue, will,
for several years after 1821, exceed the annual expenditure.

Mr. Secretary Crawford, therefore, suggests that it is not necessary at present to resort to additional objects of taxation with a view to revenue, and urges several dis-suasives, which our readers in due time shall have the pleasure of reading. Loans for occasional wants he considers as preferable. But, should Congress propose a system of taxation, a loan for the service of next year, to the amount of the estimated deficiency of the revenue, will yet be indispensable, and may be obtained on eligible terms.

Of a long report this brief sketch of course affords a very imperfect idea; but it will be more acceptable to the reader than a total silence respecting it.—Nat. Intell.

The following messages were received from the house of delegates:

Gentlemen of the Senate,

The term for which the honourable William Pinkney, one of the senators of the United States, was elected, will expire on the 4th March next. We propose, with the concurrence of your honourable body, to elect a senator of the United States on Tuesday next. We have fixed on this early day, because at this time the members of the legislature are all at the seat of government.

Gentlemen of the Senate,

Yesterday a message was forwarded by this house to the honourable the senate, informing that we were prepared to proceed to the election of a Register of Wills for Anne Arundel county at half past one o'clock P. M. It was the ultimate design of this branch of the general assembly, to have gone into the election of Register of Wills for the several counties wherein vacancies had occurred during the recess, as speedily as possible, and have commenced this business, by requesting your body to go into the election for one of those counties on yesterday.

The house of delegates continued in session until long after the hour appointed, and received no answer to the message which had been sent, which was on your part a tacit declension of the contemplated choice. It is with regret that we again call the attention of the senate to a subject of so much importance, but by the constitution of this state it is declared, "That there be a Register of Wills appointed for each county, who shall be commissioned by the governor on the joint recommendation of the senate and house of delegates, and that upon the death, resignation, disqualification, or removal out of the county, of any Register of Wills, in the recess of the general assembly, the governor, with the advice of the council, may appoint and commission a fit and proper person to such vacant office, to hold the same until the meeting of the general assembly." It is with regret that the house of delegates have discovered a disinclination on your part to proceed to a joint recommendation of some person to fill the vacancy which has occurred in the office of Register of Wills for Anne Arundel county; under the powers vested in the executive by the constitution, appointments have been made, but the senate must be sensible that those appointments ceased with the meeting of the general assembly. Deeming this a subject of the most important concern to the good people of this state, we have thought it necessary to call your attention once more to it. The Register of Wills for Anne Arundel county is not only the keeper of the county records, but the conservator of the records of the late prerogative office, in which office are carefully preserved all the last wills and testaments down to the period of the revolution, with many other important papers and documents. This then is not an appointment of mere locality, but of general interest and concern. In consequence of this appointment not being made, administration, testamentary, and guardians bonds, may be running out of date, and some important ejectment cause in some of the counties lost, or postponed for want of a will to complete the title. We know of no reason for its postponement; every member of each house is attending at the seat of government, and we hope that the senate will on reflection consent to a joint recommendation of some person to the governor to be commissioned as Register of Wills for Anne Arundel county. The house of delegates therefore propose to the senate, immediately to ballot for some person, to be jointly recommended to the governor to be commissioned as Register of Wills for Anne Arundel county.

We have appointed Messrs. Marriott and Archer to count the ballots; no person is named in addition to those put in nomination by this house on yesterday.

By order

John Brewer, clk.

Mr. Jackson asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. Carroll.

The clerk of the house of delegates delivers a bill authorising Samuel Stone, of Baltimore county, to erect and keep gates on the road therein mentioned, and a bill for the benefit of George Lash of Baltimore county.

The bill for the benefit of George Lash of Baltimore county, was read the second and third time by special order, passed, and sent to the house of delegates.

Mr. Hughlett from the committee reported a bill, entitled, An act for the benefit of Joseph Richardson, clerk of Caroline county.

The bill to make valid the deed therein mentioned was read the second, and by special order the third time, and will pass.

The bill authorising Samuel Stone of Baltimore county to erect and keep gates on the road therein mentioned was read the second and third time by special order and will pass, sent to the house of delegates.

The clerk of the house of delegates delivers the following message.

By the house of delegates December 14, 1820.

Gentlemen of the Senate,

A vacancy having occurred in the office of Register of Wills for Somerset county, during the recess of the legislature, and the duties of the person appointed by the executive having terminated with the meeting of the general assembly—we propose, with the concurrence of your honourable body, to proceed to make the appointment of register of wills for the said county to-morrow at 12 o'clock. James Polk is put in nomination by this house, and we have appointed Messrs. Hayward and Duvall to join such gentlemen as may be named by you to count the ballots and report thereon.

On motion of Mr. Maxcy, Ordered, That so much of the governor's message as relates to education and public instruction, be referred to a select committee, to consider and report thereon; and Messrs. Maxcy, Harper and Gale, be the said committee.

The bill for the benefit of Joseph Richardson, clerk of Caroline county court, was read the second and third time by special order and will pass. Sent to the house of delegates.

The bill authorising the sheriff of Caroline county to release from his custody and gaol James McCarty, jun. and for other purposes, was read the second and third time by special order, and will pass. Sent to the house of delegates.

The following message was sent to the house of delegates:

BY THE SENATE,

Dec. 14, 1820.

Gentlemen of the House of Delegates,

We have received your two messages on the subject of a joint recommendation to the governor, of a person to be appointed Register of Wills for Anne Arundel county. In answer to which, we beg leave to inform you, that we are not ready to proceed to the recommendation in question: because we understand that there are other applicants for the office, who are not nominated in either of your messages, concerning whose qualifications we expect to receive full information before we determine upon a recommendation of a person to fill an office which you justly describe as very important to the good people of the state, an officer whose tenure is during good behaviour or for life. We deem it proper, being of opinion that the senate are competent to decide for themselves the course which duty prescribes, duly to deliberate. Good may result from some delay, and we apprehend it can be productive of no inconvenience to the public; because, as we construe the provisions of the constitution, to which your last message refers us, especially when taken in connection with the last part of the 49th article, it is the duty of the person appointed by the governor, with the advice of the council, in the recess of the general assembly, to continue to act until a person is commissioned by the governor upon a joint recommendation of the senate and house of delegates at their next meeting, and this we understand to have been the general, if not the universal practice.

In addition to the above circumstances, we beg leave to state, that at the time fixed in your message of the 12th inst. the senate at the instance of your honourable body, were engaged in balloting for the executive council, and the moment fixed by your message of the 13th inst. was the one when his excellency the governor elect was waiting the attendance of both branches of the legislature to take the oath of office agreeably to the constitution and laws of this state.

As soon as we are prepared to proceed on this business, according

MARYLAND GAZETTE.
Annapolis, Thursday, Dec. 21.
Captain Rogers, of the ship James Monroe, arrived at New-York, reports verbally, that the bill of pains and penalties had passed the House of Lords, but that it was supposed it would be thrown out in the House of Commons.

LATE FROM ENGLAND.
New York, Dec. 14.
The regular & fast sailing packet ship James Monroe, Capt. Rogers, arrived off Sandy Hook on Wednesday afternoon, and came up yesterday morning, from Liverpool, whence she sailed on the 4th of November. By this arrival we are put in possession of London papers to the evening of the 2d inclusive, and Lloyd's and Shipping Lists to the 31st of October, and have made very copious and interesting extracts from the latter—and as much from the former as our limits will permit. We publish to-day the concluding part of the Lord Chancellor's speech on the second reading of the bill, which will be seen, is decidedly against the Queen.

We learn from a passenger in the James Monroe, who left France the latter part of October, that a Mercantile House in Bordeaux had received a letter from Madrid, dated the 5th of October, stating, that the Florida had been ceded by the Cortes to the United States. This information was announced in a Paris paper of the 21st.

On the 2d of November, the House of Lords proceeded with the trial of the Queen. On the 2d reading of the bill, the Lord Chancellor rose from the Woolack, and walking down the opposition side, took a station at the table almost immediately before Lord Grey and Lord Holland, and addressed the house. He was decidedly against the Queen. Lord Erskine followed in favour of the Queen, and after proceeding some time in commenting on the evidence, when he suddenly paused. This was not particularly noticed at first as it appeared as if he was looking over the minutes placed on the table before him; but after some time had elapsed, without resuming his speech, some of the Peers became alarmed, and rose from their seats to proceed to his Lordship. The anxiety of the whole House was then aroused, as the Earl fell forward on the table in a senseless state. There were cries of "Open the windows"—"Some water."—The Lord Chancellor and Lord Liverpool evinced the greatest concern, and proceeded immediately to Lord Erskine's assistance.

They, with the assistance of Earls Grey and Carnarvon, & Lord Holland, raised his lordship; but his speech and colour were gone. They then became seriously alarmed, and instantly proceeded to convey him out of the house. The attack was so severe, that they were obliged literally to carry his lordship out of the house, and into an adjoining room.

The proceedings of the House were completely interrupted by this event, and their lordships, for some moments, remained in a state of the greatest anxiety, without knowing what course to pursue.
His lordship remained in the same inanimate and alarming state. Sir T. Tyrwhitt was in attendance, and sent to procure all possible aid.
Lord Lauderdale, after some time had elapsed, rose amidst cries of hear, hear! in a faltering tone, and evidently a good deal affected by what had just happened, he said, in order that they might have the opportunity of knowing what really was the extent of his noble friend's sudden and alarming indisposition, and of affording the noble lord time to resume his address, should he happily have strength to do so, he begged to move, that the House do adjourn for a quarter of an hour.
The question was accordingly put and carried. Several of the Lords then proceeded to Mr. Cooper's room. The Lord Chancellor remained with Lord Erskine, paying him the kindest and most anxious attention.
After the lapse of a quarter of an hour, for which the house adjourned, Lord Erskine being no better, the discussion was resumed by Lord Lauderdale.
We presume the reader will hardly excuse us if we do not introduce the Queen to view as early as the second paragraph of our summary. The case has closed, so far as relates to the testimony, and the labours of the counsel for the respective parties. The house adjourned on Monday, the 30th of October, to Thursday the 2d of November, and our latest paper is one of the morning of the latter day; but it of course furnishes us with no proceedings after the adjournment. It was supposed that the second reading of the bill would be moved on the 2d of November; and this motion will probably produce a long debate. How the question will be settled is yet a matter of uncertainty. The Times of November 2, says, "It is said triumphantly we hear, that ministers will carry the second reading of this wicked and ominous bill. Well, we reply, be it so: what does that signify? Will any man think the worse of the Queen for it?" This being the leading opposition paper, we may suppose that they think the passage of the bill pretty certain.

The latest Times has a furious article, mingled with an anger and despair, in which the editor attempts a parallel between the trial of the Queen, and that of the late Queen of France.

The Courier remarks, that "the preamble of the bill was twice proved; each successive mode of proof rising over the former in due gradation of efficacy."
"1. Positively, by the evidence produced in support of the bill."
"2. Comparatively, by the failure of the evidence produced against the bill."
"3. Superlatively, by the suppression of the evidence in her Majesty's power, and not produced."
The Traveller of Nov. 1, says— "When the bill of Pains and Penalties shall have passed, England will have ceased to be under the government of law."
The Prince of Saxe Cobourg, has lately visited her Majesty for the first time since her return to England.

Field Marshal Prince Charles of Schwarzenberg died at Leipzig, on the 15th inst. The body of his highness was opened, when it appeared that he had died of a disease in the organ of the heart, which was of several years standing, before its fatal termination; the prince was in the 43th year of his age.

Advices from Naples are to October 10. There was a contest at Palermo on the 25th September, at which time Gen. Pepe, commander of the Neapolitan army, advanced and occupied the suburbs of the city after killing and putting to flight all who defended them. On the 26th a flag of truce was sent in, but, not returning, the troops attacked the city and burnt several houses. Negotiations were again commenced, but on a sudden, in the afternoon of the 28th, the gates were shut, and the Palermians recommenced hostilities. On the 2d October, General Pepe threw in bombs; on the 3th new negotiations were commenced, and on the 10th a telegraphic dispatch was received at Naples, dated Palermo, Oct. 6, announcing that all was nearly terminated.

The city had surrendered, and the troops of Gen. Pepe entered and occupied the forts.
There is a postscript to the letter containing these details, which asserts (though it is admitted that the intelligence wants confirmation) that General Pepe had been compelled to evacuate Palermo on the evening of the 7th, after a sanguinary contest in the interior of the city.
A paragraph from Rome, Oct. 11, says—"It is reported that Austrian troops are immediately to arrive at Ancona, and on the other hand that a considerable corps of Neapolitans are approaching our frontiers."
The accounts from Madrid of the 16th ult. state that on the preceding day the proposition for abolishing political societies or clubs, had been agreed to in the cortes by a majority of 100 to 48.
The decree of the Cortes for the reformation of the Monks, has not yet been approved by his Majesty.
Private letters from Madrid state, that the King of Spain had, by the advice of his privy council, refused his sanction to the proposition agreed to by the Cortes for the suppression of monastic orders.
During the discussion against the Monks, in the Cortes of Spain, the pious fathers availed themselves of the delay; and carried from the Monasteries all the moveable goods upon which they could lay their hands. Many millions of property, it is said, will thus be lost to the government.
At a meeting of the inhabitants of Southwark, held on Tuesday at the town hall, an address to his majesty for the removal of his present ministers was unanimously agreed to.
Lieut. Frankland and his companions, on the 30th of June last, were left all well, 700 miles up the country from Hudson's Bay. By the beginning of September they would, no doubt, arrive at the Coppermine river.
The Sophie sloop of war, arrived at Portsmouth from Jamaica, brings most distressing accounts of the mortality on board the different ships on the station. The Sophie lost many of her men.
The Diet of Saxony was opened on the 15th of October with the accustomed ceremonies. Important measures, it was supposed, would be submitted by government to that assembly; but, as the sittings are secret, the subjects of its deliberations can be ascertained only by their results.

The Citizens of Annapolis,

TO THE PUBLIC.

The Executive Council of Maryland have thought proper to introduce a bill in their communication to the two Houses of Assembly, which they thought it due to my character to give the public a full exposure of the transaction. It is to me not surprising why I should have been particularly selected as the subject of a resolution and a public message from the Executive to the Legislature, that there was a balance due to the state from Henry Wayman, of the sum of $1000 advanced for the arms he had furnished, and that not being able to pay a settlement, otherwise than by compulsion, they had directed that he should be brought against the public interest position of every petty transaction and the Executive body should be given to the world in such a manner. The motives by which the Governor and his Council, however, was the author of this production were actual to account for the $1000, which their predecessors in office had advanced to me; and also to give them an account of my expenses incurred in the collection, for the purpose of ascertaining what compensation they would allow me for my services. To do this was now impossible. Acting under a full belief that my contract with the Executive was as above stated, I could have no inducement to keep such an account; and I could not, in justice to myself, agree that this Executive should alter or cancel a contract made and agreed upon with a former Executive. Had I supposed that a contract with the Governor and Council was to be governed by different rules from a contract with an individual, that it was binding only on one party, and subject to alteration as the whims, caprices, or policy of the Executive Chamber might require, I should have taken good care to decline all agency in the business.

As I could not possibly comply with this last requisition of the Council, or consent to an adjustment of my claims on such terms, I could have no settlement with them, according to my construction of the agreement, until I had completed my collection. I therefore proceeded in the discharge of my duties, until some time in March, 1820, when I received a letter from the Clerk of the Council, informing me that the Legislature had passed a resolution, "authorising the Executive to examine into the claims of the respective agents, and to allow them such sum as they might think reasonable, and to institute suits against such of them as might be indebted to the state," requesting me to make all such communications relative to my agency as I might think proper, on or before the 20th of that month, at which time the Council would be in session. I accordingly communicated to the Executive, that the only representation that I deemed it necessary or expedient to make at that time, was relative to a claim made on the part of the United States to fifty stand of arms, and requesting directions how to proceed therein.

The next communication which I received from the Executive, bears date the 28th of March, 1820, by which I am ordered to cease proceeding any further in my agency, and am required to furnish a full account of my proceedings, and of the expenses of collection; and am informed that the Executive will meet on the second Monday of June then next. In July 1820, I received another communication from the Executive, dated the 13th of the month, informing me that the Council would again meet on the 28th of August, and that if I did not account with them at that time, suit would be commenced against me to the September term of the county court, to recover back such part of the money advanced me as might at that time not be accounted for.

In compliance with this notification, I accordingly attended with my vouchers, for the purpose of making to the Council a full exhibition of my whole agency; but from some cause the Executive did not meet according to their appointment, and I heard nothing further on this subject, until some time in September, when the Clerk to the Council informed me by letter, that suit had been brought against me, and thus terminated the correspondence.

As the state, by its Executive Council, has thought proper to refer the investigation of this subject to a court of justice, perhaps it would be improper to canvass the legal rights of the parties. To a court and jury of the country I cheerfully submit it, nor do I doubt the issue. I do not complain that the Executive have thought it their duty to make such an appeal; but to be pronounced a public defaulter before the public, in a document destined to extensive circulation; to be denied all opportunity of refuting or combatting the slander, is an act of injustice which every honest man must reprobate.

Where I am known, the slander will prove harmless; but in those parts of the state to which I am a stranger, the supposed dignity of the office, from which it proceeds, might give it a currency and belief, which would be denied to its authors as private individuals. It will be seen from the above statement of facts, all of which I am prepared to prove by testimony of the highest character, that the attack has been as wanton as it is wicked. Had the Executive honestly complied with the original contract, the State's arms would in all probability have been collected, and the expense of such collection would have been less, as appears from their own admission. Subjoined is an account of the monies advanced the different agents, taken from the Executive communication of 1819, from which it will appear, that the Council at that time had it not in their power to comply with their contract; and that by their proceedings, they have shewn as little regard for their duty as for my feelings. Whether this Executive communication is from his Excellency, or, as is whispered, is the production of one of his constitutional advisers, I know not; the public I am sure, will do me the justice to give it no greater credit than it intrinsically merits.

For the Maryland Gazette.
MR. CALHOUN.

As nothing can be more important to a nation, both as respects its dignity and safety, than to be prepared for war in time of peace, it is essential that correct opinions should be diffused as to the true nature and object of a military peace establishment. Nothing can be better calculated for producing that effect, than the publication, in every part of the country, of the clear and able report of the secretary of war (as the house of representatives on the 12th of this month.

While the perspicuity of this report renders all elucidation unnecessary, its brevity precludes the possibility of an abstract, that would do justice to the subject. I shall therefore attempt none, but recommend a perusal of the whole. I cannot however refrain from taking notice of one most important fact disclosed in it—and that is—that by the superior organization of the war department, in relation to the army alone, since the present secretary was placed at the head of it, a saving without reference to reduced prices, has been effected in the last year of nearly a million of dollars, although that saving was practicable only in the clothing, medical, and subsistence departments, the other expenses of the army, such as the pay of the officers and men, the subsistence of the former, &c. being fixed by law, and therefore not susceptible of reduction by the secretary. A proportionate diminution of expense, with respect to ordnance and fortifications, has probably been made, though that is not stated, as it did not come within the prescribed scope of the report. It is believed however, though I have no documents to refer to at present, that the whole expense of the army, ordnance and fortifications, have been considerably less the present year, than that of the army alone in the preceding years since the peace.

It is hoped, that no ideas of false economy will induce congress to diminish the present peace establishment of the U. States. It is already sufficiently small, and would be thought, when the vast extent of this great country is considered, contemptible in any other country than this. If it be saved however, from diminution, in this season of extraordinary economy, the country will be indebted for that happy result, to the order, method, and rigid responsibility, introduced into every branch of expenditure under his control, by that able, long-sighted, and patriotic statesman, the present secretary of war.

Report of the Secretary of War on the Military Peace Establishment.

War Department,
December 12, 1820.

SIR: In obedience to a resolution of the House of Representatives of the 11th of May last, "directing that the Secretary of War report to this House, at the commencement of the next session, a plan for the reduction of the army to six thousand non-commissioned officers, musicians, and privates, and preserving such parts of the corps of engineers as, in his opinion, without regard to that number, it may be for the public interest to retain; and also, what saving of the public revenue will be produced by such arrangement of the army as he may propose in conformity with this resolution," I have the honour to make the following report.

I deem it proper, before a plan is presented in detail for reducing the army, as proposed in the resolution, to state briefly the general principles on which it is conceived our military peace establishment ought to be organized. It will be readily admitted, that the organization of the army ought to have reference to the objects for which it is maintained, and ought to be such as may be best calculated to effect such objects; as it must be obvious, on the slightest reflection, that on considerations connected therewith ought to depend not only its numbers, but also the principles on which it ought to be formed.

The necessity of a standing army in peace is not believed to be involved in the subject under consideration, as the resolution presupposes the propriety of maintaining one; and, in fact, its necessity is so apparent, that even those least friendly to the army have never attempted to abolish it, or even to reduce it, since the late war, much below the number proposed in the resolution. The objects for which a standing army in peace ought to be maintained may be comprized under two classes; those which, though they have reference to a state of war, yet are more immediately connected with its duties in peace, and those which relate immediately and solely to war. Under the first class may be enumerated, as the leading objects, the garrisoning of the forts along our Atlantic frontier, in order to preserve them, and to cause the sovereignty of the United States to be respected in their immediate neighbourhood, and the occupying of certain commanding posts on our inland frontier, to keep in check our savage neighbours, and to protect our newly formed and feeble settlements in that quarter. These are, doubtless, important objects, but are by no means so essential as those which relate immediately and solely to a state of war; and, though not to be neglected wholly, ought not to have any decided influence in the organization of our peace establishments. Without, therefore, making any farther remark on this point of the inquiry, I will proceed to consider the other class, on which, as it comprises the great and leading inducements to maintain in this country a regular army in peace, the prominent features of its organization ought to depend.

However remote our situation from the great powers of the world, and however pacific our policy, we are, notwithstanding, liable to be involved in war, and, to resist with success its calamities and dangers, a standing army in peace, in the present improved state of the military science, is an indispensable preparation. The opposite opinion cannot be adopted, without putting to hazard the independence and safety of the country. I am aware that the militia is considered, and in many respects justly, as the great national force; but, to render them effective, every experienced officer must acknowledge, that they require the aid of regular troops. Supported by a suitable corps of trained artillerymen, and by a small but well disciplined body of infantry, they may be safely relied on to garrison our forts, and to act in the field as light troops. In these services their zeal, courage, and habit of using fire arms, would be of great importance, and would have their full effect. To rely on them beyond this; to suppose our militia capable of meeting in the open field the regular troops of Europe, would be to resist the most obvious truth, and the whole of our experience as a nation. War is an art, to obtain perfection in which much time and experience, particularly for the officers, are necessary. It is true, that men of great military genius occasionally appear, who, though without experience, may, when an army is already organized and disciplined, lead it to victory; yet I know of no instance, under circumstances nearly equal, in which the greatest talents have been able, with irregular and undisciplined troops, to meet with success those that were regularly trained. Genius, without much experience, may command, but it cannot go much further. It cannot at once organize and discipline an army, and give it that military tone and habit which only, in the midst of imminent danger, can enable it to perform the most complex evolutions with precision & promptitude. Those qualities, which essentially distinguish an army from an equal assemblage of untrained individuals, can only be acquired by the instruction of experienced officers.
