Frostburg State College

VOLUME 34, NUMBER 23 MARCH 24, 1983

Frostburg State College's Sky Cannon, the largest public telescope in Maryland, was completed at the beginning of March. The telescope's biggest advantage is its 17½ inch light collector, which collects 2,300 times more light than the human eye. With this instrument, an observer may see the farthest planet Neptune as well as look closely at the numerous other planets and stars in the sky.

The telescope was built in the Physics Department of Frostburg State College, largely by one student. Dr. Robert Doyle conceived the idea, and discussed it with Burt Thiel of the Computer Science Department. Mr. Thiel designed the instrument, and student Jim Beckman began working on it almost two years ago. Jim put in hundreds of hours building the telescope, which weighs 300 pounds and resembles a large cannon. The total cost of the equipment was less than one thousand dollars. A commercial telescope of this size would have cost the college between four and five thousand dollars.

The Sky Cannon has a decided advantage over the next largest public telescope in Maryland, which is at the Maryland Academy of Science and has only an eight inch light collector. Dr. Doyle points out that Frostburg holds another advantage for those who would like to observe the sky—fewer artificial lights. Because there are relatively few artificial lights in a town of this size, the light from the skies is more easily captured and the stars appear more clearly.

Dr. Doyle invites those who are interested in using the telescope to do so on Wednesday nights at 8:30 behind Dunkle Hall, weather permitting. Saturn with its many rings, and Jupiter, which has four moons and interesting cloud features, will be seen in the night sky in May. Dr. Doyle feels that, although looking at photographs of stars and planets is useful, "The real thing is something else." The Sky Cannon provides the best opportunity many will ever have to observe our universe.

The College Bowl Regionals were held last weekend at the University of Maryland, Baltimore Campus, and Frostburg's representatives made a respectable showing. The representatives were chosen on the basis of points scored individually, as opposed to sending the winning team of Frostburg's competition.

The final match of the competition held at Frostburg was between the undefeated Maxwell-Boltzmann Distribution and ROTC; Maxwell-Boltzmann proved themselves the better team. Members of that winning team were Ray Athey, Mark Crable, Steve Doyle, and John Wagner. Both Athey and Doyle were selected to represent Frostburg in the regional competition, but they opted not to attend.

Students representing Frostburg at the regionals were Joe Castor, Jim Hostetter, Linda Malcolm, Steve Moffett, and Aaron Phelps. In the first round of the double-elimination competition Frostburg was defeated by Ursinus College of Pennsylvania, 160-100. In the second match, the Frostburg team redeemed themselves by triumphing over Moravian College of Pennsylvania, 135-55. Frostburg was eliminated from the competition in the third round when they bowed to University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown, 300-35. The winning team of the regional competition was the University of Maryland-College Park team, who defeated Lehigh University in a tense match, 285-195.

A film and discussion on the consequences of nuclear war will be held on Thursday, March 31 in the Community Room of the Allegany County Health Department. The film, "The Last Epidemic: The Medical Consequences of Nuclear War," vividly portrays the global and ecological catastrophe which would follow nuclear war.

The program is being sponsored by the Cumberland Area Health Education Center and the Physicians for Social Responsibility. PSR, which produced the film, is a nationwide non-profit organization of doctors committed to professional and public information on nuclear war.

Those who wish to register for the program should contact Jann Keenan at 777-9150. The program is free of charge.

Dear Editor,

I am curious why the Black Student Alliance was placed into the Big Organizations. I can understand why SGA, CCB, WFNR, State, and Nemaconlin should receive priority funding. These organizations have large operating costs and they are for the entire campus to use. I do not see the Black Student Alliance needing large sums of money, and they represent only a minority of the campus. If the Black Student Alliance can receive priority funding, then should not the fraternities, clubs, and dorms be considered also for special funding?

Dear Editor,

As freshmen here at Frostburg State, we feel a need to voice our opinions against the ruling force of this campus, Residence Life. This branch of the administration has made our college career, thus far, unbearable.

We feel that, although we have been in violation of campus policies, sanctions imposed have been extremely severe and inconsistent with similar cases. Many of the Residence Life staff, particularly the Resident Assistants, have developed an unjustified attitude towards residents in our house. Therefore, we feel that we are being treated unfairly. Residents in our house are billed repeatedly, exceedingly high fines for minor damages, such as $125 for a wall clock that was accidentally knocked out by a visitor and will not be replaced. Members of our house will also be forced to pay for a hole in the wall which did not exist. When members of our house proceeded to discuss this with the Assistant Director of Residence Life, Gary Love, we were told that it would be "looked into." After that we heard nothing more.

Who is to say whether our Residence Life Office is ethical? Should it be investigated or should students continually be subjected to the whims of Mr. Love and his R.A.'s?

Everybody Join The Band....

Do you enjoy good music? Do you sing or play an instrument, perhaps? If you do, then you are eligible to find a very convenient loophole in the upcoming preregistration for next fall. Under the rules of the new curriculum, it is possible to use three musical ensemble credits towards your humanities requirement under the general studies category.

The music department here at FSC is staffed with the finest of instructors who will gladly open up a musical world to anybody who is willing to give it a try. The different ensembles feature a variety of music, ranging from Renaissance to jazz. Whether you have an old trombone gathering dust in your closet or you find yourself singing a familiar tune much too often you should seriously consider taking advantage of this musical opportunity.

To quote the late, great Lowell George of Little Feat, "Everybody, join the band..." And when the band you're in starts playing different tunes, I'll see you on the dark side of the moon... (P.F.)

DRAFTY NEWS

A federal court judge in Minnesota two weeks ago ordered a temporary halt to enforcement of a new law barring federal student aid to persons who have failed to register for the draft.

U.S. District Court Judge Donald Alsop made the decision in a case filed by the Minnesota Civil Liberties Union on behalf of three unnamed students who have not registered for the draft.

Alsop granted the motion for a preliminary injunction requested by the group indicating that the plaintiffs would probably win the final ruling.

In his decision, the judge noted that the law, which requires draft-eligible students to sign a statement of registration compliance before becoming eligible for federal aid, amounted to a denial of a person's right to a trial, and also forced self-incrimination.

Defendants in the case are the Department of Education and the Selective Service System. A spokesman for the Education Department said the agency had not yet decided on a response.

Amy Silberberg, attorney for the Minnesota Civil Liberties Union, said the group would file a motion for a final decision with the court by next week.

MONEY FOR MOUNTAINS

Senator Paul Sarbanes has joined in sponsoring legislation in the U.S. Senate to reauthorize the Appalachian Regional Development Act in accordance with proposals developed by the region's 13 governors. The bill would extend authority for area development programs through 1987 and for highway construction through 1990. Senator Sarbanes joined Senator Jennings Randolph (WV) in introducing the legislation.

"It is very important that we continue the outstanding work of the Appalachian Regional Commission with the intentions and directions of Congress regarding the finish-up work of the Commission," Senator Sarbanes said. "This finish-up program developed by the region's 13 governors during 1981 recognizes that while much has been accomplished since the establishment of the Commission in 1965, there remain many unfilled needs if we are to be successful in bringing this important region into the mainstream of American economic life. The need for this program is especially important now when the region is feeling the impact of recession more acutely than other parts of the Nation."

Senators Randolph and Sarbanes joined in sponsoring similar legislation last year, which was passed by both the Senate and House of Representatives. The 1982 measure, however, did not become law because of the addition of other subject matter in the House.

In addition to reauthorizing the Commission's development programs for four years and its highway construction programs for seven years, the bill grants Congressional recognition to the Appalachian Foundation. The Foundation was developed by members of the ARC, and was recently incorporated as a parallel organization to the Commission. It is intended to become a focal point for the assembling and investment of private sector resources in the Appalachian region.

JOBS

Positions for Night Assistants are open for fall semester. If you are at least a second semester freshman with a G.P.A. of 2.3 or better and are interested in finding out more about the Night Assistants, attend the N.A. application meeting March 29 or 30. The meeting will be held in Lane Center, Room 202, at 3:00 p.m. To apply for a position, you must attend one of these meetings.

Residence Life is seeking out responsible students who are concerned about the college community and maintaining campus security. The N.A.'s want to work with FSC students, not against them. N.A.'s must be dedicated and willing to work late hours. The job requires working with the FSC students and Campus Police.

Being an N.A. is good experience. The pay is $3.35 an hour. For more information, contact Mark Shuster, Residence Life (Annapolis Hall), or call x4121.

The Foreign and Domestic Teachers Organization needs teacher applicants in all fields from Kindergarten through College to fill between five and six hundred teaching vacancies both at home and abroad.

This organization has been finding vacancies and locating teachers both in foreign countries and in all fifty states since 1968, and possesses hundreds of current openings and all of the pertinent information on scholarships, grants, and fellowships.

Anyone wishing additional information about the organization may write to the Portland Oregon Better Business Bureau or the National Teacher's Placement Agency, UNIVERSAL TEACHERS, Box 5231, Portland, Oregon 97208.

We still need about 300 teachers to fill positions in the Mid West, West and overseas. You may again wish to alert your teachers of this opportunity.

Swim Teams Compete

In the National Championships two weeks ago at Kenyon College, Laura Schlegel proved she is still one of the top swimmers in Division III. For the third consecutive year the junior captured All-American honors. Her best finish was 7th in the 200-yd backstroke, with a time of 2:13.13. In 1982 she won this event. In the 50-yd backstroke Schlegel captured 8th place (29.55), and in the 100-yd backstroke she finished 10th (1:02.81). She had placed third in this event the previous year.

With the first twelve finishers earning All-American status, Schlegel thus gained All-American honors three times in the Championships. Coach Bob McFarland was pleased with her performance, noting that she swam season bests in either the preliminaries or finals for each event. Suffering from various illnesses during the season, Schlegel performed quite well.

Three other Frostburg women reached the Nationals. Alicia Bobesink and Ann Whisner qualified in the 50-yd breaststroke. However, neither girl was able to qualify for the finals. Bobesink finished with a time of 34.35; Whisner came in at 34.43.

Katy Corran finished 33rd out of 42 girls in the 3-meter dive, but McFarland was pleased she did so well in her first year of diving.

Freshman Bill Croft competed this past weekend in the NCAA Division III Swimming Championships at Canton, Ohio. While the Woodbury, NJ native failed to qualify for the finals in the 100-yd butterfly and 100-yd freestyle, coach Bob McFarland expressed joy in his performance.

"Bill didn't swim all that well, but he still finished with his second best time of the year in each," stated McFarland. "Even if he had done well, he wouldn't have qualified. The times were very fast. Overall, it was a good experience for him."

In weather better suited for ducks than lacrosse players, the Frostburg State women's lacrosse team opened their season on March 9 with a 12-10 victory at Notre Dame (MD).

The mucky field had a significant effect on the game. Frostburg, playing in the good end of the field the first half, grabbed a 7-2 halftime lead. The FSC attack was 7 for 14, while Notre Dame could convert just 2 of 11 shots. The second half was a different story. Forced to defend in ankle deep mud, with a heavy fog rolling in to complicate matters, the Frostburg lead quickly dissipated. Twice Notre Dame closed to within two goals, but Frostburg goalie Renee Cannon held off Notre Dame long enough for FSC to come away with the 12-10 victory.

On the day, the Bobcats converted 12 of 30 shots, compared to Notre Dame's 10 of 23. Barb Barrett and Janet Webb led Frostburg with 4 goals apiece; freshman Webb adding four assists. Diane Corbett added 3 goals, with Ginny Anderson picking up the remaining FSC goal.

After a week off for the Spring Break, Coach Sharon Irwin's women's lacrosse team returns to action with their 1-0 record still intact. The women scrimmage West Virginia on Wednesday, March 23 before participating in the Sanford Marathon on March 25 to March 27. The Marathon is held at Hockessin, Delaware.

A total of 33 teams are expected at the Marathon, including William and Mary, Stanford University and a Canadian entry. A variety of skill levels will be on hand, with teams of equal skill facing each other.

Irwin feels the Marathon will be of great benefit to her team. "This will be a good experience, not only playing wise, but it is a good opportunity for our girls to watch the talent of some of the other teams."

Mudbath Victory

The Frostburg State Baseball Team began their season over Spring Break with their annual trip south. Because of poor weather conditions, five games were cancelled. The Bobcats were only able to play four games and ended their road trip with a 1-3 record.

Coach Bob Wells' young team opened at Coastal Carolina, a perennial NAIA power. The Bobcats dropped 7-0 and 8-2 decisions, disappointing but encouraging considering Coastal's powerful lineup. After dropping a close 10-9 decision to Spring Garden, FSC captured its first win of the year, defeating Methodist 4-3 in a rain-abbreviated contest.

The hitting star for FSC was freshman Scott Hackal. Hackal provided the winning margin in the win over Methodist, his 3-run homer in the fifth just getting in before rain settled matters in the sixth. Against Spring Garden he added a two-run double. Defensively, Hackal handled 16 balls at shortstop with no errors.

Wells was pleased overall with his team's performance. "The pitchers looked better than I anticipated," Wells commented, "particularly the freshmen." He praised freshman David Schallmo, Frank Carcieri and Scott Lamont. Schallmo captured the lone FSC win and totalled four and two-thirds innings of scoreless hurling.

Defensively, the Bobcats committed ten errors, but Wells noted that just three were charged to infielders. "Our defense looks like it will be strong," the veteran mentor stated. "We did some bad things in the Spring Garden game, making some freshmen errors, but that was the only time our defense really broke down."

The Bobcats have five games scheduled this week, all on the road. March 25 Frostburg plays Virginia Wesleyan in a single game, then plays doubleheaders at Christopher-Newport (March 26) and Coppin State (March 27).

MUSIC

A concert of brass chamber music will be presented by the Frostburg State College Faculty Brass Quartet on Saturday, March 26, at 8:15 p.m. in Pullen Auditorium. Members of the ensemble are Charles Grab, Jr. and Jon Bauman, trumpets, with Robert Hearson and Charles Propper, trombones.

The concert will begin with an early Baroque composition by Frescobaldi, "Canzon terza-decima a 4." Next is Wilhelm Ramsoe's "Quartet No. 2." Following this demanding four movement work, and bringing the first half of the concert to a close, will be "Two Sonatas" by Speer.

After intermission, the Faculty Brass Quartet present "Bransle Double" by Michael Praetorius, a leading German composer at the turn of the sixteenth century. Next is "Contrapunctus I" from The Art of Fugue by Johann Sebastian Bach.

The program continues with "Sonata No. 4 in D" and "Sonata No. 1 in C" by Weber. Concluding the concert is "The Entertainer" by Scott Joplin and arranged for the quartet by Jon Bauman.

AND ART

The annual High School Art Show sponsored by the Frostburg State College art department and the Westvaco Corporation opened Saturday, March 12, at 1 p.m. in the College's Fine Arts Gallery.

Winner of the "Best of Show Award" is Wade Barbe of Keyser High School for his untitled oil painting of a dirtbike race. Sharing second prize awards of $50 each are David Miller of Mt. Savage High School for a pen, ink and charcoal drawing, and Pam Moreland of Frankfort High School for her batik soft sculpture wall hanging.

The recipients of honorable mention awards are Susan Deneen and Jeffrey Conley of Bishop Walsh High School; Rita Welch and Pam Moreland, Frankfort High School; Angie Crawford, Hyndman High School; Jeanette Watkins, Beall High School; and Jacki O'Neil, Keyser High School. Judge of the entries was L. Robert Llewellyn, acting head of the FSC department of art. The awards are sponsored by the Westvaco Corporation. The show will be on display until April 4. Gallery hours are 1 to 3 p.m. on Wednesday and Friday, and 1:30 to 4 p.m. on Sunday.

Frank A. Florentine, former city resident and graduate of Frostburg State College, has been production manager and associate lighting designer for Rudolf Nureyev's ballet "Don Quixote." The production just completed a three week run on Broadway after touring over 40,000 miles this past year through the United States, Mexico and Italy.

As the production manager for "Don Quixote," Florentine was responsible for the creation of the technical data necessary to put the show into each of the various theatres. This includes drafting ground plans for each theatre, coordinating stage crews of 35 to 40 men and arranging the transportation of 40,000 pounds of scenery, costumes and lighting equipment.

Over the past ten years, Florentine has been the production manager and/or lighting designer for many different theatrical events ranging from Wolf Trap Farm Park for the Performing Arts to the Washington Ballet. He also served in this capacity for the 1981 Presidential Inauguration

Gala at the Air and Space Museum of the Smithsonian Institute. He is currently staff technician for Lisner Auditorium at George Washington University in Washington, D.C.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Florentine and graduated from Frostburg State College in 1970 with majors in Theatre and English.

The FSC Lacrosse Club is presenting "The NIGHTHAWKS" in concert in the Lane Center Multi-Use Room on April 15 at 8:00 p.m. As you may or may not have noticed, this is the biggest name band to appear in the Lane Center in quite some time, and with good reason.

The history of popular bands appearing in the Lane Center has not been a good one. Five years ago The Nighthawks performed in the Lane Center. Because of the outrageous behavior of the students attending this event, the administration has been extremely reluctant to allow bands as the 'Hawks to appear in the Lane Center. Five years ago the Lane Center literally destroyed the Multi-Use Room.

in their misplaced enthusiasm with the show. Other problems include large amounts of hard liquor smuggled in, crowds rushing the doors, and approximately 200 people let in over the fire marshal limit. Obviously this type of behavior cannot be tolerated.

After long negotiations between the officers of the Lacrosse Club and the Office of Campus Activities, an agreement has been reached allowing this program to take place. There are various stipulations governing the concert that the Lacrosse Club had to agree to before permission for the concert was granted. These include 3 to 4 extra Campus Police on hand, a limit of 500 tickets to be sold, full restitution for all damages incurred, and no alcohol is to be served during the show or allowed into the show at any time. This concert should be viewed as a trial run for the students of this school. If successful, this concert could set a precedent that will allow big name bands to appear on campus in the future. If this concert is not successful, as far as the students' behavior goes, you can be sure that this will be the last major concert to be allowed on this campus.

If everyone can exercise a little bit of self-control at this concert, it can be a real blast—hopefully the first of many to come.

Additional note: FSC I.D. required. Limit of two tickets per person. FSC students ONLY.

THE NIGHTHAWKS ST? AND

The Student Government Association salutes the Lacrosse Team's efforts to get the Nighthawks on campus. We even went so far as to agree to loan the Lacrosse Club money in case of the damage done by students to the Lane Center exceed their profits. The reason for this action is twofold: (1) We believe that it is important for the students to have the opportunity to see big name bands on their campus, and (2) We have faith in the students of this campus being able to handle themselves in a civilized manner. If there are no problems with this show, it could well open up the Lane Center for future high calibre performances. If you plan on going, please be on your best behavior.

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

The recipient of the "Athlete of the Week" award for March 7 to March 13 is Laura Schlegel, a member of the women's swimming team. Schlegel earned All-American honors in three events in the NCAA Division III Nationals Championships at Kenyon College. She finished 7th in the 200-yd backstroke, 8th in the 50-yd backstroke and 10th in the 100-yd backstroke. This marks the third straight year the junior from Silver Spring has won All-American recognition.

Janet Webb, a member of the women's lacrosse team, was also nominated for the award.

After nearly a month off, the men's and women's track teams return to competition on March 26, opening the outdoor portion of their schedule in the Towson State Invitational.

Both squads had exceptional outdoor campaigns in 1982, the women finishing second in the National Championships and the men coming in sixth. The men, fielding a deep and talented squad, followed with a fine indoor season. The women suffered heavier graduation losses, and the young team is just now rounding into form.

The men, under coach Bob Lewis, have captured the last four Towson Invitationals. Last year the Bobcats outdistanced the field of 34 teams, collecting 124½ points to Indiana (PA)'s 86. Among the teams Frostburg beat were Millersville State, Morgan State and the University of New Haven.

Barb Surgent's women were eighth out of 20 teams in 1982. During the indoor season Surgent received fine individual performances from several girls, but a lack of depth makes it hard for Frostburg to do well from a team standpoint.

A member of the Frostburg faculty was ripped off last weekend and has asked for some help. They lost several small, bright-colored Haitian oil paintings, many Latin American weavings (blankets, ponchos and wall hangings), and several pieces of brightly-painted ceramics. Towels, blankets and clothing were also taken, presumably for wrapping and packing. If you notice a bunch of stuff like this in your travels around campus and town, or if you find an odd pile of stuff that might have been used in packing, be a friend and let us know by dropping a note to Box 40 in the Lane Center.
