

Former Graduates To Return For Homecoming

Harvest Queen to Be Feted at Annual Dance

Nominations for Harvest Queen were made in the assembly on Thursday, October 21. Seven girls from various classes in the college were nominated. The voting for Harvest Queen this year will be done by balloting by the entire student body. In previous years each contestant has been voted on by money. Each nominee this year will introduce herself to the students in the assembly on October 28, and the votes will then be cast.

Two of the girls nominated were members of the Junior Class. These girls were Nancy Wilson and Mary Lou Davis. Nancy is active in many school activities, and Mary Lou is known for her work on the social committee.

Representing the sophomore class in the contest are Jean Fitzgerald, Nancy Laws, Eleanor Bach, and Carolyn Carey. Jean is from the state of Connecticut while Nancy and Carolyn will represent the city of Salisbury. Eleanor is from Chesapeake City and is now spending her first year living in the girls' dormitory.

One of the nominees, Shirley Young, is a member of the Senior Class. Shirley is from Trenton, New Jersey.

The Queen and her court will be present at the annual Harvest Dance, November 12, when the award will be announced and presented with a crown to reign over the Harvest dance.

Group of STC Students See Opera Production

On November 14th, a group of students from STC will attend the matinee performance of the Baltimore Civic Opera Company's production of "Il Trovatore" at the Lyric Theater. The group will leave in the morning and will be driven to Baltimore by Mr. Foltz.

"Il Trovatore," written by Giuseppe Verdi, along with his famous "Aida," is always popular and is included in the repertoires of all the well known opera companies.

"Seeds of Suspicion" to Be Offered by Players

The Sophanes Players plan to present several one-act plays this year. To get this series under way, Carl Rathgeber, who is one of the chairmen for choosing, casting and directing a play, has chosen his play which will be given during the second week in November. The title of the play is "Seeds of Suspicion." It is a fast moving mystery. It will be done arena style in the dining hall. Tryouts were held for several weeks and this cast was chosen: Charlotte Walsh, Connie Hildebrand, Anne Gorman, Fred Kille, Frank Gentle, Bob Davis and Dick Gosnell. Sally Dawson will be the stage manager.

Preceding the play the Sophanes Players will hold a banquet and invite guests from town as well as from the college. Shirley Young and Peggy Richards are making plans for this.

1st Student Assembly Features Frosh Talent

On October 21, 1954, a student assembly was presented featuring talent from the Freshman Class. The cheer leaders whipped up enthusiasm for the game with Frostburg the next day; and the program was climaxed with the college chorus singing three songs and sporting their new choir robes.

The Freshman portion of the program was emceed by the class president, James "Buddy" Emerson. Bill Jewby, Barbara Morgan, Suzanne Meintzer, and Jean Cannon were featured. Each of the girls sang two songs and was accompanied by Bill Jewby, who later played a medley of tunes on the piano.

This was the first performance for the entire Glee Club this year, and their contribution to the program was appreciated by all those present.

There was no scheduling of a program for October 28. The next assembly was held Monday, Nov. 1, and featured Edward Steele, the blind pianist.

A Welcome to Alumni By Dr. J. D. Blackwell

It is with unusual pleasure that you are each being welcomed to the November 6, 1954 Homecoming. You will be delighted to observe that many changes in the physical plant of the college have been made.

According to The Chronology of Events from 1924-1954, recently published, the following improvements have been made toward the completion of the Six Year Building Program as set up in 1950. During 1950-51 the constructing and equipping of the Student Activity Center and lounges on the second and third floors of the women's dormitory; and the purchase of an administrative office building and land and lots for the South campus, giving a total of more than sixty acres of land, were accomplished.

During 1951-52 the men's dormitory with roads and parking space were constructed. The Allen home with three and one-half acres of land for a men's dormitory annex and the Mills home for the President's residence were purchased.

During 1953-54 the Maryland Legislature appropriated funds for a new Library and funds for lighting the campus. The new Demonstration School was constructed.

A total of more than one million dollars has been made available for said improvements. In fact, practically all proposed improvements with the exception of a separate men's gymnasium have been made. You are each urged to observe these improvements during your tour of the campus.

Likewise the enrollment of the College has gradually increased to a total of 445 students. The goal for 1955-56 is 500. You will each want to cooperate with faculty members and students in attaining this goal. All members of the faculty and administrative staff join me in extending greetings to each of you.

FTA Hallowe'en Party Hailed a Great Success

The Snack Bar was festooned with pumpkins, black cats, and cornstalks, and an eerie Hallowe'en atmosphere prevailed at the FTA's masquerade party on Saturday night, October 30, from 8:00 to 11:00.

Faculty members joined in the revelry, which included a visit to the fortune-teller's booth where all kinds of hidden secrets and repressed desires were finally revealed. A photography booth was also provided, so that masqueraders could have souvenir snapshots of the event.

Students paraded the Snack Bar in their grotesque attire, while prizes were awarded by judges Purnell, Caruthers, and Matthews for the prettiest, ugliest, funniest, and most original costumes present.

There was dancing, entertainment, and refreshments for all; and Maurice Bozman, FTA president, reports that their project was acclaimed a huge success.

More Than 200 Former Students Expected For Event, Highlighted by Informal Dance

Saturday, November sixth, will mark an important date on the calendar of annual events at S.T.C. It has been selected as the yearly Homecoming Day on which our alumni and alumnae revisit the scenes of their scholastic labors. This year over two hundred former students are expected to be present.

The first item on the program of activities will be the soccer game between STC and the University of Baltimore which will start at two in the afternoon. Registration of the visitors will be held in the main hall of the college from 3:00 to 4:00 P. M. At 3:30 P. M., the hour-long tea will begin in the Social Room. Miss Ruth Powell, former social director, will preside with the aid of Mrs. Emily Morris and Mrs. Patricia Evans. At 4:30 P. M. a tour of the college plant will take place with particular emphasis being placed on the viewing of the new and as yet incomplete campus elementary school. The visitors will also see the men's and women's dormitories.

A business meeting will take place between the hours of five and six. Dinner will then be served to the assembled guests, during which they will be welcomed by a few short speeches delivered by members of the faculty. Vocal selections will be provided for the entertainment of the gathering by Mr. Eugene Lilley. Betty Lou Townsend and Bill Horner, both graduates of this past June, together with the principal of the Havre de Grace school where they now teach, Mrs. King, will also add to the enjoyment of all by entertaining.

The evening of Homecoming Day will be highlighted by an informal dance which will be held in the gym. While this has been planned primarily for the pleasure of the alumni, an invitation has been extended for all undergraduates to attend. The classes of '29, '34, '39, '44 and '49 will hold their respective anniversaries.

Among those who have been responsible for the various arrangements necessary are: Mrs. Anna Cooper, assistant in the college library, Mrs. Isabelle Lynch and Mrs. Catherine Udovich. We hope that the results of their efforts will be highly successful and that this year's Homecoming Day will prove an excellent opportunity for the renewal of old friendships and loyalties.

Pat Gardner, Peg Ross Selected to Captain the Girls' Volleyball Team

The Women's Volleyball team has been announced by Coach Alethea Whitney. They are as follows: Harriett Dickinson, Pat Gardner, Carolyn Godfrey, Ann Marousek, Mozelle Pardew, Pauline Porter, Peggy Ross, Betty Lee Shawn, Bettie Smith, Betty Thorneon, Tillie Worthington, and Mary Jane Wright. The squad elected Pat Gardner captain and Peggy Ross assistant captain.

Ina Ray Calloway, manager of women's hockey, announced that there will be a hockey double-elimination tournament held between the classes. An All-Star team will be selected from these teams to play Kings College on November 20.

Qualifications for the Selection of Who's Who Candidates Are Set Up

In the fall of each year many colleges and universities submit to the National Committee names of candidates for the award known as Who's Who in Colleges and Universities of the United States. How many of you understand the qualifications which the committee sets up to select the most deserving students for this honor? Scholarship and Leadership are both weighed heavily in determining their decisions. Other factors considered are Citizenship and future promise.

In the past, scholarship has been determined by scholastic average based on one year's work. This year tentative proposals were adapted thereby allowing far wider selection of students whose

Gulls Meet Baltimore U. in First Home Game Of This Soccer Season

In previous years it has been the policy of the Athletic Department to engage the returning Alumni in a soccer game on Homecoming. This year, contrary to precedent, the varsity eleven will play Baltimore University. This contest has always been the highlight of the soccer season because Baltimore U. always has one of the top teams in the country and is the biggest name on the Salisbury schedule. In the last three years, they have had four of five All-Americans. Last year they beat us 4-1 and the year before 4-2. So you can see that we are not entirely outclassed.

Although seeming to have as strong a team as usual, the Gulls do not have as good record this year as in years past having won two, lost one and tied one this year. The cheer leaders have been working hard preparing for this our first home game and they will be out in grand style to give the team spirit, so it should be an interesting contest.

academic average, based on cumulative scholastic record at this college, was high but not sufficiently high to be considered.

The index which serves to indicate the points which the student has achieved in each category depends upon complete records of student participation in organized college activities for which honor points are awarded. If the Student Government Association would assume the responsibility of collecting this material from their organizations, this

AS THE EDITOR SEES IT

A hearty welcome home is extended to each and every Alumni of this, our institution of higher learning. Speaking for the Holly Leaf Staff, I want to cordially greet each reader of our paper, whether he is able to attend this annual Homecoming affair or not. For the benefit of those students who are not familiar with Homecoming, it is a time when all students and alumni who have ever attended STC return and observe the achievements of their Alma Mater, to greet old compatriots, compare personal histories, rehash old philosophies, and preserve prevailing predictions. One might compare it, in loose comparisons, of course, to the tendency of the criminal to return to the scene of his crime, to the homing instinct of the pigeon, or the wanderlust of the vagabond. Nevertheless it amounts to just this; sooner or later, everyone who has ever attended STC, will return maybe not at Homecoming, maybe not until the June Ball, but to quote a more famous man than I, "I (they) will return." Welcome Home, Alumni.

Ladies' Home Journal Report Secret Weapon Of Senator Kefauver

Crime-busting Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee had a secret weapon of his own when he won the Democratic renomination for senator last August. In the November issue of LADIES' HOME JOURNAL, Rosemary Jones tells the hectic story of Mrs. Kind Jamison, state chairman of the Women's Division, and "Kefauver's Secret Weapon."

Mrs. Jamison was an easygoing Jackson housewife and mother when Senator Kefauver called her one February evening to ask her to handle the women's division of his campaign. Although she had been active in "causes" like the League of Women Voters' educational program most of her married life, Edna Jamison had never before taken on a hard-as-nails political job like this. "I didn't know how to do it," she said, "but suddenly I wanted to find out—so much I forgot to be scared!"

As chairman of the first women's political organization in Tennessee history, Mrs. Jamison found out about campaigning in a hurry. She wrote hundreds of letters to possible voters, popularizing some of the issues Kefauver's opponents called the worst in his record—his stand on foreign policy, the UN, NATO. Mrs. Jamison visited every nook and cranny in the state—from Memphis to Piney Flats—talking with people in their homes and making speeches in public. She and Senator Kefauver made a series of television films discussing issues in which women everywhere have much at stake—juvenile delinquency, the need for world peace, school problems.

When the returns finally came in, winning Kefauver the Democratic nomination for senator in a traditionally Democratic state, Mrs. Jamison sighed with relief. "Government is just a matter of good housekeeping," she reported to her husband. "A lot of those people are voting because someone saw to it that they were registered, and got them to the polls. You have to get out the vote and talk about issues just as regularly as you have to get dinner or wash dishes!"

SGA to Act on Issues Concerning Rat Week

The regular meeting of the Student Government Association was held on October 19, 1954, at 6:45 P. M.

The President called the meeting to order. Roll was called by the Secretary. Twenty-one members, one representative, and the two faculty advisors were present. Minutes were read and approved.

Miss Marshall presented the following treasurer's report which was accepted:

$2025.66	balance bro't forward
5.25	disbursements

$2020.41 balance

Miss Davis, chairman of the committee to investigate prices of file cabinets, presented prices of two file cabinets in White and Leonards. The cost of one was $22.00; the other, $27.00. Miss Marshall made a motion that the S.G.A. allocate $27.00 to buy the file cabinet. The motion was seconded. Miss Pardew made a motion to amend Miss Marshall's motion by striking out $27.00—changing it to $22.00. This motion was seconded and passed.

Mr. Denston reported that his committee had met with the administrative council to discuss the issue of one hour after dances, but without reaching a decision.

Mr. Taylor reported that one more table in the dining hall would be sufficient to permit "family style" dinner. His committee had worked out an arrangement to include the additional table. Mr. Taylor is to report at the next meeting whether or not the students desire "family style."

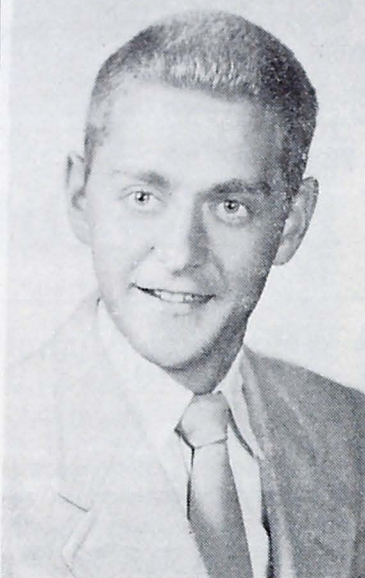

Miss Pardew reported that the committee, which determines those qualified in the Senior Class eligible for Who's Who, met and that the S.G.A. won't be called upon to do further work on the revision of honor point system.

The standing committee to bring the Constitution up to date, of which Miss Marshall is chairman, reported that progress is being made.

Miss Davis reported having made arrangements for a poster to be made announcing the Harvest Dance.

Spotlighting Students

A fellow who is more interested in school affairs than anyone else you can name is Marion Conway Dryden, better known to everyone as "Con." This friendly senior was born in Frostburg, Md., on April 3, 1932, but moved to Salisbury six years later. In that same year he entered the first grade at Pinehurst Elementary School. The following year "Con's" family moved again, this time to Mount Vernon, six miles west of Princess Anne. Attending elementary school there was quite an experience, for there were three classes in each room. From there he went on to Washington High School in Princess Anne, where he was in the last class to graduate under the eleven-year system. Although "Con" was interested in several different phases of school life, most of his time was taken up by the Student Council, of which he was treasurer and president in his junior and senior years respectively.

After being graduated from Washington High in 1949, "Con" entered Western Maryland College. During Thanksgiving his father died, so "Con" left, intending to go to work. But upon meeting some of his high school teachers, he was talked into coming to STC. As a day student, he was not at all satisfied with his choice. Besides having lost several credits as the result of transferring in the middle of the semester, he found that he just did not like it. So at the end of the first year he left to work at the Bank of Somerset in Princess Anne, where he had worked on Saturdays while in high school.

After two years, "Con" decided to come back to STC. Feeling quite ambitious after having been away for so long, he became a real student. That year he was an honor student, and he showed some interest in the gym club, too. As a junior he was business manager of the "Evergreen" and secretary of the Men's Dormitory Association. By this time he had decided that college should mean more to a person than "all A's," so he began to enjoy college life much more. He found that common sense can often pull one through when books can't.

Now, "Con" is serving as president of the Men's Dormitory Association, a job which carries much responsibility with it. So far as student teaching is concerned, he finds it involves more than he had ever imagined. About the class (Mrs. White's fifth grade), he made the remark, "The class I teach is the best ever; I don't know what will happen when I get a bad one!"

"Con" has always liked nature, trips to new and different places, and movies. Among his few dislikes are inconsiderate people

Spotlighting Freshman Class Officers, '54-'55

Winning the spotlight position in the recent Freshman Class election was James "Buddy" Emerson, who was elected President.

Buddy was born eighteen years ago on October 14, in Easton, Md. He attended Resurrection Elementary School in Chester, Pa., Pinehurst Elementary School in Salisbury, and Wicomico High School. At Wicomico High Buddy was enrolled in the general course, his favorite subject under this curriculum being "Problems of Democracy." His extra-curricular activities in high school included the football team, school newspaper, and the debating club.

Now majoring in Business Administration at STC, Buddy is enrolled in the following classes: government, English composition, economics, commercial algebra, business administration, and physical education.

Recently elected Vice-President of the Freshman Class was Donald Lee Levering of Salisbury.

Lee was born on December 29, 1934, in Wilkes Barre, Pa. He attended Forty Fort Elementary School in Wilkes Barre; Dundalk Elementary School in Baltimore; and Wicomico High School. In high school Lee was enrolled in the academic course and claimed "psycho'gy" as his favorite subject. While at Wicomico High, Lee played an important part in the extra-curricular program of the school. He was a member of the Student Council, Debating Club, Dramatics Club, Varsity Football Team, Varsity Track Team, and Glee Team. In a number of these activities he also was a leader. Lee was Vice-President of the Student Council in his junior year; President in his senior year; Captain of the Football Team, senior year; was elected to attend Boys State, junior year; and received the Rotary Club award in his senior year.

Keeping the secretarial records of the Freshman Class this year is Matilda (Tillie) Worthington, also a resident of Salisbury. Tillie was born on May 22, 1936, in Salisbury, and attended the STC Demonstration School Elementary and Wicomico High School. In high school, Tillie was enrolled in the academic course. Tillie was very active in the student programs of her high school, also. She was Vice-President of her homeroom in her sophomore year, Associate Editor of the WHI News, Basketball Captain, Sports Editor of the yearbook, a member of the Intramural Sports Council, a member of the Student Council, and received letters in all varsity sports including football, volleyball, hockey, basketball, and softball.

Assuming the very important position of keeping the money for the Freshman Class is the newly elected treasurer, Nancy Lee Horsman.

Nancy was born on February 16, 1936, at Benedict, Md. She attended Hughesville Elementary School, Hughesville Junior High School, and La Plata Senior High School. In high school Nancy was enrolled in the academic course, her favorite subject being chemistry. At La Plata High, Nancy distinguished herself in taking part and leading various organizations. She was a member of the Dramatic Club, Student Council, Glee Club, F. T. A. Club, Booster Club; was a participant in the Elocution - Declamation Contest, the co-chairman of the May Prom, the May Prom Duchess

While mending my way through the hallowed halls of STC, I chanced to follow in the footsteps of a few former friends. From floor to floor they flew, and every foot of the way. "Football class are you doomed to?" asked one. "Basketweaving 103," I replied. "I've got Forgotten 101," I thought, as I turned off into Box Winding 606.

Before I digress further let me digress here. All you studious students (which, after all, is the kind of student to be) who are partaking of Lantern Slide Flinging 303—Don't do dumb, tardy deeds designed to drive a dear Dr. to distraction.

Now I'll digress further. The bell sounded its message and we went in a cloud of dust (and of course, by dodging a couple of couples going to Test Washing 113, I successfully completed the obstacle course to Stick Showing 555. We were finishing shining the shoes and teasing the tangents when burst two students — "We're late but we just got out Tall Tale Telling 517." "That O. K., but where were your sins counting down yesterday?" "Had to do a paper for Writing 715." "That's no excuse." "I know but it's the best I could do on such short notice."

So on through the day—Studying (Shakespeare, course), Nasty Neuroses, Moss Mice, Men and Mice, 702.

Then down to the Snack Bar for a snack. Joke: Didja hear about the termite who walked to the saloon and asked, "Is a bartender here?"

I did increase my vocabulary Word Writing, though. For instance—Infancy: The change of age. Or — Highbrow: A person who can use the word "when" without feeling self-conscious. —Bore: One who opens his mouth and puts his feet in.

While sitting in the Snack Bar I absent-mindedly opened a text book (that's what they sell in the bookstore) and I came across an astounding piece of information that you could drive a car from San Francisco to Honolulu if weren't for the Pacific Ocean.

DON'T EVER FORGET--

A particle of Mother, a portion of Dad, A personality trait from each friend I've had, Something my favorite minister said,

Impressions from movies and books that I've read, The people I've loved, the ones I've spurned,

Things I have missed while my attention was turned, The places I've been, the sights I have seen,

That significant someone whose affections I glean, A multitude of failures, heartbreak, and trials, Eased by reassurance, good times and smiles,

My neuroses and ailments, my instinctive needs, My successful moments, my inherited creeds,

My social surroundings, each citing new fad, All that I've learned, whether sensible or mad, And a God-instilled spark of individuality

Make up this egotistical being called ME!

★ GERTRUDE PATILLA ELECTED SOCCER SWEETHEART ★

On October the 22nd, the members of the soccer squad met and voted by a plurality, which turned out to be a majority, in favor of Miss Gertrude Patilla. "Gerty," as she is referred to by her many friends here at STC, was born in Kentucky on Dec. 18, 1935. She moved to Delmar in 1946, where she was graduated from Delmar High in the Fall of 1953. She entered STC in the fall of 1953, where she enrolled in the Elementary Teacher's Training Curriculum. She has a wholesome 119 pounds evenly distributed over her 5'5" chassis.

She became engaged to Al Younger, of soccer fame, on March 16, 1954. Their marriage is tentatively set for September. Among her likes are: swimming, listening to records, movies (particularly mysteries and Alan Ladd) and, of course, Al.

The Holly Leaf extends its congratulations to our new Soccer Sweetheart, Miss Gertrude Patilla.

Pro football by this time is well under way. Professional football is a rough, tough game, in the ultimate sense of the word. College rules state that a player is downed when his knee touches the ground. Not so with the big boys. As long as he is free, whether he has slipped, been tackled, or what have you, he can still go. Consequently, when a man is tackled, he is meant to stay there. So more than one player usually hit him with just that in mind.

There is a new kind of professional football hovering over the northern horizon which seems to be catching on like wildfire with the fans. The Canadians liked the idea of pro football, but our game was not rough and tough enough for these hardy men. They adopted primarily the same game — that is, they adopted the same procedure and objectives, but they injected a few little gems to separate the men from the boys; there are twelve men on each side, there are no time outs except for injuries, there is no fair catch, and no blocking for running back kick-offs.

"Little things mean a lot" and that is just what it amounts to, for this tends to make the games very interesting and much more exciting. It completely eliminates all doubt as to who can play and who is just a "flash in the pan." A surprising number of players have gone from American ball across the border to play with these sturdy lads. But then, money is still a factor, and the boost in salaries more than compensates for the additional bumps and the harder knocks.

WAA Sponsors Game Nights, Hockey Games

The Women's Athletic Association meeting was held last week with President Barbara Bailey presiding.

At the meeting a "game-night" chairman was elected. The chairman is Mozelle Pardew. Her job will be to organize games in the auditorium for the student body. The hockey team will be selected Monday, October 25th. This year, if enough interest is shown (and we surely hope there is) a game will be had with King's College.

Plans are being made now for intramural hockey, also. Games will be played between Seniors and Juniors and Sophomores and Freshmen. We sincerely hope that all students will join in these intramural activities. They are really a lot of fun. Remember, our intramural program can't be a success unless we have the support of the student body.

With Homecoming in the offing, the WAA is making plans to assist and make this the best Homecoming ever. They will work on the project in association with the Men's Athletic Association.

Last year's letters and awards for basketball and volleyball will be given out sometime this year. The WAA also hopes to give out award pins for officers and managers.

The Association's Constitution will be revised this year. A committee is working on it now.

The last meeting was held Monday, October 25th, at 4:10. Everyone connected with the WAA was urged to come to these meetings. Remember, that when you support your WAA you are also supporting your school.

Gulls Tie Frostburg 2-2 with Both Hall and Slacum Scoring a Goal

Oct. 22, Towson, Maryland.

In a hard fought, gruelling soccer contest on a neutral field, our STC Gulls met the Frostburg eleven only to be tied, 2-2. The game was played at Towson State Teachers in fine weather, featuring two extremely well matched teams, who after playing two five minute overtime periods failed to produce a winner. The first half was an exhibition of soccer at its best with each team displaying a fine passing, highly coordinated game of soccer. The first score came late in the first quarter when Bob Hall, who played superbly throughout the game, drove a high arching ball over the heads of all from far out, through the goal. Except for that one tally, the teams were equal, the ball being as much in one side of the field as the other. In the second half, physical conditioning seemed to tell the tale as Frostburg began beating the Gulls to the ball. The mountaineers scored once in the third quarter and again early in the fourth. After that it seemed that there was little chance for Salisbury. Frostburg was controlling the ball and threatening persistently. But with 55 seconds left in the game, the Maggsmen realizing that time was running out, forged down the field and scored on an assist from Al Younger with Phil Slacum booting it through for the tie. With no rest the teams turned around and went at it again, playing two five minute overtime periods.

Spotlighting Mr. Foltz

A year and a half ago S.T.C. acquired a new member on its efficient maintenance staff. He is Mr. Fred S. Foltz, now the supervisor of buildings and grounds. "Uncle Fred," as he is known by many, may be seen anywhere around the college campus at almost any time.

Mr. Foltz has had varied experiences. He served in World War I in both the Army and Navy. During World War II he was employed in the welding department of a defense plant. Later he worked in the experimental station at the U. S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md. For six years previous to his employment here at STC, Mr. Foltz served at the Crownsville State Hospital.

Mr. Foltz hails from Hagerstown, Md., but now resides in Fruitland, just outside of Salisbury. Being the outdoor type of man, he enjoys such sports as hunting, golfing, and softball. We all think "Uncle Fred" is a swell guy and would like to wish him the best of luck in years to come.

The productions of the Baltimore Civic organization are always awaited by opera fans because a good performance can always be counted on. Plans are being made by STC students to attend the next opera given by the company early in 1955.

The productions of the Baltimore Civic Opera Company have been under the supervision of Rosa Ponselle. great deal of work. A cumulative honor point average could be computed each year and recorded in the student's permanent record folder.

The citizenship rating represents the active participation of the student, influence exerted by him on others, etc. The Future Promise rating considers the prospects for and degree of success and interest taken in civic and community affairs.

One proposal made was that the Who's Who Committee consist of three faculty members and two students. The second was that it consist of 3 faculty members and three students. In either case the members of the group should act individually in rating these candidates. The latter proposal was agreed upon. The faculty members and the student committee meet separately and then rate the candidates individually.

The National Committee limits the number of candidates for each school. The interest shown in this phase of college life seems to indicate a growing need for more participation and enthusiasm directed toward the achievement of a Who's Who award.

Mr. Wheatley made a motion that the President appoint a parliamentarian for the S.G.A. The motion was seconded and passed. Miss ailey was appointed.

Mrs. Godfrey asked that the College Chorus be allocated $15.00 to purchase ties for the men's choir robes. Miss Givans made a motion that $15.00 be allocated to the Chorus. The motion was seconded and passed.

Mr. Taylor presented to the group a problem that has arisen in connection with unwritten rules concerning Rat Week. After a discussion on the subject, Mr. Wheatley made a motion that the chair appoint a committee to examine the situation and present any solution they might have. A committee of Mr. Hall, chairman, Mr. Taylor, Miss Bowdle, Miss Young, Miss Thorne, and Mr. Emerson was appointed.

Mr. Denston made a motion that $500.00 be put in the working fund of the S.G.A. The motion was seconded and passed. The $500.00 was a transfer from undistributed funds of the treasury.

Mr. Bradley made a motion that the President select a committee of two or three individuals to work with him on a proposal for a possible revision of the cut system to be presented to the S.G.A.

The motion was seconded and passed.

The meeting adjourned at 8:30 P. M.
