Songs of Leiber and Stoller Erupt at FSU in Smokey Joe's Café

Come to a raw, nitty-gritty, steamy production of the Tony and Grammy award-winning musical, "Smokey Joe's Café," on Feb. 25 and 26, and March 3, 4 and 5 at 7:30 p.m., with matinee performances Feb. 26 and March 5 at 2 p.m. All performances will take place in the Drama Theatre of the FSU Performing Arts Center.

With outrageous concert lighting and special effects, this rock-style production will honor the original recordings of superstars of the '50s and '60s, including Elvis Presley, Big Mama Thornton, Jimmie Littlefield, The Drifters, The Coasters, The Shangri-las,

Buddy Holly and many more. Showcasing timeless hits by the writing team of Leiber and Stoller, like

"Jailhouse Rock," "Stand By Me," "Kansas City," "There Goes My Baby," "Spanish Harlem" and "Hound Dog," Smokey Joe's Café reminds us of the rebellion and joy of American pop-culture of the time. With electric performances and smoking choreography, this show pulses with romance, magic and humor.

For reservations and info, contact the Theatre and Dance Box Office at x7462 (Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and 1:30 to 4 p.m.) Tickets are $6 for students and $12 for the general public. Group discounts are available when booked in advance.

Presentations

Center for Creative Writing to Host Crystal Williams

FSU's Center for Creative Writing will host a reading by poet Crystal Williams on Monday, Feb. 7, at 7:30 p.m. at Frostburg's Lyric Theater at 22 E.

Main St. The reading is free and open to the public.

Williams is the author of three collections of poetry, most recently, "Troubled Tongues," winner of the 2009 Long Madgett Poetry Award and finalist for the Oregon Book Award. Her work appears or is forthcoming in "The American Poetry Review," "The Sun," "5AM," "Ploughshares" and "The Norton Anthology of African-American Poetry." Originally from Detroit, Williams lives in Portland, Ore., where she teaches at Reed College. She has just completed a fourth manuscript of poems titled "Walking the Cemetery: Detroit Poems."

The reading is sponsored by the Frostburg Center for Creative Writing, FSU's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, FSU's Department of English, the Maryland State Arts Council and the Allegany Arts Council.

For info, call the Department of English at x4221 or the Center for Creative Writing at x4340.

Valentine's Poetry Reading

On Thursday, Feb. 10, at 7:30 p.m., join the Allegany Arts Council and the Frostburg Center for Creative Writing in celebrating Valentine's Day with a reading of love poems in the Arts Council's Community Room, located at 9 N. Centre St. in Downtown Cumberland's Arts and Entertainment District. The reading is free and open to all area poets and lovers of poetry.

If interested in reading, bring up to three favorite love poems (written by you or someone else) and sign up when you arrive. All are welcome, and nonreaders are invited to come and listen. A reception with light refreshments will be held following the reading.

For info, call the Allegany Arts Council at 301-777-ARTS (2787), or contact the Frostburg Center for Creative Writing at x4024.

Advocate Ethan Nuss to Present Lecture on Clean Energy

Ethan Nuss, field director of the Energy Action Coalition and an active player in the U.S. youth clean energy movement, will present the lecture "Our Generation's Clean Energy Revolution" at FSU on Wednesday, Feb. 16, at 7 p.m. in the Atkinson

Room of the Lane University Center. This program is free and open to the public.

Nuss has been a part of the U.S. youth clean energy movement for the last four years. Supporting numerous youth-led grassroots campaigns, he has achieved clean energy victories at the campus, state and national levels.

Nuss has worked as the Maryland campaign coordinator for the Chesapeake Climate Action Network and the national campus coordinator for 2020 Vision. He is a strong believer in the prospect of peace and opposes the violence that catastrophic climate change wreaks on communities.

This presentation is coordinated by the Sustainability Minor Steering Committee with the support of the Office of the President, the FSU Foundation, the APO service fraternity, the Division of Student Leadership and the Departments of English and Geography.

For info, contact Dr. Sydney Duncan in the English Department at x4225 or Dr. Henry Bullamore in the Geography Department at x4413.

John Crawley of U.S. Olympic Committee to Speak at FSU

John Crawley, who works for the U.S. Olympic Committee on issues involving team sports performance, will present two lectures at FSU on Feb. 21 and 22.

Both programs are free and open to the public.

“From Pheidippides to Phelps: Reflections on Athletic Performance in the Modern Olympic Games” will be presented on Monday, Feb. 21, at 7 p.m. in the Leake Room of the Cordts Physical Education Center. “Citius, Altius, Fortius: It’s Not Every Four Years ... It’s Every Day” will be presented Tuesday, Feb. 22, at 9:30 a.m., also in the Leake Room.

Crawley is the high-performance director of team sports with the Sport Performance Division of the U.S. Olympic Committee in Chula Vista, Calif. He has worked for over 11 years in various sport performance roles with the U.S. Olympic team, and has served with the U.S. delegations at the Olympic Games, Pan American Games and World Championships. He holds a level III Elite Coaching Certification from U.S. Triathlon, a level II Endurance Coaching Certification from U.S. Track and Field and a level II Coaching Certification from U.S. Cycling.

The Wellner Scholar Program was created from an endowment from the FSU Foundation, Inc., to allow the Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation to host a series of lectures by nationally acclaimed scholars. It was named for the late Lillian Wellner, a former FSU registrar and physical education instructor.

For info about the programs, call the Department of Health and Physical Education at x7017. For info about supporting the Wellner Scholarship program or the FSU Foundation, visit foundation.frostburg.edu or call x4161.

Appalachian Lab Spring Seminar Series

Dr. Jonathan Thompson, Smithsonian Conservation Biology Institute, will present “The Influence of Land Use and Climate Change on Forest Biomass and Composition in Massachusetts, USA” Thursday, Feb. 10, at 3:30 p.m. in AL Room 109.

For info, see www.umces.edu/al/seminar/schedule.

‘Vagina Monologues’ Celebrates 10th Year at FSU

This February V-DAY FSU will celebrate 10 years of raising awareness and raising funds to end worldwide violence against women and girls. Join us on Feb. 17 and 18 at 7:30 p.m. for a benefit performance of Eve Ensler’s “The Vagina Monologues,” directed by Regina Alderton, in FSU’s Performing Arts Center. An information festival and display of the Clothesline Project will begin both nights at 6:30 p.m. in the PAC lobby. Tickets are $6 for students and $12 for the general public. Call x7462 for reservations.

For info about V-Day FSU events, e-mail coordinator Marina Byerly at fsuvday@gmail.com.

V-Day now meets on Mondays at 5:20 p.m.

V-Day will also hold the annual handmade scarf sale with V-Day events and will be selling scarves in the lobby of the Lane Center this week and the following week. To donate scarves or materials, contact Regina Alderton at rgalderton@frostburg.edu. Proceeds from all fundraising will go to FCRC, The Dove Center and this year’s V-Day Spotlight: Women of Haiti.

Second Annual One-Act Playwriting Competition

The FSU Center for Creative Writing announces its second annual One-Act Playwriting Competition to showcase new works.

Writers are encouraged to submit their one-act plays (with a running time of 40 minutes or less) to the center by April 1. Entries will be judged on plot, character development, dialogue and overall quality.

The first prize winner will receive $750 and production of his or her play at the Frostburg One-Act Playwriting Festival to be held on the FSU campus in September. Second and third prize winners will receive $250 and $100, respectively, and staged readings of their works.

For submission guidelines, visit the Center for Creative Writing’s Web site at www.frostburg.edu/cwcenter.

Literature

E=(LG)2 Is Back!

All faculty and staff are encouraged to have their students submit materials for the spring 2011 issue of E=(LG)2. Articles should be 50-500 words with an environmental or sustainability emphasis and pertain to student research, class activities, nature appreciations, club activities, reportage and more. Photos and digital artwork should be included. The magazine will be published in print and online. Submissions from all disciplines are welcomed.

E=(LG)2 is a product of ENGL 402, Editing and Production. The magazine website, which includes previous issues, is <http://organizations.frostburg.edu/lqmag/>.

Students should send their materials to lqmag@frostburg.edu by March 11.

For info, contact Sydney Duncan at x4225 or sduncan@frostburg.edu.

Visual Arts

“Boundaries” on Display at Roper Gallery

“Boundaries,” an exhibition featuring works by Brazilian surrealist Juarez Venâncio de Melo, will be on view through Feb. 20 in FSU’s Stephanie Ann

Roper Gallery. de Melo has been influenced by artists such as Lucian Freud, Edward Hopper, René Magritte, Dali, Manet and others. Two tendencies define his style: the treatment of painting as if it were sculpture and denser painting with expressive brush strokes. In some of his work there is a mingling of these tendencies. The play of light and shade creates a small and consistent depth that leads to ambiguity regarding the nature of his work, which seems to launch itself into space, breaking the two-dimensional surface. de Melo’s most frequent concern is the inversion of inner and outer visions, or opposing positions, concerning all aspects – form, nature and contrast – frequently producing a dialogue between pictures using the same language. The multifaceted nature of the human being is also reflected in his visual repertoire – all these facets are charged with a stunning emotional intensity – and a playful relationship crystallizes between the human figure and space. The symbology may be hidden in the image or explicit.

A native of Uberlândia, de Melo obtained a bachelor’s degree in fine arts with a specialization in painting from the Federal University of Minas Gerais in 1991. In 1990 he held his first exhibition at the Cultural Centre at the university, and since then, he has held individual exhibitions while also taking part in collective ones, and has won several prizes in Brazilian and Spanish galleries.

de Melo’s work extends over several regions of Brazil, such as monuments in Batatais (Sao Paulo), Belo Horizonte (Minas Gerais) and Anápolis (Goias). In addition, his canvasses form part of the collection of official bodies, such as the Palácio das Artes, the Palácio do Bispo, the High Court in Belo Horizonte (Minas Gerais), the Ribeirão Preto Museum of Art (Sao Paulo), the Museum of Contemporary Art of Caraguatatuba (Sao Paulo), Anatel Brasília (Federal District), the Chamber of Deputies in Brasília (Federal District) and the Federal Senate, Brasília (Federal District).

The Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery has free admission and is open to the public Sunday through Wednesday from 1 to 4 p.m. For info, call the Department of Visual Arts at x4797.

Staking Our Claim

FSU Foundation Welcomes Russell Younkers to Board

The FSU Foundation, Inc., Board of Directors has welcomed a new member, Russell Younkers, of Dunkirk, Md.

Younkers has spent the last 40 years giving back to the community. During his time as a teacher in the Prince George’s County Public School System, he mentored youth through coaching various sports teams. The majority of Younkers’ career was spent working as a police officer stationed in the Bureau of Patrol at the Seat Pleasant District Station. After 20 years of dedicated service, he retired with the rank of sergeant. Since his retirement, Younkers has worked as a supervisor and project manager at the Prince George’s County Department of Environmental Resources.

As a former student-athlete at FSU, Younkers appreciates the profound learning experiences that occur outside the classroom, particularly on the playing field. He attributes career success, mostly in law enforcement, to the ideas of teamwork and finding common ground. During his time teaching and policing, Younkers spent many years umpiring baseball with the Metropolitan Baseball Umpires Association.

Through his membership on the Steering Committee for FSU’s Staking Our Claim: The Campaign for Frostburg, Younkers has assisted the Foundation with raising much-needed money for athletics. Since neither state funds nor tuition can be used for athletics, his support has been instrumental to the philanthropic investment in this area. Through personal giving and his donor-advised fund, Russell and his wife, Penny, have contributed more than $61,000 thus far for athletics and the Annual Fund.

In addition to general funding in support of advancing intercollegiate athletics, through the Russell and Penny Younkers General Athletic Fund, the Younkerses have also worked to strengthen the academic performance of FSU student-athletes with the Russell and Penny Younkers Academic Support Fund. Most recently, they have helped fund a program to provide academic monitors to help ensure that soccer players can strengthen their academic focus. They also established the Russell W. Younkers Endowed Scholarship Fund for prospective health and physical education teachers.

“We’d like the brightest and the best to go into teaching. ... In physical education and coaching, you learn life skills such as organization and motivating people,” said Russell.

The FSU Foundation’s $15 million comprehensive campaign, Staking Our Claim: The Campaign for Frostburg, is raising badly needed funding for higher education in Western Maryland. Gifts support student enrichment, academic enrichment and regional and cultural enrichment. For info about supporting FSU, visit foundation.frostburg.edu.

Medicinal Herbs Series

The Northern Outreach Center and the Appalachian Center for Ethnobotanical Studies will host a course titled “Medicinal Herbs” through the Continuing Education and Training Division of Garrett College beginning Tuesday, March 1, and will continue for four Tuesdays from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. There will be no class on March 22.

The course is being instructed by Mimi Hernandez, MS, RH (AHG), an herbal and holistic health educator whose courses balance traditional reverence with scientific understanding and intuitive awareness. She is the outreach coordinator of the Appalachian Center for Ethnobotanical Studies at FSU. A member of the governing council of the American Herbalists Guild, Hernandez received her master’s in Herbal Medicine from the Tai Sophia Institute. With roots in Asheville, N.C., she is the founder of the One World Healing Arts Institute.

Hernandez will cover various topics: herbs and how they are used, herbalism and how herbal remedies are prepared and taken. Also learn about the top 10 medicinal herbs on the American market.

For info, contact Terry Beachy, Northern Outreach Center coordinator, at 301-895-4700 or terry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu. To register, contact Continuing Education and Workforce Development at 301-387-3069.

Where Would You Like to Study Abroad?

The Center for International Education offers various ways for FSU students to see the world. In some cases, students can pay FSU tuition, room and board and study for a semester or a year in Ireland, England, Spain, France, China, Italy, Mexico, Malta, Botswana or many other countries. FSU also offers summer study abroad programs. Financial aid, student loans and scholarships are available.

Limerick, Ireland (Fall 2011)

Students can study for a semester at Mary Immaculate College and pay FSU tuition. Credits will transfer back to FSU. For info, go to www.mic.ul.ie/.

Changsha, China (Fall 2011)

Through the China Exchange Program, FSU students can spend a semester at Hunan Normal University in Changsha, Hunan Province, P.R. China (www.hunnu.edu.cn/english/). Students pay FSU tuition and fees (based on residency status) through their student e-bill account and pay room and board costs to Hunan Normal University. Living costs are generally lower than at FSU and courses are taught in English.
