NEW-YORK, December 28.

LATEST FROM LONDON.

Yesterday afternoon arrived the ship Betley, from Liverpool. By Mr. Barfe, who came passenger, the editors of the New-York Gazette have been favoured with the (London) Sun, to the evening of the 29th of October, five days later than former accounts; the most important of their contents they take the earliest opportunity of laying before their readers.

HANAU, October 17.

A Swabian Gazette speaks of several secret articles in the preliminaries of peace between France and England, of which it pretends to give the following: "Spain, in lieu of Trinidad, shall receive the island of St. Lucia—the cession of the Spanish part of St. Domingo shall be recalled, and Louisiana be ceded instead to the French republic—the possession of Piedmont by the French—the king of Tuscany, the Cisalpine, Liguria, Helvetia, and Batavian republics, together with the sovereignty to be founded for the late stadtholder, shall be acknowledged by England—the Batavian republic shall receive indemnifications in Belgium, and the late German countries on the Left Bank of the Rhine, for the cession of Ceylon. In case the definitive treaty should not be concluded, there shall be a three years armistice between France and England, on the footing of present possession."

LONDON, October 29.

HIS MAJESTY'S SPEECH.

This day his majesty went in the usual state to the house of peers, and being seated on the throne with the accustomed solemnities, the house of commons attending at the bar, opened the session of parliament with the following most gracious speech:

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I have the satisfaction to acquaint you, that the important negotiations in which I was engaged at the close of the last session of parliament, are brought to a favourable conclusion. The differences with the northern powers have been adjusted by a convention with the emperor of Russia, to which the kings of Denmark and Sweden have expressed their readiness to accede. The essential rights for which we contended, are thereby secured, and provision is made, that the exercise of them shall be attended with as little molestation as possible to the subjects of the contracting parties.

Preliminaries of peace have also been ratified between me and the French republic; and I trust that this important arrangement, whilst it manifests the justice and moderation of my views, will also be found conducive to the substantial interests of this country, and honourable to the British character.

Copies of these papers shall be forthwith laid before you, and I earnestly hope that the transactions to which they refer, will meet with the approbation of all my parliament.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I have directed such estimates to be prepared for the various demands of the public service, as appear to me to be best adapted to the situation in which we are now placed. It is painful to me to reflect, that provision cannot be made for defraying the expenses which must unavoidably be continued for a time, in different parts of the world, and for maintaining an adequate peace establishment, without large additional supplies. You may, however, be assured, that all possible attention shall be paid to such economical arrangements as may not be inconsistent with the great object of effectually providing for the security of all my dominions.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I cannot sufficiently describe the gratification and comfort I derive from the reflection which the bounty of Divine Providence has afforded to my people, by the abundant produce of the late harvest. In contemplating the situation of the country at this important juncture, it is impossible for me to refrain from expressing the deep sense I entertain of the temper and fortitude which have been manifested by all descriptions of my faithful subjects, under the various and complicated difficulties with which they have to contend. The distinguished valour and eminent services of my forces by sea and land, which at no period have been surpassed: the unprecedented exertions of the militia and fencibles, and the zeal and perseverance of the volunteer corps of cavalry and infantry, are entitled to my warmest acknowledgements: and I am persuaded that you will join with me, in reflecting with peculiar satisfaction on the naval and military operations of the late campaign, and on the successful and glorious issue of the expedition to Egypt, which has been marked throughout by achievements, tending in their consequence, and by their example, to produce lasting advantage and honour to this country. It is my first and most fervent prayer, that my people may experience the reward they have so long merited, in a full enjoyment of the blessings of peace, in a progressive increase of the national commerce, credit, and resources, and above all, in the undisturbed possession of their religion, laws and liberties, under the safeguard and protection of that constitution, which it has been the great object of all our efforts to preserve, and which it is our most sacred duty to transmit unimpaired to our descendants.

Lord Belton moves the address to-day in the house of peers, and Lord Lifford, seconds it.

In the house of commons, Lord Lovaine moves the address, and col. Woodhouse seconds it. The grand debate upon the preliminaries of peace is expected to take place on Tuesday next. Upon that occasion, Lord Romney is expected to move the address, and Lord Limerick to second. In the house of commons, Lord Francis Osborne is expected to move, and Mr. Lee to second.

We can positively state that the marquis Cornwallis with his suite will depart for France on Sunday next. The noble plenipotentiary, as has been already stated to the public, goes first to Paris, but we understand he will not remain there above two or three days, when he will repair to Amiens. It is not expected that the definitive treaty will take much time in being brought to a satisfactory conclusion.

BOSTON, December 21.

LATE FROM FRANCE.

A gentleman who came passenger in the Nancy, captain Beebe, arrived at Saggs-Harbour, L. I. from Bordeaux, informs, that he left that place on the 5th November, at which time an armament was fitting out from Brest and other places, for St. Domingo, and were to sail by the 3d or 4th November, on board of which were to be embarked 40,000 men. That it was reported, a frigate had sailed for America with orders to make contracts for the supply of the troops after their arrival in the West-Indies; and to inform the government of the United States, that the island would be declared in a state of blockade. That the definitive treaty of peace was not then signed, but expected by many that it would be on the 8th November, the day fixed on for the celebration of peace throughout all France; for which occasion great and splendid preparations were making. He also informs, that the news of the sale of the ship Trumbull, and other American vessels in France, was true; but that in consequence of their new owners not being able to procure French papers for them, the demand, at those prices, had ceased; though further applications would be made to government to effect that purpose.

NEW-YORK, December 29.

A letter from St. Kitts, received in this city, dated the 2d inst. says, that a new French governor has arrived at Martinique in the French frigate La Ponce; and that general La Croix was at Dominique waiting for troops, in the expectation of taking possession of Guadeloupe.

January 1, 1802.

Extract of a letter from an officer on board the United States frigate Philadelphia, to his friend in Norfolk.

"I regret extremely, that I have to announce to you the loss of lieutenant Claggett and Mr. Willis, midshipman, and eight of our best men. The commodore having occasion to send dispatches to our consul at Gibraltar, Claggett was dispatched on that service, with a midshipman and nine men. On their return the boat upset, in consequence of a sudden flaw of wind, and only one of her crew escaped; the survivor reports, that lieutenant Claggett, not being able to swim, remained by the boat until she went down. Poor Willis swam as long as his strength enabled him, and caught hold of one of the men, who, finding they must both perish, disengaged himself, and saw Mr. Willis go down in a few seconds; the man was taken up by one of the guard boats, in great extremity.

"The loss of these valuable young men is a circumstance greatly to be lamented; they stood high in reputation, and promised to be a credit to their friends, and an honour to their country."

By a report made to congress it appears that of books for the library of that body, and that the number of volumes received therefor amounts to 740, a catalogue of which has been published for the use of the members.

January 2.

Large mines of PEAT, a substitute for wood, have been discovered the past season in several sea-port towns bordering on the Sound, in the state of Connecticut. It is said this substance is in general use in a number of places, and can be procured at half the price of wood. The mines of it are inexhaustible—and a number of the inhabitants of several towns have become interested in the business, and propose to procure peat for their only fuel the next winter, which will tend greatly to reduce the price of wood.

COMMUNICATION.

We understand the five Indian chiefs, who left us several days ago, on their way to the federal government, had a conference with the society of Friends in this city in which the Little Turtle and his brother chief, Five Medals, expressed themselves at considerable length. We are informed their speeches were taken down in short hand, by Mr. Gerard T. Hopkins, of this city.—We hope, if they are not of a private nature, the public will shortly be gratified with a perusal of them—as from the character of these chiefs, as great orators, particularly the Little Turtle, they must be interesting.

January 4.

General Moyle, was tried by a military commission, at Cape-Francois, on the 11th November, 1801, for conspiracy against the public safety, and disobedience of the orders of Toussaint Louverture, governor of St. Domingo. He was found guilty, and sentenced to death. The sentence was approved by Toussaint on the 12th November.

COMMERCIALLY IMPORTANT.

We understand that the consul-general of the French republic, for the United States, has received orders to grant French registers to American vessels, purchased and owned by citizens of the French republic.

[N. Y. Rep.]

From different letters, received from Cape-Francois, it appears that the news of peace was received there at the beginning of the last month, and had caused the most lively sensations of joy. One of the letters also informs us that general Moyle, one of the authors of the late massacre of the whites, was shot at Port-de-Paix, the latter end of November.

GIDEON WHITE,
HAS RECEIVED, AND FOR SALE,
From LEE'S and Co. Patent and Family Medicine
Store, Baltimore.

A fresh supply of the following valuable medicines:
HAMILTON'S WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES.

Four years have scarcely elapsed since the introduction of HAMILTON'S WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES into general use, yet in this short period upwards of one hundred and twenty thousand persons of both sexes, of every age, and in every situation have received benefit from this extraordinary remedy, in various complaints arising from worms, and from obstructions in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine, which is as innocent and mild, as it is certain and efficacious in its operation, cannot injure the youngest infant, or the most delicate pregnant lady, should no worms exist in the body; but will, without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels, removing whatever is foul or offensive within, particularly that slimy humour from whence worms and many fatal disorders proceed.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally will effectually prevent the vomiting and purging of children, a dreadful disorder which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our cities. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

The celebrity acquired by the Worm Lozenges, particularly in the State of Maryland, renders the further publication of certificates in their favour, an unnecessary expense.

HAMILTON'S

ESSENCE AND EXTRACT OF MUSTARD,

A safe and effectual remedy for the rheumatisms, gout, palsy, sprains and bruises, white swellings, old strains and relaxations, numbness and weakness of the joints, stiffness of the neck, pains of the side, headache, swollen faces, frozen limbs, and every similar complaint. It prevents chilblains, or chapped hands, and the ill effects of getting wet and drenched in the feet.

The extract is celebrated for removing cold and windy complaints in the stomach and bowels, flying pains and other spasmodic affections.

The testimony of thousands and daily experience, sufficiently prove the superiority of the above medicine over all others in the cure of the maladies we have enumerated.

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthma, catarrhs, sore throats and approaching consumptions.

To parents who may have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorder to which children are liable; the Elixir is perfectly agreeable and the dose so small, that no difficulty arises in taking it.

IS recommended as an invaluable medicine, for the speedy relief and permanent cure of the various complaints which result from dissipated pleasures—juvenile indiscretions—residence in climates unfavourable to the constitution—the immoderate use of tea, frequent intoxication, or any other destructive intemperance to the unskillful or excessive use of mercury—the diseases peculiar to females, at a certain period of life—bad layings in, &c. &c.

In cases of extremity where the long prevalence and obstinacy of disease has brought on a general impoverishment of the system, excessive debility of the whole frame, and a wasting of the flesh which no nourishment or cordial could repair, a perseverance in the use of this medicine has performed the most astonishing cures.

DR. HAHN'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons, in every situation, and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile, and prevent its morbid secretions; to restore and mend the appetite; to procure a free perspiration, and thereby prevent colds, which are often attended with fatal consequences; a dose never fails to remove a cold, if taken on its first appearance. They are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness, sickness at the stomach, and severe head-ache, and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

THE SOVEREIGN OINTMENT FOR THE ITCH.

Which is warranted an infallible remedy at one application, and may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury, or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and is not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

dent, speedily removing inflammations, deliriums of rheum, dullness, itching, and films on the eyes, never failing to cure those maladies which frequently succeed the small-pox, measles, and fevers, and wonderfully strengthening a weak sight. Hundreds have experienced its excellent virtues, when nearly deprived of sight.

This excellent preparation comforts and strengthens the gums, preserves the enamel from decay, and cleanses and whitens the teeth, absorbing all that acrimonious slime and foulness, which suffered to accumulate, never fails to injure and finally ruin them.

THE PERSIAN LOTION,

So celebrated amongst the fashionable throughout Europe.

As an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from any corrosive and repellent minerals, (the basis of other lotions) and of unparalleled efficacy, in preventing and removing cutaneous blemishes of the face and skin of every kind, particularly freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurf, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, premature wrinkles, &c.

The Persian Lotion operates mildly, without impeding that natural, insensible perspiration which is essential to the health—Yet its salutary effects are speedy and permanent, rendering the skin delicately soft and smooth, improving the complexion and restoring the bloom of youth. Never failing to render an ordinary countenance beautiful, and an handsome one more so.

Extract of a letter from Dr. Henry C. Soper.
Kent county, Delaware.

"I have given the ague drops to a number of patients this fall, and with constant success; in some obstinate cases they acted like a charm; the disease yielding in a day or two to this remedy, after resisting the bark for months, and when they had been thrown in, in the largest doses."

NEW YORK, January 6. ST. DOMINGO.

Extract of a letter from a very respectable source, to a merchant in this city, received by the Severn, dated Nantes, November 3, 1801.

"Letters from Brest announce, that a courier has brought there an order to dispatch, without delay, all the vessels that may be in readiness, to carry about 8000 troops, who are in that neighbourhood, to St. Domingo. Others from Paris state, that the counsellor of State, Benezech, is to proceed to the same island, as vice-consul; general Le Clerc, a brother-in-law to Buonaparte, as captain-general; general Rochambeau, as commander of the land forces; having under his orders the generals Desfourneaux and Boudet, with from 20 to 30,000 troops.

"Madame Buonaparte is authorized by her husband to announce to all the colonists, that they may, with confidence, open their hearts to joy and comfort, as every thing will be soon restored to good order in that colony—and most probably the expedition to St. Domingo will succeed, without any effusion of blood.

WASHINGTON CITY. SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES.

Friday, January 8.

A message was received from the president of the United States by Mr. Lewis, his secretary; which was not read, being apparently on executive business.

Mr. Brackenridge moved that the senate proceed to the consideration of the president's message, delivered at the commencement of the session.

Agreed to.

Gen. Mason called for the reading of the message, which was in part read; when the further reading of the whole document was suspended, and that part only read, which relates to the judiciary system.

Upon which Mr. Brackenridge from Kentucky, rose, and stated that two days ago he had given notice that on this day he would submit to the consideration of the senate two resolutions respecting the judiciary establishment of the United States. As, however, those resolutions were not necessarily connected, and as they might be distinctly discussed, he would at present confine himself to moving the first resolution; without, however, foreclosing to himself the right of submitting the second after the disposition of the first. He therefore moved, that the act passed last session respecting the judiciary establishment of the United States, be repealed.

The motion was seconded by general Mason.

After the resolution was read by the president, Mr. Brackenridge said, he did not desire to precipitate a vote on the question. But having given notice two days since of his intention to move this resolution, he was himself prepared, if other gentlemen were prepared, to offer his sentiments on the subject. But if this were not the case, if gentlemen were not prepared to enter into a discussion of a point of such importance, he was not anxious for immediate consideration.

Mr. Tracy observed that the ordinary mode of procedure in senate had been to refer in the first instance, each substantive member of the president's message to a select committee. But though this was the usual course, yet he felt in no way hostile to any mode of doing business, which should be most agreeable to the gentleman from Kentucky, or to the house. With an adherence to the ordinary course, he would have been better pleased, for the substantial reason, that by a reference of the subject to a select committee, on receiving a report, the mind of the house would be drawn more precisely to the points involved in it, than could be expected from a resolution so loose as the present, which could only give rise to verbal discussions.

Another course of procedure had not been unusual; that of obtaining leave to bring in a bill; in which event, the same result desired by Mr. Tracy would be insured, viz. the reference of the bill to a committee.

Mr. J. Mason differed from the gentleman from Connecticut. He believed the mode, now pursued, was perfectly correct, and conformable to a principle, adopted this session, that the senate was to be considered as in a committee of the whole on the president's message, whenever taken up. Nor did he discern the necessity, in a body so select as this, of referring each subject to a select committee. But as the subject is extremely important, and some gentlemen seemed unprepared for the discussion, he moved its postponement till Friday.

Mr. Brackenridge said, that though he had given notice, in his opinion sufficient, of his purpose, yet, not wishing a precipitate discussion, he would agree to the desired delay.

The consideration of the resolution was then deferred to Friday next.

BALTIMORE, January 5.

Another insurrection at Guadeloupe.

Arrived yesterday schooner Exchange, capt. V. bert, from Guadeloupe. Left it on the 11th, at which time Point-Petre, and the whole of the island, was in confusion; another insurrection having taken place there, which, had it not been fortunately discovered at the moment, would have involved the whole island.

The rebels in the present insurrection were the country blacks against the whites and mulattoes.

The former having lent a helping hand in the revolution which had just been effected, expected a total emancipation from their masters; but not finding that event confirmed or even contemplated in the proclamation of the yellow general, Pelage, they had determined to achieve their own liberty, through the blood of Pelage and his party. For this purpose 11,000 were to have been organized on the night succeeding that on which the plot was discovered—to have burnt the towns—and to have murdered every man, woman and child, of Pelage's party! At that very moment only when it could possibly have been defeated, was the plot discovered by a black woman, who was the kept mistress of a white man, when four of the ring-leaders were apprehended.

Notwithstanding the bloody project had been discovered, and for the present warded off, yet every thing was apprehended from the vengeance and ferocity of the blacks, and all was in the utmost confusion. In such haste was the island deserted by those who could get off, that the Exchange came away on the 11th with only two hands on board. An English and a French frigate were at that time off the island, cautioning vessels not to go in. Accounts had also been received that general McDonald, with 18,000 men, had failed for the windward, and general Rochambeau, with 40,000, for the leeward islands.

January 8.

We are informed, that a gentleman just arrived from the West-Indies, brings intelligence of the arrival there of a French fleet, consisting of 45 sail, with troops destined for Guadeloupe.

PASSED NOVEMBER SESSION, 1801.

An ACT relative to the administration of justice in this state, and to repeal the acts of assembly therein mentioned.

[Concluded from our last.]

AND BE IT ENACTED, That the clerks of the respective county courts shall, under the penalty of fifty dollars for every omission or neglect, in the month of November yearly, during the continuance of this act, make out and transcribe two fair copies of the levy list allowed by the justices of the respective levy courts against the said counties, containing the several charges and sums levied and assessed on their respective counties, one copy whereof shall be transmitted to the clerk of the senate, and the other copy thereof to the clerk of the house of delegates, for the information of the general assembly.

And be it enacted, That each associate justice, appointed and commissioned in virtue of this act, shall receive, as a compensation for his services, the sum of four dollars for every day he shall attend the duty of his office, and the said allowance shall be assessed in the assessment of his county.

And, whereas by divers acts of assembly the justices of the county courts are authorized and enjoined to do sundry matters and things at the county courts to be held in certain months in the said acts mentioned, and in many instances there is an alteration of the time of holding the said county courts by this act, Be it enacted, That in all cases where the courts are by this act directed to be held in different months from those mentioned in the said acts of assembly, or any of them, it shall be lawful for the justices of the county courts, to be commissioned in virtue of this act, to do and perform all such matters and things at such time in each year as they shall think convenient, either at their court in course, or at an adjourned court.

And, whereas the office and duties of justices of the peace are considerably increased in the several counties of this state, and it is reasonable that every person who dedicates his time or labour to the public should receive a reasonable and adequate compensation for his services, Be it enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the several justices of the peace, and associate justices, in the several counties of this state, to ask and receive the fees allowed and limited by this act for services expressed in the following table, and such fees shall be taxed and paid by the party against whom judgment shall be rendered, to wit: For issuing a warrant for debt, twelve and an half cents; for each summons, including all the witnesses applied for at the same time, twelve and an half cents; venire to summon freeholders, twenty cents; capias ad satisfaciendum, twelve and an half cents; fieri facias, twelve and an half cents; scire facias, twelve and an half cents; recognizance for defendant's appearance, twelve and an half cents; every superedeas, each justice twelve and an half cents; every oath or affidavit, six cents; probat of account, six cents; every judgment rendered, twelve and an half cents; commitment, twelve and an half cents; release, twelve and an half cents; warrant of attachment, twenty-five cents; attendance on valuation of orphans estates, per day two dollars; return thereon, seventy-five cents; venire to summon a jury in a forcible entry and detainer, seventy-five cents; taking inquisition and return thereon, four dollars; warrant of restitution, seventy-five cents; taking acknowledgment of any deed, each justice twenty-five cents, including all the persons acknowledging at the same time; taking any other acknowledgment, twelve and an half cents; taking appeal bond, twenty-five cents; taking a bail-pie to the general or county court, twenty-five cents; a party twenty-five cents; certificates of strays, thirty-seven and an half cents; taking inspectors bonds, each justice twenty-five cents; probat of county clerk's bond, each justice twenty-five cents.

And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of all and every justice of the peace to write and prepare all probats, affidavits, superedeas, and other instruments to be executed by them in virtue of this law, when required, except in cases of acknowledgment of deeds.

And be it enacted, That every justice of the peace, or associate justice, before he acts as such, shall take an oath, that he will not, directly or indirectly, receive any greater fee or reward for any thing in his office as justice of the peace than what is allowed by this act; and if any associate justice, or justice of the peace, by colour of his office, shall receive any fee or any associate justice, or justice of the peace, shall receive any greater fee or reward for any service mentioned in this act than is hereby allowed, he shall forfeit one hundred dollars for every such offence, but such justice shall not be liable to prosecution after twelve months from the time of the offence committed.

And be it enacted, That all causes, pleas, process and proceedings, relative to any cause, civil or criminal, which shall be returnable to, or depending before, the several county courts of this state, when this act shall commence, shall be returned to the several county courts constituted by this act, at the times herein before appointed for the holding of each court, and shall be heard, tried and determined therein, in the same manner as if no change had been made in the said courts; and all writs issuing out of any of the said county courts shall be tested in the name of the chief justice, and in case of his death, resignation or disqualification, before a new appointment, in the name of the associate justice first named in the commission, and all writs shall be returnable on the days appointed by this act.

And be it enacted, That all commitments and recognizances for all felonies, crimes, offences or misdemeanors, committed in the several counties, and triable by law in the county courts, shall be returned to the justices appointed in virtue of this act, by the justice making such commitment or taking such recognizance, on the first day of holding the county court of their county; and all sheriffs, clerks, and all other civil officers, shall execute and perform the same offices and duties, under the same penalties as they are now obliged by law to perform and execute them in the county courts as now established.

And, whereas the great convenience of trials of facts in the several counties of this state would be considerably increased by farther abridging the original jurisdiction of the general court; therefore, Be it enacted, That from and after the first day of March next, no action of trespass for injury done to the person or personal property of the plaintiff, replevin, debt, covenant, account or on the case, shall be brought in the general court, unless the real debt or thing in demand, or damages assessed, exceeds the sum or value of four hundred dollars current money, and if any such action shall be thereafter brought in the general court, and it shall appear to the court that the real debt or thing in demand, or damages assessed, doth not amount to the sum or value of four hundred dollars current money, the plaintiff shall be nonsuit, and pay costs to the defendant.

And be it enacted, That the second section of an act, entitled, An act concerning jurisdiction, be and the same is hereby repealed.

And be it enacted, That from and after the said first day of March next, no suit or action, which may thereafter be commenced or brought in any county court, shall, before judgment, be removed by or on behalf of the plaintiff or plaintiffs in such suit or action, to the general court, unless the plaintiff or plaintiffs could, after the said first day of March next, have originally commenced such suit in the general court, on penalty of such plaintiff or plaintiffs suffering a nonsuit, and paying costs to the defendant; and any defendant or defendants shall have it in his, her or their power, at any time before issue joined, to remove, in the manner heretofore provided by law, such cause or suit from the county court to the general court, in which the real debt or thing in demand, or damages claimed, exceeds the sum of two hundred dollars current money, any law to the contrary notwithstanding.

And be it enacted, That no action of ejectment, waste, partition, dower, trespass quare clausum fregit, trover, or replevin, brought or to be brought in any court of law in this state, shall abate by the death of either of the parties to such action, but upon the death of either of the parties, the action shall be continued, and the heir, devisee, executor or administrator of the deceased party, as the case may require, or other person interested on the part of the deceased party, may appear to such action, and in case the heir, devisee, executor, administrator, or other proper persons to prosecute or defend such action, as the case may be, do not appear to such action at the term at which the death is suggested, the surviving party, whether plaintiff or defendant, may proceed to make proper parties to such action, according to the provisions of the act, entitled, An act to alter and amend the law in certain cases.

And be it enacted, That from and after the passage of this act, the judges of the general court for the western and eastern shores respectively, shall not be capable to take cognizance of, or hold any jurisdiction over, any treasons, misprisions of treason, murders, felonies or insurrections, but all treasons, misprisions of treason, murder, felonies and insurrections, shall the county courts of the county, and the justices of the court of oyer and terminer and gaol delivery for Baltimore county, wherein the said treasons, misprisions of treason, murder, felonies and insurrections, shall be committed, and not elsewhere; provided nevertheless, that on the application of any party indicted for any treason, misprision of treason, murder, felony or insurrections, in the county court, to the general court, or in vacation to one of the judges thereof, on a suggestion, in writing, that a fair and impartial trial cannot be had in the court where any such prosecution may be depending, it shall be lawful for the said general court, or judge, to direct the clerk of their court, on their respective shore, to issue a writ of habeas corpus to the justices of the county court, or court of oyer and terminer and gaol delivery for Baltimore county, wherein such person may be indicted, for bringing up of such person, and for the removal of the prosecution depending against such person, and on the transmission thereof, and on the appearance of such person, the said judges of the general court shall thereupon take cognizance thereof, and proceed to hear and determine the same, and pass sentence and judgment therein according to law; and in like manner, on any application made to the judges of the general court, on the part of the state, on a suggestion, in writing, that a fair and impartial trial cannot be had in the county court, or court of oyer and terminer and gaol delivery for Baltimore county, where the prosecution mentioned in such suggestion shall be depending, it shall be lawful for the said judges to direct as aforesaid a writ of habeas corpus to the justices of the said county court for bringing up such person, and for the removal of such prosecution, and on the transmission thereof, and the appearance of the person prosecuted, the judges of the general court shall take cognizance thereof, and proceed to hear and determine the same, and pass sentence and judgment therein according to law.

Captain Lord, who arrived here last week, in 33 days from Point-Petre informs, that four days previous to his leaving that port, an American vessel arrived there, which had spoken, off Defcada, five English line of battle ships, direct from Europe, bound to St. Domingo, to act in concert with the French, in dispossessing Toussaint of the government of the island. Captain Lord also mentions, that although tranquillity was in some degree restored, yet the whites were fearful of further trouble, and many of them kept their trunks, papers, &c. on board the American shipping, ready for a start, in case it should be necessary.

Annapolis, January 21.

To the honourable HENRY HOLLINGSWORTH, a member of the newly-elected senate of Maryland.

SIR,

AS the session of the general assembly is now at an end, I feel myself at liberty to remark with freedom upon your publication of the 24th ult. in the Maryland Gazette.

It is admitted that I read in the public market-place the following resolve of congress, dated 20th July, 1780:

Resolved, That Henry Hollingsworth, deputy quarter-master-general, be and hereby is suspended, and that some other person be appointed to transact the business of that department.

Resolved, That the deposition of Robert Anderson, respecting the supposed forgery of his name to a receipt offered as a voucher in support of the accounts of Henry Hollingsworth, be transmitted to the executive authority of the state of Maryland, in order that such proceedings may be had against the person or persons concerned therein, as may be agreeable to the laws of the state, at the expence of the United States.

I did not read the following copy of Mr. Hanson's report:

SIR,

I have perused the papers relative to the case of colonel Henry Hollingsworth, and can find no grounds for instituting a criminal prosecution. The charge against him is for forging and publishing a receipt, with an intent to defraud, or for publishing the receipt knowing it to be forged: there is some evidence in the depositions tending to prove the latter, but not a tittle to justify the former: and as the transaction was in Philadelphia, the courts of this state can have no jurisdiction.

After delivering my opinion of the law, I hope your excellency will not think I have exceeded the line of duty, when I declare, that at the request of colonel Hollingsworth, with whom I have a very slight acquaintance, and not the remotest connexion, I have perused a variety of letters, certificates and accounts: the result of the inquiry is, that I consider him as a man, who, for a considerable length of time, has been harassed by a species of persecution, grounded on an accusation, of which an impartial examination could not fail to acquit him.

I have the honour to be,

Your excellency's most obt. servant,

A. C. HANSON.

His excellency THOS. SIM LEE, Esq;

Governor of Maryland.

Annapolis, Dec. 19, 1780.

I did not read the resolve of congress of the 21st of November, 1782:

Resolved, That congress are satisfied with the report of the honourable Alexander Contee Hanson, Esq; one of the judges of the general court of the state of Maryland, on the case of Henry Hollingsworth, referred to him by the executive of the said state, in pursuance of the act of congress, of the 20th July, 1780: and that the complaint against the said H. Hollingsworth be dismissed.

I do not recollect to have ever seen either Mr. Hanson's report or the last resolve of congress, until the meeting at Annapolis, although I had frequently heard them spoken of, but always in such a manner as to convince me that they had in no degree done away the impression on the public mind, that you were guilty of publishing the receipt knowing it to be forged. Let us examine how far they exculpate you. Mr. Hanson indeed requits you of the forgery but admits there was some evidence to prove you guilty of the publication knowing it to be forged, and on the perusal at your request, of a variety of letters, certificates and accounts, seems to think that on an impartial examination you could not fail of being acquitted. But what is the language of congress? very different indeed. They are satisfied with Mr. Hanson's report; not by any means convinced of your innocence. Will it be believed that the report, with your assiduous and sycophantic attentions, could have been near two years upon the tables of congress, had there been no hesitation on the propriety of assenting to it?

If they had considered you as a man injured by the infamy with which their journals had branded you, ought they not, would they not have hastened to do you justice by a stronger expression of your innocence, or obliterating for ever, every trace of your crime? Would they for near two long years have hung you up to be stung by the envenomed tongue of malice, and pointed at by the finger of scorn? In fine, it is evident to every intelligent reader that you escaped the punishment annexed to one of the most infamous offences in society, from a defect in our judicial and political systems. The offence was committed in Philadelphia; you were a citizen of Maryland; our laws had no jurisdiction of offences committed in Pennsylvania, nor did there exist any provision by which you could be remanded to the place where the offence was committed. Congress had no cognizance of any such offence—they had no power either to try or punish you, and this, with your unceasing importunity, will account for the final dismissal of the complaint—Would any man but yourself have been content with such a discharge? To conscious rectitude and indignant virtue, the path to be pursued was plainly pointed out: go to Philadelphia; wave every exception to the jurisdiction of the court; insist on a public trial and rest on your innocence for an honourable acquittal. But that was not the path for you to pursue; your best friends at the time suspected you could not tread in it with safety, and your subsequent conduct confirmed it. Why did you keep for many years after in your service and treat with particular kindness, the favourite clerk who, as you told your friends, forged the receipt?—did he do it by your command? If yes, you are as criminal as if you had forged it yourself—If not, as an honest man you should have discharged him in an hour. Take it either way, as respects your guilt, it is not of much consequence, as you knew of the forgery: and I leave it to some more candid person to determine whether you were not equally guilty of a forgery, and the publication knowing it to be forged.

a forgery, and the publication knowing it to be forged.

Another public transaction of nearly equal baseness has since displayed in strong colours, your fitness for public trust—whilst in the quarter-master's department, considerable sums of money were from time to time advanced you on account; when your accounts were in the course of settlement, there appeared against you upon the public books a charge of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, equal, by the scale of depreciation, to about ten thousand pounds specie—The draft on which you had received this money was produced by the accounting officers, without a receipt upon it; you immediately denied the receipt of the money; you for several days attended the office, and obstinately disputed the point; you insisted that "your books were right," that "they never erred," that "so large a sum could not have escaped your recollection," that "it must have checked itself." After a diligent search by the officers, the receipt, which had been taken on a separate piece of paper, and by some means mislaid, was found; it was fortunately in your own hand writing, and corresponded precisely with the entry in the public books. This discovery of the receipt was concealed from you for several days, during which the officers enjoyed a very ludicrous farce at your expence, as you regularly attended and became more obstinate in disputing the point. At length the fatal receipt is produced; the culprit stands arrayed in confusion, shame and guilt!!! but, Proteus like, soon changes, and very honestly gets clear of the embarrassment by observing, that "he would not deny his own hand writing," that "the omission must have proceeded from the negligence of one of his clerks;" although the instant before "it was impossible he should be mistaken," "his books never erred," "the sum was too large for him to forget," it must have checked itself.—Mark gentle reader! The colonel, as the receipt in his own hand writing proved, had received the money himself; and was still attended by his favourite clerk through the whole of this transaction, which took place many years after his suspension.

In your narrative of my conduct at Annapolis, considerable stress seems to be laid upon my reading the resolve of congress in the public market. It is perhaps necessary to explain the reason of it. I went to the market upon private business of consequence; my attention was soon arrested by the collection of a crowd, in which mixing, I discovered two gentlemen engaged in a political conversation, in which I was intently led to take a part. One of them, at present a member of the executive council of the state, justified the conduct of the council in the late change of officers, &c. which they have made, and grounded his vindication on the recommendation of the members of the legislature, who from the confidence with which the people had entrusted them, it might be presumed, could best judge who were the properest characters to be removed, and who to be appointed. When it is known and recollected that I had been dismissed but a few days before from office, and no doubt by the intrigues of yourself and colleagues from the county, it will not be believed that I should very readily acquiesce in the position that you were the best judges of my merits in office; of course I denied it; and to prove how far you were qualified to recommend proper characters, thought it necessary to read the resolve of congress, by which you had been so disgracefully suspended, which I happened to have in my pocket.—I did not go to the market with any expectation of using it, but with equal truth and candour declare, that I left my house on Susquehanna, determined to make it as public as possible before my return. Until you were elected a member of the new senate, I do not recollect that on any occasion, but in confidential conversation, I ever spoke of the circumstances, and had not "curst ambition" enticed you to accept an honourable post in our government, it is highly probable that all recollection of them would soon have been effaced.—That they were generally forgotten throughout the state, who doubted when your election was announced? Who otherwise would ever believe that a majority of the electors of the senate would say upon their oaths, that you were one of fifteen of the wisest and most virtuous men in the state. Had you been content to move in private life, obscured by the clouds of former offences, you would never have been noticed; but promotion placed you upon a dangerous pinnacle, and the higher the elevation, the greater the danger. The day you accepted your seat in the senate, you became, in jacobinic language, a servant of the people, and the people, as you know, have for some time past been in the habit of examining the conduct of their upper servants with much freedom. With you jacobins, the scrutiny has not been confined to their public faults; private vice has been the favourite theme; you certainly then have no reason to complain of me, who have left your private vices at Elkton and its neighbourhood, where they are fully known.

To the ingenuous I submit the charge of malevolence. Convinced of colonel Hollingsworth's unfitness for a seat in the senate, I thought it a duty to disclose the facts on which that conviction was founded, that all good men might be warned of our danger, and the better prepared to encounter it. The times are critical and wayward, and demands industrious zeal and perseverance. In these I at least feel no disposition to abate, and shall glory in every opportunity of exposing the deformity of men who are founding their aggrandizement upon the ruins of their country.

ON application to the chancellor, by petition in writing, of EDWARD J. PRYSE, of the city of Annapolis, praying the benefit of the act for the relief of sundry insolvent debtors, passed at the last session, on the terms therein mentioned, and a schedule of his property, and a list of his creditors, so far as he can ascertain the same, on oath, being annexed to his petition, and the said Edward J. ## S A L E M, January 17.

The last year was rendered memorable to Great Britain, by the incorporation of the "Royal Institution," the object of which is to apply the science of natural philosophy to the improvement of the useful arts, and the promotion of general happiness. The projector of this grand establishment is an American, Count Rumford. His patron, the king. It is under the direction of 150 subscribers at 50 guineas each; there are also 126 life subscribers at 10 guineas each; and 114 annual subscribers at 2 guineas each. Five thousand pounds have been raised for the construction of a theatre, for public lectures, and a splendid and convenient house has been taken for the accommodation of the society. This "Royal Institution" is probably designed as a rival to the famous "National Institute" of France.

Extract of a letter, dated Lancaster, January 13th, 1802.

"A resolution respecting the removal of the seat of government, was this day discussed in the house of representatives and negatively, in favour of removal 41—against a removal 42."

"A bill for erecting a new militia system has been reported and made the order for a future day. Several other subjects of considerable importance will be discussed in a few days."

January 19.

A letter from an officer on board the U. S. frigate Philadelphia, dated at Algiers the 30th of October last, says, that they were taking on board the provisions which had been sent out for them, and that they should leave that place in two days, with the convoy for Malaga, and from thence up the Mediterranean. The frigate President was shortly to sail from Gibraltar for the United States.

N O R F O L K, January 9.

By the brig William, Capt. Olden, we have received St. Vincent's papers of a late date; the following proclamation of general Lacroffe is extracted from them; it is important, as it develops the intentions of the French government relative to Guadalupe.

The verbal accounts by this vessel are, that the Pensee frigate had left at Madeira a fleet of 100 transports, and 6 British and 6 French sail of the line, full of French troops from France, on their way to the West-Indies.

Kingston, December 15.

On Wednesday last arrived here from Dominica, his majesty's ship Surinam, having on board two companies of the 1st W. India regiment for this island, under the command of captain Smelt. She brings the proclamation of gen. Lacroffe (a copy of which we have given in this day's paper) declaring all persons acting under the present usurpers in Guadalupe,

IN THE NAME OF THE FRENCH REPUBLIC.
The three chief magistrates, composing the government of the island of Guadeloupe, and its dependencies.

To all the citizens of the said colony,

While the first consul at the head of the armies was labouring to procure peace for Europe, while his whole attention seemed to be taken up with the destruction of factions, and totally bent upon giving a regular impulse to the interior government of France, while affairs of the greatest importance obliged him to neglect or set aside our colonies, nevertheless the island of Guadeloupe, which has always remained true to the mother country, was at the same time the object of his particular care.

The first consul, unwilling to wait until a regulation was completed, lent you a captain-general with the necessary provisional powers to put a stop to all prosecutions, and unjust proceedings, to see all usurpations restored, and to make every man enjoy the rights allowed by law.

On the 29th Germinal, an 10, (19th of April, 1801) the consuls made a regulation for the government of Guadeloupe, by which three chief magistrates were established, with respective powers for the military, civil government and justice.

In consequence of this regulation, the first consul has appointed rear-admiral Lacrosse, captain-general, the councillor of state Lescallier, colonial prefect, and the magistrate Coster, commissary of justice.

Captain Valteau, commanding the Penlee frigate of the republic, having a passport from the admiralty of England, brings the news of a general peace, the citizens, Lescallier and Coster, were passengers on board. Being informed of the insult done to the captain-general, and his expulsion from the colony, neither the said magistrates, nor the commanding officer of the frigate could think of landing in an island, where a few factious men have seduced the armed forces, and still make them act contrary to their duty; they have been obliged to seek for the captain-general in the neighbouring islands; they have at last found him at Roseau, in the island of Dominica, where captain Valteau has delivered him the dispatches of government.

The three aforesaid magistrates composing the legal government of Guadeloupe, and the two representative powers of the French government, after having duly conferred together, have thought proper, collectively and each of them according to his attributions, to determine, regulate and order what follows:

Art. 1. The government of Guadeloupe shall provisionally reside at Dominica and the Saintes, with the consent and permission of the hon. Andrew Cochran Johnstone, captain-general and governor in chief, in and over his Britannic majesty's island of Dominica, until the arrival of the frigate's getting under weigh, ready to sail from France for these islands; and which enables them to foresee with certainty that the national authority will be respected; consequently all citizens who have remained faithful to the government, shall find at Dominica and the Saintes, support and protection, and there only the military and civil officers and agents of all denominations can find the means of acting under regular orders.

2. Orders are given to all military officers of the sea and land forces, to all civil and municipal officers, commissaries of government, officers of administration of the navy and colonies, to all treasurers, paymasters, store-keepers, directors and receivers of national property and lands, farmers of plantations, and all accountable agents whatsoever; to all members of the courts of justice and ministerial officers of justice, who have been continued in their employments by the captain-general, or by him appointed and established, to continue their service, and to act only under the immediate orders and directions of the aforesaid three magistrates, under whose attributions they are to act; all and each of the said officers and agents are by the present made answerable, personally and in their properties, present and to come, for all intrusions and acts contrary to these orders.

3. It is forbidden to all officers of administration of the navy to give passes or permits either to ships of war, trading or coasting vessels, unless under the express condition of being first authorised by the captain-general and the colonial prefect respectively. In consequence of which, all captains or masters of ships or vessels, of boats or barges of any kind, are given to understand that they might not or cannot put to sea without legal permits from the national authority, under the penalty of being arrested in their persons, the forfeiture of their vessels and cargoes, and of being treated as disclaimed men, sea-robbers and pirates.

4. Any persons whatsoever persisting to continue in an employ either civil or military, without the consent of the present government, are declared guilty of treason against the mother country, and shall be prosecuted as such with all the severity directed by the laws.

5. WASHINGTON, January 11.

WHEREAS sundry letters lately sent to and from the office, particular two from the postmaster-general, sealed with his official seal, one for Albany, New-York; and the other for Bucks Town, Maine; have been broken open before they were received by the persons to whom they were directed: and other letters of importance from officers of government, and from individuals, have been suppressed and in some instances withheld or delayed in such manner as to induce a belief of premeditated and fraudulent design. And as among the other injurious consequences of such atrocious conduct the innocent and the guilty are in a state of uncertainty, alike subject to suspicion and censure, I therefore, (being implicated with others) will pay a reward of one hundred dollars for information which shall convict any person or persons of the above mentioned offences, and two hundred dollars in each case of the said letters of the postmaster-general.

The debate in the senate on the interesting subject of the judiciary has at length closed; and that body have decided, that it is expedient to repeal the act of the last session, and have by implication also decided the constitutional power of the legislature to vacate all judicial appointment made under that part of the constitution, that authorizes the erection of inferior tribunals.

The decision will be a memorable one, as well from the importance of the point decided, as from the cool, dignified, and enlightened deliberation by which it was reached.

January 22.

The following proposed amendments of the Federal constitution, have passed the legislature of Virginia, and the governor has been directed, without delay, to transmit them to the different state legislatures throughout the union, and to invite their cordial co-operation. The preamble states, that there are defects in the constitution, which have from their operation as heretofore experienced, excited the well founded fears of the people and the states individually, that certain principles, under the influence of those defects, were rapidly progressing to the destruction of the liberty and happiness of the people at large; and in order effectually to quiet those fears, they propose "to prune the constitution of its exuberances, which might ultimately lead to the introduction of aristocracy."

These amendments might nullify the people into a state of security" they think this the proper time to make the amendments proposed:

Whereas there are defects in the constitution of the United States, which from their operation as heretofore experienced, have excited well founded fears to the people and the states individually, that certain principles under the influence of the defects alluded to were rapidly progressing, which were destructive of the liberty and happiness of our fellow-citizens at large; and believing as we do, that a corrupt administration will at all times have in their power to give that direction which will most probably fix upon the people a system of real oppression; in order effectually to quiet those fears, and to prune the constitution of its exuberances, which may ultimately lead to the establishment of aristocracy or monarchy; these considerations induce the legislature of Virginia, to suggest to the sister states, the propriety and necessity of amending the federal compact, in a way, as to secure the invaluable rights which ought to attach to a republican form of government, they think the present the most proper time to commence this highly important work, whilst they have fresh in their recollection the extreme danger from which they have emerged; and it is further their opinion if these defects should not be now corrected, that the mildness of the present administration will be such as to lull the people into a state of security, which will render any affairs of this kind fruitless and abortive, and that no further future attempt can succeed until the people are forced into it by the hand of oppression. They therefore take the liberty to propose the following amendments to the constitution aforesaid.

First.—That from and after the next presidential election, the president of the United States shall not be permitted to serve a longer period than for four years successively, and that he shall be ineligible until one complete term shall have intervened.

Secondly.—That the senators of the United States shall in future be elected for three instead of six years, and that they shall be classed as heretofore, so that one third may go out of office every year.

Thirdly.—That the treaty making power shall be so construed, as to give to the house of representatives of the United States a complete control over all treaties, whenever their agency shall be required to carry such treaty into effect; and that all such treaties be to be considered as not ratified or binding upon the government, until the sanction of the house of representatives shall have been obtained.

Fourthly.—That in all future elections of president and vice-president of the United States the characters voted for shall be particularly designated, by declaring which is voted for as president, and which as vice-president.

The executive of this state are hereby directed, without delay, to transmit the foregoing amendments to the different state legislatures throughout the union, to invite their cordial co-operation.

IMPORTANT.

A gentleman belonging to a respectable mercantile house of Alexandria, now in this town, received a letter from his partner last night, dated the 21st inst. which says, "I am sorry to inform you Toussaint is no more. He has been caught by the blacks and burnt alive." The letter mentions nothing further on the subject; but from the gentleman's connexions in trade at Cape Francois, there is no doubt but his information is from the most unquestionable source. His letter probably came by the way of Norfolk, where captain Ferguson, whose packet left there on Tuesday last, states that the same report of Toussaint being burnt was current, though not generally credited.

Toussaint was probably way laid by some of Moya's party in his usual tour from the Cape to Port Republic, which he mostly made without any guard. And as a retaliation for the death of their general, and to prevent, as they suspected, betraying them to the whites, it is not unlikely that they have inflicted this savage and excruciating torture.

Should this news unfortunately be true, a ferocious resistance will be made to the troops embarked for that colony, and much blood will be shed before the blacks can be subdued.

NOTICE.

Pursuant to an order of the orphans court of Prince-George's county, will be EXPOSED to PUBLIC SALE, in the town of Upper-Marlborough, on the fourth day of February next,

ALL the personal property of JAMES HIN-ATON, late of said county, deceased, consisting of horses, cattle, hogs, corn, and household furniture. A credit of six months will be allowed, upon the purchase money, with approved security.

By virtue of a decree from the honorable the High Court of Chancery, the subscriber will SELL, at PUBLIC AUCTION, on Tuesday the 23d of February next, at the mansion of the late major RICHARD CHURCH,

ALL the real estate of the said Richard Church, consisting of about twelve hundred and twenty acres of land, in one body, situate in Anne-Arundel county, lying on the Chesapeake Bay, and forms the mouth of Herring Bay, twenty miles from Annapolis, fifty from Baltimore, and thirty-five from the city of Washington; this land is as rich and fertile as any on the Chesapeake, affords the most luxuriant pasturage, has a large proportion of meadow land, and the greatest abundance of fire wood and timber, and for ship building the best timber on the Chesapeake may be had on this land; the situation is healthy, and as beautiful a prospect as any on the bay, a good harbour, and the waters lying around the land afford the greatest abundance of excellent fish, crabs, oysters, and wild fowl. The improvements are valuable, consisting of a large two story brick dwelling-house, with four rooms and a commodious passage on each floor, with excellent cellars under the whole house, a large and elegant garden, laid off with falls, a good kitchen, and almost every other necessary out house. The very convenient situation of this land must be obvious to every person willing to purchase, as the wood, timber, and the whole product of the land, can be removed from thence by water, and that in a few hours, to the markets of Annapolis and Baltimore.

A more minute description of this valuable property is thought unnecessary, as any person willing to purchase can view the same, by applying to Doct. Richard Chew, who resides thereon, or to Mr. Philimon L. Chew, who lives within a few miles of it. The terms of sale are, that the purchaser or purchasers shall either pay down one sixth part of the purchase money on the day of sale, or give bond with security for the payment of the same on the chancellor's ratification, which will be in four weeks after return of the sale is to him made by the trustee, for the residue a bond, or bonds, are to be given, with security, on interest, to be approved by the chancellor, payable in two equal annual payments; and on the receipt of the whole of the purchase money, the subscriber, by a good deed indented, will give, grant, bargain, sell, and confirm to the purchaser or purchasers, his, her, or their heirs, the land sold to them, and all the right, title, interest, and estate therein and thereto, of the said Richard Chew, or his heirs, or any person claiming by, from, or under them. It is further ordered by the chancellor, that the creditors of the said deceased, who have not yet exhibited their claims, shall file the same in the court of chancery, with the vouchers thereof, before the first day of June next.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

RAN away on the evening of the first instant, a negro man called CHARLES, a short black fellow, thirty-five years of age, strong and active, broad shoulders, large face, nose, mouth, and thick lips, marked in the face by the small-pox; his left ear is much smaller than the right; he walks remarkably wide, and turns his toes very much in. He went off about this time last year, and was out nine months, employed by, and taken in the house of, a free negro, who rents land of Samuel Ward, near Herring creek church, who knew him to be my slave; he has a quick way of speaking, and a remarkable down look when spoken to. It is presumed he will make for the Federal City or Baltimore, and will endeavour to pass for a free man, and probably will take the name of, and may obtain a pass from, some free negro. A reward of twenty dollars will be paid for taking and securing him at either of the above cities, or ten dollars if taken a less distance, with reasonable expences if delivered to Joseph Taylor, or
