AND EASTERN SHOREMAN.

LEMUEL MALONE,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

SALISBURY, MD.,
SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 3, 1880.

THE CONSTELLATION sailed from New York on Saturday with a cargo of provisions for the famishing people of Ireland. She will come back to us freighted with a rich store of gratitude and love.

THERE IS AN authoritative statement that sixty-one members of the Republican State committee of Louisiana are office-holders. News of this kind ought to be kept from the President if possible; he has a great deal to bear, and this would break him down entirely.

THE MUNICIPAL ELECTION in Hagerstown on Monday resulted in a handsome Democratic victory. For the first time in four years a Democrat was elected to the Mayoralty and the council now stands four Democrats to one Republican.

MR. PARNELL has had luck since his return to Ireland. He is accused by a faction of his own party with carrying things with too high a hand and with attempting to play the role of dictator. At Ennisceorthy he was looted off the stage and pelted with eggs. The role of agitator has its perils as well as its plaudits.

ALTHOUGH THE Pennsylvania Republican Convention instructed its delegates to vote for Grant at Chicago, the Republicans of the State, who are largely Blaine men, are protesting against the machine and demand that they shall be represented, not misrepresented, at the National Convention. Unless their protest is heeded there won't be much unity in the party.

THE New Registration Bill has passed the Senate, and is now before the House, provides for a revision of the old lists this year, and an entire and complete new registration next year, and authorizes the registration officers to place those they know to be voters on the registration lists, although the voter may not appear in person to claim his rights under the laws.

THE Maryland Farmer, from statistical tables and reports gathers the fact that Maryland has 4,000,000 acres of uncultivated and 1,000,000 of wild pasture, with only 151,200 sheep. Why is all this immense sheep pasture unproductive? Because there is no protection against dogs. From 6 to 8 percent of the sheep raised or grazed on cultivated farms are yearly destroyed by dogs.

THERE DOES NOT SEEM to be much chance for the Peninsular Ship Canal, either by the Sussarros or Choptank route. Members of the Committee now having the matter under consideration frankly admitted when interrogated, that they did not think Congress would be likely to pass any bill appropriating money to build either route at present, though some of them thought that possibly some future Congress might do so.

THE MARYLAND LEGISLATURE is now working with sleeves rolled up, and before the adjournment on Monday next most of the important measures will have received attention. President Stump, in the Senate, are doing all in their power to facilitate business, and on the whole a first-rate record will be made by the majority. Just here we would remark that at the close of every session snakes begin to show themselves in legislation and sometimes improper bills are passed notwithstanding the greatest care may be taken to prevent such action. A word to the wise is sufficient.

THE COMMITTEE of twenty-one appointed by the Democratic Union to devise the best plan for bringing about a union between the Tammany and anti-Tammany factions met Wednesday afternoon and resolved that a sub-committee of five be appointed to call upon the two existing Democratic organizations in this city and invite each of them to appoint a sub-committee to meet this committee in conference, for the purpose of devising a plan to secure the election of a united representation of the Democratic party of the city of New York to the coming State Convention.

THE "Great Seal of Maryland," which is now the subject of investigation at Annapolis, has had a varied and eventful history. Twice it was seized, once by the rebel Ingles and next in the Parliamentary troubles. In both cases the seal was lost and never recovered. A third seal was, however, sent over by Lord Baltimore and was used until 1854, when it was replaced by a seal taken from a provincial coin. The Legislature afterward decided to substitute the Lord Baltimore seal, which was fully described in the commission accompanying the seal sent out in 1848. In pursuance of this decision the Legislature in 1876 requested the Governor to have the seal altered so as to conform with that description. This having been done it is now claimed that another mistake has been made and it is to settle the matter once for all that the pending investigation has been undertaken.

To the Voters of Salisbury.

Attention is called to the report of the citizens' mass meeting, held in the Court House on last Monday night. As will be seen the old board of Town Commissioners were nominated by a large majority. In doing this, in our opinion, the people have acted wisely, for a better board never had charge of our town affairs. All money has been judiciously spent, and more has been gotten for the same money than ever before. The interests of every section of the town have been looked after, our streets kept in good order and several improvements added. In submitting the question "Whether Salisbury should buy a Steam Fire Engine," to the people, the Board showed that they were anxious to do the will of the majority, and the verdict at the polls emphatically sustained the movement. No suspicion of distrust exists against any member of the Board, and we hope to see them all triumphantly elected for another twelve months, on Monday next. They have shown themselves capable managers, understand the needs of the town much better than any new men could, and their faithful work can only be rewarded by giving them another trial. Then, let every voter turn out on Monday next, and by his ballot show his endorsement of merit. Vote no split tickets—should they be any in the field—but on the principle of "letting well enough alone," vote only for those who, like refined gold have "been tried, and not found wanting."

Who Will it Be?

The Democratic National Convention will meet at Cincinnati some ninety days hence, for the purpose of giving the country a Democratic candidate to vote for President of the United States. As the time is growing short it is the duty of all good and patriotic citizens to be casting about in search of a man out of which to make a captain for the old ship of State, which has passed through so many storms of discord, and for the past twenty years been infested with rats, cut-worms, leeches and all manner of vermin calculated to produce disagreeable stench, from the waist to the mink, all of which ought to be eradicated by a staunch old skipper, who would not only smoke out the rats, minks and weasels, but scrape out the filth and rotten timbers, replacing them with good and sound material; at the same time shipping a good, honest crew, who were trustworthy as navigators of the ship, safe to take care of the freight and honest to pay the proceeds to its legitimate purposes. It is true that the old hulk is in a dilapidated and wretched condition, but a little scholarship and good, honest management would greatly repair damages. The charts, too, are very much mutilated and torn; all soiled with blurs and black spots, and would necessitate re-painting and renovating in many cases. Yet, much care would be taken to see that any nautical instrument was properly overhauled and put in first-class order.

Now the question is, which of our old skippers should be put in command? We have a host of competent ones now laying on their oars, and this is the cause of the great trouble. If we only had two or three, like the present crew, (who have charge of the ship, and who got charge of her by fraud and a false bill of lading) we could soon fix upon one like Grant or some other nobody. But we have so many fine old navigators who can take the noble old ship along through the storms, shoals, breakers, &c., that it is with great difficulty that our people make the selection.

Another reason, too, is the sailors have such a variety of notions, each old hand having their favorite skipper, and being desirous of enlisting under his command, that it is quite difficult to make a judicious selection among them. Yet a choice must be made, and in a very short time, and it is to be hoped that all the tars will be pleased with the selection, and throw up their tarpaulins with a vim, and hurrah for the man who is to bear aloft the ensign so much revered by them when waved in the good cause.

Now for the man. Some say Tilden, who would make a splendid old Cap., were it not that so many of his old crew who went with him on his last voyage, and who did their duty so well then, are now showing signs of mutiny should he be placed in command. While their quarrel may not be a just one, yet it is nevertheless a quarrel, and the voice of the old salts along the Hudson had best be heeded, and another captain selected. Bayard would make a fine, sleek, Cap., would pace the deck with fine grace, and have every knob shining like gold. Yet, many of the old sailors say that the Brandywine is too small a steam tug for the training of a skipper for so long a voyage. Yet they will submit like men and all pull together, if Captain B. shall be taken.

A large number of other old tars are being spoken of, whose names will be given next week, and any of whom will make a good captain for the old ship.

General News Items.

The Tammany (N. Y.) State committee has issued a call for a State convention at Syracuse on April 20. Information has been received at the signal office that the governor, Watchful, R. J. Gill, master, bound from Newbern, N. C., to Philadelphia, with shingles, has sunk on the swivel inside of Hatteras Inlet. Vessel loading badly.

Reinforcements have been ordered from Arizona to join General Hatch in his pursuit of Victoria's band of 200 warriors, which is now reported east of the Rio Grande. These will increase General Hatch's force to about 700 men. George Mitchell, a painter, was arrested at his place of business in San Francisco, on a charge of insanity preferred by his employer. He became insane over the 13-15-14 puzzle, and covered the floor and walls with figures in attempts to solve it.

Andrew Wallace, a prominent citizen of Indianapolis, Ind., and a heavy mine operator, was shot four times and probably fatally wounded Tuesday at his residence in Pennington, near Deadwood, D. T., by his son Hank, who had been delirious for several days, the result of a severe sickness. During General Grant's reception at Houston, Texas, on Monday night, the gas was turned off from the streets and lamps and candles had to be used. On Sunday night the guns of the artillery company to be used to fire a salute on General Grant's arrival were spiked, but the spikes were removed in time for use. $500 reward was offered for the miscreant who spiked the guns.

A check drawn by the Treasury Department to the order of Mr. H. Vandervilt for $310,000, being three months' interest on $31,000,000 of United States 4 per cent. bonds, was paid through the Clearing House in New York a few days ago. This represents an income of $84,500 per day, or $143 75 per hour, of nearly $2 per minute, and of nearly 4 cents per second, sleeping and waiting. It is besides only one of several of Mr. Vandervilt's sources of revenue.

The debt of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Ascension at Baltimore, $55,000, was paid off on Monday, the Easter offerings having been sufficient to liquidate the last payment. The rector (Rev. Campbell Fair) contributed $8,500 of the amount. The Easter contributions at St. Vernon M. E. Church, in the same city, were also sufficient to liquidate its debt of $60,000. This is said to be the most beautiful Methodist Church in the United States, the ground and building having cost nearly $400,000. A severe cyclone visited a portion of Brunswick county, Va., Saturday night. It struck the town of Lawrenceville about 11 o'clock, unroofing and seriously damaging the court-house, and blowing down every building on Mr. James Buckley's place except his dwelling, which was badly injured. Two large stable buildings belonging to J. R. Thomas and D. M. Bernard were completely demolished. Other buildings were more or less damaged. Trees were uprooted and blown down and the streets blocked.

The House Committee of Ways and Means, by a vote of 8 to 3, decided Tuesday to place upon the "all things" unmanufactured paper wood pulp, jute, gutters, unmanufactured fax, straw and all other fibre and fibrous plants fit for use in the manufacture of paper." The committee also decided, by a vote of 7 to 5, to fix the duty at 40 per cent. upon flannel, balmors, woolen and worsted yarns, all manufactures of every description composed wholly or partly of wool, the hair of the alpaca goat or other like animals, except such as are composed in part of wool not otherwise provided for.

New Steamer for the O. D. S. Co.

The Old Dominion Steamship Company is having a large new steamship built at John Roache's ship yard, Chester, Pa. of the following dimensions: Length over all 225 feet, 30 feet beam and 19 feet depth of hold. It will have a single direct engine of 800 horse power, with a 38 inch cylinder, 4 feet stroke, to be supplied by steam from two boilers carrying 50 lbs. of steam. She will have a guaranteed speed of 18 knots per hour; will be first class in every respect, no expense or pains being spared to this end. She will have state room accommodation for 50 passengers, a handsome and spacious saloon, the whole interior to be finished off in different varieties of hard wood. No name has yet been selected for the new craft. It is the intention of the company to place the new boat on the route between Lewes and New York the coming summer, to be run in connection with the Junction and Breakwater railroad. The largely increasing travel from this vicinity over this route will appreciate the successful efforts of the Old Dominion Co. to make the route second none in comfort, safety and speed, this new boat being a fresh indication of their determination in this direction. The route is much the cheapest and pleasantest way of reaching New York city and points East, and we are glad to know that the traveling public are fast finding out the fact. For those here appreciate the convenience afforded by this outlet to the East both for passengers and freight.

IN THE STATE SENATE Wednesday the oyster bill was reported favorably and read. Amendments were offered to change the time of catching season and to increase the penalty for violations of the law, both of which excited much discussion, but, together with several other amendments, were rejected. The bill providing for the taxation of mortgages and the debts thereby was reported favorably. In the State House of Delegates the gambling bill was brought up for final action. A number of amendments were proposed, but after excited debate were all rejected, excepting that to strike out the provision for imprisonment in the House of Correction. The bill was then passed as amended. The St. John's College appropriation bill was then called up; the amendment to amendment to appropriate $2,500 annually to St. Mary's Female Seminary was rejected; an amendment to limit the appropriation to the next two years was adopted and the bill then ordered to be engrossed.

REV. R. L. DABNEY, of Hamden Sydney (Presbyterian) College, Va., speaks in the highest terms of the "Pain-Forest Cure" for Dyspepsia. Price, 25c. Sold by all Druggists. W. E. Brown and Bro., and Canby, Gilpin & Co., wholesale agents, Baltimore, Md.

Political Notes.

The Fredericksburg (Va.) Recorder favors Justice Field as the Democratic candidate for the Presidency. Mr. Mount Halstead, a stalwart, Sherman man, says that the Secretary's canvass in Ohio is very badly injured. John G. Thompson says that Ohio wants Thurman to be President, and that Tilden is not even his second choice.

The Boston Herald thinks Mr. E. B. Washburn stands a better chance for the Presidency than any other man in the country. The Washington Post says: "The talk that Grant's leading friends are likely, in the event of his abandonment, to switch over to Edmunds is the merest booh."

From the Hartford Times: "Edmunds is one of the most bitter partisans and Radicals; he is probably the ablest lawyer of the Republicans in Congress; but he is too narrow in his political views to be a statesman."

The Kansas City Times says: "Missouri should send a solid delegation for Seymour to the Cincinnati Convention. It is no longer disputed that he will accept the nomination no doubted that, if nominated, he will be the next President of the United States."

John Kelly has written a letter to a friend in Annapolis, Md., in which he says: "We cannot support Mr. Tilden, nor will we under any circumstances. Our organization has no candidate, nor do we intend to have, but we hope that whoever the nominee may be he will inspire the respect of the people."

A canvass that has been made of the South Carolina Legislature proves that the assertion made that Senator Bayard, in consequence of his pronounced hard-money views, had little strength in the South, are unfounded. The Democratic members, by nearly two to one vote would, if they had the chance, nominate him for the Presidency, and failing in this, their second choice would be ex-Gov. Seymour. The indications, therefore, are that the convention in South Carolina will send to Cincinnati a delegation solidly pledged for Bayard.

Fish Culture in Maryland.

The question of fish-culture is attracting yearly increasing attention, and contributions to that subject from intelligent sources secure extended publication. The recent report of the Maryland Fish Commission is reviewed at considerable length in the New York Times, from which the annexed is an extract: "The report of the Fish Commissioners of the State of Maryland for 1880, containing the work done in fish culture, due to Messrs. T. B. Ferguson and T. H. Huggitt, is a publication of great interest, from which it is that the Maryland fish and game commission, as to the nursery of innumerable fresh and salt-water fish, besides containing the most valuable oyster beds in the country. Mr. Ferguson, whose inventive facilities in the construction of apparatus for fish-culture have so much increased our facilities in this new and useful science, does not make any appreciable improvement in such devices, but, what is quite as important, states that the most satisfactory results have been brought about by the methods here employed. Dr. Brooks and the Johns Hopkins University deserve full credit for important papers—embodied in this report—the study and practical application of which may add many millions of dollars to the oyster wealth of Maryland. Decidedly the Maryland report is one of the most important ones yet produced by any of the State Commissioners."

$500 Reward—Catarrh Cure.

Some people would rather be humbugged than to get "value received" for their money. They do not notice any persons run after this and that pretence, but, what is quite as important, states that the most satisfactory results have been brought about by the methods here employed. Dr. Brooks and the Johns Hopkins University deserve full credit for important papers—embodied in this report—the study and practical application of which may add many millions of dollars to the oyster wealth of Maryland. Decidedly the Maryland report is one of the most important ones yet produced by any of the State Commissioners."

UNABLE TO BREATHE THROUGH NOSE. Portlandville, Iowa, March 11th 1879. Dear Sir—Some time ago I bought a Douche, some of your Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and commenced to use them. The aches and pains as well as sore throat and catarrh from which I have been so long a time suffering, were entirely left me with their use. I feel like a new man as well as look like one. For four years I was unable to breathe through my nose. From the use of the Catarrh Remedy I can now do so freely. Your medicines I know to be all that they are represented. Long live Dr. Pierce and the gentlemen connected with him. Gratefully yours, WATSON SMITH.

Hon. John C. Parker, a well-known citizen of Calvert county, is seriously ill. Chairman Long has called a convention of Sussex Greenback men for April 18th. Two calves recently butchered by John Talbot, of Frederica, weighed 1700 pounds.

Newark is a nice place to live in. Most of the boys over twelve years of age carry a revolver. The Providence paper mill at Cecil, Md., is being repaired preparatory to being opened. It is rumored that a railroad is to be built from Snow Hill to Pocomoke City by Joseph W. Drexel.

Washington county is excited over the exploits of a patent "flat-iron" man who is alleged to have swindled many farmers. Delaware Beet Sugar Co. want 300 acres of beets grown in the vicinity of Dover, Wyoming and Canterbury the coming season. They will pay for them in proportion to the amount of sugar contained in them. Last year they averaged on the same basis $5.50 per ton. Mr. J. Thos. Miles, Kingston, discovered, sometime ago, a rich bed of marl on his Rehoboth farm, near the Pocomoke river. The marl is located about two feet below the surface of the earth. So far as known, this is the only marl bed in the county.

The Conference Academy at Dover, is encumbered with a debt of $25,000, and threatened with seizure. An appeal was made to the Conference for a collection and $1,438 was subscribed, but on the condition that they were not to be paid unless $11,000 could be raised to extinguish the floating debt. The grand jury in the U. S. District court, Baltimore, has dismissed the case of the United States vs. Jacob H. Gibson, there being no evidence against him. Mr. Gibson has thus been entirely vindicated of the charge of having robbed the Tilghman's Island post office of a gold ring.

Says the Cambridge Era: "Oxford, which already has two summer resort hotels, nine oyster packing establishments, a crab canning house, bone factory and brick kiln, is now seriously contemplating the establishment of an iron foundry. It also claims a population of over eight hundred. John L. White, aged eighteen, the son of Robert White, a farmer living near Frankford, Sussex county, was killed on Wednesday by the upsetting of a cart he was driving to get a load of fire-wood. The body of the cart became detached from the wheels, and falling upon him, crushed his skull.

Superintendent Kenney, of the P. W. & B. R. has issued orders that trains shall pass over the bridges of the Susquehanna. Gunpowder and Bush rivers at a faster rate than a mile in five minutes. The engineers have been accustomed to making up for lost time when crossing these bridges.

Robbers broke into the house of Nathaniel Meekings, in Back Creek Neck, Cecil county, during the absence of the owner. They attempted to reach the second story, where the family were, but a son of Mr. Meekings, who stood at the stairs with gun in hand, drove them back. Their object was to secure a sum of money supposed to be in the possession of the family.

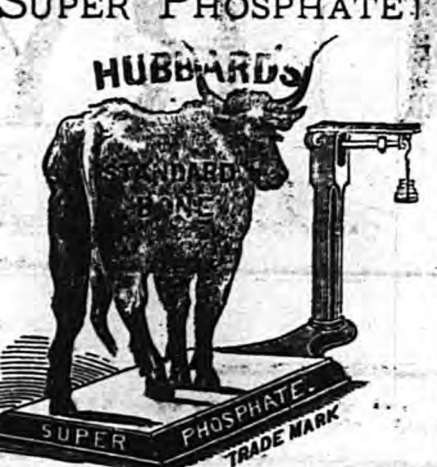

Samuel T. Dickinson, Esq., of New York, has presented to St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church, Trappe, Rev. A. R. Walker, Rector, a handsome bell, 28 inches in diameter, and weighing 400 pounds, as an Easter offering and memorial of his father and mother, who were members of White Marsh Parish. The bell was placed in the belfry of the church on Saturday and called the congregation to worship on Easter morning.

Upshur Johnston, of the firm of Goldsborough & Johnston, commission merchants, committed suicide Sunday morning at his residence, No. 80 West Monument street, by shooting himself through the heart with a pistol. He resided with his brother (Dr. Samuel Johnston) and sister, at the above residence. He retired as usual on Saturday night, took his breakfast in bed Sunday morning, and shot himself while the family were absent at church. Dr. Johnston, on coming from church, went to the back room on the second floor, his brother's chamber, and was shocked to find his brother dead in bed, though still quite warm. Not a speck of blood appeared, but a revolver, with one chamber discharged, lying on the bed, the powder-stained fingers of the right hand, and a small bullet hole in the inch below the nipple of the left breast, told the story plainly. He must have died instantly on firing the shot, without a struggle. Dr. W. D. Booker was sent for, and an examination of the remains made. Coroner Walker was also sent for, and gave a certificate that deceased came to his death from a pistol shot fired by himself, and that an inquest was unnecessary, as the facts in the case showed Mr. Johnston had committed suicide. Later in the day Coroner Ogles called and coincided in the opinion of Dr. Walker. No cause is assigned for the act, save that he had been depressed for some time. Mr. Johnston was 35 years of age, and was born in Princess Anne, Somerset county, Md.—B. Sun.

Spring Business of 1880,

By placing on sale, in every department of the house, a line of reasonable goods that has never been equaled in Pennsylvania, nor excelled elsewhere. In making this announcement they would say to their old customers of Wicomico County that they are better prepared to serve them to advantage this season than ever before. Anticipating the great advances which have occurred, we placed last Summer and Autumn immense orders for staple fabrics, at the very lowest point the market ever reached, and while this stock lasts, we propose to give our patrons the advantage of making all their purchases at old prices. How great an advantage this is, will be more apparent three months from now. Take the article

THE GRIST MILL of Mr. Thomas Humphreys, at this place, was broken into on Friday night, the 25th ult., and a lot of small change, and a few dollars, were carried off. The ends of but and machine were freely scattered about the mill showing that they were used for light. In future no money will be left in the mill at night. Suspicion strongly rests upon a "certain" individual, and it is thought that the evidence to convict him, can be easily obtained.

THE AMERICAN BOOK EXCHANGE, Tribune Building, N. Y., has just issued the 5th volume of the "Library of Universal Knowledge." This is a 20 volume edition of Chamber's Encyclopedia, and one of the most excellent books of its kind in the world. This valuable book is now placed within the reach of large class of readers, who have long felt the need of such a complete work. No library can be complete without a set of these volumes, all of which, we understand, will soon be complete. The 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 volumes are all ready, and the others will follow in rapid succession.

THE PROCEEDINGS of our Court were brought to a conclusion last Saturday by an adjournment of the Term over to the 10th day of May, when it will again convene, chiefly for the purpose of trying the case of the State vs. John W. Turpin, who has been indicted for murder, in killing Wm. H. Farrington, on the eleventh day of November last. This trial will attract quite a crowd to Salisbury, inasmuch as very able counsel will be engaged on both sides. Messrs. Crisfield, Page and Graham have been engaged for the defence, while John H. Handy, Esq., of Baltimore city will assist Mr. E. S. Toadvin for the State.

ANDREWS BAZAR for April will be welcomed by all ladies interested in the mysteries of the toilette. The styles of Andrews' Bazar are justly popular, and those in the April number are new and in advance of those of any other publication. When we consider the superior attractions presented by this Model Family Paper, its subscription price only One Dollar per annum, and see that every subscriber is presented free with fifty cents' worth of Andrews' Pinned Paper Fashions, we are obliged to acknowledge it as at least one case where the reading public get full value for the money they expend. We would advise those of our readers who are unacquainted with the merits of the Bazar to send ten cents, for a sample copy, to W. B. Andrews, Publisher, Tribune Building, New York.

Do not trifle with a cough, cold, or affection of the throat, lungs or bronchial tubes. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is a positive cure and prevents consumption.

THE MEETING to nominate five candidates for Town Commissioners was held in the Court House last Monday evening, and was called to order by electing Mr. W. S. Parsons, President. Mr. R. D. Ellagood was elected Secretary. The President briefly stated the object of the meeting, and declared nominations in order. The following gentlemen were put in nomination: C. F. Holland, A. J. Benjamin, J. T. Ellis, U. H. Wood, G. W. White, W. A. Thayer, J. C. Bell, L. R. Dorman, and E. W. Humphreys. On motion of Mr. Ellagood the nominations were closed, and on motion of Mr. J. T. Truitt, Messrs. L. E. Williams and W. H. Warren moved that the five gentlemen receiving the highest number of votes be declared the nominees. This was put to the meeting and unanimously carried. The voting then began, and on the count being made resulted as follows: C. F. Holland, 50; A. J. Benjamin, 78; J. T. Ellis, 68; C. H. Wood, 56; G. W. White, 54; W. A. Thayer, 27; J. C. Bell, 17; L. R. Dorman, 19; E. W. Humphreys, 4; scattering, 13. The first five gentlemen receiving the highest number of votes were declared nominees. On motion the meeting adjourned sine die. The five gentlemen nominated constituted the Old Board of Town Commissioners.

Queen Esther.

This beautiful Cantata was rendered for the first time in Salisbury, to a large audience, on Tuesday evening the 30th ult. A generally known, the piece itself is of little origin, and the work of Esther is a music, with a dramatic touch to it. Much time had been spent in training, and the Cantata was given in unsurpassable style. All the male costumes were procured from Walnut street theater, as also the Queens, while the balance of the company furnished their own, and displayed exquisite taste in their make up.

The different characters were personated as follows:

King Ahasuerus, Mr. J. A. Graham; Queen, Miss Mary F. Thornton; Haman, Mr. F. A. Smith; Zeresh, Miss Ella Thornton; Mordecai, Mr. W. W. Freeman; Mordecai's sister, Miss Alice Humphreys; Prothetes, Mrs. S. H. Evans; Scribe, Mr. L. H. Nock; Harbonah and Chamberlain, Mr. E. S. Gorry and Rev. G. W. Townsend; Two Guards, Messrs. V. S. Gorry and L. M. Nelson; Queen's Attendants, Misses Nannie Parker and Lillie Walton; King's Pages, Masters William Jackson and Olli Hearn; Semi-Chorus of 24 children; Chorus of Persians; Chorus of Jews.

The play was most undoubted merit, and when "all acted so well their parts," it is not desirable to criticize.

Esther was repeated for the benefit of the Fire Department on Wednesday night, but as several churches had meetings, the attendance was not so large as we wished to see. The firemen in full uniform, in command of Chief Bell, were out sixty-two strong. We would very much like to see the same company in some lively little opera or drama, and as the fire department need funds badly to enlarge their engine house, an entertainment for this special purpose should be gotten up.

Upper Trappe Jottings.

Our correspondent at the Upper Trappe sends us the following items:

Peas are three or four inches high and looking well.

It is highly probable that potatoes planted early in low lands will not come up well this Spring. A large quantity has been planted, and everybody is expecting an immense yield of bugs.

A swing plow of some sort is raging here, and is quite fatal to young hogs, but most of the old ones survive it.

Mr. D. M. Williams has cabbage plants large enough to transplant.

A little girl in the public school here can arrange or solve the 15 puzzle in two or three minutes after an indefinite period of time.

The public school is largely attended, but whooping cough has played havoc with the order and quiet of the school room.

Peaches are not dead yet, but the buds are not out of danger until the middle of April, and thus may be so much injured by the late cold snap as to cause a dropping from the tree at a later stage of development, which is sometimes the case here.

Strawberry plants are beginning to blossom a little, but they are coming out slowly, and the indications are that there will be no fruit ripe earlier than the 10th of May.

A petition to the General Assembly for the abolition of the present fence system of Wicomico has been in circulation here since the first of January, and has been signed by but two persons—both living near the corporate limits of the county town.

A horse belonging to Mr. W. W. Disharoon fell dead in harness, on the road a few days ago. The horse was quite a valuable one.

Our old village is gradually improving; new houses are being built occasionally.

There is a doctor's office in the village, but the doctor has gone to seek his fortune in a more highly favored land. This would seem to argue one of two things, either we are a little too poor to pay a physician, or too healthy to need one. Perhaps a little of both. General good health prevails. Even the oldest inhabitant, almost an octogenarian, shows no signs of either physical or mental decay.

Death of Hon Lyman B. Lang worthy.

We clip the following obituary from the Rochester (N. Y.) Daily Union, which will doubtless be read with much interest, as the deceased was a grandfather of Mrs. J. H. B. Brooks, of this town:

"To-day we are called upon in common with the rest of the community to mourn the loss of one of the earliest and most respected citizens of Rochester. At the time of his death the deceased was 93 years of age, and up to within a very near period of his death retained all his remarkable faculties of mind, as well as the vigor of his body. Mr. L. was born in New Lebanon county, N. Y. His father, Rev. E. P. Langworthy, was the inaugural pastor of the first Baptist church ever organized in that county. The subject of this sketch resided in this city 56 years, a period comprising almost the entire history of the city. At the time of his removal here Rochester was a village containing 4,772 inhabitants, and he has lived to see the village grow into a wealthy and populous city containing nearly 100,000 inhabitants. He was for a number of years Superintendent of the Tonawanda & Batavia R. R., and President of the Monroe Mutual Insurance Co. It is a manifest impossibility to cite the doings of such a busy life into the columns of a daily newspaper. In politics, the deceased was a firm and consistent Democrat, and was often honored with various high offices in the gift of his party. In 1844 he was appointed by President Tyler U. S. Collector of the port of Genesee, and continued in that position until a change of politics at Washington. Relinquishing this office, he left Rochester on an extended tour to the copper mines of Lake Superior and the Mississippi Valley. On his return he became associate editor of Moore's Rural New Yorker, and most of the editorial articles in the 1st and 2nd volumes were written by him. In addition to his editorial labors he wrote books on a variety of subjects, which are well known to men of letters. The one that attracted the most attention, and that gave clearer idea of his acquirements and depth of thought, was entitled "Presumptions of Creations." This book was rich in original ideas, and contained one specimen of late years has occupied the attention of such distinguished men as Pasteur, Tyndall, Huxley and others, viz: the query "that the germs of many diseases might be looked for and found in the lowest order of vegetable life." Geology and mineralogy were especial studies of his, and he arranged a large and valuable cabinet of minerals which he presented to Hotel Concord, Geneva. Very few men in or out of the profession had a mind so well stored with scientific knowledge. His funeral took place on Easter Monday, attended by only a few invited friends, in accordance with his request that it should be strictly private. The place of his interment will ever be a place of pilgrimage, as the resting place of one who would himself ask no better epitaph than the simple yet noble words, "Here lies a man."

and "Gloria Tibi," "Christ our Pass over" and "Jubilate Deo," "Tucker's Hymnal," "Angels Roll the Rock Away," by Danks; "Gloria in Excelsis" and of forty anthems. "Blessed is he that considers the poor," by O. B. Greene. The music was given with the usual ability by which this choir is characterized. The recent improvements of the organ made by the Pomplitz Church Organ Company, Baltimore, very greatly enhanced the effect of it all. One favored the music, desiring of an special mention, was the rendition of the alto parts by Miss Nannie Byrd, of the regular choir, and Master James Caldwell, of the chorists, whose voices have developed wonderfully, having been in training a very short time. By these voices the almost irreparable loss recently sustained by the choir is undoubtedly in a great degree compensated. The solo voices were Miss Jeannie Fulton, soprano; Dr. Humphreys, tenor; and Mr. H. L. Brewington, bass.

The usual Sunday School service was held at St. Peter's church on Monday at 8 o'clock. P. M. The children sang beautiful songs, and made their usual Easter offering, (consisting of their Lenten savings) the amount of which will be devoted to the erection of a suitable memorial to their lamented Sunday School fellow, Charlie Whitehead, to whom the angel of death recently bore the summons. In addition to the large money offering of his own class, there was that of a beautiful cross of flowers, which was tenderly and lovingly tenderly placed upon his grave at the Parsons' Cemetery.

Sheep-raising has formed an important part of the husbandry of most nations from the early historical times. It has thus had its popular breeds marked by characters, due in a great degree to the modifying influences of climate, and in part to a rude selection. In some cases these breeds have reached a high degree of development, while in other countries the flocks have shown no improvement for centuries. This country, young as it is, has made its contribution to the list of useful breeds in the American Merino. Our climate and pasture have better satisfied the wants of this fine wool-bearing animal than those of its native country, and now the American Merino stands at the head of the fine-wooled sheep of the world. These sheep we seem to have reached that point in its development where it appears of but little use to try to further improve it. The first importations of Merino sheep into this country were early in the present century and consisted of very choice animals from the best families of Spain. The most extensive importations were those of Hop. Wm. Jarvis, the American Consul at Lisbon, in 1809 and 1810, who sent over nearly 4,000 head. From these Spanish sheep as a basis and by means of careful crossing, breeding, and selection, several distinct breeds of the present Merino have been produced, and is now so unlike other Merinos as to take rank as a distinct breed with the prefix "American."

MARES WITH FOAL.—Many persons think that a mare should rest from work several weeks before foaling. What nonsense! If a brood mare has been accustomed to farm work before she is with foal, let her keep on at her usual work until she is about ready to drop her colt; if she has been accustomed to work to the plow or wagon, let her keep at it in a sensible way; if she has been used to be driven to the carriage, let the same be kept up, but in quiet, moderate fashion, and you need not on a bad road start her side-saddle. And moderate exercise is as necessary to the health and comfort of horses as it is to human beings, and in no way can a mare have it better than by being accustomed in the manner to their usual work. They have been accustomed. The great mare Pochontones made her full season of races when with foal, and neither she nor the colt suffered the least injury from it.

IMPULING A YOUNG HORSE.—When a young horse acts badly in harness, it is because he has not been properly taught business. To whip or abuse him is to make the matter worse. A horse is naturally willing and docile, and will do much may be done by kindness, patience and judgment in removing the effects of bad treatment. A colt pulled be so treated when as gradually train in his duties, and care be taken not to frighten or irritate him when in the harness. If he is stubborn, the punishment of refusing to do what is required of him only makes the matter worse.

TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 10, 1880.

THE KANSAS Republican Delegates for Blaine.

THE NEBRASKA Democratic Convention elected Tilden delegates, but gave him no instructions.

The New York Express thinks there is little show for Mr. Tilden, now that he is Montgomery Blair's Candidate.

DENNIS KEARNEY's party was beaten at the special election for Freeholders, in San Francisco, on Tuesday, but Kearney will contest.

DEMOCRATS must not count on Republican quarrels. None have ever been strong and healthy enough to live through a Presidential campaign.

Gov. HAMILTON has vetoed the bill authorizing the election of Circuit Court Judges in 1880 on constitutional grounds, and recommends an amendment to the Constitution to meet the existing defect.

THE EXCESS in VALUES of American exports over imports of merchandise for the year ending, February 29, 1880, was $232,560,635, as compared with $232,762,- 167, for the year ending, February 28, 1879.

JOHN SHERMAN is stirring around trying to discover how he can secure the vote of his own State at Chicago. And all this time Madame Jenks seems to be as quiet as a geranium pot in the wood-shed.

A HOTTISER, a box of muskets and a lot of ammunition have been shipped by the Virginia authorities to the officers of the oyster service on the Bayplanner river. We may expect soon to hear of something going off and hurting somebody.

THE REPUBLICAN Senators' lacked down from making an issue on Garfield's amendment, requiring the Judges of the Courts to appoint an equal number of Democrats and Republicans supervisors of elections and deputy marshals, and the bill has been passed.

THE WILMINGTON Evening has advanced its price to two cents per copy, or ten cents per week to subscribers.
The present price of printing paper fully justifies the advance. There isn't so much fun in publishing a newspaper at a loss as some people suppose.

HON. J. MUELLER, Republican, ex-Lieutenant Governor, after a careful survey of the political situation in Ohio, and special investigation of the general feeling, has expressed the opinion that if Grant is nominated the State will give a democratic majority of 25,000 to 30,000.

THE LIBERALS have already elected a majority of the British Parliament, although only about one-half of the elections have been held. This ends the Lord Beaconsfield ministry. The result is a stunner to Germany and Austria, and will be gratifying to France and Russia?

THE HOUSE COMMITTEE on Elections decided Thursday that neither Washburne nor Mr. Donnelly were entitled to the seat from the Third District of Minnesota. The majority of the Committee will report to the House that the seat is vacant, and recommend the holding of a new election by the people of the district.

SENATOR CAMERON seems to have staked everything on the nomination of Grant. "Nothing but death," he says, "can prevent Grant's nomination." The opponents of the third term may take comfort, however, from the fact that Senator Cameron was a Cocking man in 1876, but Hayes secured the nomination, nevertheless.

WESTERN NEWSPAPERS generally speak of the prospect of the Winter wheat crop as excellent. In eleven States the estimated yield will be about sixty per cent. larger than last season. In Illinois an immense yield is promised; Michigan reports increase of seventy per cent; Indiana shows a marked acreage increase; Missouri, which had an unpre-cedentedly large crop last season, will, it is expected, do fully as well this year.
Equally favorable reports come from Ohio, Kentucky, Kansas, Nebraska and Wisconsin.

THE RAPID ADVANCE in firearms and munitions of war is attracting attention in and out of the market. Lead has gone up from 2 to 54 cents per pound, copper from 16 to 28 cents, gunpowder from 10 to 20 per cent, and fixed cartridges from 10 to 20 per cent. The advance in firearms is chiefly due to the strong market for iron and steel. It cannot be ascertained that there are any orders from foreign government except a few unimportant ones for gunpowder on Chilean and Peruvian account.

WE SEE THAT Judge Miller, in Anne Arundel county, has been constrained to put the names of some negroes in the jury box. This is evidence, in Judge Miller, who is a native of New England.
But we think it is about as well to hold the Radical to the Fourteenth Amendment, which makes no distinction on account of color or previous condition.
The only qualification for a juror is good sense and intelligence. If Judge Miller cannot find men of intelligence in Anne Arundel he should put the names of negroes in the box to make up a jury. Not otherwise, and his action shows a great deal of weakness in the back, and a disposition to cater to a sickly sentiment long since rendered dyspeptic by its observance.

The next thing will be, if a man steals a hog, he will contend that no one who has not been guilty of larceny are competent to try his case. The Radicals are laughing in their sleeves at the timidity of some of the people placed in authority by the Democratic party.

A Strange Dream.

While dozing away with a headache the other night we were carried away amid the visions of the night, and found ourselves on the Lake Shore at Chicago, wandering through Lincoln Park. We were informed that the Republican Convention was in session. We were asked if we could conjecture who would be the nominee. We said we thought Grant would be for the first place on the ticket. "No," said our informant, "Blaine has nearly three votes to his two, and he (Blaine) will be nominated." Well, we said we were agreeably disappointed for whatever might be the result of the election, we hoped there was still enough virtue even among Republicans to respect the opinion of our predecessors to defeat even a movement toward a third term. While we were yet speaking the news came that the convention had finished its labors, and that a man named Wm. Sharon, of Nevada, was the nominee for President, and a man named George Wm. Curtis, of New York, was the nominee for Vice-President. This seemed to be a surprise to everybody.
But we soon after woke up and commenced wondering what sort of a ticket this would be for the Rads to go before the country with. Sharon was not much of a Republican, and Curtis did not feel bound to support the nominees of his party unless they suited him. Why was this? What would Grant, Blaine, Sherman, Conkling, Cameron & Co., think of this strange course of events?
But since we have gotten wide awake we are not so sure that the ticket the Rads could have put up, inasmuch as Sharon represents the great mining interest of the country, while Curtis is a power in the midst of the great power of the advanced portion of the press of the country, and we are not certain but this is one of the strongest tickets the party of mixed ideas could have named. So Sharon and Curtis is to be the battle cry. And all we have to say to the Democracy of the country is, you have got a hard road to travel. There is no third term embarrassments to travel them, nor even so much as stalwartism, the great trouble that Blaine would have to encounter, which is ten times worse than Bonapartism on the other side.
But Sharon has a great many faults to embarrass him, so far as the people know or care. He would be as popular as a spendthrift at a fair, while the dignified Curtis, who is deservedly popular, would have the hearty support of the better portion of the Republican and Independent press, as well as a cloud of ardent supporters.

Golden Death of Geo. W. M. Cooper.

A SAD LOSS TO THIS COMMUNITY AS WELL AS THE ENTIRE COUNTRY.

Our usually very bright, but quiet town, was suddenly cast into the most thrilling gloom and sorrow on Wednesday evening last about nine o'clock, when the sudden death of our most highly respected friend and fellow townsman, George W. M. Cooper, Esq., was quickly heralded up and down the streets.

The whispering winds seemed freighted with the startling news; the down-cast expression lingering upon every sorrow-stricken countenance, and each deepening shade of the April night told, as it were, the news of our country's sad loss.

Mr. Cooper had been afflicted with consumption for several years, but at times received so much encouragement from favorable changes in his feelings, he really hoped and thought he would eventually become the truly happy possessor of a sound and robust health.

This false, alluring hope, the pained writer of this article has often heard his dear, dead friend indulge in; and during the many pleasant evenings spent in the delightful pleasures of retrospect, when the never to be forgotten scenes and incidents that cluster about a man's memory to his sunny school-boy days, were recounted. He would speak of the Indian club, the dumb bells and other violent physical exercises, with

WE ARE MUCH GRATIFIED to learn that our young friend, Mr. C. H. Ennis, has been successful in obtaining a good situation. He is now with the well-known house of Stewart, Price & Co., Philadelphia, dealers in Gent's Furnishings and Ladies' Fancy Goods, and will be pleased to attend to all orders sent to him.

THE COMMISSION CARD of T. W. Stapler, which can be seen in another column, indicates where he can be found, and consignments shipped to his address, 112 Spruce street, will receive prompt attention. W. R. Parsons will act as his agent here, and will distribute cards, tags, etc., to those who wish to ship to Mr. Stapler. This is a good house, and will deal fairly with its customers; make quick sales and prompt returns.

AT A MEETING of the Directors of the Salisbury Circulating Library, the following resolutions were adopted: Resolved, "That our thanks are due to Hon. Geo. Colton for his able and instructive lecture on Tuesday, March 23rd, for the benefit of the Library, and we but express the unanimous opinion of the large and appreciative audience when we give expression to the pleasure and entertainment enjoyed by the members of the Library, and these resolutions be published in the SALISBURY ADVERTISER and Times."

LEVIN BRADLEY, auctioneer, sold for E. Stanley Toadvin, Trustee, on Saturday last, the real estate of the late Thos. B. Smith, aggregating the sum of $10,840.00. The highest price attained for any of the unimproved land was the rate of $24,000.00 per acre. This was a small piece, 20x50 feet, on Division street, adjoining the Salisbury Hotel, purchased by S. Ulman & Bro. The sale was a good one all around. The property all brought its value except the late residence, which sold for $2,400.00, which was very cheap.

A SHORT EXTRA SESSION of the State Normal School will open on April 27th, and close June 15th. None but teachers will be admitted. Tuition will be free; boarding will cost about $4 a week. A limited number of ladies can obtain board at $3 a week if application is made at once. The course will include 20 lectures on methods of teaching; 30 lectures on methods of organizing and governing schools; and 20 lessons each on Geometry, Physiology and Book-keeping. Classes will also be formed in Reading, Arithmetic and other subjects if desired. All students will be required to attend the Lectures; the other lessons will be optional. A course of private study will be arranged, extending through several years, preparatory to an examination for Diplomas at the close. For entrance, or further information, apply at once to M. A. Newell, Baltimore.

THE GRANGERS' MEETING advertised in these columns came off on Tuesday afternoon at the Court House. The meeting was addressed by Hon. H. O. Devries, who entertained his audience about an hour with a well-selected argument, and we regretted that his auditors were so few, for there is no class of men who require a thorough stirring up more than the farmers of Wicomico county. We have endeavored to ply them with argument upon argument and precept upon precept in reference to the backward state of improvement in the county. We understand that Mr. Devries had a large audience at Quantico on Wednesday, and also on Thursday at Pocomoke Springs. Mr. Devries is Master of the State Grange. He is a good speaker, and what he lacks in eloquence he makes up in earnestness and force. He gave Wicomico Grange and his hearers some strong lines of the duty of farmers, and especially Grangers, etc.

WE ARE GRATIFIED to know that in connection with the usual races on Whit Monday there will be a grand tournament, and we understand that the management intends making it a prominent feature of the day. Golden Death of Geo. W. M. Cooper.

A SAD LOSS TO THIS COMMUNITY AS WELL AS THE ENTIRE COUNTRY.

Our usually very bright, but quiet town, was suddenly cast into the most thrilling gloom and sorrow on Wednesday evening last about nine o'clock, when the sudden death of our most highly respected friend and fellow townsman, George W. M. Cooper, Esq., was quickly heralded up and down the streets.

The whispering winds seemed freighted with the startling news; the down-cast expression lingering upon every sorrow-stricken countenance, and each deepening shade of the April night told, as it were, the news of our country's sad loss.

Mr. Cooper had been afflicted with consumption for several years, but at times received so much encouragement from favorable changes in his feelings, he really hoped and thought he would eventually become the truly happy possessor of a sound and robust health.

This false, alluring hope, the pained writer of this article has often heard his dear, dead friend indulge in; and during the many pleasant evenings spent in the delightful pleasures of retrospect, when the never to be forgotten scenes and incidents that cluster about a man's memory to his sunny school-boy days, were recounted. He would speak of the Indian club, the dumb bells and other violent physical exercises, with falling eye-lids and a sigh, but would become aroused in an instant and lightly say, "Oh, there is a bright day ahead for both of us, and with coming health we shall both enjoy the future as we did the past." But not so. For hemorrhage after hemorrhage, though with long intervals between, told too well of the ravages his ghastly malady was making.

The last one took him on the evening of his death near Dr. Collier's drug store, from which place he was borne in a chair by strong friends to the couch of death, in his cozy room at Elder's Peninsula House, where his fond and loving wife was waiting his return from the business he never neglected.

Cooper is dead. One of the truest and most conscientious friends of by-gone days has forever left these changing scenes. At ten o'clock to-day his inanimate form, once warmed by the heart that was always true, will be given to the grave in the Farmers' Cemetery, new yard, to receive it, where gentle Spring will soon spread the soft velvet carpet around it, so that no unhalloved sound will disturb his repose, and when in years to come, with tearful eyes, hosts of the most sincere friends will "see that his grave is kept green."

The foregoing tribute is prompted by the warmest friendship of an old schoolmate, cherished with the same fondness now that first strengthened it in the years ago, and which now fills the writer with a solemn gladness in seizing this opportunity of giving some expression to what the people throughout our beloved county will feel, as they unite with the Advancers in tendering their purest sympathy to the young widow and relatives of the deceased.

The most complete account of Mr. Cooper's life that could be given in a biographical sketch of the same space, is the following, taken from page 383 of the "Biographical Cyclopaedia of Representative Men of Maryland and District of Columbia," published by the National Biographical Publishing Company of Baltimore, in 1879, and which will be read by the public with the greatest interest:

George W. M. Cooper, Attorney-at-Law, Treasurer, Examiner and Secretary of the Board of School Commissioners of Wicomico county, Md., was born in Sussex county, Del., July 11th, 1810. His parents were, Noah Cottman and Mary Ann Cooper. His father being a farmer, he was trained to the usual labors of farm life. The district school of his neighborhood afforded the only early advantages of education that he enjoyed, and was open only three or four months in the year. When not attending school, he kept constantly at work on the farm, but having determined to make every effort to obtain an education, he made time for study by limiting his sleeping hours to only six out of the twenty-four. By the time he had reached the age of seventeen he had acquired, mostly by his own efforts, sufficient knowledge to teach a country school, and by teaching was enabled to defray the expenses of his education. In May, 1834, he commenced the study of law at Georgetown, Del., in the office of Hon. Willard Sayler, United States Senator, and now Chancellor of the State of Delaware. Desiring to overtake two other youths who were in the same course a few months in advance of him, he applied himself to study for about fourteen hours each day. His strength had already been overtaxed during the heat of the summer, and his health became seriously impaired. He left the office, expecting to be absent only a few weeks of the warm season, but he was unable to return. He still kept up his reading as his strength permitted. In September, 1835, he removed to Salisbury, Md., where he resided for a few months, and then he removed to Philadelphia, where he resided for a few months, and then he removed to Baltimore, where he resided for a few months, and then he removed to Washington, where he resided for a few months, and then he removed to New York, where he resided for a few months, and then he removed to London, where Growing Sweet Potatoes

It is generally supposed that sweet potatoes can only be grown profitably on sandy land. But while it cannot be disputed that a better quality and perhaps a larger yield of this popular variety of potato may be had from such land, yet it is equally true that large yields of merchantable potatoes are now obtained from most of the so-called clay lands. The method of raising them which we have always found best on such land is first to break up the land as early in the spring as the state of the ground will permit, the plowing to be not more than six inches deep, and if the land is thin, an inch or two less would be all the better, the idea being to have the potatoes grow as near the surface as possible. After the land is broken up there should be applied thereon about ten or twelve two-horse wagon loads of well-rotted manure to the acre, and the same well worked in with cultivators, repeating the same operation as often as necessary, or until the manure is thoroughly incorporated with the surface soil. The plants should, then, not be set until the ground is sufficiently warm to receive them, and which, in this latitude, is rarely ever the case until about the middle of May. Any time, however, from that until the middle of June will do very well. As soon as the plants are large enough to set out watch for a suitable day—which is always the case after a light rain—and drag and cultivate the land until it is as fine as possible. Two furrows should be run in the center of the field, making the ridges about three feet apart from center to center. Small hills should then be made along these ridges, about the same distance apart as the ridges themselves. In forming them it is better to make them pretty well pointed at the top, so that as you go to set the plants you can knock off four or five inches of top and set the plants in fresh earth. If your ground is in as fine condition at it should be, crack and loosen up the hill that the heat of the sun may penetrate and warm it to the more effectually. It is much better also that a single plant be set in each hill, in which case the product, though fewer in number will consist of large and merchantable potatoes, while that from two or more plants in the same hill would be nothing more than a batch of little ones. Puddling the stems of the plants, too, before setting, is much better than watering the plants after them. This is done by digging a small hole in some convenient spot of ground and pouring therein about two or three quarts of water, incorporating the water at the same time with the soil, and then making a mixture of such consistency that by dipping the stems of the plants into it they will be covered with a thick coating of mud.—Baltimore, Weekly Sun.

The Crescent Strawberry.

A correspondent of the Massachusetts Plowman gives a glowing description of the Crescent strawberry, which he raised last summer, which, if found as represented, will be a great acquisition to the numerous excellent varieties heretofore grown. He says he picked at the rate of over fourteen hundred boxes to the acre at one picking, and the bed yielded through the season at the rate of about eight hundred quarts to the acre. The soil was poor, and he put on no manure or fertilizer except a sprinkle of ashes just before the plants were set out. Had the ground been well manured, he is confident the yield would have been at least at the rate of ten thousand quarts per acre. As compared with the Wilson and Downing, the yield was twice as much as the Wilson and three times as much as the Downing. In size the Crescent averages full as large as the Wilson, not quite so fine, but more so than the Downing. He thinks it will bear transportation fifty miles to market, and its bright red color makes it very attractive, and it sells readily where the Wilson will not. The flavor of the Crescent, if picked when it first turns red, is superior; but if permitted to remain on the vines until thoroughly ripe the flavor is very good. He believes that the thousand quarts of Crescent can be grown on an acre with less cost than five thousand Wilsons, Chas. Downing, or any other varieties he ever cultivated. First, because of its enormous productivity. Second, the prolific habit of the plant. It does not require but half the quantity of plants to set an acre. Crescents also does of the Wilson, and this is quite an item in the cost of cultivation.

Notes for the Farmer.

The number of kernels in a bushel of Fultz wheat is 983,120, and in a bushel of Clawson 545,200, being, at one bushel per acre, fifteen seeds to the square foot of the former and a fraction less than four, ten seeds per square foot of the latter. Laying hens need a great deal of lime, in order that their eggs may have the proper thickness of shell. Nothing better can be given than raw bones crushed fine. They are of special value on account of the fatty matter contained in their cells. The New York Weekly Herald says: To cure the scab or scurvy legs in poultry take lard and kerosene oil, equal parts, which add sulphur sufficient to make a paste; rub the legs with this mixture till the scab comes away, then smear with a little olive oil. In making a new orchard, says a fruit grower, systematic methods by setting your apple trees so that your summer apples will be together, then your fall apples, and so on. It will be much easier to gather them and will not be compelled to haul all over the orchard. It will draw milk in three minutes; the longer a milk can come to the better. A slow milk is a cow impatient, and often hold up her milk. The richest part, and if a cow is milking, there will be more milk, because of the Salisbury Advertiser.

AND EASTERN SHOREMAN.

LEMUEL MALONE,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

SALISBURY, MD.

SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 24, 1889.

CONGRESS HAS VIRTUALLY given its assent to the proposition that New York shall have an international exhibition in 1893. The next thing will be the introduction of a bill embodying a modest request for a million or so to aid the enterprise.

GENERAL GRANT is still blaming the Southern Democrats, and congratulating them that "the feeling of the past is gone." No doubt he would like the Southern people to forget those who trampled them to the ground during the eight years that Grant was president.

GERMANY IS GREATLY exercised over the increasing emigration of their citizens to the United States. During the year 1878 no less than 30,808 emigrants left her shores for "the land of the free and the home of the brave," and the exodus this year promises to be even larger than last.

THE FRUIT TREES of the Peninsula are not the only ones that have suffered from coming out too early in their spring suits. Reports of heavy frosts and great damage to the peach and pear crop come from Ohio, Indiana, Virginia and Kentucky. It is probable, though, that the injury to the fruit germs is not so great as reported.

SENATORS VOORHEES, of Indiana, Gordon, of Georgia, Pendleton, of Ohio, and Congressman Blackburn, of Kentucky, will deliver addresses at Winchester, Va., May 2, on the national issues involved in the coming presidential election. Senator Vance will also speak if his throat, from which he is now suffering, is well enough to enable him to do so.

NOTHING HAS YET been heard of the missing training-ship Atlanta, of the British navy, some days overdue, and there is but little doubt that she has foundered at sea. The Atlanta was a wooden sailing vessel carrying four guns, and, in addition to her officers, had on board about 300 naval cadets in training. Her probable fate recalls the terrible disaster that befell her sister ship, the Eurydice, which foundered off the Isle of Wight in March, 1878, with 325 persons on board, of whom only two escaped. The English navy has been remarkably unlucky in recent years.

THE FIRST COMPTROLLER of the treasury has decided that a draft made payable to a man who has been absent in parts unknown for seven years or more cannot be paid to his administrator on the presumption that the man is dead; that conclusive evidence of his death must first be obtained before such payment can be made. The comptroller has also rendered a decision on a case involving the question whether a note given to husband and wife survives to the wife in the event of the husband's death or to the heirs of his estate. The decision holds that the money, in the event of the death of either, goes to the survivor.

THE LAW CONFERRING additional powers on Justices of the Peace has been signed by the Governor. As before stated, this act gives Justices of the Peace jurisdiction in all minor misdemeanors, with the right of removal to the circuit court and trial by jury if the party accused enters a motion to that effect before trial commenced before the justice. While the right of jury trial is secured as required by the constitution of the State, there are many cases of technical violations of the law that the party accused would prefer to have adjudicated by the justice, and pay the penalty and save thereby the cost and publicity of a trial by court and jury. All cases so tried will be a saving to the county that would otherwise be saddled with the cost of court and jury.

UP TO THE PRESENT TIME delegates to the Republican National Convention have been elected from New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Texas, Kansas, Connecticut, Iowa, Vermont, Missouri, Kentucky and the District of Columbia. These delegations cast in all 288 votes, or somewhat more than one-third of the whole number in the convention, which is 754. The number necessary to the choice of a candidate from president or vice president is 379. The states that have positively instructed for Grant and Pennsylvania, New York, Kentucky and Missouri, and the District of Columbia delegation is in his favor. They are entitled to 184 votes, leaving him still 195 to gain to win the nomination. Mr. Blaine certainly has the eight from Rhode Island, 10 from Kansas and 22 from Iowa. The ten from Connecticut are reported to stand 5 for Blaine, 4 for Sherman and 1 for Washburne. Vermont, of course, instructed her delegates to vote for their best for Senator, and the Texas delegation divided between Blaine and Sherman. The Missouri delegation is reported to be strong for Sherman if the vote is taken.

Yes, Wonderfully Inspiring.

The Springfield Republican, not content with running Senator Edmunds as the Republican candidate for President, is willing to furnish a leader for the Democrats also. "The Young Democracy," says our esteemed contemporary, "should say, not Tilden, but Bayard. Edmunds and Bayard would make an inspiring race." Yes, wonderfully inspiring! Edmunds was the author of the unconstitutional Electoral Tribunal, and Bayard was one of its principal Democratic advocates. As the Republican candidate, Edmunds would perfectly represent the Conspiracy of 1876; while Bayard would stand for the Electoral Commission, without which that Conspiracy could not have been consummated. The Republicans may nominate Mr. Edmunds if they choose; but the Democracy will not be likely to take for their candidate in 1890 any man who in any way promoted the device by which they were cheated out of the Presidency after they had elected Samuel J. Tilden.

It will be truly refreshing to the Old Democracy when those organs which profess to be organs of the party cease to be organs of individuals. The N. Y. Sun has been throwing mud at every man, whom it supposed was in Mr. Tilden's way, for the last two years. We say, once for all, that the Sun has for all that time been serving the purpose of the Republicans with far more zeal though indirectly, than it ever supported the cause of the Democracy, except the short period intervening between the St. Louis Convention and the election of 1876. Mr. Bayard is the choice of the Democracy; Mr. Tilden is not. As to the Sun's charge that Mr. Bayard is responsible for the Electoral Commission, that is not true. That he agreed to it, and voted for it, is true. After Mr. Tilden showed the white feather, said he was not in favor of contending for the Presidency, he was afraid to put himself in the breach. His friends could do no better, when they learned to their sorrow that their leader was an imbecile. The Sun's strictures on Edmunds and Bayard are far-fetched. Should Edmunds be the Republican candidate, and Bayard the Democratic candidate, every patriot will feel that the country is safe in any event. But we fear that no such men will be chosen on either side. They are both statesmen, and that would be a rarity at the White House.

The Candidate for President.

The ADVERTISER'S preference for President among the prominent names mentioned is Thomas Francis Bayard, no matter who pulls that way, or against it, and we are bold enough to say so. But, we do not believe that he will be the nominee of the Convention. While he is decidedly the most popular candidate in the field with the people, he is by no means the choice of the politicians. He is too honest in his convictions, and that is against him, inasmuch as he is bold enough to proclaim his convictions, regardless of consequences. Gen. Hancock will be the nominee, unless a dark horse appears in the ring and carries off the prize.

Peninsular Editors.

THEY DISCUSS THEIR SUMMER EXCURSION—COMMITTEE OF ARRANGEMENTS APPOINTED.

A special meeting of the Peninsular Press Association was held last night at the Clayton House, President Lemuel Malone in the chair. The question of the route to be taken on the proposed summer excursion was discussed. Several suggestions were made, among them being Boston and Fall River, Niagara Falls, the Lakes, and other desirable points, but nothing definite was arrived at. On motion of Mr. Cruikshank, a committee on five was appointed to select a route and make all necessary arrangements for the trip. The chair appointed as the committee W. T. Crosdale, of Every Evening; H. C. Conrad, of the News; Morris Taylor, of the Graphic; G. W. Greaves, of the Coast Democrat; and W. Scott Way, of the Middletown Transcript.

No further business being before the association, it then adjourned. After the meeting members of the association visited the News office, and inspected the building, editorial, composing and press rooms.—Wm. Morning News.

AS THE TIME for the meeting of the Cincinnati Convention draws near, the Democratic masses are becoming more and more interested in the result. They want a man nominated who has the courage to stand up fearlessly for his convictions, and who will command an unlimited supply of popular support because he really deserves it. They do not want the representative of any faction, or any one who has built up sharp antagonisms among the people that will endanger Democratic success. They want a sound, honest, reliable, popular Democrat, and as they have a good deal of the voting to do it does not seem unreasonable that their wishes should be taken into consideration. Cincinnati has now a splendid chance to immortalize itself by naming the winning horse in the Great Presidential Sweepstakes.—Balto. Gazette.

CATHERINE HILL, a colored woman residing in Philadelphia, has filed application for a pension, on the ground that she enlisted and served the Union army three years during the war, under the name of Henry Williams. She says she was wounded during an engagement, and declares that her sex was never discovered. She said to a reporter that she enlisted because she had shot Henry Stump, son of Judge Stamp, of Perryville, Md.

Recollections of George W. M. Cooper.

WHELAN FEMALE COLLEGE, Wilmington, Del., April 10th, 1889. DEAR BROTHERS: I have not been so startled and grieved for a long time as when on Saturday last I pored over the ADVERTISER, and among other things my eye fell upon the heading, "Sudden Death of Geo. W. M. Cooper." Since under God I was much attached to him, and to him as to any one else, I beg the privilege of recording my gratitude, and expressing my sense of loss.

It must have been in August, 1838, (possibly 1837) that I met Mr. Cooper came from Rockaway to teach school. He was then only a well grown lad of 17 or 18 years. I was one of his scholars. I had not been under his instruction long when I began to feel an unusual love for study. He began to talk to me about the wonderful things of knowledge. I listened until my own life caught the inspiration by which his was fired. I now began to study for the first time for learning's sake. With the system of schools that then obtained in Maryland I was not permitted to study with him long. "Foster-saving" time came on, and the school closed. He taught again in the fall, but I could not be spared from the farm work. So that, it recollect, a month and a half at most; and yet during that brief time he lighted the little lamp of my ambition; he "pointed to brighter worlds, and led the way" so fully and so thoroughly that I crave the privilege of telling the simple story.

How vividly the scene rises before me. The school house then stood near the Methodist church of Rockaway, a prodigy to us all then, was so full of life, of enthusiasm, of energy, of love for study, that sometimes, with lat and ball laid aside, a clump of us would gather into the school house at noon, and listen with a sort of dazed wonderment as he talked of the long roll of studies, and how charming they were, that lay in our pathway, until in our boyish and girlish sincerity.

"The wonder grew that one small head could carry all he knew." He did not then claim to be a member of church; but I remember well how he had to tell us that he was not before we could believe it. He was so good and bright that contact with him made us feel either that we were, or that we wished we were, better. I believe that his school was aspiration to us all.

What he was to us he was to everybody. His privilege it was to come within the range of his influence. Mine is not the only life he touched and taught to flow. The sum total of what little good may be done by a number of his pupils is largely due to the impulse that he gave them; and I have no doubt that the simple announcement of his death has struck from the dirge-chord of many hearts strains of both gratitude and grief.

Teacher, friend, companion of my youth, thou art gone. Mine was not the privilege of dropping a tear into your grave, or of pronouncing out of a full heart an oration at your funeral; but you have wrought well—wrought amidst discouragements and diseases—wrought yourself into others, so that though dead, you still live. The wave of influence you have started will continue to widen until it strikes the eternal shores. It now remains for us who have been blessed by your living to erect a monument of noble, efficient, inspiring lives and deeds to your memory. Thought by your example to inspire and influence others. Rest in peace, dear friend. I did not know last Christmas when I spent an hour or two with you that it was to be my last interview. But so it was; and the farewell that I then said was for all time.

It is all seem to me that the warmth of my feelings, and the strength of my language transcend the bounds of propriety. I want to say to you, and to all who have known you, that you have left a full heart, but only out of my full heart. Not to have loved George Cooper would have been sheer ingratitude; and we have not to have given expression to my love on such an occasion as this would have argued a stoicism which I hope never to possess. I doubt not that the language I have used calls forth fervent amens from many other souls.

Book Notices.

"MARKO," THE RUSSIAN NOVELIST, by Henry Gravelle, and translated in English by Miss Helen Stanley, is published this week by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia. The literary editor of the Advertiser, Mr. J. B. Peterson, has translated the manuscript as follows: "Marko" is a novel, and an art study, full of beautiful prose, and such a wealth of such beautiful imagery, that it is a masterpiece of the art of writing, and the vein in which it is written, displays her genius at its best, and this, her new book, will afford delight to the most cultivated minds. The character-drawing is marvellous in breadth and analysis, and gives proof of rare artistic skill, while the most delicious fancies, expressed in graceful, poetical and vigorous language, render the author's style incomparably charming. "Marko" also shows an unusual degree of dramatic talent, and I know of no work, nor can I remember any one which has pleased me so much both in its ideas and their expression, in its plots and developments, in its brilliancy and real values. There is no doubt that "Marko" will be a great success, for I feel assured it will be considered the best book the author has ever written, giving promise that her fame will be unequalled, since it is a revelation of a varied and inexhaustible capacity which astonishes as well as delights the reader. I believe that Henry Gravelle is one of the greatest authors of this generation, and is destined to be enrolled as such, for she is full of genius and art. The English version retains the strong, clear style of the French with commendable fidelity. There are a few letters in the novel which are unique, and their style is admirably preserved in the translation. It is published in a handsome volume of 500 pages, bound in morocco cloth, black and gold, and is for sale by all Booksellers and New Agents, and on all Rail Road Trains, or copies of it will be sent to any one, to any place, at once, on any one remitting the price of $1.50 in a letter to the Publishers, T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, Pa.

FRANK LESLIE'S POPULAR MONTHLY FOR MAY.—This periodical fully maintains its well-deserved reputation, and in the present number, we find a rare display of admirable articles, stories, sketches, essays, poems, and a miscellany remarkable for its comprehensiveness. The opening article—"Alexander, Caesar of Russia," by Alfred H. C. Myers—is most interesting and replete with information. There are seven excellent illustrations. "The Three Alpine Tunnels," with special reference to the Mont Cenis, will be read with great interest. It is profusely illustrated. An article on "Nuts and Nutbearing Trees"; one on "Cotton in the Coast and Upland Fields of South Carolina," and "Quinine Land," by N. Robinson, are among the prominent features of the number. In the department of fiction Etta W. Pierce's story, "Not Guilty," is continued, and there are some excellent short stories by I. U. Crawford, Thomas Archer, etc. etc. There are several sketches descriptive of adventures, persons and places, admirably written and of exceeding interest. There are poems of unusual merit, many of them beautifully illustrated. "Mill Songs," by Julia Goddard, are literary and artistic gems. The miscellany is more than ordinarily abundant, and highly entertaining and instructive. There are 128 pages quarto in the number. The illustrations number over 100, and there is a handsome cover of 100 pieces—"And Amusing Novel." The price of a single copy is only 25 cents; a year's subscription, $3; six months, $1.50; four months, $1. Sent postpaid. Address Frank Leslie's Publishing House, 55, 57 Park Place, New York.

A "NEW" CEREAL, said to be more nutritious than Indian corn, oats, rye, is finding much favor in Western Kansas and New Mexico. It is called Egyptian corn or pampas rice, and was originally brought from Southern Russia. Thus far it has been unaffected by drought, worms, grasshoppers and other pests, and it can be cultivated with less care than almost any other grain.

Consumption Cured.—An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all Throat and Lung Affections; also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested his wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this receipt in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing, with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Warran, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. Oct. 25, e. o. w.

$500 Reward was for years offered in every paper of the land by the former proprietor of Dr. Sige's Catarrh Remedy for a case of catarrh it would not cure. It cures by its mild, soothing, cleansing, and healing properties. Snuff or dust of any kind dries up catarrh and drives it to the lungs. This remedy has stood the test of time, having been a popular remedy for a quarter of a century. Sold by druggists at 50 cents.

A CARD.—To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt that will cure you. Free of Charge. STRAWBRIDGE & CLOTHIER

Have fairly opened the business of the Spring Season with a stock of Dry Goods contracted for last year—aggregating about

ONE MILLION DOLLARS.

At the low values then prevailing, but worth much more to day.

While our present interest would be largely served by securing the advance which has taken place, as is usually done, and as we might do easily and with entire justice, we have decided that it is to our ultimate advantage to distribute all this stock among our customers at about last year's figures—looking more to the future in the establishment of permanent relations with our patrons than to present profit. It is impossible to name a title of the goods in our Thirty-Three Departments, which include everything that can be desired for personal attire or housekeeping needs.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT TO THE MEM-

ORY OF THE DECEASED.

At the last meeting of the School Board on motion of Train A. Bounds, Esq., resolutions of respect to the late G.
W. M. Cooper, drawn by F. C. Todd, Esq., were unanimously adopted. The resolutions are as follows:

Resolved, That we have lost an all-wise Providence to remove from our midst our late Secretary, Treasurer and Examiner, G. W. M. Cooper, and

WHEREAS, The death of a good man and useful citizen is justly regarded as a public calamity, therefore be

Resolved, That in the death of Mr.
Cooper this community has lost one of its most useful and influential citizens, the poor friend, the bar an ornament
and an honor, and the School Board with which he was so long connected not only a thoroughly honest and competent, but invaluable co-laborer.

Resolved, That either as an educator, lawyer, citizen, friend, son, brother or husband, he stood deservedly high, and his memory will long remain prominent in the hearts of all who knew him.

Resolved, That our heartfelt sympathies are hereby tendered his relatives, as well as his devoted companion, in this sore affliction.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his widow, and be spread upon the minutes of the School Board, and that they also be transmitted to the county papers for publication.

In Memoriam.

Died, after six weeks duration, Laura
Gertrude, beloved wife of Elijah A.
Powell, aged 24 years.

Death is always terrible, come when it may, or as it may. But how doubly terrible, how heart-rending, how pitiful,
how sorrowful, comes it often rendered by touching and peculiarly mournful circumstances. The circumstances surrounding the going out of the dear life this sketch shall record, were of a character to fill the faintest heart with sadness and move it to tenderest compassion. Four little miles of children, the eldest, not yet five Summer old, and the youngest a babe whose life is yet scarce lost to weeks, left motherless by the touch of Death. My heart was filled to overflowing as I stood by the death-

bed, where the unconscious mother lay, and watched the boys tottering hither and thither, among the assembled friends, even the eldest, holding up actions of their great loss, and holding up his little hand, with a gleeful laugh, to display the death clasp (which held no significance to him) that some one had fastened around it, and the wall of the poor baby, that eyes and anon, broke on the solemn stillness, was pitiful enough to fill the grieved heart with feelings.

I knew the subject of this sketch from childhood. It was as a child that I knew of sympathy and respect on the death of

Geo. W. M. Cooper, late member of this
Bar, being adopted, Messrs C. F. Holland, Thos. Humphreys and J. A. Paxsons were appointed the committee, and instructed to submit them at another meeting for other action. The meeting then adjourned to Thursday night, April 29th, to meet at the same place.

WE HAD TO CALL at the Harness Emporium of L. W. Taylor one day this week, and the first thing that met our eyes was a suit of harness that he had just finished for W. H. Jackson, Esq., of this town. Although not being much of a judge of harness ourselves, we were told by horsemen that were in there at the time that it was of excellent quality,
and after we were shown its good points,
we can truthfully say that it is the finest and nicest suit we ever saw manufactured out side the city. It was mounted throughout with the best rubber, having solid rubber lames. Indeed, it is nee-less for us to mention its good points, and even were we to do so, we could not in the way that it deserves, but ask you all, if you are thinking of having a suit of harness made, to go down and

at once be convinced that Lloyd can put up harness just to suit you.

IN THE NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW
for May, ex-Judge Jere J. Black continues the very interesting series of papers on the Third Term Question begun in the February number. His article is entitled "Gen. Grant and Strong Government," and its purpose is to show, first,

that the limitation of tenure of office in the Presidency to two terms is a fundamental principle of our republican form of government; and, secondly, that not only does disregard of that principle threaten the permanency of republican institutions, but that Grant's third candidacy is actually a plot to revolutionize the republic and introduce monarchy.

Mr. Leslie Stephen writes of "The Religion of sensible men," and speculates on the prospect of that religion displacing the present creeds of the multitude. The creed of the future, he says, must be capable of assimilating modern scientific theories. George Ticknor Curtis continues his series of articles on

"McLellan's Last Service to the Republic." These papers are specially valuable on account of the large number of hitherto unpublished documents which they contain. Mr. Francis

H. Underwood contributes an essay

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT TO THE MEM-

ORY OF THE DECEASED.

At the last meeting of the School Board
on motion of Train A. Bounds, Esq., resolutions of respect to the late G.
W. M. Cooper, drawn by F. C. Todd, Esq., were unanimously adopted. The resolutions are as follows:

Resolved, That we have lost an all-wise
Providence to remove from our midst our late Secretary, Treasurer and Exam-

iner, G. W. M. Cooper, and

WHEREAS, The death of a good man
and useful citizen is justly regarded as a public calamity, therefore be

Resolved, That in the death of Mr.
Cooper this community has lost one of
its most useful and influential citizens,
the poor friend, the bar an ornament
and an honor, and the School Board
with which he was so long connected
not only a thoroughly honest and competent, but invaluable co-laborer.

Resolved, That either as an educator,
lawyer, citizen, friend, son, brother or husband, he stood deservedly high, and
his memory will long remain prominent
in the hearts of all who knew him.

Resolved, That our heartfelt sympathies are hereby tendered his relatives,

as well as his devoted companion, in this
sore affliction.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his widow, and be spread

upon the minutes of the School Board,
and that they also be transmitted to the county papers for publication.

In Memoriam.

Died, after six weeks duration, Laura
Gertrude, beloved wife of Elijah A.
Powell, aged 24 years.

Death is always terrible, come when it may, or as it may. But how doubly terrible, how heart-rending, how pitiful,
how sorrowful, comes it often rendered
by touching and peculiarly mournful circumstances. The circumstances surrounding the going out of the dear life

this sketch shall record, were of a character to fill the faintest heart with sadness and move it to tenderest compassion. Four little miles of children,

the eldest, not yet five Summer old, and
the youngest a babe whose life is yet
scarce lost to weeks, left motherless by
the touch of Death. My heart was filled to overflowing as I stood by the death-

bed, where the unconscious mother
lay, and watched the boys tottering
hither and thither, among the assembled
friends, even the eldest, holding up
actions of their great loss, and holding
up his little hand, with a gleeful laugh,
to display the death clasp (which held no significance to him) that some one had fastened around it, and the wall of the poor baby, that eyes and anon, broke on
the solemn stillness, was pitiful enough
to fill the grieved heart with feelings.

I knew the subject of this sketch from childhood. It was as a child that I knew of sympathy and respect on the death of

Geo. W. M. Cooper, late member of this
Bar, being adopted, Messrs C. F. Hol-

land, Thos. Humphreys and J. A. Pax-

sons were appointed the committee, and
instructed to submit them at another
meeting for other action. The meeting then adjourned to Thursday night,
April 29th, to meet at the same place.

MARRIED, near Quantico, on the 15th inst., by Rev. E. H. Hynson, Mr. John W. Murphy and Miss Maggie B. Wal-son, both of this county.

Near Lowe's X Roads, on the 28th inst., by the Rev. Mr. Jesse J. Collins and Miss Virginia E. Short, both of Delaware.

At the residence of the bride's father, near Ward's X Roads, on the 1st inst., by the Rev. Mr. Robert G. White and Miss Nancy E. Wingate, both of Delaware.

On the 20th inst. at the bride's parents, at Shad Point, by the Rev. W. L. P.
Bowen, Capt. William Fowler, of Sayre's Del., to Mrs. Elizabeth Weldon, of Wicomico Co.

On the 22nd inst., by the same, Mr.
Josiah L. Brown, of Somerset county, and Miss Leah E. Hitch, of Wicomico county.

WE HAD TO CALL at the Harness Emporium of L. W. Taylor one day this week, and the first thing that met our eyes was a suit of harness that he had just finished for W. H. Jackson, Esq., of this town. Although not being much of a judge of harness ourselves, we were told by horsemen that were in there at
the time that it was of excellent quality,
and after we were shown its good points,
we can truthfully say that it is the finest
and nicest suit we ever saw manufactured out side the city. It was mounted throughout with the best rubber, having solid rubber lames. Indeed, it is nee-

less for us to mention its good points,
you all, if you are thinking of having a suit of harness made, to go down and
at once be convinced that Lloyd can put
up harness just to suit you.

IN THE NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW
for May, ex-Judge Jere J. Black continues the very interesting series of papers on the Third Term Question begun in the February number. His article is entitled "Gen. Grant and Strong Government," and its purpose is to show, first,

that the limitation of tenure of office in
the Presidency to two terms is a fundamental principle of our republican form

of government; and, secondly, that not only does disregard of that principle
threaten the permanency of republican institutions, but that Grant's third candidacy is actually a plot to revolutionize

the republic and introduce monarchy.

Mr. Leslie Stephen writes of "The Religion of sensible men," and speculates on the prospect of that religion dis-

placing the present creeds of the multitude. The creed of the future, he says,

must be capable of assimilating modern
scientific theories. George Ticknor
Curtis continues his series of articles on
"McLellan's Last Service to the Republic." These papers are specially valuable on account of the large number of hitherto unpublished documents which they contain. Mr. Francis
