Class reunions were also held at this time.

Late afternoon entertainment was provided by the concert band, dance band, and majorettes under the direction of Dr. Ward Cole, in the auditorium of Compton Hall.

The highlight of the day was the alumni banquet which one hundred six people attended. The toastmaster for the dinner was Dr. Robert J. Shockley, class of 1942, who is now principal of Lock Raven School in Towson. Entertainment was provided by Miss Betty Anne Hanna and her accompanist, Mary Virginia Alderton. All members of the class of 1932 who were present for their twenty-fifth reunion were presented with flowers.

Class To Present 'The Big Break' At Assembly May 20

The class of 1957 will present their farewell program to the students and faculty on Monday, May 20, at 10 a. m. in Compton Hall. The program will have a plot and will be entitled "The Big Break."

The script for the program was written by Donald Sellin and Charles W. Smith. The director of the production is Donald Drury. The "Big Break" has nine main male parts and three female parts with several mob scenes taking place at different points in the story.

The play opens with a registration scene in the old gym. We first notice a group of "hoods" approaching the registrar and the dean. They seek admission to the college and after an exchange of words they are successful in their attempt.

The second act opens in a typical Education class where the "hoods" are indoctrinated with progressive education methods and principles. After the class they plan to rob the college treasury. They go about the plan as a teacher would plan a lesson.

The senior class and its advisor Miss Irene Kirkeby, invite the entire student body and faculty to attend this farewell program.

The members of the senior assembly committee are as follows: Mary Kay Poland and Dave Ayers, co-chairmen; Marie Goldworthy, song writer; Charles W. ## Ethics Code Aids Education

Nearly twenty-five years ago the National Education Association originated A National Code of Ethics which has since been revised and was recently adopted by the Representative Assembly. It has been prepared with the help of thousands of classroom teachers, school administrators, and members of college faculties.

In 1954 the M. S. T. A. - N. E. A. Code of Ethics was adopted as the official code for Maryland teachers. It will be both an interesting and enlightening experience for us to view the highlights of the principles contained in this code as they apply to questions which may arise in our future teaching situations.

The primary goal of education in this country is to develop citizens who will safeguard, strengthen, and improve the democracy obtained through a representative government. Effective democracy and the maintenance of our national ideals depend upon our making acceptable educational opportunities available to all. The ideals, motives, preparation, and conduct of the members of the teaching profession reflect the quality of education. Each one of us who has chosen to teach must assume the obligation to act in accordance with the ideals of our profession.

In the first principle is recognized the obligation of teachers to guide children, youth, and adults in pursuing knowledge and skills, to prepare them in the ways of democracy, and to help them become happy, useful, self-supporting citizens.

Teachers must share with parents the responsibility of shaping each student's purposes and acts toward socially accepted ends. Cooperative relationships with the home are dependent upon the effectiveness of a teacher's methods.

The teacher is placed in a position of public trust involving not only the teacher's personal conduct, but also the interaction of the school and community. These relationships should be friendly, cooperative, and constructive.

Members of the teaching profession have inescapable obligations with respect to employment. These responsibilities are usually shared between the employer and employee and should be based upon mutual respect and good faith.

What True Friendship Means

Friendship is something which too few people really know. True friendship is something precious, the highest form of human relationship; as such it deserves all that we have to offer.

When we know true friendship we know people, or rather, one person in particular; that person has trusted us to such an extent that we know many of his innermost thoughts, hopes, aspirations. For him, we are willing to give our time, our energy, our money, and indeed our life itself. We are trusted by our dear friend and that trust makes us feel humble and so undeserving of such faith. In such friendship, we are given the opportunity to rise out of ourselves to new heights of unselfish love.

True friendship must have love. It is love which is the motivating factor in all important and worthwhile human relationships.

Do You Park Carefully?

Within the past few weeks, violations of parking regulations have increased. These leave no alternative to the city police but distribution of tickets or the towing away of cars.

Definite parking areas on campus have been set aside for the students. Students are requested to park so as not to obstruct fire hydrants, private driveways, and alleys.

College-community relations have been of the best in the past; let us not jeopardize this balance by unnecessary parking violations.

Pupil Loves Field; Classes Also Good

Now that I have been back on campus for several weeks, I feel that I am able to compare "Practice Teaching" with "Being On Campus."

"Practice Teaching" is a steady grind. Up every morning at 7:00. Go to breakfast at 7:30. Get rider at 7:50. Be in your homeroom at 8:25. Teach a class. Sit during the next class. Sit awhile more. Sit and eat lunch at 11:40. Sit some more. Teach another class. Sit. At last, 4:00, time to go home. Back to college at 4:30.

You would think that this would be a day. But, is it? No. After supper—lesson plans, class preparation (this consists of learning what you are to teach the next day). At 12:30—time for sleep. This will go on for nine weeks—nine whole weeks.

"Being On Campus" is a soft job. Up every morning at 10:30. Go to a class at 11:00. Eat lunch at 11:10. Go to class again at 12:00.

Rest until 3:10 class. (During this two hour period you can go to bed, read a good entertaining book or magazine, gossip with friends, watch television or talk with that special friend, if you fixed your schedule together.) Go to class again—5:00, time for supper. After supper you have more free time. This is a good time for "campusology." At 12:30 time for sleep.

Oh, I just remembered I forgot a few items. There are those 8:00 classes every once in a while. Also you will find a few 4:10 classes. Then you eat supper at 5:55. Teachers will give you homework, too. They forget what evenings are for. Then you will find a library on campus, where teachers will send you to do research for reports and term papers.

"Practice Teaching" also has its good along with the bad. The little "brats" are wonderful. Practice teachers are wonderful. Lesson plans are wonderful. Teaching is Wonderful!

Spring Infects Students With Humorous Ideas

Spring has certainly re-vitalized "senses of humor" on campus.

When asked how spring had affected them, these students said: Sally Bland—"June seems closer all the time."

Anne Lasseter—"Just listen to my voice, you can tell."

Joy Swett—"I'm in love again."

Joan Sweeney—"I'm still in love."

Leah Robinette—"Headaches! Oh, headaches!"

Dorey Fahey—"It's made me lazier, if that's possible. I count the days, hours, minutes, and seconds until graduation."

☆ Laurels To Two Leaders ☆

Laurels for the leaders of today are presented to two "unsung" members of the Senior Class whose records speak for them. Combined, these two young men have been active in most of the organizations on campus, although each one's private "career" is quite impressive.

John Swope

Don Drury

John Swope has been an active member of I. R. C. for four years. He was secretary of the club in his sophomore year, and then served as its president in his junior and senior years. John has also been in A. T. A. fraternity for four years having served as its secretary during his sophomore year.

As a member of State-to-Date, John was Sports Editor and News Editor; as a member of Art Club, he was its treasurer during his sophomore year.

John was a charter member of this year's newly formed Canterbury Club, was baseball manager as a freshman, and acted as secretary of his Junior Class.

Scholarship is also quite evident in the college "career" of this young man, since he has made the coveted Dean's List rating for six semesters.

Finding time for several hobbies, John states that he enjoys reading, records (Wagner and jazz) and "my girl, Libby." He has a definite dislike for hypocrites and girls who drink and smoke. Surprising? No, not if you know, John.

A Second Leader

The other "gent" in this dashing duo is, if you recognize the picture, George Goebel's double, our own Don Drury. Don has been a member of the Maryland Singers for four years, having been treasurer in his junior year; the Madrigals for two years; and also he plays the French horn in the band, which shows that Don does enjoy the fine arts.

As a member of Little Theater, Don worked on the stage during "The Happy Time," "Down in the Valley," "Mr. Barry's Ditching," and was in the casts of the "Mikado," "Carousel," and the Christmas pageant.

Don has been active in A. T. A. fraternity for four years, being its secretary this year. He was vice president of the Sophomore class, and then in the junior year was initiated into Alpha Psi Omega. Don was actively engaged in the recreation committees for the new dormitories, and helped with the selection of the new furniture.

This year he is to direct the senior class play, along with his other activities in A. T. A., as business manager of Madrigals, and as a member of the Men's Resident Council.

All in all, the activities of these two young men in the four year span of a college career have been quite full.

Students Grieve Passing Of Old Acquaintance?

We, the students of Frostburg State Teachers College, regret to announce the passing away of F. S. Dirt Mound.

The campus will never be the same without his presence in the quadrangle. During many long trying months he has stood as a beacon and helped many stray students find their way.

However, the student body appears gay, not at all mournful of his departure! Perhaps it could be due to the awaited birth of the fresh green grass and gleaming walkways to reign in place of our old acquaintance.

Sign On The Dotted Line For Dream School

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibler

The long black limousine came to a stop in front of the women's dormitory. In no time at all, the driver was at the door with a foam rubber padded wheelchair to take me to the car.

It seemed as though before I knew it, I was in beautiful Nailem County. (I was angry that we arrived just in time to interrupt my watching of "Ding Dang School." Oh well, watching T. V. while riding hurts my eyes, anyhow.)

After a candlelight breakfast, the superintendent, Mr. Jones, showed me the classroom that I would occupy next fall. Since I am a starting teacher I was given a classroom with a capacity of eight students with two classes a day to teach. (You know how these counties push everything on new teachers.)

To compensate for my heavy load the superintendent had my powder room, which adjoined my classroom redecorated.

I almost forgot to ask the salary question. This is a small detail, but it is one of those routine questions. I decided to sign for Nailem County even though the starting salary was only $6,400.

Just as I was about to sign on the dotted line, my arm jerked and I fell out of bed. Getting up from the floor, I realized this was all a dream. In exactly two hours I would be in my one-room school house with forty-five students, six classes a day, and $2,800 a year.

State College Music Groups Hold Concert

The Music Department held the annual Spring Concert on Monday, May 6, at 8:15 p. m. in Compton Auditorium.

The State Concert Band, conducted by Dr. Ward K. Cole, played "Belmont Overture," "My Dream Sonata," "Ebony Rhapsody," and "With a Little Bit of Luck."

Following this, the Madrigal Singers, with Mr. Charles I. Sager conducting, sang selections from "Fanny." Gail Kessner accompanied the singers on the piano while Donald Murphy added the sounds of the bongo drums.

Mrs. Mary Bollino presented the organ selection "Hail, Gladdening Light." In keeping with this religious mood the Maryland Singers next sang "God of Our Fathers." Mrs. Mary Bollino and Mary Lou Eisentrout played the accompaniment. Trumpet music was supplied by Edward Andrews, James Duffy and Paul Marriott.

A Vocal Ensemble consisting of Donna Price, Gail Snyder, Robert Bantz, Oliver Rephann, and Warfield Wilson, sang "You Do Something to Me," "Stars Fell on Alabama," "I'll Never Smile Again," and "What Is This Thing Called Love?"

Next the State College Dance Band played "Busman's Holiday," "Night Train," "The Thunderer," "Celebrated Air," and "Palisades Overture." As a final number the Dance Band played "The Thunderer" as the Majorettes Mary Frances De Luca, Carol Chaney, Willa Duncan, and Suzanne Harrison twirled their batons.

Dudey Moore To Speak At Awards Dinner On May 23

Kirk Receives Most Valuable Senior Award

The Annual Sports Awards Dinner, sponsored by the Men's Athletic Council, will be held Thursday, May 23, at 6:30 p. m. in the dining hall. This dinner is held each year to honor all letter, letter certificate, and jacket winners in State's four athletic sports.

Dudey Moore, a widely-known figure in the sports world, has been engaged to be the principal speaker. He has gained fame as basketball coach of Duquesne University. Among the greats he has coached are All-Americans Sihugo Green and the Ricketts brothers, Dick and Dave.

Van Roby Is MC

The Duquesne pilot will be introduced by Clifton Van Roby, who is well-known locally as a referee and sportscaster for WTBO in Cumberland.

Van Roby has refereed many collegiate games, including some played by Duquesne.

A total of twelve jackets will be awarded this year. Those receiving jackets for soccer are John Fatkin, John Keister, Jim Poland and Carl Emerick. Letter or certificate winners for soccer include Dick McPartland, Dale Folk, Lester Reiber, Jack Miller, Bud Poland, Bob Kirk, John Horine, Fred Downs, Jack Green, "Newt" Carter, Dave Marple and managers Joe Steen and "Moose" Arnone.

Kirk is Most Valuable Senior

The most valuable senior award picked by the soccer squad and Coach Babcock, will be awarded to Bob Kirk.

Jackets for basketball go to Jim Cave, Dave Marple, "Buck" Smith, and Bill McCall. Letters or certificates were earned by Dorcil Kline, Doug Sullivan, John Keister, and Bob Kirk. Dick Gilpin, manager, will receive a letter certificate.

The award lists for baseball and track are yet incomplete as there are still opportunities for others to earn their letters. The requirements are on a points-scored basis.

Jackets for track go to Dick Gilpin, Ed Dawson, and Bruce May.

Letter awards for baseball will be presented to Carl Donald, Carl Emerick, Dorcil Kline, Arch Lennox, Doug Sullivan and Dale Gangaware.

Jackets will be awarded to Hugh Noland and John Keister.

In all, there will be approximately twenty-seven athletes receiving "F's" and twelve who will receive the coveted Bobcat jacket award.

Athletic Plans Include Erection Of New Courts

Eight new tennis courts will be constructed in the rear of Compton Hall during this coming summer, according to an announcement made recently by R. Bowen Hardesty. President Hardesty discussed this and other athletic construction at a recent meeting of presidents of campus organizations. These improvements have been made possible by a $64,000 appropriation made during the 1957 session of the State Legislature.

The courts will be built on two parallel levels with four placed back-to-back on the level with the parking lot. The other four, of identical construction, will be on a lower level separated from the upper courts by a retaining wall.

The running track around the soccer field will also be re-surfaced this summer. This calls for the removal of the old surface which will be replaced with a mixture of cinders, sand, and clay.

Following the completion of these facilities, a girls' hockey field will be constructed. Other plans call for two softball diamonds to be constructed at opposite corners of this field.

From The Sideline

By Chas.

By reviewing the records of State athletic teams during the year, we can arrive at several conclusions. These are not all based on the tangible records such as won-and-lost records, goals, base hits, etc. but often on the more incalculable characteristics of the team members.

Some of these characteristics may sound trite, but they are (when present) the basic requirements for a winning team. They include unselfishness, coolness under fire, true love of the game, loyalty to the team's cause, and a willingness to try to the end, even when the possibility of winning has been lost. These may all be summed up by another hackneyed phrase: "the old college try."

Never throughout the season has this spirit been particularly conspicuous; it has been there at times, but these brief flashes have been greatly outnumbered by the lack-luster moments.

Seeking the cause for this by considering individual players leads to a blank wall, for spirit of a team or the lack of it is rarely directly traceable to the influence of any one player. No, the answer must be found elsewhere. The answer will not be found printed in this column, however, for I do not know the whole answer.

Next year, or the year after, perhaps, there will again be teams here that will capture (intuitively, let me make clear) the feeling of oneness that produces great teams. When that team comes it will have on it players like John Keister, Doug Sullivan, and Dick Gilpin.

To my mind these three men are the most improved and most conscientious in their respective sports. For three and two years respectively, Keister and Sullivan have been reserves in basketball. During this time they have often out-hustled more talented regulars, thus almost insuring their improvement.

Gilpin, who was a track star in high school, has not rested on his laurels. Despite adverse practice conditions, he has improved his performances each year.

This article does not predict that these three men will ever play on outstanding teams at State. Nor is it an attempt to establish them as perfect examples of athletic conscientiousness.

This is written in the hope that some happy day soon State can be represented in all sports by athletes with attitudes toward their sports based on a desire to win, rather than on a desire for personal fame.

Potomac State Halts Cats 12-7

Arch Lennox, left fielder of the Bobcat baseball team, is leading the hitters on the squad for the current season. Lennox is currently slugging the ball with a lusty average of .533. He has collected 8 hits in 15 official trips to the dish. Doug Sullivan, shortstop, is runner-up for the batting crown. Sullivan has smacked 5 hits in 10 trips for a .500 average.

Four members of the squad have batting averages over the four hundred mark and seven are over three hundred. Ronnie Carter and John Keister are currently slugging the ball above the four hundred clip. Carter has an average of .455 for 11 times at bat and five hits. Keister had 9 hits in 17 trips for an average of .444. Dale Gangaware's .375, Carl Donald's .368, and Dorcil Kline's .333 complete the list of three hundred hitters.

On Monday, May 6, the Bobcats became the victims of Potomac State by the score of 12-7. The Bobcats took an early 3-2 lead in the contest when big John Keister banged a tremendous homer over the left field fence in Midland. Another run was added in the fourth on singles by Keister and Dale Ganaware.

In the fifth inning Pot State added two more unearned runs to tie the score at 4-4. A walk to Don Fleagle, a stolen base, and a single by Nolan put the Bobcats ahead again in the bottom of the fifth. Potomac State tied the contest again in the sixth on a double by Bodnarchuk and another error. Frostburg went ahead again in the sixth on a single by Arch Lennox and a double by Sullivan. They held the lead of 6-5 until the top of the eighth when the roof fell in.

The Catamounts coupled four hits, a hit batsman, a stolen base, a passed ball, and four Bobcat errors for six runs to ice the contest. Hugh Nolan, who started on the mound, was relieved by John Keister and Carl Emerick in the eighth.

Five Bobcats collected two hits; they were Carl Donald, Dorcil Kline, Arch Lennox, Doug Sullivan, and John Keister.

On May 20, the Bobcats play their final home game against Shepherd.

WRA Presents Highest Honor To M. Leader

Margaret Leader, a senior, co-president of the Women's Recreation Association, was presented the pin of the Athletic Federation of College Women at the annual dinner of the Athletic Association held last night at Anton's Big Savage Inn.

This was the first time in the history of this college that the award has been given. It was presented for leadership within the group and is the highest honor a member can attain. Margie won the minor award in her sophomore year and the blazer for the major award in her junior year. In the words of Miss Lillian Wellner, "She has continued to show outstanding leadership in her senior year above the winning of the major award last year."

Seniors Receive Awards

Two senior girls were the recipients of the major award of the blazer at last night's affair. They were Joan Kidwell and Ruth Holbert. Junior major award winners Bonnie Henson, Sarah Slick, and Marina Tuya.

Minor awards were presented to Joan Buskirk and Nancy Blakley, juniors; Susan Eader, Joan Fiery, Mary Ann Hesson, Silvia Hilliard, Ann Lasetter, June Bush, Carol Kelley, Louise Grahame, and Pan Minke, sophomores. Freshman award winners were Annabelle Leatherman, Barbara Bagent, and Alice Gaither.

Introduce New Officers

The new officers for next year were also introduced at the banquet. They are Marina Tuya and Silvia Hilliard, co-presidents. Marina will be a senior next fall; Silvia will be a junior. Vice president will be Nancy Bleakley, a senior in September.

Three of the members of next year's sophomore class will complete the slate of officers. They are Barbara Bagent, recording secretary; Eileen Varah, treasurer; Jane Bollinger, corresponding secretary. Miss Lillian Wellner, director of girl's physical education, is the faculty advisor to the group.

Babcock To Instruct Golfers In Etiquette

Coach Ken Babcock's class in golf techniques is now learning and practicing the different strokes in golf. Inside the gym they have been putting, and using sponge and plastic balls when they practice their drives. Chipping with the seven, eight, and nine iron is also being worked on along with the approach shots. Later Mr. Babcock hopes to take the class on to the soccer field where they can get actual experience in hitting real golfballs. Before the semester is over, there will be a unit on golf rules and golf etiquette.

The Tee Club, with Coach Babcock as advisor, would like more young women as members. Of the sixteen members on the list now there is only one woman in the organization. The Maplehurst Country Club has offered the use of their nine-hole golf course to all card-carrying members of the Tee Club. They can use the course from 9 to 5 Monday through Friday, while college is in session. According to Mr. Babcock, this is a great reduction and will give the members of the Tee Club a golden opportunity to put into practice all their knowledge of the game.
