Sixteen Instructors Join College Faculty

With the increase of enrollment, sixteen new members have been added to the State Teachers College faculty, two of whom are working in the new Thomas G. Pullen Laboratory School.

Miss Edra Bogle, the new assistant Librarian in the Thomas G. Pullen Laboratory School, is a graduate of Iowa State Teachers College, Cedar Falls, Iowa. She received her M. A. from Columbia University.

Mr. George Powers Cockcroft, teaching English, has held previous teaching positions at high schools in California and New York. He is a graduate of Cornell University, did graduate work at the University of Michigan, and received his M. A. from Columbia University.

Mr. James Daly combines a schedule of Spanish and music theory classes. He received his B. A. degree from the University of Minnesota and his M. A. from Teachers College of Columbia University.

Miss June Eastman, English instructor, previously taught at Ball State Teachers College, Muncie, and in high schools in Indiana. She received her A. B. from Indiana University and her M. A. from Ball State Teachers College.

New Instructor In Chemistry

Miss Janice M. Griewahn teaches chemistry and microbiology. Her previous positions were teaching at West Liberty State Teachers College for two years and doing research at the University of Pittsburgh for ten years. She is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh.

Miss Dorothy Hilliard, who teaches physical education, previously held positions at Richmond Professional Institute for five years, and at Georgia State Teachers College for six years. She received her B. S. degree from New York University, and her M. A. from Columbia University.

Mr. John Kneisly, instructor of methods courses in science and social studies and of audio visual aids, came to Frostburg from Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, where he served a little over a year as head of the American schools, in charge of elementary education. He previously taught for twelve years in Montgomery County. Mr. Kneisly attended Ohio State University, Columbus, and Manchester College in North Manchester, Ohio.

History Instructor

Teaching history is Miss Mary Murray, who received her A. B. and M. A. degrees from the University of Maryland. She was previously a history instructor at Allegany High School and a member of the faculty at a summer high school journalism course at Catholic University. Miss Murray is active in Maryland State Teachers Association and is now serving as

'Aerospace Age' Is MSTA Topic

Members of the FSTC faculty and administrative staff will attend a meeting for the faculty of all five State Teachers Colleges in Maryland at Towson on October 14. On October 15, 16, 17, the instructors will participate in the Maryland State Teachers Association Convention in Baltimore.

That Colonel Carlo Tosti, special Assistant to the Commander of the Air Research and Development Command, will make the keynote address at the Interfaculty Conference at Towson was announced by Dr. Harold D. Reese, Supervisor of Teacher and Higher Education of the State Department of Education. The subject of Colonel Tosti's speech will be "Research and Development in the Aerospace Age."

Dr. Florence Stratmeyer of Teachers College, Columbia, will act as consultant to the meeting to be held Thursday morning. A general discussion concerning the principles established at the April Laboratory School Conference will be held. Topics to be considered by the faculties include (1) pre-student and post student teaching laboratory experiences, (2) experimentation and research in the laboratory schools, and (3) educational leadership in trying out new ideas in these schools.

Eric Johnston, President of the Motion Picture Association of America, has been chosen speaker for the opening general assembly on Thursday, October 15. The title of his address is "We Must Put Our Best Minds Forward."

Dr. Gerald Wendt, author, editor and lecturer on science, will address the session Friday.

John Ciardi, Professor of English, will be the speaker Saturday at the last general session to be held in the Armory.

State Girl Attends NEPPC Convention

Bettie Umstead, a junior, is now attending the Northeast Poultry Producers Council Convention at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, as the Maryland State Poultry Foods Demonstration Champion. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Umstead of Olney, Maryland.

The week's activities began for Bettie on Monday, with a guided tour of the Gettysburg Battlefields. Other events include a dance at the Penn Harris Hotel, an Egg Quiz, breakfasts, a panel discussion "Youth Wants To Know" with industry leaders and 4-H and FFA youth taking part, an Awards Dinner, and the demonstration contest itself.

Bettie and her teammate, Barbara Sherrill, a junior at State Teachers College, Towson, will demonstrate how to prepare "Fillets of Chicken With Rice" as Maryland's entry in the interstate contest with the other Northeastern states.

Bettie and Barbara were selected to represent Maryland at the NEPPCO Convention when they were declared champions of the state contest held at the Maryland State Fair, August 31-September 12 at Timonium, Maryland.

Bettie and Barbara were winners in the Montgomery County Demonstration Contest prior to participating in the state contest.

Bettie, a ten-year 4-H'er, is a member of the Olney 4-H Club of which her mother is the local leader. Bettie, herself, has served as local leader of the Olney Junior 4-H Club and is currently helping to organize a Collegiate 4-H Club on campus.

Bettie has also had 4-H projects in foods, home management, home furnishings, poultry, and clothing. She is in the junior high education program and is concentrating in the area of mathematics. She is active in Newman Club, Art Club, and Maryland Singers.

President Welcomes Students

Our fifty-eighth academic year has begun! Students have experienced a period of testing for the purpose of sectioning classes, orientation to the college has been experienced, social events have helped to make an easy transition from home to college, and at this time of writing class work is well advancing.

It is hoped that parents will not encourage their son or daughter to come home every weekend. The old high school friends will be missed at first. Even you will miss your son or daughter! But let your student stay on campus, get into activities, grow with friends, and get full value from college.

Some parents and students think of success in college as winning a scholarship, social recognition, a trophy in some area, an award, or leadership in sports. First in importance, however, is good scholarship in a general field of courses, and outstanding scholarship in a specific field. Breadth of study and interest should be another concern. The student's education should be really liberal and liberalizing.

Marks of success in college include also integrity of the students in purpose, and conduct should be rated high by everybody. Success in college entails also the development of a sound philosophy of life. The forming and final fixation generally occur during college years. Much attention is also given to the development of human relations. Unless the student becomes successful in them, he is not actually successful at all. He should be learning to influence and to be influenced. He should become increasingly capable of making right judgments. Above all, he should be acquiring friends who are understanding and undemanding.

A Privilege To Go To College

Students in college this fall are among the privileged minority. Although the percentage of those going to college is increasing annually, far more high school graduates go directly into work or family life.

It is hoped that each of our students realizes the importance of spending two hours preparation for each recitation period. To us the library of State Teachers College at Frostburg is the hub of the campus and from it radiates learning; therefore, sufficient time should be scheduled by each student for reading widely.

Cultural programs should be attended faithfully. Active participation in several student organiza-

Supervisors Attend Baltimore Meeting

Mrs. Grace Kopp, Mr. Robert Jones, and Mr. John Dunn, directors of practice, will attend the Conference of Maryland High School Principals and Supervisors tomorrow, October 8, and Friday, October 9, in Baltimore at the Emerson Hotel.

The theme of the meeting this year is "The Pupil—His Abilities, His Needs and His Program." Dr. Thomas G. Pullen Jr., State Superintendent of Schools, will speak briefly before the keynote address by Mr. Harry B. Spencer, Director of Instruction and Pupil Personnel Services at Central High School in Floral Park, New York.

Dr. R. Freeman Butts, Director, Division of Foundations of Education at Teachers College, Columbia University, will address the group on Friday, using the topic, "How Well is Maryland's Secondary Education Program Meeting the Needs of the Pupil?"

Sr Geoffrey Crowther, Chairman, Central Advisory Council for Education, England, will speak at the dinner meeting.

Dr. Cespedez To Speak At Assembly Tomorrow

Dr. Francisco Cespedez, assistant Chief, Division of Education, Department of Central Affairs for the Republic of Panama, will speak tomorrow, at the regular assembly period, 2 p. m., to the student body in Compton Hall Auditorium.

His topic will be "The Position of the Panama Republic with Regard to the Canal."

Dr. Cespedez is also the official representative of his nation to the Pan American Union.

Other outstanding assembly programs to be sponsored by the Assembly Committee this year include: Michel Senechal, a lyric tenor, at 8:15 p. m. on November 10; Rear Admiral Donald B. MacMillan, famed Arctic explorer on November 17, and Louis Untermeyer, poet and critic, on December 3.

Nemacolin Staff To Visit New York City

Colleen Nies, Sally Layman, Judy Kuhn, Jeanne Eichner

Four members of the Nemacolin staff and Dr. Samuel Underwood, advisor, will represent Frostburg State Teachers College at the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Conference and short course in yearbook production on October 15, 16, 17 and 18 on the Columbia University campus, New York City.

Throughout the country over 1500 representatives of colleges will take part in this nineteenth annual event to be directed by Dr. Joseph M. Murphy. Such topics as pictorial layouts, advertisements, printing and art work will be discussed.

Dr. Samuel Underwood, who has been an active member of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association for fifteen years, will head the discussion entitled "Orientation of Advisors to College Yearbooks."

While in New York City, the representatives will stay at the Taft Hotel. In between meetings, they will have an opportunity to visit the city. The convention will close with a luncheon in the Grand Ballroom of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

Who Should Our Leaders Be?

On every college campus there is a common need—good leadership. No matter what objective a certain group of individuals may have, there must be those who are willing to accept the primary responsibility of directing. The question in the minds of most students, however, is not "Do we need a leader?" but "Who should our leader be?"

Some feel that this responsibility lies mainly on the administrative staff and faculty. But actually, since the students themselves are the main beneficiaries of the learning experience sought for by their particular organization, they should be the first to make a move in that direction. We must remember, too, that not every student has the capability of being such a leader.

In order to have leaders for every organization on the campus, we must, as a student body, look for those intellectuals who want to make the most of their abilities, and encourage them to assume the responsibility of leadership in campus organization. We will probably focus our attention upon those students who are setting the pace in class, reading widely, and inquiring about what they do not understand. If we seek for and find these individuals, our campus life will be enriched through our own efforts spent in selecting leaders.

Sowing, Reaping—For What?

In this autumn season of harvest, students at Frostburg State are just beginning to sow their seeds. Into the fields of culture they go, seeking on their harvest day to reap a goodly store of knowledge.

New York City will be host to four enthusiastic members of the yearbook staff later this month. Their advisor, Dr. Samuel Underwood, will accompany them.

Our college newspaper, State-to-Date, will send representatives to the Columbia Scholastic Press Association in New York next March. There they will exchange journalistic ideas, and return to impart their new found knowledge, via the newspaper, throughout the school.

The Student Congress will send delegates to the Eastern States Conference in March also. This meeting enables the students to confer with others about student government.

The French and Spanish Clubs usually say bonjour and buenos dias respectively to Washington, D. C., and Pittsburgh. They are planning to learn more about the cultures of those two fine countries, Spain and France.

The Shakespeare class will travel to the Folger Library in Washington, D. C., in the spring. There they will see the best Shakespearean library in the world.

Alpha Psi Omega, Little Theatre and the Literary Circle will all travel to Jennerstown, Pennsylvania, this year. Included in these field trips will be a tour of the backstage, an introduction to many of the actors and actresses, and, most important, the seeing of a live stage performance. The trips will be inspirational and thought provoking.

Members of the International Relations Club have attended the model U. N. Conference at Montreal, Canada. They have also made field trips to New York to visit the United Nations.

Field trips are a necessity in college life. There is so much to gain and nothing to lose. Knowledge and culture are like two ripe fruits ready to be eaten. It is such a simple task to pluck them from the branches bending low before us.

'Committee-itis' Bug Plagues Our Campus

Do you find yourself making the rounds between your home or the dorm, the library, classes, and Lowndes Hall Social Room? Are you forever posting signs to yourself—like "Don't forget the publicity committee meeting at 7:00," and "Don't forget the Pogo Club meeting at 7:15," and "Don't forget to eat dinner."

I mean, are you just so swamped with clubs that your classes are considered extra curricular? Are you so sleepy that you drug yourself to stay awake to brush your teeth? You do! Well, you have every symptom of the infectious disease of "Committee-itis."

Or, in the vernacular, you have joined too many clubs. If you're a freshman, don't worry, this is your year for clubs. If you're a sophomore, well, lots of luck. If you're a junior or senior, then you are too smart to be in such a predicament anyway.

Is there a remedy for this accursed pestilence? Yes, there are several. First, every morning upon dragging yourself out of the arms of Morpheus, (that means sleep, naturally) just take your aspirin and look in the mirror and say, "I am a free-thinking individual. I can think . . . even for myself."

Now then, wasn't that easy! You repeat this every day; then when you are approached by someone who sorrowfully entreats you to help, say "NO."

Class Dilemma Ends; Frosh Happy Again

Hazing Week is over at last and, though most of us really had fun, we breathe a sigh of relief. During those three days none of us dared to walk bravely out of a door. We opened it a crack and peeped warily each way, to make sure there were no sophomores close, before we ventured out.

On Tuesday, shopping bags, Air-Raid signals, gum, and lifesavers were flying. Many of the talented members of our class gave song and dance numbers to entertain the upperclassmen.

I have a feeling that none of us will ever forget "Beep, Beep." I think the sophomores got as sick and tired of listening and auto-graphing as we did reciting. The wiener roast and tug-of-war on Wednesday night were lots of fun.

The girls in Simpson Hall loved the short-sheeted beds!

Except for the anticipation of "Bomb Night," quite a bit of the spirit and excitement of the previous two days unfortunately had subsided by Thursday. "Bomb Night" was looked forward to with mixed feelings by most of us; we knew it would be fun, but we were scared to death.

Perhaps the thing that made us accept all the craziness of those three days was the realization that next year it would be Our turn.

Students Do Crave A Perfect Campus

We, the students of Frostburg State Teachers College propose the following amendments to ye old college traditions and arrangements:

Article 1: Be it hereby enacted that bottom drawers of dressers be abolished forthwith. Knocking one's head on open top drawers is not exactly beneficial to the cerebral hemispheres.

Article 2: Be it further enacted that top bunks be declared public hazards. Should one become restless while sleeping, multiple fractures and concussions could result.

Article 3: Be it still further enacted that all lines of any way, shape or form be declared illegal on this campus. If all cafeteria and book store lines were eliminated, many, many hours could be saved.

Article 4: Be it still enacted that the "atmosphere" of the Day Room be improved. After all, it would be so simple! Add a few pieces of furniture on which one can sit and there you are with ever-lovin' livin' atmosphere. (A trifle of paint here and there shall be a blessing.)

Article 5: Be it established that lots on which we may place our automobiles be built, or expanded. It is sometimes inconvenient to park one's car in construction ditches, front yards, or on sidewalks and porches.

We, the students, realize that several of these proposed amendments may seem radical, but it can be assured that we would not be a happier, less radical group if these were only thought about.

Directors Announce Positions For Senior Student Teachers

Fifty-nine student teaching assignments for the first nine weeks of the first semester have been announced by Mr. John Dunn and Mr. Robert Jones, directors of practice for junior high school, and Mrs. Grace Kopp, director of practice in the elementary school.

Two student teachers are working in Prince Georges County. Alice Gaither is at Bladensburg Junior High School instructing core to grades eight and nine. Donald Murphy is also teaching core at Glenridge Junior High School.

Joyce Grubb and Arch Webster are teaching in Montgomery County. Mrs. Alice Jaffee is directing Miss Grubb in social studies while Mrs. Mary Deardourff is working with Mr. Webster in social studies. They are at Sligo Junior High School.

Congress Heads Begin Terms

At the All-College Administrative Assembly on Thursday, September 24, at 2 p. m., Harold Schriver was officially installed as president of the Student Congress by the College president, R. Bowen Hardesty.

Other officers introduced by the chairman, Don Wittig, and installed by the President, were Sterling Edwards, first vice president in absentia; Marvin Vann, second vice president; and Judith Ritchey, secretary.

In Mr. Schriver's speech of acceptance of the gavel of authority he presented two new proposed policies: (1) a leadership training program for club officers, and (2) a student Union board.

President Hardesty introduced the Administrative Staff and announced the two appointments replacing Mr. Frederic Westcott as registrar and Mrs. Helen Baker Silverthorne, social director. Miss Lillian Wellner, former physical education instructor, assumes the position of registrar and guidance counselor for the women students. Mr. John Allison, faculty member, is advisor or social coordinator for Student Congress and the Intra-Residence Council.

Following her introduction, Miss Wellner thanked the students for their cooperation in the new registration system and made several announcements concerning schedule changes, carrying overloads of 18 or more credit hours, the twenty minute lunch period, the need of sophomores for 64 credits before admittance to the professional (third year) program, the required post-practice teaching seminar, and the request that all students read the rules regarding probation and withdrawal in the Pathfinder, page 53, or the Catalog, page 13.

Mr. Allison officially welcomed the nurses, announced that day and boarding students could obtain their Pathfinder in 214 Lowndes Hall, explained the attendance policy, and urged all students to watch the weekly calendar.

Concluding the assembly, President Hardesty announced the Teachers Meeting holiday, October 14, 11:50 a. m. to October 19, 8:00 a. m.; the Dedication of the Thomas G. Pullen Laboratory School later this fall; and that the annual Maryland P. T. A. Conference is to be here.

News Briefs

That members of the Newman Club will have a hayride to Pleasant Valley tomorrow, October 8, has been announced by Leo Cangianelli, president.

On Sunday, October 11, a communion breakfast will be held following mass at St. Michael's Catholic church. Reverend Mr. Montgomery will be the guest speaker at the breakfast.

Other officers of the club are Michael Fabbin, vice president; Bettie Umstead, corresponding secretary; Ann Schwanebeck, recording secretary; and James Shertzer, treasurer. Miss Anna Comer is the advisor.

Practice for band members has been re-scheduled this year. The sessions have been set for 4 p. m. Mondays and Fridays.

Band officers for the 1959-60 season are John Zink, president; Wanda Tate, vice president; Lynn Tracy, secretary; Edward Lester and Ralph Nelson, co-treasurers; and Charles Bureaw, manager.

Co-captains of the majorettes are Lynn Tracy and Barbara Glatfely.

International Relations Club members attended a meeting of the World Federalists in Baltimore on Saturday, September 26.

I. R. C. members Donald Unger, Heidi Klose, Helen Herboldsheimer, accompanied by Dr. Hazel Ramsay, their advisor, visited the World Federalists, who are working toward International Law, to observe their action.

Officers of the I. R. C., elected last May, are Helen Herboldsheimer, president; Betty Swartley, vice president; Heidi Klose, secretary; Carolina Agnolotto, treasurer; and Pat O'Donnell and Jane Guard, members-at-large.

Plans for the designing of a float for the Homecoming Parade were the main topic of discussion at the first meeting of the Art Club held September 23, in Old Main.

President Janet Beadle announced that the club would enter a float in the annual affair. She asked club members to sketch their ideas for the float and bring these drawings to the next meeting, which was held September 30.

Other officers of the organization include Jean Cummings, vice president, and Helen Cummings, secretary-treasurer. Mr. William Stewart is the faculty advisor.

Sponsored by the Do-Ci-Do Club, an all-college record hop was held on Friday, October 2, from 7-11 p. m. in Allegany Gym.

At a recent meeting, plans were made for future fall activities. The agenda includes a hayride, a roller skating party, and all-college square dance.

On Saturday, September 26, about twenty Outdoor Club members tramped the five-mile hike to John's Rock and back among the autumn-colored trees.

The club is planning many such hikes and excursions under the leadership of Sterling Edwards, president, and Mr. Don Emerson, advisor.

The Wesley Club will have its first meeting of the year tonight in Allegany Hall 102 at 6 p. m.

There will be a worship service, a business meeting, and a talk by Mr. John P. Allison, instructor in Psychology, on the subject "Motivation."

The sponsors of the club are Rev. Robert Current of the Frostburg Methodist Church and Mr. Thomas Hutcheson, instructor in English.

In order to plan their agenda for the coming year, the Baptist Student Union will hold a meeting, October 15, at 6:30 p. m. in Old Main 203.

Reverend E. Elwood Settle of the English Baptist Church and Reverend Wesley Harris of the Welch Memorial Church are the pastor advisors, while the faculty advisor is Mrs. Martha Flickinger.

All-Student Election Set For Tomorrow

Sponsored by the Student Congress of the Student Association, the All-College Recall Election will begin tomorrow, October 8.

Highlighting the voting will be the election, by the entire College, of a Homecoming queen. The queen will be chosen from three senior nominees. The girl receiving the greatest vote will reign as queen during Homecoming activities, while the remaining two seniors will serve as her attendants.

Another important office on the ballot will be that of Student Congress treasurer. Nominees for this office are Leo Cangianelli, Eugene Kidwell, Virginia Smith, and Lois Sweitzer.

Freshman class officers and freshman representatives to Student Congress will be selected by the entire college from a chart of nominees chosen by the freshman class. This will also take place during the All-College election.

This year's Student Congress officers are as follows: Harold Schriver, president; Sterling Edwards, first vice president; Marvin Vann, second vice president; and Judy Ritchey, secretary.

Serving as the new Student Congress advisor is Mr. John Allison. Mr. Allison succeeds Mrs. Helen Silverthorne who has accepted a position as Dean of Women at Colorado State University in Boulder, Colorado.

president of the Allegany County Chapter.

Prior to his position in the Music Department, Mr. James Pierce taught at the Kansas City and New England Conservatories of Music and was the Music Supervisor of Braintree Public Schools. He obtained his B. S. degree in music in 1951 from Friends College, Wichita, Kansas, and his M. A. from the Conservatory of Music, Kansas City, in 1955.

Mr. John O. Schlump, former supervisor of art for Delta, Ohio, is now teaching fundamentals of design at Frostburg. He received his BFA and BSE degrees from Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio, and his M. A. degree from Michigan State University.

Miss Janet A. Thomas, who is an instructor in physical education and health, comes from Morgantown, West Virginia, where she also earned her B. S. and M. S. degrees. Before coming to FSTC she had a graduate assistantship at Fredericksburg, Virginia, and taught at Mary Washington College.

New Phys. Science Instructor

Mr. Thomas Turner, physical science instructor, received his A. B. from Penn State College in 1951, and his M. A. from the same institution the following year. A native of York County, Pennsylvania, Mr. Turner formerly taught in the Pennsylvania and New York school systems.

Dr. Samuel Underwood, English instructor and advisor to the Nemacolin staff, received both his B. A. and M. A. degrees from the University of North Carolina. He completed his doctor of philosophy work at Michigan State University in 1958, and has taught at Grove City, Pennsylvania; Michigan State University, and Furman University.

The Physical Science and General Biology Departments have as an addition Mr. Glenn O. Workman, Jr. Before coming to Frostburg, Mr. Workman was an instructor at both the University of West Virginia and at Salem College in Winston Salem, North Carolina. A graduate of the University of West Virginia, he earned his Bachelor of Science in Education and his Master of Science in Botany.

New Kindergarten Instructor

Mrs. Emma Richards Young, kindergarten instructor in the Pullen School, previously had private kindergarten for five years and was in charge of the Child Care Center in Cumberland at West Side Elementary School. She did her graduate work in primary education at Columbia University, and the University of Maryland.

Mr. Paul Glod, physical education, health, and tennis instructor, previously served as a high school athletic coach near Philadelphia. A graduate of West Virginia Wesleyan, Mr. Glod received his M. A. from West Virginia University.

Fifteen Veteran Lettermen Ready For Soccer Play

Veteran Squad Back Winning Team Seen By Coach Babcock

By Larry Stup

Fifteen returning letter men and three veteran players head the soccer team this year.

The returning veterans include three seniors, five juniors, and nine sophomores. They are headed by two returning All Southern Conference selections, Norm "Diz" Nightingale, and Roy "Muggs" Sigler.

Other letter winners are Howie Gilpin, Jim Lupis, Ronald "Butch" Young, Art Scarpelli, Don Amoruso, Jim Kelly, Ronnie Mann, Al George, Tom Swauger, Gerry Llewellyn, Adolf Doerk, Geoff "Buzz" Whitmore, and "Big Bill" Patton. Vets, but not lettermen, returning are Jim Swauger, Art Isom, and John Mummert.

Team Looks Good

Coach Kenneth Babcock is anticipating a fine season and from the results of the first game, the Cats gave notice to their opponents that they will be ready and tough.

Against the University of Pitt JV's, the Bobcats scored a 4-0 victory. "Butch" Young cashed in two points, Ronnie Mann bucketed the third, and Jim Kelly made the fourth.

Two transfer students are also playing a big part in the success of the team this year. They are Joe Loveless, a transfer student from Slippery Rock, and Sam Holliday, from the University of Maryland.

Newcomers to the team this year include George Lauder and Hank Winner, aces of the undefeated Valley High Soccer team. John Geron played his soccer in Europe. Bill Henaghan and Ira Riley are sophomores on the squad. Other freshmen are Jim Graham, Bob Funk, Bob Hacker, Mark Bittner, Jim Stakem, Lehigh Miller, and Bob Erickson.

This Friday the squad travels to Towson to tangle with Salisbury State Teachers. They travel next to Mt. Saint Mary's at Emmitsburg, Penn State at University Park, Grove City at Grove City, and then come home for the Homecoming Game against American University on October 24.

Soccer Finals Beckon

This year the NAIA is holding a national soccer tournament for all teams with qualifying records. Teams from the South will journey to Slippery Rock to try and kick the Southern Championship ball home to their school. The winner from the "Rock" will compete against teams from the West, North, and East, to determine the national soccer champs.

The first regular meeting of WRA will be held Tuesday, October 13. This meeting is open to all girls at State: resident, day and boarding students. All girls are automatically members of the association.

Miss Dorothy Hilliard and Miss Janet Thomas, new women's physical education instructors, will take over for Miss Lillian Wellner who held the advisorship of WRA previously. The Women's Recreation Association looks forward to another active year.

The officers for the coming year include Jane Bollinger, senior, and Mary Angle, junior, co-presidents; vice president, Barbara Wiles, senior; Linda Smith, recording secretary, and Priscilla House, corresponding secretary, both sophomores, and treasurer, Deanna Knepper, junior.

The outline of activities for the year includes volleyball, bowling, basketball, badminton, and swimming. Also planned are playdays both here on campus and at other colleges. Volleyball practice began Wednesday, September 30, with a turnout from all classes. The freshmen were out in full force and have several teams. This proves to be a challenge to all upper-classmen, but they are in there all the way.

Hoping For Soccer Finals

Mr. Paul Glod New 'Cat Coach

Mr. Paul Glod is certain to be an asset to Frostburg State Teacher's College. The newest addition to the State athletic staff is the possessor of a fine background in athletics.

Mr. Glod hails from Brownsville, Pennsylvania. He is married and Mrs. Glod is presently teaching in Mt. Savage.

Mr. Paul Glod

Mr. Glod attended West Virginia Wesleyan where he played three years of basketball and football. He also served in the capacity of physical fitness instructor in the Air Corps, and played three years of basketball there. Also while in the Air Corps, Mr. Glod made a tour of the Pacific with the Service All-Star cage team.

Following the war, Mr. Glod was employed at Marietta College of Ohio as head grid mentor and assistant cage coach for three years. During his employment at Marietta he received his M. A. from West Virginia University.

Following this, Mr. Glod held a position at Indiana University as freshman grid coach and director of physical education. He also served as grid mentor at Nebraska State Teachers College for one year, in which time he led his charges to a 6-2 record.

Mr. Glod has had experience as a high school coach also. He has held two such positions, one at a school in the suburbs of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and the second in a school near Philadelphia.

The position at the Philadelphia school was Mr. Glod's last before his coming to Frostburg. He is presently serving State in the capacity of physical education, health, and tennis instructor.

Mr. Paul Glod's athletic knowledge and experience can only make his career a successful one at State.

Harold's Herald

By Harold Schriver

With the advent of another soccer season, at least one of the two perennial problems seems to have been solved. Of course, Coach Babcock and his soccer team may have many more problems, but these two I'm about to mention are the most prevalent and the hardest with which to cope.

The one that seems to be at least partially solved is squad membership. The other is fan participation. Off-times in previous years Coach Babcock practically had to ask for volunteers, so his first team could have a formidable scrimmage. Many times only twelve to fifteen boys reported to practice. This small number was not only disheartening to the coach, and the squad, but also presented a dismal picture to the student body.

Student Morale Suffers

You readers no doubt question how a small squad could affect the morale of the student body. Let's be honest with each other. Place yourself as a fan, would you go see a team whose own members didn't have enough spirit to report to practices?

You may answer yes to the previous question, but seriously in an unconscious way your reaction would be the same as that of the other 99 per cent of the student body.

Now, knowing that you are versatile, place yourself as a player. How would you like to play before a sparse crowd of 25 to 30 fans when your school has an enrollment of 844? Certainly, you should agree with me that this thing of morale is a reciprocating situation.

Now, you ask each other, "What can I do about it?" The answer plainly and bluntly is "Plenty." Pride in your own team should lead you to the soccer field, Compton Gym, or baseball diamond, or wherever the home team engages an opponent.

I stated earlier that the first problem seems to have been solved. That one is team membership and enthusiasm.

Biggest Team Yet

Never in the history of the school has Coach Babcock had such a large, enthusiastic group. Enthusiasm and spirit are running high in the practices and to prove this, many veterans are being pressed by newcomers for team positions. This is the best possible solution to the first problem.

It could be that the morale boost has been fostered by the possibility of an invitation to Slippery Rock for regional soccer honors. This is the first year for such a set-up and the team has reacted in a truly competitive spirit.

The team has done more than its share to solve these problems. Now it is up to you. With such home soccer games as American University, arch rival Fairmont, Virginia Military Institute, and arch-arch-rival Slippery Rock, you should be more than anxious and willing to back your team. The fan participation, especially at home, can make or break a good team. This team we have this year is a great one.

Line Returns

With a strong front line composed of an entire veteran aggregation, the team promises to give a good accounting of itself. The front line members include All-Southern "Muggs" Sigler, Ronnie Mann, "Butch" Young, Howie Gilpin, and Geoff Whitmore. These fellows are now playing together for the second year and have acquired a great asset in varsity sports—that of teamwork.

The team deserves and expects the support of the entire student body. Certainly you will not let the team down. Knowing nothing about soccer is the poorest excuse ever offered for not attending.

How could you possibly expect to learn something about anything if you don't give it a trial at first hand? Basically, that means attendance at the games. The team has done its share, now it's up to you.

How about it?

State's Intramural Touch Football League To Host Teams Under New Director Glod

Whistles blew at 6:00 p. m. September 30, thus marking the beginning of the 1959 intramural touch football season at State. Four of the seven league teams clashed early on this, the third year of intramural sport at Frostburg. This year the league is being directed by Mr. Paul Glod, destined to head State's first gridiron team next year.

New Athletes To Determine Team Success

With the vast influx of freshmen to our campus this year, it should come as no surprise that a number of them will participate on varsity athletic teams.

Soccer is one example of freshmen stepping into shoes vacated since last season. The loss of both Dorsey Johnson and Ed Truly, regular fullbacks, created a spot for Hank Winner and George Lauder, both late of Valley High School.

John Garon from Bethesda Chevy Chase, and Jim Graham of Gwynn Park are conceded a chance of breaking into the starting lineup before the curtain falls on this season. Two sophomore transfer students, Sam Holliday and Joe Loveless, are expected to see considerable action.

Many other freshmen are on the team's roster. They include: Bob Erickson, Fort Hill; Lee Miller, Fort Hill; Mark Bittner, Mt. Savage; John Fradiska, Allegany; Jim Stakem, Valley; Bob Funk, Allegany, and Bob Hacker, Allegany.

The basketball squad will find several faces among the freshmen to rejoice over. With the majority of last year's team returning, the team will also be strengthened by the addition of High School All-American George Lauder.

Hank Winner, a teammate of Lauder at Valley, is certain to give the team a boost. In addition to Joe "Cookie" Nash from Oxon Hill, Jack Weltman, who played as a member of Fort Hill's state champions of 1958, and Glenn Davis, a regular forward at Allegany, will help build up the team.

Baseball will undoubtedly receive strength from the ranks of the frosh. Here, too, a goodly number of veterans will be available to Coach Cordts, but some key players, lost through graduation, will be missed.

Freshman players will have to plug these holes. Again George Lauder's name will undoubtedly be on a varsity team's roster. Joe Nash will help bolster the infield and Jack Weltman could give the pitching corps a lift with his south-paw slants.

Track is definitely going to need the support of the frosh cinder burners.

Floyd Grimm, all around trackman from Fort Hill, will give Frostburg a threat in the pole vault.

Mike Holshey, also of Fort Hill, will give the team some assistance in the high jump, the hurdles, and the broad jump. Two runners, Gary Holtzman and Lee Miller, will perform in the 880.

Each team consists of twelve men with six on the field at one time. Two twenty-five minute periods constitute a complete game. The officials are Butch Young, Ronnie Mann, Geoff Whitmore, Jim Lupis, Bob Dawson, Mike Cunningham, John Yantz, and Muggs Sigler.

Enthusiasm among individuals is running high as the practice sessions whip the boys into shape. Teams vying to win the championship won by the Shamrocks last season are the Colts, Bears, Giants, Bobcats, Mountaineers, the Falcons, and the Angels.

Carrying on this week's schedule, the Bobcats meet the Mountaineers and the Falcons try to round up the tough Colts tonight at 6:00 p. m. Tomorrow night both the Mountaineers and Colts meet head-on with the Angels and the Bears respectively. To round-out this week, the Bobcats tangle with the Falcons and the Giants will be out to corral the Hosses.
