SCHOOL EXAMINERS.

County Boards Can Remove Under The New School Law.

Princess Anne, Md. June 11.—Judges Page and Holland filed their decision today in the mandamus proceedings instituted by William H. Dashiell, the newly appointed school examiner for Somerset county under the new School Board, against Robert F. Duer, the examiner under the old Board of School Commissioners.

The proceedings were instituted for the purpose of determining the right of the new School Board to appoint an examiner under the act of 1900. Mr. Duer declined to hand over to his successor the books and papers belonging to his office, contending that the power of removal was vested only in the State Board of Education and then only for inefficiency, incompetency or moral delinquency.

The court in its decision, says the act of 1900, as to the sixth section, is an amendment of the previous act and the continuity of the original provision is not interrupted. So conditioned it is clear that section 18, so far as the examiner is concerned, would have afforded no bar to the School Commissioners lately in office to appoint, after removal by them an examiner at pleasure. By the section the board are required to appoint an examiner for the first time on the first Tuesday of August in 1893. For subsequent appointment there is no provision made. The term of the school examiner is not fixed. He takes office for no definite term and therefore holds it at the will of the appointing power. This power of removal, it is contended, is taken from them by implication by the provision which authorizes the State Board to suspend or remove under the eleventh section. This power, together with that of the removal of teachers, is given to the State Board, to enable it more perfectly to cause the provisions of this article to be called into effect, and not as a limitation on the authority of the School Board of the counties. The State Board can only remove for inefficiency, or incompetency, or moral delinquency, but there are many cases where the examiner may not be open to censure for any of these reasons, yet for other reasons should give place to another person better adapted to perform acceptably the duties of the office.

Moreover such removal would be desirable when the incumbent was not personally agreeable to the board. In this and other cases that might be mentioned the board has power to remove. The State Board may not be expected to exercise its power to remove unless the county board retain in office an incompetent or improper person.

Y. M. C. A. Entertainment.

Lecture, song and story, is something entirely new, highly entertaining and furnishes for all classes an evening of refined and elegant pleasure. The program created and rendered by Prof. S. S. and A. K. Handy of Virginia, consists first of a magnificent and sublime dramatization of Milton's "Paradise Lost," with music and superb illustrations. This is very impressive and beautiful, as well as instructive. The second part of the program is in lighter vein, consisting of songs, stories and musical novelties that never fail to bring down the house. An inimitable duet scene closes the program. These gentlemen come highly indorsed by such men as Hon. J. L. M. Curry, President William L. Wilson, and others equally well known. The president of famous Bingham School, in North Carolina says: "It is the best entertainment I've ever attended." "The finest thing I've ever seen," says the president of the B. Y. P. U., in Stanton, Va. "It was delightful," News and Observer, Raleigh, N. C. "Sublime and grand," News, Lynchburg, Va.

These gentlemen will present their entertainment in The Little Opera House, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., on Friday evening, June 22. Admission 25 and 35 cents.

Seats on sale at White and Leonard's Drug store.

The following is a list of the letters remaining in the Salisbury, Md. Post Office, Saturday, June 2nd, 1900. Miss Olivia Jones, Mr. W. R. Turner, Mr. L. M. Parsons, Mr. John White, Mr. Henrie E. Jones, Mr. Wm. W. Waller and Mr. Daniel H. Wards. Persons calling for these letters will please say they are advertised. E. S. ADKINS, Postmaster.

—You will miss one of the best entertainments of the season if you fail to hear the Handys on Friday night, June 22, at the Little Opera House.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

A Reduction of Two Cents in the 1900 Tax Rate.

Last Tuesday the Board of County Commissioners met at their office in the Court House and declared the levy for the year 1900, fixing the tax rate at seventy-eight and a quarter cents on the hundred dollars. This with the state tax of 17½ cents added will make the tax for state and county purposes 95½ cents. The taxes last year were 98 cents, thus Wicomico tax payers will save two cents on the hundred dollars. The commissioners thought best to not make a larger reduction in the rate at this time, as the policy of the Board is, and will continue to be, progressive, and public improvements will not be permitted to suffer in order that a big reduction in taxes might be made. The reduction, though small, will be appreciated by the tax-payer, and it is in the direction which gives hope of greater relief in the future.

The corporation of Salisbury was voted an additional $100 making the annual contribution from the county $600. The Council asked for $1000, urging that the extension of the corporate limits by the last legislature thereby increased the town's burdens and lessened the county's responsibility to that extent, as by the extension the town assumes the case of the extended streets which were previously roads and as such a charge on the county.

Following are the largest items levied: Election expenses, $2,153.41; road supervisors, $1,652.81; road supplies and bridges, $1,500; alms house, $1,500; jail and court house, $500; court expenses, $2,500; public schools, $11,000; town of Salisbury, $600; Hospital for the insane, $3,000; Peninsula General Hospital, $800; pensions, $2,000; insolvencies, $1,500.

The assessable basis of the county for 1900 is $5,767,644.00.

The Board will be in session again Tuesday June 26th.

Sale of Bank Stock.

Quite a good deal of interest was attached to the sale of ten shares of the stock of the Salisbury National Bank and fifteen shares of the First National Bank of Snow Hill, Md., which was sold in Baltimore on Thursday. The Snow Hill stock was very eagerly bid for and was finally sold at $161 per share to a Mr. Waters of Baltimore, a director of the bank. The ten shares of the Salisbury National Bank stock was bought by Mr. J. Cleveland White for parties in Salisbury at $196 per share. There were a number of prominent business men of Baltimore present, ready to pick up bargains, but those closest to the two institutions had their representatives on hand and secured the stocks. The eagerness, with which these shares were sought, speaks in a very significant way of the confidence in which the management of both institutions are held.

Death of Miss Irma L. Williams.

Miss Irma Laws Williams, the twelve year old daughter of Mrs. Ida G. Williams, died last Saturday night about two o'clock, at the home of her mother on Main Street.

Mrs. Williams, widow of the late John H. Williams who died about eleven years ago, moved from Pittsville to Salisbury last January in order that her children might have better educational advantages. Miss Irma was taken sick in March and after many weeks of intense suffering she passed away quietly as one in sleep. Her disease was scarlet fever.

An older sister, Miss Bessie Williams, survives her.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon, conducted by Dr. Reigart, and were largely attended. Her favorite hymn, "I Have Anchored My Soul," was sung. The remains were interred in the family burial ground on the Williams farm near Delmar, by the side of her father, according to her request. The pall bearers were Roy Gordy, Clarence Davis, Jay Ewing and Kellal Ewing.

Many beautiful floral designs were sent by relatives and sympathetic friends.

—The Spooner Dramatic Company have been fulfilling a weeks engagement at the Ulman Opera House since Monday last. The costumes of the company are very good and the characters as a rule are exceedingly well taken. There will be an entire change of program at every performance. On Saturday afternoon there will be a matinee, at which "A Lawyers Wedding" will be presented. The admission will be ten cents to any seat in the house.

TO FARMERS' CLUBS.

How They May Secure Better Roads in Their Respective Communities.

Mr. Harry Fielding Reid, chief of the Highway Division, Maryland Geological Survey, has addressed the following letter to the Farmers' clubs of the state.

"It is believed that much money is now spent on the roads to little advantage because no definite knowledge of the cost of a contemplated improvement is at hand before the work is begun. Thus it is often the case that an improvement has been begun which the money at hand was insufficient to finish properly, resulting in a very inefficient use of the funds; whereas the same sum concentrated on a smaller length of roadway might have made a substantial permanent improvement.

The Highway Division, with the many practical illustrations of this kind in mind, considers that no more useful piece of work can be found than supplying beforehand the data for estimating as closely as possible the cost of proposed road improvements. No interference with the powers of the road officials in the different counties is at all contemplated or possible. It is merely desired that they shall know of the opportunity which exists for them to obtain estimates for road work with little or no expense to the county.

Past experience has shown, in addition to helping the county officials, that much can be done by offering the same aid to the farmers of different neighborhoods who propose to improve the roads in their vicinity at their own expense. The same aid which would be given to the county officials will be given to any organized effort on the part of the people themselves.

Those directly interested in a proposed improvement should petition the County Commissioners or other officials, as the case may be, requesting that a report on the cost be made by the Highway Division before beginning the work.

The permanent improvement of the roads of the state can only be secured by the efforts of many influential persons and it is hoped that clubs will do all in their power towards the encouragement of an efficient and economical system of road construction; the first step in this direction is to have at hand a full knowledge of the cost of the different ways it may be possible to improve a given piece of road together with the relative values of the various road-making materials that can be obtained.

It is further asked that clubs make known to the County Commissioners that they have received this communication and, should it seem advisable, to request them to give this matter their serious attention. They would do this the more readily if they recognized it was considered a matter of vital interest by such organizations as the farmers' clubs."

POSTMASTERS SALARIES.

Increase in A Number Of Maryland Offices.

Washington June 14.—The Postoffice Department today made public the annual readjustment of salaries of postmasters effective on July 1. It shows the following changes in Maryland:

As will be seen from the above the salary of the Salisbury postmaster has been increased from $2000 to $2200.

Postmaster Adkins has worked hard to give the public efficient service and to increase the sales of the office.

The editors of the ADVERTISER hope that when the readjustment of salaries is made next year Salisbury will again appear among the list of those increased.

No. 55. "Mother Goose" was a real character, and not an imaginary personage as has been supposed. Her maiden name was Elizabeth Foster, and she was born in 1685. She married Isaac Goose in 1685, and a few days after became a member of Old South Church, Boston and died in 1757, aged ninety two years.

The first edition of her songs, which were originally sung to her grand children, was published in Boston in 1716 by her son-in-law, Thomas Fleet. The house in which a great part of her life was spent, was a low, one story building, with dormer windows, and a red tiled roof, looking something like an old English country cottage.

No. 56. The so-called Seven Wise Men of Greece were Pittacus of Mitylene, Bias of Priene, Solon of Athens, Chilon of Laedæmon, Cleobulus of Lyndus, Perander of Corinth and Thales of Miletus. The origin of the title, Seven Wise Men, was as follows: Some fishermen of Miletus sold a draught of fishes to some by-standers before the net was drawn in. When the net came in, there was also in the net a golden tripod. The fishermen claimed they had sold only the fish; the by-standers claimed they had bought the whole draught. To settle the dispute they referred the matter to the Oracle of Delphi. Being ordered to adjudge the tripod to the wisest man in Greece, they offered it to their fellow citizen Thales, but he modestly replied that there was a wiser man than he and sent it to Bias. He also declined the honor, and sent the tripod to another, and in this way it passed through the hands of seven individuals, who were ever after called the "Seven Wise Men of Greece."

The tripod was finally deposited in the Temple of Apollo at Delphi. These seven wise men met together but twice, once at Delphi, and once at Corinth.

The chief maxim of each was as follows: "Know thy opportunity."—Pittacus. "Most men are bad."—Bias. "Know thyself."—Solon. "Consider the end."—Chilon. "Avoid excess."—Cleobulus. "Nothing is impossible to industry."—Perander. "Societyship is the precursor of ruin."—Thales.

No. 57. It has been said of Dr. Samuel Johnson, that "he sat in his easy chair, and was for twenty years the literary oracle of the world." He was a famous English writer, born in Lichfield in 1709. In 1755 he completed his dictionary after eight years of solid labor upon it. It was the first large dictionary of the English language; and the research upon all subjects which this one work required entitled him to be looked upon as an oracle. Besides his dictionary, he published many other works. His "Rasselas, Prince of Abyssinia," a story is said to have been written in the evenings of a single week, to defray the expenses of his mother's funeral. In 1782 he emerged from the poverty which had surrounded and hampered him, as it did most literary men of that period; Lord Bute having conferred on him a pension of three hundred pounds a year.

His "Lives of the Poets" was his last literary work of importance. He died December 13 1794, and was buried in St. Paul's Cathedral.

A New Order At Shraptown.

For some time there has been a growing sentiment in Shraptown among the ladies for a secret organization, as nearly every young man, and most of the old ones, belong to some secret order. On Thursday night of last week, the desire of forty-one ladies was met, by an introduction into the secret mysteries of an organization known as the Daughters of Rebecca, an adjunct to the odd fellows. State officers, Grand Master John Bell, Grand Secretary John Jones and Grand Warren Anderson were present and administered the secret rites. The order meets in the large Odd Fellows Hall over S. J. Cooper & Sons' store. The following ladies are officers: Noble Grand Mrs. Margie Cooper, Vice Grand Miss Hester Bradley, Recording Secretary Miss Lena Cooper, Financial Secretary Miss Maud Eaton and Treasurer Mrs. Alexine Elzey.

Does Your Baking Powder Contain Alum?

Prof. Geo. F. Barker, M.D., University of Penn.: "All the constituents of alum remain (from alum baking powders) in the bread, and the alum itself is reproduced to all intents and purposes when the bread is dissolved by the gastric juice in the process of digestion. I regard the use of alum as highly injurious."

Dr. Alonzo Clark: "A substance (alum) which can derange the stomach should not be tolerated in baking powder."

Prof. W. G. Tucker, New York State Chemist: "I believe it (alum) to be decidedly injurious when used as a constituent of food articles."

Prof. S. W. Johnson, Yale College: "I regard their (alum and soluble alumina salts) introduction into baking powders as most dangerous to health."

In view of such testimony as this, every care must be exercised by the housewife to exclude the over and over condemned cheap, alum baking powders from the food.

Baking powders made from cream of tartar, which is highly refined grape acid, are promotive of health, and more efficient. No other kind should be used in leavening food. Royal Baking Powder is the highest example of a pure cream of tartar powder.

Better than none

You'd much rather have Oxford ties than no shoes at all wouldn't you? Some folks won't have anything else even though they don't get as much leather in them.

What's the use, anyhow, in covering the foot and ankle so completely in warm weather? The Oxford Tie is easier and cooler and a bit cheaper than the shoe. It is the really sensible thing for summer wear, and when you can buy them for as small amount as you wish to pay, why, you would be foolish to go without them.

THE BURGHERS FLEEING

Complete Victory of Methuen and Kitchener Over De Wet.

GEN. BOTHA STILL UNDEFEATED,

But the Soldiers of Lord Roberts Gained Considerable Ground in a Battle on Monday—Cape Premier Schreiner and Colleagues Resign.

London, June 14.—The dispatch from Lord Roberts clearing up the situation at Pretoria and along the communications stands alone. Military observers, noting that no mention is made of prisoners, assumes that Gen. De Wet got away with his forces practically intact.

According to Lord Roberts' dispatch his line of communication has been practically restored by means of a complete victory gained by Gen. Methuen and Gen. Kitchener over Gen. De Wet at the Rhenoster river June 12. The Boer camp was captured and the burghers. It is added, were scattered in all directions.

Lord Roberts, on being notified of the cutting of his line of communications, sent Gen. Kitchener in all haste to join Gen. Methuen. June 11 Lord Roberts attacked Gen. Botha, who was in strong force 15 miles southeast of Pretoria. After strenuous opposition the British forces gained considerable ground, but Gen. Botha, when Lord Roberts left the field, was still undefeated.

All is quiet at Pretoria and Johannesburg, and Lord Roberts says the government need have no apprehension about the security of the army in South Africa, as it will not take long to remedy the reverses and repair the railroad.

Gen. Buller entered Volksrust yesterday, passed through Charleston, and encamped near Laings Nek. The tunnel was not much damaged. Both ends were blown up, but the engineers think that repairs can be effected in about four days.

The advance troops of Gen. Buller saw the Boer guard, four miles distant, yesterday. It was estimated that 8,000 Boers were withdrawing. The townspeople at Edmeo counted 15 guns.

Three hundred Free Staters, released from guarding Van Reens Pass, have gone to join President Steyn's command in the eastern part of Orange River colony. Gen. Buller has sent notice to the Free Staters that, unless they surrender by June 15, their farms and other possessions will be confiscated.

President Kruger, according to a dispatch from Lourenço Marques, keeps a locomotive with steam up attached to the car in which he concentrates the executive offices of the government, and that he intends to leave Mafeking soon and to establish the Transvaal capital at Nel Spruit, in the mountains, a fine defensive region.

Mr. Schreiner, the Cape premier, and his colleagues resigned last evening, Sir Alfred Milner accepting their resignations. The London papers only recently abused Mr. Schreiner for not making war preparations. Now they are complimenting his refusal to follow the majority of the Afrikaner band in opposition to the British military policy.

It is learned by press representatives that the government has at last decided upon a plan for the civil settlement of South Africa. The details are kept most secret, but it can safely be said that the Orange River colony and the Transvaal will become crown colonies, the latter probably being renamed the Transvaal colony. Sir Alfred Milner, it is declared, is to be high commissioner of South Africa. It is believed, though it cannot be verified, that a portion of the Transvaal will be partitioned off to Natal.

The war office casualty returns up to June 9 aggregate 23,664, besides 792 officers and 12,356 men sent home as invalids, but not including the sick in South African hospitals.

Rev. Dr. Swallow Would Decline.

Harrisburg, June 14.—Rev. Dr. S. C. Swallow, of this city, whose name is being mentioned in connection with the nomination for president by the Prohibition national convention at Chicago, said today that ordinarily such a nomination would be considered an honor second to none, and that to talk of accepting or rejecting a nomination was not tendered would not be good taste. He added that four years of living at the short end of the lever for better government in Pennsylvania had begotten a weariness that prompts him to shun rather than seek the excitement and fatigue of another campaign, and that health conditions, business relations and financial considerations all prompt him to decline the honor if it should be tendered.

Gave His Life For Another.

Jackson, Mich., June 14.—Robert O. Emmons was fishing off the bridge and the boy was playing there, when the latter fell into the water. Emmons immediately jumped in after him, but became tangled in the weeds at the bottom, and both were drowned.

The murderer then turned the revolver upon himself and sent a bullet into his head. The wound will be fatal.

A COMMITTEE REBUKE

To Federal Office Holders in Alabama Republican Contests.

RIVAL FACTIONS OF DELAWARE.

The Contest Between the Dupont and Addicks Followers Referred to a Special Committee, With Instructions to Work For Harmony.

Philadelphia, June 14.—The Republican national committee met at the Hotel Walton yesterday and immediately began the investigation of contests preparatory to the formation of the temporary roll for the national convention. Chairman Hanna was not present when the committee was convened and Mr. Henry D. Payne, member from Wisconsin, was chosen to preside in his place. Senator Hanna came in later, but he did not assume the duties of the chair, and it is said Mr. Payne will continue to act as chairman.

The entire afternoon session was devoted to hearing the recital of testimony and to arguments in the contest from the state of Alabama. The principal development of the day consisted in bringing out the fact that the federal office holders in Alabama and some of those from the state who are employed in Washington had been extremely active in shaping the result of contests for delegates.

So palpable did it become that the federal patronage was the principal object in view that the committee was not long in reaching a decision to practically exclude all the contesting delegates from the temporary organization of the convention except those from the Ninth district. These were Dr. J. W. Hughes and Addison Wimbs, both of the so-called Vaughan faction.

Senator Payne then introduced a resolution calling upon the president to investigate the Alabama charges and take action. The resolution will undoubtedly pass.

The evening session of the committee was devoted to the Delaware contest, Walter H. Hayes appearing for the Addicks or "Union" Republican contestants and Levi C. Bird for the Dupont or "Regular" Republican delegation. Both sides claimed to be the only regular organization, and members of the committee tried to effect a compromise. Addicks' followers were willing, but Mr. Hayes said he had no authority to make concessions. At 12:15 this morning the controversy was referred to a committee with instructions to harmonize the differences of the two parties if possible.

In an interview Senator Hanna declared the president had no choice for a vice presidential candidate. He repeated his opposition to Mr. Woodruff, of New York, declared that Mr. Bliss cannot accept, and asserted that Senator Allison positively refused to permit the use of his name. He refused to discuss the chances of Congressman Dolliver, of Iowa.

Almost every state and territory is already represented here, but no solid delegations have yet made their appearance with the exception of Alabama and Delaware. Probably most of the delegates in town are from the south, and a fair proportion of these are colored. Only three or four of the national committee are absent, and their places are being filled by proxies from their respective states. Conspicuous among the absent committee men is ex-Senator M. E. Quay, of Pennsylvania. Mr. Quay's proxy is held by Senator Penrose. Mr. Quay is expected Saturday.

Increased Pay For Postal Clerks.

Washington, June 14.—The officials of the postoffice department today made public the changes in salaries of clerks and ratings of postoffices, which will go into effect at the beginning of the next fiscal year. The salaries of about 5,000 clerks will be increased, the added compensation averaging about $100 a year in each case. When this change is made none of the old clerks in first class offices will receive less than $600 a year. A number of new clerks have been appointed, however, at $500 per annum.

Dr. Storrs died of blood poisoning from the operation ten days later.

CHINESE ENTRENCHING

To Oppose the March of the Foreign Allies on Peking.

GUNS TRAINED ON THE MISSION.

United States Minister Conger Asks For 2,000 Troops—Two Thousand Boxers Put to Flight by Sixteen British Marines.

London, June 14.—The Chinese are entrenching outside of Peking to oppose the advance of the international column. A dispatch from Tien Tsin, dated Tuesday, June 12, says:

"I learn that the Chinese have guns trained on the American mission and the British legation."

"Two thousand Russian cavalry and infantry, with artillery, have landed at Taku."

The Shanghai correspondents report that United States Minister Conger, by courier, asks for 2,000 United States troops.

The leading members of the reform party, representing 15 out of 18 provinces, are at Shanghai. A dispatch to The Daily Mail dated yesterday says they are sending a petition to the United States, Great Britain and Japan praying those powers to take joint action against any attempt on the part of the other powers to partition the empire, and they implore the powers thus addressed to rescue the emperor.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg says that the ships of the Russian Pacific squadron on the active list, as well as those at Vladivostok, have been ordered to proceed, with all haste, to Chinese waters.

The foreign office confirms the report of an engagement between troops of the international column and the Boxers on Monday. It says that about 35 Chinese were killed.

The first report of the rout of the Boxers by a handful of British marines came in a dispatch from Tien Tsin dated Tuesday. The correspondent says:

"While the working parties, accompanied by a patrol of 16 British marines, commanded by Major Johnson, were repairing the line Monday afternoon, eight miles beyond Tofa, they encountered small parties of Boxers, who were destroying the line. The Boxers moved away from the advancing marines and apparently dispersed into the country, leaving the rails moved and the sleepers burning."

"The marines, when two miles in advance of the first train, near Lang Fang, suddenly perceived Boxers streaming from a village on their left. It was estimated that they numbered 2,000, some of them being mounted, and they were trying to get between the marines and the rails. Most of them were armed with spears and swords. A few had firearms, which they handled awkwardly. The marines retreated, keeping up a running fight for over a mile and killing between 20 and 30 Boxers."

"The Boxers pursued the British for some distance. Then, seeing more marines from the train coming to their assistance, Major Johnson's 16 halted and poured a heavy continuous fire into the crowd, driving them across the front of the reinforcing bluejackets, who punished the Boxers severely with Maxims."

"The Boxers fled and the Europeans, following up their success, cleared out two villages. The total loss of the Boxers is estimated at 40 killed and wounded. Seven of their wounded were attended by British surgeons. The British loss was nothing."

"The expedition numbers 2,044, as follows: British, 915; German, 250; Russian, 300; French, 128; Americans, 104; Japanese, 52; Italian, 40; Austrian, 25."

A report that the chamber of the Japanese legation at Peking had been murdered by the emperor's body guard is unconfirmed.

Quadruple Murder in Maine.

West Newfield, Me., June 12.—George W. Goodwin and three members of his household were murdered Sunday night and the house in which they lived set on fire by the murderer, whose motive was presumably robbery. The dead are: George W. Goodwin, his mother, Mrs. Elsie R. Horne, 76 years of age; his adopted son, Scott Goodwin, 20 years old, and his nephew, Fred Bertsch. The bodies of all four were recovered yesterday afternoon from the ruins of the Goodwin home. A farm hand named Champion is suspected. Goodwin had recently received $2,400 for a sale of woodland. He had not placed the money in bank.

Six Killed at a Logging Camp.

Williamsport, Pa., June 14.—Six men were killed and another fatally injured, on a logging railroad at Cammalt, about 36 miles from this place, yesterday afternoon. A train jumped the track in some unaccountable manner and plunged down a 300 foot embankment. Both fireman and engineer were instantly killed, as were also four Italian laborers. The cars and engine were smashed in kindling. The dead are: Engineer McOvery, Fireman English, Justice of the Peace T. F. Schuyler, Frank Carlson, Jello Demm and James Roe.

Increased Postal Receipts.

Washington, June 14.—A statement prepared at the postoffice department shows that the receipts at 50 of the largest postoffices during the past month were $264,919 in excess of the receipts during May, 1899. A decrease is noted at only one of the offices on the list—Hartford, where there was a falling off of $1,088, or 4.7 per cent. The receipts at New York were $903,745; Chicago, $556,099; Philadelphia, $286,801; Boston, $267,497; St. Louis, $163,270; Cincinnati, $105,762; Brooklyn, $123,200.

The rebels were scattered, and the Americans are pursuing them. Gen. Grant's column had no casualties.

TAX REDUCTION.

The reduction of two cents in the county tax rate announced by the county commissioners last Tuesday, is not large but it is indicative of the spirit of economy which prevails at the commissioners' office. It will be fully appreciated by the tax-payer, whose burden is never light even under the most favorable conditions.

By the reduction in the county tax of two cents the total state and county tax for 1900 is 96 cents on the one hundred dollars. In making the reduction the commissioners have first provided for all the public charges and nothing has been alighted. The City Council asked for $1000 from the county, which has for some years been giving to the corporation $500. After weighing the matter in their minds the commissioners, increased the amount $100, making the appropriation $600.

The Council urged that the extension of the city limits placed upon Salisbury be a charge upon the county.

This argument, while it impressed the commissioners failed to convince them that they would be justified at this time to make so liberal an appropriation. They stated that they could increase the sum $100 now and hoped that conditions would enable them to give more freely in the future.

We commend the frugal policy of the commissioners, but a sense of justice compels us to admit that, in our judgment, the corporation of Salisbury is entitled to at least $1000 from the county to be expended on the streets which are really a part of the public highways. It should be remembered that a large part of the county tax is paid by the property owners of the town.

A PARTY PAPER'S DUTY.

It is pleasing to note in the columns of so pronounced a party paper as the Cumberland Times an editorial which sets forth such thoroughly independent views of what a party organ's duty to the people is as the following:

"There is no political paper so worthless to its party as the one that will not boldly and fearlessly strike at evils in the party. It occurs sometimes that men in official positions, for questionable means, do things that are wrong, for what they consider party's sake, and would feel highly indignant if their party paper did not uphold them in their actions. This the true journal cannot do."

Further along the same editorial says that "no man should be appointed to a public position merely because he wants a job. Appoint or elect men not fitted for the positions and people must lose faith in the judgment of the appointing power. This weakens the party and also the cause that should be strengthened by the proper officials." This expression was apparently called forth by the tendency upon the part of most party organs in the counties to recommend appointments and commend those that have been made without regard to the merits of the case, but simply in line with the policy of speaking well of everything the party does. The capacity of the party organ to give of fine-holders of its political persuasion "aity" for the sake of impressing the public with the virtue of the party it self as represented by its choice of men for public positions is well known. Editor Aviret of the Times is an office-holder himself in a certain way, and has had long experience in party journalism in Alleghany county.

His editorial utterances show that he has seen the hollowness and futility of the old fashion of indiscriminate praise of everything good or bad that the party does. He realizes that a party paper benefits its party only when it seeks to purify its party.—Baltimore News

—Mr. A. Elfant, trading as the F. B. C. Clothing Company of Baltimore, was arrested and brought before Justice Trader Friday morning on the charge of violating the City Ordinance relative to slaughter or closing out sales. Mr. Elfant stated that he was not ready for trial and Justice Trader carried the case over until Monday after demanding a forfeit of ten dollars that he would put in appearance.

It is to be hoped that the City Ordinance will hold water and be found to cover the point in question, prohibiting these Slaughter sales. Most every year our merchants have to contend with some party who has gotten together a lot of cheap goods and comes to Salisbury to sell them during the busy season.

This is manifestly unfair to our business people and the present Ordinance was passed to meet just this state of affairs. Whether it will do so or not remains to be seen.

—In a letter to a republican of this county, Senator Wellington says that unless the conditions very materially change throughout the State between now and November, Maryland will be found in the Democratic column.

—Rev. A. J. Vanderbogart attended a meeting of the board of Diocesan Missions held at Easton on Wednesday.

—Are you quick at figures? If you are not you should get one of those self calculating pencils at White and Leonard's.

—You will never regret the fifteen cents you spend for one of those patent pencils at White and Leonard's Drug store.

—We are glad to hear Mr. Arthur Trader has been sitting up for several days at the Peninsula Hospital and is expected to soon be out again.

—Justice Trader gave William Miller a hearing last Thursday. Miller, who is a painter employed by John Nelson, cut up rather badly last Wednesday night in Jersey and disturbed the public peace. Justice fined him $5.00 and costs, and held him for carrying concealed weapons. Mr. Nelson entered his security and Miller was released.

—Several Salisbury gentlemen visited Old Point Comfort and neighboring Points last Saturday and Sunday. They visited Soldiers' Home, Norfolk, Portsmouth and Ocean View, returning Sunday night. The party consisted of H. W. Owens, Greenleaf J. Hearn, W. T. Weisbach, George Weisbach, Joseph W. Hastings, Ira L. Burnead, Capt. Wm. Slemmons, Calvin Morris, Clifford Adkins, Marion Tindle, George Sirman, Carroll Phillips, Victor Parvin, Slemmons Birkhead, Messrs. Dodman and Mason.

—The eighth annual meeting of the Volunteer Firemen began its sessions in Baltimore on Tuesday. There was a very large attendance and the city was given over to the enjoyment of the delegates present. The parade on Thursday was a very creditable one although some of the firemen were nearly exhausted with the heat. The association now includes nearly all the fire departments in Maryland. The delegates from the Salisbury Fire Department were: G. E. Sirman, S. H. Dawson, H. C. Lank, C. I. Uiman and D. C. Holloway; alternates, Ralph Murphy, D. B. Cannon, W. W. White, Charles Farlow and Claude Sirman.

Death of Founder Landis.

Vineland, N. J., June 12.—Charles K. Landis, one of the best known citizens of southern New Jersey, died yesterday at his home here, aged 55 years. Mr. Landis was the founder of Vineland, Hammonton, Sea Isle City, Landisville and several other communities in southern New Jersey. He is said to have been the first man to evolve the plan of local option and put it in force. In March, 1875, Mr. Landis shot and killed Uriah Carruth, the editor of a Vineland paper, for publishing articles attacking Mr. Landis and his family. Mr. Landis was tried on the charge of homicide and acquitted.

Beligious Attempt to Kill a Family.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., June 14.—Tuesday night the farm house of John Petersen, five miles north of Cadott, was wrecked by an explosion of dynamite. Some unknown persons put the explosive under a corner of the house where the wife and three children were sleeping. That side of the house was completely shattered and the bed blown to pieces. How the sleeping occupants escaped is nothing short of miraculous. Their clothing was torn into shreds. Two of the children are severely injured, and Mrs. Petersen is seriously ill from the shock.

His Fortune For Education.

New Haven, June 14.—Executors of the estate of the late Prof. O. C. Marsh yesterday filed their final report. They find that after all debts are paid the estate amounts to $51,130.76, all of which goes to Yale, with the exception of $10,000, which was bequeathed to a Washington institution.

A Place For Bynum.

Washington, June 14.—The president has appointed ex-Representative W. D. Bynum, of Indiana, a member of a commission to codify the criminal laws of the United States, vice D. B. Culverson, deceased.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

The administration is worrying over the news from China. The revolution of the "Boxers" threatens to expose Mr. McKinley's Imperialistic programme concerning China in advance of the Presidential election, which is just what he was anxious to avoid. In their anxiety to allay public suspicion at home, members of the administration have been doing some word juggling that would be amusing if the matters involved were not too serious to laugh about. For instance, official statements to the press from the State Department have emphasized the alleged instructions to our Minister at Peking, and to Rear Admiral Kempff, our Naval Commander in Chinese waters, to act in concert with European powers for the protection of foreigners and their property but not to join a combination of the powers for any purpose. Our representatives over there must be clever indeed if they can act in concert with the European powers without combining with them.

A marked feature of the political situation is the genuine scare of the republican leaders over three states which they have heretofore been claiming as certain to cast their electoral votes for McKinley. These states are New York, Indiana and Illinois. In New York, with Croker to look after greater New York, and Hill to look after the other portions of the state, pulling loyally together, the republicans realize that the state will be doubtful. In Indiana, the state ticket nominated by the democrats, headed by Hon. John W. Kern is so strong that Indiana Republicans have notified the leaders of the party that the state is in danger. In Illinois, the tide has been running anti-republican for some time, and appeals for help are being received in Washington. This scare is so bad that prominent republicans are saying that it is useless to consider candidates from other states for the second place on the McKinley ticket; that he must be taken from one of those three states, and must be a man who will add strength to the ticket. Mr. McKinley has gone out of his way to make friends with Senator Mason, of Ill., who was anti-administration during the recent session of Congress and has succeeded in getting Mason to promise to take the stump for him. As Mason isn't the sort of man who can be won over by jillying, it is likely that he has received some definite and iron clad promises of future patronage.

The Industrial Commission, so-called, has provided itself with a pleasant summer junket, all of the expenses of which will be paid by the "dear people." It has decided that the industrial conditions, principally flintations and such, along the Northern Atlantic coast, must be investigated during the summer, and has arranged for meetings of the Commission during the next three months, in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, and the New England States. One of the duties of a democratic administration and Congress will be to abolish the Republican Government Commission humbug, which has become so rampant, and so expensive, under the McKinley administration.

Chairman Payne, of the House Ways and Means Committee, has given away the claim of the republicans that the reason they did not reduce war taxes at the recent session of Congress, was their desire to have that Committee grant hearings and study the question during the recess, so that the right sort of bill providing for the reduction might be reported to the House, by the official announcement that the Committee would not be called together until just before Congress meets, in other words, the question of the reduction of war taxes is to be left open until after election, in order that all the big interests may be taxed for the republican campaign fund.

Secretary Long has advertised for bids for furnishing armor plate for battleships, under the cowardly law forced through Congress the last thing before adjournment, making Mr. Long do what the republicans of Congress were ashamed to do, agree to the prices of armor trusts, which will necessarily be the only bidder to respond to the advertisement. True, the law gives Mr. Long authority to reject the bids if he considers the price too high, and to use the $4,000,000 carried by the act, for the establishment of a government plant to make armor plate, but if he acted upon that authority, the republican leaders who engineered the cowardly make shift would throw a few fits; they are figuring on a heavy campaign contribution from the armor trust.

Mr. McKinley and Gen. E. S. Otis have been exchanging taffy. Mr. McKinley has been telling Otis that he was the only real thing in the Military way produced by the Philippine war, many believe that Otis produced that war, and that he would have been glad to have made him, instead of Miles, a Lieut. General, but Congress fixed it so that promotion had to go to Miles; while Otis, overjoyed at his promotion to be a Major General, has been telling Mr. McKinley that he is the greatest of all Presidents. Outside of the White House there has been no attempt to lionize Otis because of the prevalence of the opinion that he has already received more than was coming to him for anything he achieved during his blundering career in the Philippines.

Pear Blight.

Charles O. Townsend, Maryland State Pathologist, has issued the following emergency circular on the treatment of the pear blight:

Pear orchards on the Eastern Shore and in Western Maryland that have been examined within the past few days show that in certain varieties such as Bartlett and LeContes the blossoms and young fruit are practically all dead. Keiffers have suffered much less than some others, but even these when growing near other varieties, that are more susceptible to blight are sometimes seriously affected. Since the blossoms that have been attacked by blight are past recovery, the important question is how can the trees themselves be saved? The organisms that have destroyed the blossoms, are still alive and are working their way downward between the bark and the wood, and unless something is done promptly the lives of thousands of pear trees will be destroyed. Fortunately in most of the trees examined to day the blight extended but a little distance below the point of attack. Hence by removing the fruit spurs a large majority of the organisms will be destroyed. In a short time the disease will extend downward through the spurs into the branches and finally into the trunks of the trees which will eventually become girdled. As stated in a previous circular, the only known remedy for this disease consists in cutting out and burning the diseased twigs and branches. If this is done promptly thousands of trees that would otherwise be destroyed by the blight may be saved, but every day reduces the chances of saving the trees. Care should be taken not to spread the disease by means of the knife, and each time after cutting a diseased branch, the instrument used should be dipped in a five per cent solution of carbolic acid or the blade should be wiped with a cloth moistened with the solution. The prevalence of the blight this year arises from the fact that a number of blighted trees were allowed to remain over winter, and to blossom this spring. It is important therefore that we take warning from this experience and see to it that all blighted trees are freed from the blight before the next blossoming season arrives. It is a safe rule to cut whenever and wherever the blight appears, but it is especially important that no cases be allowed to winter over.

In numerous instances we have found that the cutting was not severe enough to remove all of the blight, and as a consequence the organisms have continued their work almost as rapidly as if no cutting had been done, until the whole tree top was lifeless. The cut surface should be examined and unless they show perfectly healthy wood and bark the saw or knife should be disinfected and the same branch cut again still lower. It is very important that a close watch be kept upon the trees even after they have been carefully gone over, and should more of the blight appear, it should be promptly removed. Considering the rapidity with which the blight has increased during the past two seasons it is evident that the most heroic efforts must be made to keep it in check or certain varieties of pears in this state will be doomed. If trees now standing are not with the struggle they should be dug up and burned at once.

It must be remembered that the same blight readily attacks the apple and the quince and occasionally other kinds of fruit trees. While the blight was very destructive to apple blossoms last year, it is thus far much less serious this season. In whatever trees it occurs, however, it should be cut out, since it is possible for it to spread from the apple to the pear or from the pear to the quince, etc.

—Some forty young ladies and gentlemen enjoyed a sail down the river Tuesday afternoon. The party returned about midnight with the hope that the "Florence G." might always be along to make a breeze for future sailing parties. An Article of Value for the Busy Housewife

It is economy for a lady to use this Calculating Pencil. Not a week passes during which she would not save money by avoiding mistakes. It is true the amounts lost through wrong change are not large. But they amount to a goodly sum during the year. They are much more frequent than you would think. Here is what happened to a lady in a department store. She bought 7 yards of goods at 15 cents, and 9 yards at 19 cents. The clerk charged her $1.15 and $1.71. The lady checked off her bill with her Calculating Pencil and found that 7 yards at 15 cents is $1.05 instead of $1.15, thereby saving 10 cents. The clerk, who did not intend to cheat, bought a pencil so as to avoid future mistakes. Ladies can buy this instructive educational device for only 15 cents at

STORM ON GALILEE.

LESSONS FROM A MEMORABLE INCIDENT IN THE SAVIOUR'S LIFE.

Dr. Talmage Describes the Rough Places in Human Experience and Indicates the Best Means of Getting Over Them.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Dr. Talmage, who is now in Europe preaching to immense congregations in the great cities, sends this sermon, in which he describes the rough places of life and indicates the best means of getting over them and shows how many people fail to understand their best blessings; text, Mark iv, 35. "And he arose and rebuked the wind and said unto the sea, Peace, be still."

Here in Capernaum, the seashore village, was the temporary home of that Christ who for the most of his life was homeless. On the site of this village now in ruins, and all around this lake what scenes of kindness and power and glory and pathos when our Lord lived here! I can understand the feeling of the immortal Scotchman, Robert McCheyne, when, sitting on the banks of this lake, he wrote:

It is not that the wild gale
Comes down to drink thy life,
But that he who is pleased to save from hell
On wanderer by thy side.

Gravel around the mountains' feet,
Thou calm, reposest sea,
But, ah, far more the beautiful feet
Of Jesus walked o'er thee.

I can easily understand from the contour of the country that bounds this lake that storms were easily tempted to make these waters their playground. This lake, in Christ's time, lay in a scene of great luxuriance; the surrounding hills, terraced, sloped, groved; so many hanging gardens of beauty. On the shore were castles, armed towers, Roman baths, everything attractive and beautiful—all styles of vegetation in smaller space than in almost any other space in the world, from the palm tree of the forest to the trees of rigorous climate.

It seems as if we shall have a quiet night. Not a leaf quivered in the air, not a ripple disturbed the face of Genesaret. But there seems to be a little excitement on the beach, and we hasten to see what it is, and we find it an embarkation. From the western shore a flotilla pushing out; not a squadron of deadly armament, nor clipper with valuable merchandise, nor pirate vessels ready to destroy everything they could seize, but a flotilla, bearing messengers of light and life and peace. Christ is in the stern of the boat. His disciples are in the bow and amidships. Jesus, weary with much speaking to large multitudes, is at once soothed by the rocking of the waves. If there was any motion at all, the ship was easily righted; if the wind passed from starboard to larboard, or from larboard to starboard, the boat would rock and, by the gentleness of the motion, putting the Master asleep. And they extemporized a pillow made out of a fisherman's coat. I think no sooner is Christ prostrate and his head touched the pillow than he is sound asleep.

The breeze of the lake runs their fingers through the locks of the worn sleeper, and the boat rises and falls like a sleeping child on the bosom of a sleeping mother.

Coming of the Storm.
Calm night, starry night, beautiful night! Run up all the sails, ply all the oars, and let the large boat and the small boat glide over gentle Genesaret. But the sailors say there is going to be a change of weather. And even the passengers can hear the moaning of the storm as it comes on with great suddenness and all the terrors of hurricane and darkness. The large boat trembles like a deer at bay among the clangor of the hounds; great patches of foam are flung into the air; the sails of the vessel loosen and in the strong wind crack like pistols; the smaller boats, like petrels, poise on the cliffs of the waves and then plunge. Overboard go cargo, tackling and masts, and the drenched disciples rush to the back part of the boat and lay hold of Christ and say unto him, "Master, carest thou not that we perish?"

That great personage lifts his head from the pillow of the fisherman's coat, walks to the front of the vessel and looks out into the storm. All around him are the smaller boats, driven in the tempest, and through it comes the cry of drowning men. By the flash of the lightning I see the calm brow of Christ as the storm drops from the sky and another for the waves. Looking upward, he cries, "Peace!" Looking downward, he says, "Be still!" The waves fall flat on their faces, the foam melts, the extinguished stars relight their torches. The tempest falls dead, and Christ stands with his foot on the neck of the storm. And while the sailors are bailing out the boats and while they are trying to untangle the cordage the disciples stand in amazement, now looking into the calm sea, then into the calm sky, then into the calm Saviour's countenance, and they cry out, "What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him?"

The subject, in the first place, impresses me with the fact that it is very important to have Christ in the ship; for all those boats would have gone to the bottom of Genesaret if Christ had not been present. Oh, what a lesson for you and for me to learn! Whatever voyage we undertake, into whatever enterprise we start, let us always have Christ in the ship. All you can do with utmost tension of body, mind and soul you are bound to do; but, oh, have Christ in every enterprise!

Seeking God's Help.
There are men who ask God's help at the beginning of great enterprises. He has been with them in the past; no trouble can overthrow them; the storms might come down from the top of Mount Hermon and lash Genesaret into foam and into agony, but it could not hurt them. But here is another man who starts out in worldly enterprise, and he depends upon the uncertainties of this life. He has no God to help him. After awhile the storm comes, tosses off the masts of the ship; he puts out his life-boat and the longboat; the sheriff and the auctioneer try to help him off; they can't help him off; he must go down; no Christ in the ship. Your life will be made up of sunshine and shadows. There may be in it arctic blasts or tropical tornadoes; I know, not what is before you, but I know if you have Christ with you all shall be well. You may seem to get along without the religion of Christ while everything goes smoothly, but after awhile, when sorrow hovers over the soul, when the waves of trial dash over the hurricane deck and the decks are crowded with piratical disasters—oh, what would you do then without Christ in the ship? Take God for your portion, God for your guide, God for your help; then all is well; all is well for a time; all shall be well forever. Blessed is that man who puts in the Lord his trust. He shall never be confounded.

But my subject also impresses me with the fact that when people start to follow Christ they must not expect smooth sailing. These disciples got into the small boats, and I have no doubt they said: "What a beautiful day this is! How delightful is sailing in this boat! And as for the waves under the keel of the boat, why, they only make the motion of our little boat the more delightful." But when the winds swept down and the sea was tossed into wrath, then they found that following Christ was not smooth sailing. So you have found it; so I have found it.

Did you ever notice the end of the life of the apostles of Jesus Christ? You would say if ever men ought to have had a smooth life, a smooth departure, then those men, the disciples of Jesus Christ, ought to have had such a departure and such a life. St. James lost his head. St. Philip was hung to death on a pillar. St. Matthew had his life dashed out with a halberd. St. Mark was dragged to death through the streets. St. James the Less was beaten to death with a fuller's club. St. Thomas was struck through with a spear. They did not find following Christ smooth sailing. Oh, how they were all tossed in the tempest! John Huss in a fire; Hugh McKail in the hour of martyrdom; the Scotch Covenanters—did they find it smooth sailing? But why go into history when we can draw from our own memory illustrations of the truth of what I say?

Not Always Smooth Sailing.
A young man in a store trying to serve God, while his employer scoffs at Christianity; the young men in the same store, antagonistic to the Christian religion, teasing him, tormenting him about his religion, trying to get him mad. They succeed in getting him mad and say, "You're a pretty Christian!" Does that young man find it smooth sailing when he tries to follow Christ? Or you remember a Christian girl. Her father despises the Christian religion; her mother despises the Christian religion; her brothers and sisters scoff at the Christian religion; she can hardly find a quiet place in which to say her prayers. Did she find it smooth sailing when she tried to follow Jesus Christ? Oh, no! All who would live the life of the Christian religion must suffer persecution. If you do not find it in one way, you will get it in another way. But be not disheartened! Take courage. You are in a glorious companionship. God will see you through all trials, and he will deliver you.

My subject also impresses me with the fact that good people sometimes get frightened. In the tones of these disciples as they rushed into the back part of the boat I find they are frightened almost to death. They say, "Master, carest thou not that we perish?" They had no reason to be frightened, for Christ was in the boat. I suppose if we had been there we would have been just as much frightened. Perhaps more. In all ages very good people get very much frightened. It is often so in our day, and men say: "Why, look at the bad lectures. Look at the various errors going over the church of God. We are going to founder. The church is going to perish. She is going down." Oh, how many good people are frightened by iniquity in our day and think the church of Jesus Christ is going to be overthrown and are just as much frightened as were the disciples of my text! Don't worry, don't fret, as though iniquity were going to triumph over righteousness. A lion goes into a cavern to sleep. He lies down with his shaggy mane covering the paws. Meanwhile the spiders spin a web across the mouth of the cavern and say, "We have captured him." Gossamer thread after gossamer thread until the whole front of the cavern is covered with the spider's web, and the spiders say, "The lion is done; the lion is fast." After awhile the lion has got through sleeping. He rouses himself, he shakes his mane, and with his roar he shakes the mountain. So men come spinning their sophistries and skepticism about Jesus Christ. He seems to be sleeping. They say, "We have captured the Lord. He will never come forth again upon the nation. Christ is overcome forever. His religion will never make any conquest among men." But after awhile the Lion of the tribe of Judah will rouse himself and come forth to shake mightily the nations. What's a spider's web to the aroused lion? Give truth and error a fair grapple, and truth will come off victor.

Frightened by Revivals.
But there are a great many good people who get frightened in other respects. They are frightened about revivals. They say: "Oh, this is a strong religious age! We are afraid the church of God is going to be uprooted and there are going to be great many people brought into the church that are going to be of no use to it." And they are frightened whenever they see a revival taking hold of the churches. As though a ship captain, with 5,000 bushels of wheat for a cargo, should say some day, coming upon deck, "Throw overboard all the cargo!" and the sailors should say: "Why, captain, what do you mean? Throw over all the cargo?" "Oh," says the captain, "I have a peck of chaff that has got into this 5,000 bushels of wheat, and the only way to get rid of the chaff is to throw all the wheat overboard!" Now that is a great deal wiser than the talk of many Christians who want to throw overboard all the thousands and tens of thousands of souls who are the subjects of revivals. Throw all overboard because they are brought into the kingdom of God through great revivals, because there is a peck of chaff, a quart of chaff, a pint of chaff, I say, let them stay until the last day. The Lord will divide the chaff from the wheat.

Do not be afraid of a great revival. Oh, that such souls from heaven might sweep through all our churches! Oh, for such days as Richard Baxter saw in England and Robert McCheyne saw in Dundee! Oh, for such days as Jonathan Edwards saw in Northampton! I have often heard my father tell of the fact that in the early part of this century there broke out a revival at Somerville, N. J., and some people were very much agitated about it. They said, "You are going to bring too many people into the church at once," and they went down to New Brunswick to get John Livingston to stop the revival. Well, there was no better soul in all the world than John Livingston. He went and looked at the revival. They wanted him to stop it. He stood in the pulpit on the Lord's day and looked over the solemn assembly, and he said: "This, brethren, is in reality the work of God. Beware how you stop it!" And he was an old man, leaning heavily on his staff—a very old man. And he lifted that staff and took hold of the small end of the staff and began to let it fall slowly through between the finger and the thumb, and he said: "Oh, thou impatient, thou art falling now—falling from life, falling away from peace and heaven, falling as certainly as that cane is falling through my hand—falling certainly, though perhaps falling slowly!" And the cane kept on falling until the knob of the cane struck Mr. Livingston's hand, and he clasped it stoutly and said, "But the grace of God can stop you as I stop that cane," and then there was gladness all through the house at the fact of pardon and peace and salvation. "Well," said the people after the service, "I guess you had better send Livingston home. He is making the revival worse." Oh, for gales from heaven to sweep all the contents! The danger of the church of God is not in revivals.

Calm the Storm.
Again, my subject impresses me with the fact that Jesus was God and man in the same being. Here he is in the back part of the boat. Oh, how tired he looks! What sad dreams he must have! Look at his countenance; he must be thinking of the cross to come. Look at him; he is a man—bone of our bone, flesh of our flesh. Tired, he falls asleep; he is a man. But then I find Christ at the prow of the boat; I hear him say, "Peace, be still," and I see the storm kneeling at his feet and the tempests folding their wings in his presence; he is a God. If I have sorrow and trouble and want sympathy, I go and kneel down at the back part of the boat and say: "O Christ, weary One of Genesaret, sympathize with all my sorrow! Man of Nazareth! Man of the cross! A Man, a Man! But if I want to conquer my spirit, if I want to get the victory over sin, death and hell, I come to the front of the boat and I kneel down, and I say, 'O Lord Jesus Christ, thou who didst hush the tempest, hush all my grief, hush all my temptation, hush all my sin!'"

I learn once more from this subject that Christ can hush a tempest. It did seem as if everything must go to ruin. The disciples had given up the idea of managing the ship; the crew were entirely demoralized; yet Christ rises, and the storm crouches at his feet. Oh, yes, Christ can hush the tempest! You have had trouble. Perhaps it was the little child taken away from you—the sweetest child of the household, the one who asked the most curious questions and stood around you with the greatest fondness, and the spade cut down through your bleeding heart. Perhaps it was an only son, and your heart has ever since been like a desolated castle; the owls of the night scolding among the fallen arches and the crumbling stairways. Or all your property swept away, you said: "I had so much bank stock; I had so many government securities; I had so many houses; I had so many farms—all gone, all gone." Why, sir, all the storms that ever trampled with their thunders, all the shipwrecks, have not been worse than this to you. Yet you have not been completely overthrown. Why? Christ says: "I have that little one in my keeping. I can care for him as well as you can, better than you can, a bereaved mother!" Hushing the tempest. When your property went away, God said: "There are treasures in heaven in banks that never break." Jesus hushing the tempest.

There is one storm into which we will all have to run. The moment when we let go of this world and try to take hold of the next, we will want all the grace possible. Yonder I see a Christian soul rocking on the surges of death. All the powers of darkness seem to let out against that soul the swirling waves, the thunder of the sky, the shriek of the wind, all seem to unite together. But that soul is not troubled. There is no sighing, there are no tears; plenty of tears in the room at the departure, but he weeps no tears—calm, satisfied and peaceful; all is well. By the flash of the storm you see the harbor just ahead, and you are making for that harbor. All shall be well, Jesus being our pilot.

Athletic at Sixty-seven.
Following the example of ex-President Cleveland, ex-President Harrison has taken up golf. He is a man of 67, but there is no reason why he should not find a profitable exercise in the sport. Unlike some other outdoor pastimes, among them tennis, it does not require fatiguing exertion, though at the same time it permits the fullest play of a great variety of muscles and gives the player all the exercise he needs. Many of the older men of the country would find in golf an ideal sport. We are learning nowadays that athletic exercise is for persons of all ages and that as long as a man or a woman is vigorous outdoor pastimes are appropriate. The old notion was that anything of the sort was undignified; that only boys ought to wear an athletic costume or indulge in the healthy exercise of the body. Happily the last few years have wrought a change in this respect.—Providence Journal.

A Story of Rhodes.
A resident of Kimberley vouches for the following story of Cecil Rhodes. During the siege he strolled into the club and sat down at one of the tables, when the waiter brought him a plate of ham and eggs. "Hello! what's this?" asked Mr. Rhodes. "Your luncheon, sir." "Bring me another plate and napkin." "Yes, sir." Mr. Rhodes then carefully tied up the toothsome food in the napkin, and, turning to the waiter, said: "Now bring me the usual daily ration." A few minutes later Mr. Rhodes was seen carrying the rejected food to the hospital, where he delighted the heart of one of the convalescent patients.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—Two years ago I began having such dull, heavy dragging pains in my back, mensues were profuse and painful, and was troubled with leucorrhoea. I took patent medicines and consulted a physician, but received no benefit and could not become pregnant. Seeing one of your books, I wrote to you telling you my troubles and asking for advice. You answered my letter promptly and I followed the directions faithfully, and derived so much benefit that I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough. I now find myself pregnant and have begun its use again. I cannot praise it enough."—MRS. CORA GILSON, YATES, MANISTEE, MICH.

Two hundred bushels of Potatoes remove eighty pounds of "actual" Potash from the soil. One thousand pounds of a fertilizer containing 3% "actual" Potash will supply just the amount needed. If there is a deficiency of Potash, there will be a falling-off in the crop.

We have some valuable books telling about composition, use and value of fertilizers for various crops. They are sent free.

Broken Bric-a-Brac

Mr. Major, the famous cement man, of New York, explains some very interesting facts about Major's Cement. The multitudes who use this standard article know that it is many hundred percent better than other cements for which similar claims are made, but a great many do not know why. The simple reason is that Mr. Major uses the best materials ever discovered and other manufacturers do not use them because they are too expensive and do not allow large profits. Mr. Major tells us that one of the elements of his cement costs $7 a ton and another costs $2.50 a ton, while a large share of the so-called cements and liquid glue upon the market are nothing more than sixteen-cent glue, dissolved in water or elastic acid, and in some cases, altered slightly in color and odor by the addition of cheap and useless materials.

Major's cement retails at fifteen cents and two 15-cent bottles, and when a dealer tries to sell a substitute you can depend upon it that his only object is to make larger profits.

The profit on Major's cement is as much as any dealer ought to make on any cement. And this is doubly true for the reason that each dealer gets his share of the benefit of Mr. Major's advertising, which now amounts to over $500 a month, throughout the country. Having said this, I don't accept any order unless I have Major's Cement.

If you are at all handy and you will be likely to find that you are a good deal more so than you imagine, you can repair your rubber boots and family shoes, and any other rubber and leather articles, with Major's Rubber Cement and Maj. Cal's Cement. And you will be surprised at how many dollars a year you will thus save.

If your drug store can't supply you, it will be forwarded by mail; either kind. Free of postage.

My wife could not get her breath and the first dose of it relieved her. It has also benefited my whole family." It acts immediately and cures coughs, colds, croup, grippe, bronchitis, asthma and all throat and lung troubles.—Dr. L. D. Collier.

MATTERS IN MARYLAND.

Cumberland, June 11.—Henry Apple, aged 66 years, boat builder, died today from lockjaw as the result of a mangled finger. For many years he built boats for the Chesapeake and Ohio canal. He was a native of Germany.

Centerville, June 8.—Several of the census enumerators have experienced trouble in securing the desired information from the negroes in Queen Anne's county. Some one told them the government is preparing to send them to Africa and they refuse to give the enumerators any information.

Hagerstown, June 11.—Two burglars climbed a tree with climbing spurs to get into the house of Daniel W. Reichard, on South Potomac street, through an open window of the garage. Mrs. Reichard heard them walking around stealthily and aroused her husband, who got his gun. He shot out of a window at them as they climbed from the roof to the street, but they escaped. Neighbors saw the men fleeing through the alleys. They got nothing for their trouble.

Frederick, June 12.—Chester, a little son of C. B. Young, near Myersville, was badly burned yesterday evening by the explosion of a coal oil can while attempting to burn out a caterpillar's nest. He was with his brother, and while one poured the oil the other one ignited the nest. The can exploded, throwing burning oil all over the lad. The explosion and screams attracted a number of men, who extinguished the flames, but not before the boy was badly burned.

Hagerstown, June 12.—Ex-City Tax Collector Milton R. Hawken this afternoon filed a suit against the mayor and council of Hagerstown to recover $279 for commissions for collecting street paving assessments from property owners. The tax collector gets 5 per cent commission on all tax collected, and he claims he is also entitled to receive the same percentage for collecting paving assessments. Ex-City Tax Collector Harry K. Startzman also sued the town for $457.27 for the same reasons.

Hagerstown, June 12.—Emerich C. Bell, of Hagerstown, was the first census enumerator in Washington county to complete his work. Charles C. Fechtig was the second to finish. Persons are guessing on the population of Hagerstown. Conservatives put the population at from 13,000 to 16,000. In 1890 it was 10,118. A newspaper census several years ago, when Hagerstown was at the top of her prosperity, made the population between 17,000 and 18,000.

Allen, June 11.—The strawberry season this year was unprofitable for the grower in this part of Wicomico county. The crop was cut short at least one-half as compared with the crop of 1899. The prices obtained averaged about 75 cents per 60-quart crate after paying the expense of picking, shipping and commissions. Mr. William Goodell, of the Motherthon farm, near Allen, bought a large part of the fruit for his cannery at Eden, Somerset county. He hermetically sealed 25,000 five gallon cans.

Westminster, June 11.—Cora Lagore employed by Frederick G. Yingling, a farmer living in Pleasant Valley, Carroll county, went to the stable today to milk the cows, and shortly afterward she was found unconscious. Her story was that while milking she felt something tugging at her dress, but took no notice of it. Suddenly the head of a large snake shot up in front of her face. Its body was wrapped around her waist. She threw up her hands to ward off the snake and then fainted. The snake did her no further harm.

Baltimore, June 13.—The strike of the linemen and trimmers of the United Electric Light and Power company for a 10 per cent increase of pay and nine hours instead of ten, which has reduced Baltimore to semi-darkness for three weeks, took on a new phase yesterday. Several merchants notified the company of their intention to discontinue the light service, and a large number of business men signed a pledge binding them to abstain from the use of electricity with the company unless the latter agreed to arbitrate the difference between it and its former employees.

Hagerstown, June 7.—Justice Hoffman this afternoon committed three daughters and one son of William Steinbaugh, aged from 7 to 17 years, the girls to the Female House of Refuge and the boy to St. Mary's Industrial Home until they are of age. Their mother had signed an agreement which she consented to their being committed, but when the officers started to take the train to Baltimore she repented and employed Attorney J. A. Mason to take proceedings to have the children released. Judge Stake signed an order restraining the officers for the present from taking to children to the institutions to which they were committed.

Denton, June 8.—Capt. J. B. Baylor, of the United States coast and geodetic survey, was in Denton yesterday and established the true north and south line by erecting meridian stones on Court House square. Capt. Baylor went from Denton to Elkton, thence to Ellikott City and Westminster. He will go to Annapolis, Prince Fredericktown, Leonardtown, Rockville, Upper Marlboro and Hagerstown. Before coming to Denton he had visited Snow Hill and Princess Anne. The stones are set up at the instance of State Geologist W. Bullock Clark, and are for the benefit of land surveyors. By the line laid down surveyors may test their compasses and note the variations.

Elkton, June 12.—Four warrants charging Harry L. Boulden, of the Fifth district, with kidnapping his four daughters were sworn out this afternoon by State's Attorney William S. Evans. The four daughters were last week committed to the Henry Watson Home for Children in Baltimore city, complaint being made by relatives of Boulden that he was not the proper person to look after them, their mother having died recently. After the children were committed Boulden pleaded with Sheriff Price to allow him to take the children home to get some clothing, promising to return them. The sheriff consented, but on Sunday Boulden took his children into Delaware.

Commencement exercises are in progress at Western Maryland, St. Johns and the Agricultural Colleges.

Still Pond, Kent county, has 200 people in it, smallest town in the state lighted by electricity.

Based on bids now in, it is estimated Hagerstown's electrical lighting plant will cost between $48,500 and $48,000.

"After suffering from piles for fifteen years I was cured by using two boxes of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve," writes W. J. Baxter, North Brook, N. C. It heals everything. Beware of counterfeits.—Dr. L. D. Collier.

The Garrett County School Commissioners elected in 1899 refuse to give up to the new Board, recently appointed, and a legal contest will be likely to ensue.

The easiest and most effective method of purifying the blood and invigorating the system is to take DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills for cleansing the liver and bowels.—Dr. L. D. Collier.

The members of the Maryland Democratic Editorial Association arrived at Chestertown Tuesday night for their annual session, and were accorded a hearty reception.

J. C. Kennedy, Roanoke, Tenn., says "I cannot say too much for DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. One box of it cured what the doctors called an incurable ulcer on my jaw." Cures piles and all skin diseases. Look out for worthless imitations.—Dr. L. D. Collier.

Ernest B. Sterling of near Crisfield was drowned Monday in Tangier Sound. He was going out for crabs, and in hoisting a sail in a small boat slipped and fell over into water.

"I had stomach trouble twenty years and gave up hope of being cured till I began to use Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It has done me so much good I call it the savior of my life," writes W. R. Wilkinson, Albany, Tenn. It digests what you eat.—Dr. L. D. Collier.

James McAbee, a white man, aged 30 years, and having a wife and several children, has been arrested and lodged in jail in Queen Anne's county on the charge of assaulting a 13-year old colored girl.

It has been fully demonstrated that Ely's Cream Balm is a specific for Nasal Catarrh and cold in the head. This distinction has been achieved only as the result of continued successful use. A morbid condition of the membrane in the nasal passages can be cured by this purifying and healing treatment. Sold by druggists or it will be mailed for 50 cents by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York. It spreads over the membrane, is absorbed and relief is immediate.

In the Somerset County School Board case Monday Judges Page and Holland decided in favor of William H. Daubell for school examiner, confirming the right of county school boards to make removals under the act of 1900.

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the result of a demon within a man. Any one who has had an attack of sciatic or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the infliction is demonic enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of this statement. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by R. K. Truitt & Sons.

Thomas Edgar Bussey, recently elected treasurer of the Board of Education of New York City and having the disbursement of $20,000,000 annually, formerly lived in Emmitsburg, Frederick county.

Last fall I sprained my left hip while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor called on said at first it was a slight strain and would soon be well, but it soon grew worse and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. It continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and one half of a 50 cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—F. A. Babcock, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by R. K. Truitt & Sons.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Would Not Suffer So Again For Fifty Times Its Price.

I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night again for fifty times its price.—G. H. A grain of sand in the eye can cause excruciating agony. A grain of pepper in place of the grain of sand intensifies the torment. The pain is not confined to the organs affected. The whole body feels the shock of that little irritating particle. It is so when there is any derangement or disorder of the delicate womanly organs. The disorder may seem trivial but the whole body feels it. The nervous system is disordered. There are fretfulness, irritability, suleness and depression of spirits. The general health of woman depends on the local health of the organs peculiarly feminine. Remove the drains, ulcerations bearing down pains, and other afflictions of woman, and the whole body feels the benefit. Dr. Pierce's Prescription is a specific for the diseases that undermine the strength of women. It is free from opium, cocaine and other narcotics, poisons which enter into many other preparations for woman's use. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Dr. Charles H. Latimer of Woodville, Prince George's county, has decided to go to Manila as an expert to care for insane soldiers. He has resigned from the Government Hospital for the Insane near Washington.
A grain of sand in the eye can cause excruciating agony. A grain of pepper in place of the grain of sand intensifies the torment. The pain is not confined to the organs affected. The whole body feels the shock of that little irritating particle. It is so when there is any derangement or disorder of the delicate womanly organs. The disorder may seem trivial but the whole body feels it. The nervous system is disordered. There are fretfulness, irritability, suleness and depression of spirits. The general health of woman depends on the local health of the organs peculiarly feminine. Remove the drains, ulcerations bearing down pains, and other afflictions of woman, and the whole body feels the benefit. Dr. Pierce's Prescription is a specific for the diseases that undermine the strength of women. It is free from opium, cocaine and other narcotics, poisons which enter into many other preparations for woman's use. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

NANTICOKE.

The sturgeon fishing season now closed has been an utter disappointment and failure to our fishermen. The season had opened propitiously, but the success was short lived, as scarcely, in comparison to the number of nets no sturgeons were caught after the first two weeks of fishing. This generally lasts about ten weeks, beginning usually April 15th, but this season, in not only being the shortest has been in fewness of catches unparalleled since the opening of this employment here. The season has brought the fishermen in debt, and now discouraged and despondent, and unless in the future prospects will be very marked, the interest in the business will certainly wane.

What is likely to prove to be an almost incalculable benefit to oyster planters is in the way of an artificial oyster bed as suggested to Capt. Robt. Young a resident here. This bed is to be formed of planks and will be secured to the bottom by means of driven poles. The idea seems to be accepted as plausible by the planters, and Mr. Young, who, like others is heavily invested in the industry of planting, says of this scheme that while this artificial bed will perish, yet, before this will have been, the shells will have collected forming a mass that cannot entirely disappear in the mud as do shells and oysters spread otherwise. This mass then will remain serving as, what is termed in the oystermen's parlance a rock where the oyster spawn catches and develops. This simple and inexpensive affair will, as many think, prevent the losses by oysters irretrievably sinking in the mud of thousands of dollars to the planters. Mr. Young has recently secured a patent on the invention.

Mr. Louis Insley the only son of Capt. Oliver Insley of near here, died suddenly from bright disease the 7th, inst. in Baltimore at the home of a relative. The remains were brought to Bivalve, where the funeral services were held in the M. P. Church Saturday morning. The deceased was 33 years old and unmarried and was mate at the time of his death on the steamer Nanticoke of the B. C. & A. Railway Co. in which company he had been employed for a number of years in various capacities. He was energetic, ambitious and full of promise, and robust of body and hale as he appeared the intelligence of his death was most startling.

The regular Children's Day service was held in the M. E. Church Sunday night and the occasion proved to be one of success and importance. The exercises which were elaborate, appropriate and interesting, were witnessed by a concourse of people in vastness of number, never gathered before at this place on any other public occasion. In general the service surpassed that in every instance of former years, and in this the Sunday School has won a reputation to be envied by those of less gifted scholars. A special collection in behalf of the educational fund was taken to which a liberal response was made.

The members of the Nanticoke cornet band are contemplating reorganizing a few days hence in view of calls for their public service this coming summer. It is customary for the band to disorganize at the close of the political campaigns and effect a revival about June, but this season owing to a lack of interest and the absence of a few members, the matter of reorganizing is not being treated very seriously. The original number of musical instruments comprised in the band was not less than seventy five and the band in skill of music was far above the average country band, so often it had appeared on many prominent public occasions that have taken the place in this county. The band now comprises about fifteen members.

Arthur Rencher the young man of this vicinity who, while ill some days since mistakenly took an overdose of laudanum and as the effects his life was despaired of, has been brought to consciousness.

Crabs are unusually numerous this season and for this fact crab fishing is found to be a profitable employment, which being so simple and easy with crabs here has not the repulsive feature of work that is unremunerative.

Last Thursday, our community was startled as the sadness of death was flashed over the wires. Mr. Isaac T. Lewis died at his home near here Thursday afternoon, after suffering many long and weary years from that fatal malady, consumption. Early in life Mr. Lewis was united in matrimony to Miss Sally C. Jones. From their union five loving children survive him. The funeral services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. Mr. Anderson at Mt. Pleasant M. E. church Friday afternoon, after which his body was laid to rest in the church yard cemetery. His end was very peaceful when the final summons came, he left a tender farewell to those that had gathered about his bedside, and like a "victorious hero" over death, he went out of this world into the delights of Heaven, where he will receive the plaudits of his loved ones on the other side. Well done, good and faithful servant. Our beloved brother was always identified with all the interests of his church, until his health began to fail. He acted in the capacity of superintendent at Mt. Pleasant church. As a Christian he was very Christ like, and was a great beacon light in his church and community, and the life memories of this dear brother, will forever stand as a gilded monument. To the stricken ones we offer the deepest sympathy, and bid you to weep not, for according to the old adage, "The Lord Giveth" and "The Lord Taketh." Let us not forget that our dear brother, after suffering many long and weary years, this earthly torture, and in the last sweet hours of death he caught a note from that eternal anthem: there shall be no more pain, sickness nor sorrow or death, but a shout comes from the Lord of Heaven: "Lift up ye everlasting gates and let him come in, ye suffered with me on earth, now be glorified with me in Heaven. A friend J. J. Jr.

Some of the Business of a Presidential Campaign.

Politics to day means organization, the same thorough, efficient comprehensive organization that one finds in the management of a great railroad or any other large business. The national committee works in conjunction with the State committees. There are States so absolutely safe that they require no attention from the national committee. There are some States so hopelessly antagonistic that to make a fight there would be simply to sacrifice money and effort. To keep the enemy fully occupied, a sham campaign is sometimes made in such States, but the managers never count on carrying them. The real fighting ground is in the uncertain and doubtful States. These States must be carried to spill success, and it is here that the campaign will wage with deadly fierceness from the day after the nomination has been made until the day before the ballots are cast. To bring to their support every voter in the State, the two committees—the Republican and Democratic—will endeavor to put in the hands of every male of voting age, without regard to present or past affiliations, literature presenting the position of the party on the great issues of the day. To do this, millions of documents are printed in every modern language, and through the literary bureau given circulation. The head of the literary bureau is the most important of the national chairman's subordinates. He must, in a few weeks, create the machinery for the distribution of these documents, he must attend to their preparation and printing; he must have an instinctive knowledge where to distribute his literature. In one State "imperialism," for instance, may really be the great issue, and the two chairmen will endeavor to flood that State with arguments for and against it. Not only will the speeches of the readers in Congress be placed in the hands of the voters, but there will also be distributed carefully written articles, prepared with all the ingenuity and sophistry which trained writers know how to employ. Any thing can be proved by figures, and in the course of a presidential campaign any argument advanced on one side is sure to be controverted by the other. From "How a President is Elected," by A. Maurice Low in the June Scribner's

Three Definitions of Love.

Love is an intoxication. It is tasteless, yet more subtle than century old wine. It is colorless, yet it can be brighter than a summer morning and blacker than a streamless ocean. It is without substance yet it embodies a heaven of happiness, a salt sea of pathos. It can live stored away in the heart, but it becomes a dead thing in a gilded setting. It is the ethereal spark which makes man the masterpiece from the workshop of heaven. There is a bright manhood in him who loved once and well. In youth, love is a dream; in manhood, an awakening sometimes to grand serenity of happy fulfillment, oftentimes to stifle back in silent anguish the burning thoughts of what might have been. In old age love is a memory, oftentimes sad, sometimes sweet, but always dear.

Love is a derangement, a nervous strain, but chiefly a misnomer. Wise men reverse the word and use it seldom. Few men are broad enough to love. The souls of men and women today are defiled by the temptations of centuries and love can't live there. Love contains young passion, for passion is an inherently selfish. It is for Godly men alone; and the mass of humankind are not eligible to it. The love which God smiles upon is sacred and beautiful, but rare as a drop of dew at high noon. Love unsatisfied is a bitter burden for a man to bear.

Of what is love made? Blend together the classic perfection of honor, the divine radiance of beauty, the undying spirit of friendship, the irresistible genius of romance, the lofty glory of sacrifice, the dreamy rapture of reverie, and the holy passion of virgin, then revivify the whole with a breath from heaven and behold the enchanting loveliness—the ethereal purity of love. OEHM'S ACME HALL

"Oehm" clothing for men is a distinctive sort of clothing. There's a stylishness about it rarely attained in ready-to-wear clothes. Its because we make all our own clothing, employ the best tailors all the year round, so that "Oehm" suits are made in the exact same way as are the clothes a tailor makes to order; the same carefulness of detail, the same skillfulness in making. But we show five patterns to any tailor's one; we use ten times as much cloth, and can afford to buy in wide variety. "Oehm" clothing costs no more than the ordinary sorts, $7.50, $10.00, $15.00, to $25.00 for suits that tailors sell for double. Shoes, hats, and furnishings for men and boys, too.
