RNC Solicits Interns

The Republican National Committee, a laboratory for the study of politics through first-hand observation and personal experience, is looking for interns. Located on Capitol Hill in Washington, D.C., the RNC is an important center for political action, especially in the 1976 Presidential election.

Interns are given staff responsibilities in research, writing, communications, finance, polling, convention arrangement, and campaign assistance programs. The Committee's four-day work week for interns gives you a chance to visit Congressional hearings and explore the Federal bureaucracy. Special RNC briefings are held with policy makers and political strategists to present an inside view of happenings in the election arena.

The RNC presents a special opportunity for personal involvement in politics. They're looking for people who have more than a passing interest in politics and the important work of winning elections and governing. The national committee's staff is mostly under 30 with plenty of them just out of college. They're at the RNC because they feel it's important to be involved. They're looking for people who want that same sense

Commencement Schedule

Commencement arrangements have once again been established for the current year but the weather still presents a major problem to a smooth program. Due to limited facilities on the campus, bad weather can place a severe restriction on the ability of the College to accommodate the many visitors and friends who annually appear for the commencement program. Until the new field house is completed, Compton Gym is utilized when it becomes necessary to hold commencement indoors. Due to the limited seating capacity of Compton, graduating seniors are limited to two admission tickets to the graduation program with the tickets to be distributed during the rehearsal on Saturday morning at 10 a.m. in Compton Gym. Good weather will result in the program being held on the Main Quadrangle with no limit on tickets necessary for attendance.

Graduating seniors are encouraged to advise their families and friends of this situation in advance so that there will be a minimum of difficulty in handling a situation over which the College has no control. With the completion of the new field house, adequate seating for this program should be easier with the increased seating capacity.

Caps and gowns may be picked up in the Lane Center bookstore, during normal working hours, during exam week. Special hours have also been established on Saturday, May 8, and Sunday, May 9 to accommodate students unable to pick up their regalia during the week.

Invitations to commencement have to be mailed to all graduating students to their permanent home address. Reservations to the Senior luncheon are included with this material and will require a response by the end of April if a student and his family will shes to attend the event. Meal tickets will not be acceptable to the luncheon which will be held in Chesapeake Hall.

A schedule of commencement events is listed below:

Saturday, May 8:

10 a.m.--Rehearsal in Compton Gym

8 p.m.--President's Reception for Seniors, Faculty and Friends in the Lane Center

Sunday, May 9:

11:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m.--Senior Luncheon in Chesapeake Hall

2 p.m.--Processional Line - up in Compton Gym

2:30 p.m.--Commencement in the Main Quadrangle

Guild Resigns Bank Post

At the direction of the state Board of Ethics, the president of Frostburg State College has resigned his post as a director of a local bank where his school maintains a non-interest bearing checking account.

Nelson P. Guild, the Frostburg president, said he reluctantly sent a letter of resignation to the Fidelity Bank of Frostburg after receiving the opinion from the Ethics Board that his continued presence as a bank director would be in violation of the state code of ethics.

In making its ruling, the Ethics Board said there were significant parallels between Dr. Guild's case and that of Wilson H. Elkins, president of the University of Maryland. Mr. Elkins was also forced to resign a bank director's post because the board said the public "might reasonably assume a potential conflict of interest." The university had nine separate accounts in a branch of

SA Officers Issue "No Pay-Less Work" Statement

The SA officers issued a joint letter stating that they will work less next semester due to a lack of incentive. The letter was read at last Thursday's SA meeting.

President Don Fry, along with VP Howard Paper, and Treasurer Derek Baliles, issued a joint statement which read:

"On behalf of the paid Student Association officers I would like to announce that we will need help next semester to assume some of the responsibilities that we did this semester because we will be available (open) for limited services due to a lack of incentive."

Following the statement of the officers, forty-five minutes of debate was heard, both pro and con the ment.

In other issues, State-to-Date and WFSC radio were allocated their 1976-77 budgets.

State-to-Date was given $11,934 to operate for the 1976-77 year period, an increase of $1,134 over last year's budget.

WFSC radio was allocated an extra $540 to help with the WFSC conversion to FM broadcast. The FM conversion should take place this summer. WFSC is still waiting for President Guild's approval for the change to FM.

Dramatis Personae was allocated $1,000 for their fall production, "Night of the Iguana," which they plan to take to the American College Theater Festival.

The next SA meeting will take place next fall when

editorial Notes for Conversation

Frostburg State College is desperately in need of a large performing arts facility. As the situation stands at present, there is no place adequate for a large ensemble performing group and there are no plans now being made that make provisions for such a facility. The only plans for any type of theater are for a small, intimate theater that will house only 200-300 people. This is not adequate for such groups as the Concert Band, Jazz Ensemble, the Orchestra and guest ensembles from other institutions.

It is embarrassing to think that this college's facilities are so poor that the Baltimore Symphony goes to Fort Hill High School to perform rather than at Frostburg State College. Also other institutions are inflicted with our poor facilities when they come to perform here. When the Cincinnati Wind Ensemble performed here this semester there was a constant hum emitted from the P.A. system and the musical effects were lost in the poor acoustics of Compton Auditorium. This is inexcusable and thoughts should be turning toward an adequate performance facility so that such mishaps do not occur again.

If a large performance facility were built at Frostburg, it could be a step toward bringing a cultural center to Western Maryland. The Baltimore Symphony could come to Frostburg rather than to Fort Hill where the facilities are also inadequate, and the Center could also open a whole range of possibilities for summer festivals and camps and opportunities for high quality performing groups to come in from other areas and perform. Such a facility would be an asset to the area and to the college and is a necessary improvement for the cultural growth of Frostburg State College.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Students:

At the last House of Representatives meeting of the Student Association the following statement was issued:

On the behalf of the paid Student Association Officers I would like to announce that we will need help next semester to assume some of the responsibilities that we had this semester because we will be available (open) for limited services due to a lack of incentive.

Don Fry

Before you make a judgement on this statement, I would like to explain my interpretation of why we issued the statement.

The involvement in Student Association has decreased in recent years. When I came into office it was impossible to hold a meeting because we didn't have enough representatives. It was my responsibility to appoint 16 representatives--more than one-half of the House. The Student Association also existed without the use of an important executive position (Director of State Affairs) involving numerous hours of writing letters to state and national legislators on issues that affect students. Again this responsibility was assumed by the executives.

As one can see the situation explained above makes one wonder if the SA really needed if the students have no desire to serve. When I became very concerned about the future of the Student Association I discussed the situation with our administrative advisor and President Guild. They assured me that the downfall of Student Government on college campuses is a national problem, not just one at FSC. From this meeting we felt that it's time to see if the students feel there is a need for SA. Continued lack of incentive on the part of representatives caused a cancellation of a meeting (due to the lack of a quorum) and the dismissal of 5 representatives. Again, the situation is very depressing.

In my opinion, the Student Association survived this semester on the dedication and desire of the executives, the executive board, and a few House members. With this in mind, I question seriously whether the students feel there is a need for SA. Our statement said that we "need help" which is a call or plea for more student involvement to help with "some of the responsibilities." This does not mean that we will neglect our obligation to students. It means that we feel we have done more than is required in our office to keep the SA going this semester and I personally have suffered scholastically and "cannot afford to do it any longer. I feel I can justify my position stated above because of the third key point of the statement--"lack of incentive." This lack of incentive is in the students, the House members and the executives. I think it's ridiculous for a group of executives and House members (about 10 in number) to keep the SA existing. I feel it is time to put the issue to the students. It is time for the students of the campus to take the incentive to show the SA that there is a need for student government at FSC. If students

by Kevin Fitzgerald
On February 26, the Student Association's House of Representatives voted to revoke pay for officers, by a vote of 12-5 with 4 abstentions. I for one believed that this would be the end of the pay for officers issue, at least until the next election.

Yet, much to my surprise and to the chagrin of many House members, the issue was once again resurrected. This time by the means of a letter signed by those officers being paid, and presented by Don Fry. In the letter Fry, Howard Paper, and Derek Baliles expressed a need for more help next semester to assume some of the responsibilities that they have. Because, as they stated, they will only be available for limited service due to lack of incentive.

Before I comment on this statement, I feel that it is necessary to bring an end to the mystery surrounding what those paid SA officers do.

The SA President, in this case Don Fry, is chairman of the SA Executive Council. He is the voting ex-officio member of the college Senate and college Forum. The President is the person who is responsible for the successful operation of SA. Finally, he is responsible to initiate and determine policies approved by the Legislative Branch.

The Vice-President, who is Howard Paper, is a member of the Executive Council. His duties include being a non-voting ex-officio member of all standing committees, and being Speaker of the House of Representatives. The Vice-President is responsible for the successful operation of the student House of Representatives.

Finally, the SA Treasurer, Derek Baliles, is a member of the Forum fiscal committee. He is Chairman of the Budget Allocation Committee. The Treasurer is responsible for all income and approved expenditures, along with implementing and executing the Budgetary Allocations Policy.

Now let us reflect on what those officers said concerning pay for officers and responsibility. Don Fry, when asked about the effectiveness of SA, commented: "Over the past few years, I don't believe SA has been overly effective in getting things done. . . I think the main reason is because students aren't involved and haven't been involved. . . I believe I could interest a lot of students and faculty in coming out as leaders and instead of being a complete leader on my own, I would delegate a lot of powers to other people who are interested." I would like to point out that by comparring this statement to the one just presented, we can draw the conclusion that Don Fry has not been successful as President in his first semester in office.

Now turning to Howard Paper. When asked if he thought the House of Representatives was effective, he stated that in the past, the House was "run by the Executive Board and not enough power was given to the committees and the little people of the committees. . . I think the President and his few advisors are taking over everything." I for one can see no change from past to present. Furthermore, when Howard was asked about pay for officers during his campaign, he said, "These people are running for the job because they want to represent the students. They shouldn't be running because they want to be paid." Now, Howard wants to be paid! Sure a person has a right to change his mind. But saying he is against pay when running for office and then wanting to be paid, strongly saying so, after he is elected, leads one to question our Vice President's integrity.

Derek Baliles, the treasurer of SA, when running for office stated that "pay for officers, too, seems to me to be a useless sort of thing. It's a nice gesture, but I think it's an unnecessary expense. We need to rearrange things because right now only ten percent of the budget gets to the students through clubs and organizations. We've really got to cut back on wasteful things the students shouldn't be paying for." My question is, should the students now start paying officers because it's a nice gesture?

While I have been quoting everyone else, I feel obligated to quote myself, "if someone were to ask my opinion on pay for officers today, I would say that I am in favor of it. I am strongly in favor of it, as I am in favor of paying anyone who spends his or her time making this college a better place to attend." My opinion has not changed. Yet, I refuse to be bullied into paying officers, because they say they will not work as hard because there is no incentive. Your incentive should be in making the school a better place to attend. That is what you pledged while campaigning and that is why you were elected. The word incentive brings back images of gangsters promising protection for some sort of illegal craft, and not paying for this protection meant your business was destroyed. Is that truly the threat of these officers? If we do not pay them, will our Student Association be destroyed? As for our officers who do not intend to give their all for the students, I would refer back to what Don Fry said when asked what he would do to an executive who was not fulfilling their job. Don stated, "There's no reason for someone failing to do their job that they've been elected or appointed to. You should be elected because you're interested and want to be involved. . . If over the next few weeks the person still didn't work, I'd have to ask him to resign. If worst comes to worst, I'd have to impeach him and go through the House with proceedings to impeach that person."

say "yes, we need SA," then it will exist. If they take the same approach toward SA as they did this past year, then it is destined to die. It is time to throw SA into the "test waters," and let the students decide if SA sinks or swims. That is my basis for issuing this statement.

Sincerely,
Don Fry

Dear Students:

In reference to the statement made by Don Fry at the last SA meeting I would like to clarify my opinion (since many accusations and opinions can be drawn up from it) of what it meant to me. I don't really think anyone is naive enough to take our statement literally. In my opinion it was a slightly sarcastic means to an all important discussion. Over 45 minutes of debate followed Don's statement. It was merely a call to ask for people to put time into helping the executives do their jobs because the executives will be doing homework, playing football (intramural sports), working other jobs for compensation, and other time consuming deeds rather than sitting in the SA office and forfeiting these other important aspects of being a student.

I am concerned, the small amount of incentive building compensation which I received from SA funds was hardly enough for the amount of effort I put into my job. But it was enough to make me have a moral obligation as well as a constitutional one to the students. This is not to say that I will be derelict in my duties next semester, it is merely suggesting that in all possibility I will not go above and beyond my necessary duties. For an example, put yourself in this position. You are a student with a problem (be it you forgot to fill out a form necessary for graduation, or you have a complaint about the judicial system or an academic situation, or any other hypothetical problem) and you walk into the SA Office. After you tell me your problem I have many options to solving it: a) say I don't know what to tell you; b) recommend you talk to someone else; c) I talk to the person for you; d) I set up an appointment for you to talk to him; e) I set up an appointment for both of us to talk to him; f) we both talk to him and if your problem isn't solved--tough; g) if the problem isn't solved I take legal action and go over his head; h) I research the situation and bargain in your defense, etc. . . This process is not uncommon. My point is as each step progresses it becomes more time consuming. I have

Why should I take you by the hand and meticulously help you out. You, a student who I don't know, might not like, and who is probably using me selfishly to solve your own problems. What do I get out of it? Maybe personal satisfaction, but where does satisfaction separate into monotony. Maybe a good resume for the future? I don't need one in my future occupation. Where was the incentive last semester? Ten dollars a week was my incentive last semester and it was enough for me to sacrifice my preferences in order to satisfy your needs. The money was cut for next semester and so will be the excess of my time in the SA Office. I will no longer spend 10-20 hours a week in a hot, boring, noisy, uncomfortable office. No, instead I will let someone else (the volunteers Don asked for) do it for me while I sleep, study, have fun, and earn a salary of respect. I have pride too, and everyone likes to be thanked for the job they do, so, since 3,000 students aren't going to call me up and thank me, maybe $10 a week wouldn't be too much to ask in return for a job well done. You pay for services you receive (just like a suit of clothes). If my point hasn't been brought out by now then it is obvious that you will never understand.

Respectfully submitted,
Howard Paper

Dear Students,

I also signed and support the statement quoted in Don's letter. My personal feelings on the subject are these: first, please understand that we are not issuing a statement saying that we are going on strike or that we are not going to fulfill and carry out the responsibilities of the office that we have assumed. As far as I am personally concerned, I will do all of the things that are required of me to carry out the duties of my office. The difference will come in doing extraordinary things and special projects that would be above and beyond the call of duty. Issues won't be neglected, but they just won't be fully pursued to the best of my ability, in favor of other priorities on my time.

Second, I think the word incentive needs to be defined. For me, incentive for this job is highly correlated with support, either for or against, from the student body and the SA reps in particular. When no one seems to care about an important issue, it's hard to bust yourself working on trying to do something about it. Sometimes when I'm sitting in front during the House meetings and watching the reps, they seem to rubber stamp their approval on the things that we as executives do as part of our jobs. Very rarely is incentive provided by the House, so it has to come from somewhere or someone else. I don't see the campus as really giving very much support either. I then ask myself: Is it all worth doing? But that is a different issue.

Basically, I see it as this. With the statement, I feel we are saying that we need student support to keep functioning and reaching out into new areas. Without this incentive, without this student support, it makes it awfully hard to provide the strong leadership and innovative ideas that are needed to keep SA alive and worth the time.

Derek Baliles
SA Treasurer

Dear Editor:

We, being part of the Executive Board of SA, would like to express our disappointment and dismay at the recent letter released by the President, Vice-President and Treasurer of the SA. In the letter, which was read to the House of Representatives, the above-mentioned officers defined three problems that have contributed to the current state of SA. It is our belief that the interpretations put forth by the officers of the three problems are invalid and unjustifiable.

The first problem as stated in the letter is the lack of student participation in student government. While we agree that the resources available to SA are indeed limited, we feel that the lack of student interest stems from the inability of the executive board to give direction to the House of Representatives.

Again, we basically agree with the second point of the letter; that is, the executive board is overworked. We feel that the SA leadership over the years has brought this problem on itself by failing in two areas. First, by failing to train and effectively use regular House members. Second, by not allowing more responsibility to be born by the House of Representatives.

Finally, and most significantly, the officers cite a "lack of incentive" in working for SA. Because of the amount of work contributed by the officers, we think that they should be paid. However, we cannot accept the fact that they are not being paid as a valid rationale for decreasing their workload. Maybe we are too idealistic, but if an officer needs to be reimbursed for his services, then we question if the officer has the proper motivation in the first place. Additionally, we feel that the apathetic attitude of the students should not be adopted by the executives of SA.

We earnestly urge the co-sponsors of the letter to reconsider their positions keeping in mind the responsibilities that they have been elected into.

John Rodriguez
Don Anderson

Dear Editor,

I would like to comment on the recent farce which took place at the last SA meeting. The SA officers, Don Fry, Howard Paper, and Derek Baliles issued a statement saying that next semester they would be "available for limited services due to a lack of incentive," which means they are not going to work as much because they are not getting paid. Again, this brings up whether or not they are in office for the money (apparently) or for the benefit of the students (apparently not).

With the officers saying they will not work as much next semester, one thought immediately comes to mind. When one examines how little SA accomplished this semester with Don, Howard and Derek giving their 110% effort, imagine how little will get done next semester with them giving only 60 or 70% effort, due to lack of incentive (money).

of commitment and achievement in their internship. 1976 will see the RNC faced with responsibilities it has never had before. Under the new campaign reform laws, the RNC will play an expanded role in the Presidential campaign and, for the first time, be responsible for spending millions of dollars in U.S. Congressional and Senatorial races, and in the Presidential race. That means a Revolution in American politics with the two parties taking larger roles in elections.

If you are interested in receiving credit for internships and you're interested in working at the Republican National Committee, write Don Allen at 310 First Street, S.E., Washington, D.C. 20003. Your letter should include a copy of the publication that outlines the requirements of your school's internship, if available, and a completed application form. Arrange to have a copy of your transcripts sent to the National Committee, too. They will send you notification and try to work out arrangements for an internship that fulfills your school's requirements and the National Committee's needs. They need to know as fully as possible your interests and ideas about work as the RNC to help make the the best program possible.

the Suburban Trust Bank when Dr. Elkins resigned from the bank last year.

Frostburg State now maintains two accounts at the Fidelity Bank--which is owned by Mercantile Bankshares Corporation--but one of the accounts is being transferred to the other bank in the small Allegany County community at the request of the state treasurer's office in line with a new policy aimed at consolidating bank deposit accounts opened by state agencies.

The other account the college maintains at the Frostburg bank is a checking account which does not draw any interest. Dr. Guild said money from student activity fees and athletic fees are placed in this account, which is not part of the college's operating budget.

The money deposited in this account--the average balance is $10,000--is withdrawn to pay for such things as travel expenses for the school's athletic teams, lectures by outside speakers, and the expenses of the school's newspaper, Dr. Guild said.

The Frostburg president has served on the bank board since 1971. In addition to the $75 fee he receives for each of the board's monthly meetings, Dr. Guild owns 275 shares of Mercantile stock, with a market value of $2,475.

Following a hearing last month, the state Ethics Board concluded, "there has been no evidence of any unethical conduct on the part of Dr. Guild." It is also noted that Dr. Guild is not involved in the management of the school's checking account at Fidelity.

But, the board concluded: "It is clear. . . the public might reasonably assume a potential for conflict between Dr. Guild's duties as president of the college and as director of the bank with respect to college decisions to maintain or transfer the checking account."

Dr. Guild said yesterday that while he is complying with the request of the Ethics Board that he resign as a bank director, "I'm disappointed in the decision. I don't agree with the rationale at all. But that's an academic question."

Track Team Goes Undefeated

Last week, the Bobcat track team took what was supposed to be a close competition with Salisbury and Towson and turned the meet into a rout. Perhaps inspired by uncharacteristically good weather, and definitely inspired by a large partisan home crowd, the 'Cats went 9-0 by defeating Salisbury and Towson by a triangular meet score of 100-48-34. The win by Frostburg gave them the distinction of being Maryland College champions in both cross country and track. In the meet, four FSC records were broken and one was tied. To attest to the quality of the competition, no less than 11 stadium records were equalled or tied.

Without the services of veteran Jeff Williams, the 400 relay team of Mike Savoy, Keith Brady, Tom Abbamonte and Derrick Pinkney still surprised a lot of people by taking the event in a record 42.1. Before winning the pole vault and placing third in the long jump, Scott Matheny launched a record javelin throw of over 204 feet. In the face of tough competition, Gary Taylor took third place with his excellent triple jump of 45' 1.5", but his attempt was good enough for an FSC best. In between going back and forth between his various running events, Mike Savoy got the high jump bar up to 6'9" before he ran out of steam. Keith Brady tied an FSC mark by going 22.2 in the 220.

Besides getting good performances from their top competitors, the Bobcats displayed an inordinate amount of team work in this meet. Everybody got into the act with personal best performances. In the 880 yard dash, Neil Thomas and Denny Albright both broke two minutes for the first time to finish in a five man pack along with Tim Gavin, Tom Rodgers, and Matt Cline. While Mike Savoy won the first heat of the 440 in 49.5, Rich Heigel came on to win the second heat. Jim Baum-busch blazed his last lap in the mile to give Frostburg a five man sweep in that event. Wes Jaquith was thinking 6'6" in the high jump the whole week before the meet and that is what he did.

In other events, Craig Sullivan won the discus, Steve Smith took second in the shot with a personal best of 48'3 1/2". The mile relay consisting of Keith Brady, Eric Handon, Tom Rogers and Mike Savoy came up just short of a school record with a time of 3:22.7. Mike Harper and Steve Schaffer won the three mile in 15:09.

The Bobcats still have a number of big meets on their schedule including the Pitt Invitational, the district meet and the Nationals in Arkansas.

Bobkittens Track Team Wins Two

The Bobkitten track team copped two meets recently, a triangular meet against California State and Fairmont State and a quadrangular meet against Fairmont State, West Virginia University, Glenville State and West Virginia Tech.

In the triangular, the 'Kittens won by a narrow margin as they tallied 44 points to California's 41 and Fairmont's 39. In the running events, Portia Stokes of FSC copped two first place ribbons, with a time of 12.4 in the 100-yard dash and a time of 28.5 in the 220 yard dash. Vicki Bollinger won the 440 dash. In the 440 relay, Frostburg won with a time of 57.4. Other first place points were gained by Portia Stokes' 31'2" shot put toss and Patti Stephan's 4'9" high jump.

In the quadrangular meet, FSC won with a score of 114 points, West Vir-Frostburg State's baseball team saw its winning streak snapped at eight games this past week when they split with Salisbury after sweeping West Liberty. Following the games, Coach Bob Wells was asked about the teams chances of a district playoff berth. He stated that "unless we start losing games mighty fast, we will make it." Additionally, the coach expects to win at least seven of their final twelve games.

The Bobcats swept the twinbill with West Liberty State in two tight contests. Pitching aces Mark Richmond and Mark Malek gained the wins. In the opener, after giving up two hits and one run in the third, Mark Richmond settled down and pitched flawless ball. He walked four and struck out eleven batters. The Bobcat scoring came when Ed Swart singled in Tom Merritt and Craig Wengerd sacrificed home Swart. Rick Raughley added the third RBI, in the bottom of the sixth, as he sacrificed in Craig Wengerd.

In the second game, a costly Bobcat error enabled the visitors to take a 1-0 in the fourth. The score remained the same until the fifth, when Chuck Eberly stole second and scored on a single by Dave Summey. A delayed steal in the bottom of the sixth proved to supply the winning run as Ed Swart scored.

In Salisbury, the home team knocked out 15 hits for 13 runs to hand Mark Richmond his third loss of the season and to snap the 'Cats winning streak. Salisbury's Bruce Lane pitched a four-hitter for his eighth victory. In the nightcap, a six run fourth inning enabled the Bobcats to obtain a split with the Seagulls, as the Bobcats went on to win. Frostburg banged out twelve hits for twelve runs. Mark Malek won his sixth game of the year and is thus far undefeated.

Prior to the Salisbury and West Liberty games, the Bobcats were on a winning streak, which included winning eleven out of twelve games. Against Davis and Elkins, the team outscored their opponents by twenty runs as they won two games of a double-header, 6-2 and 22-6. Craig Wengerd knocked in three runs and Dave Lew was the winning pitcher as he gave up six hits and four walks in the opening game. In the nightcap, Gary Romanik and Shawn Baker knocked in six runs each as they led the 'Cats to the sweep. Dave Speidel won his second start as he struck out three, walked only one and gave up six hits. The team produced 21 hits.

At California State, the 'Cats won the opener in 11 innings by a score of 4-2, but dropped the night cap, 3-2. In the opener, Rick Raughley, Tom Merritt, Craig Wengerd and Shawn Baker contributed to the RBI List. George Strand won his second game in relief. The second game was called after six innings because of darkness. Frostburg's Doug Colletti took the loss.

After the road trip, the Bobcats opened an eight-game home stand and won three double-headers. They defeated George Mason, Coppin State and Bowie State College. Against George Mason, Ed Swart homered and following a pair of walks, Craig Wengerd singled in Jim Dunne for the winning run. Mark Richmond was the winning pitcher. The second game was called after five innings because of the unseasonable cold. FSC took the win with a score of 11-7. Gary Romanik led the production with three, Shawn Baker and Ed Swart each had two. Mark Malek acquired a victory in relief. Against Coppin State, both games of the doubleheader went five innings due to the late arrival of the visitors. The Bobcats bombed Coppin in the first game as they pounded out 14 hits for 19 runs. Craig Wengerd led with 4 runs batted in, Dave Devey and Bill Hunt each had 3 and Shawn Baker and Rick Raughley had 2 each. Dave Lew was the winning pitcher. The 'Cats won the second game by a score of 9-1. Chuck Eberly and John Elder had two RBIs and Jeff Brock and Tony Hranek contributed one apiece. Dave Speidel took the victory and Rick Raughley was credited with a save.

The Bobcats swept Bowie State as they knocked out 30 hits and scored a total of 29 runs. In the first game, freshman Ed Swart accounted for three runs as he hit two homers. Shawn Baker had two RBIs and Gary Romanik batted in three. Doug Coletti won the game for the 'Cats. The second game produced ten hits and eleven runs for the Bobcats as they won 14-3.

Frostburg Defeats Bethany in Golf

Playing away from home on Waynesburg's green, Frostburg's golf team captured their first victory of the season in an extremely challenging, tough four-way match which also hosted California State, Waynesburg State, and Bethany College.

Starting off the match, Frostburg was challenged and defeated by Waynesburg State 6-1 under the "match-scoring" system where there are only seven possible points to earn. Although when this match was originally scheduled it was thought to be possibly Frostburg's certain victory, only one Frostburg golfer, Jim Landskroener made a respectable showing on the extremely difficult green.

In the next match, the five-man Frostburg team challenged and defeated Bethany College with an excellent display of individual skill and concentration. Scoring in this match were Frostburg's Jim Landskroener (2 pts.), Jeff Foster (1 pt.), George Wilhelm (1 pt.), and Robert Worrall (1 pt.). The final score of this match was: Frostburg 5. Bethany 2.

During the final match of the day, Frostburg was defeated by California State 6 1/2-1/2 to bring the second loss this season under the traditionally tough district competitor. The top golfers of the day were King of California State (78), Hurley of Waynesburg (79), and finally Frostburg's veteran senior, Jim Landskroener (80).

Although Frostburg's season record stands at 8 and 2, there is still a dual match scheduled against California College and the University of Pittsburgh, which Coach Carlisle has described as "being out of our league." At this writing, it is unknown whether or not Frostburg's golf team will be participating in the NAIA District 18 tournament scheduled for May 13 and 14 away in Sharon, Pennsylvania.

As to next fall's season outlook, Coach Carlisle is unsure of the calibre of his team because of the high turnover of players and the unknown talent which lays in the coming freshman class and transfer students. With fall far off, there is only time

Baker Ranks in NAIA

One of the highlights of the sensational Bobcat baseball season is the incredible batting average of Shawn Baker. The senior left fielder, who transferred from Harford Community College last year, recently became the fourth batter in the country while he held a .530 average. To date, Baker is batting .476 and is closing in on the home run record, which is held by Jim Riggleman. Riggleman is currently playing for the Watterbury Dodgers of the AA baseball league.

Baker developed his batting ability with the help of Coach Bob Wells. "Shawn would sway when he swung, getting his hips ahead of his upper body," explained Wells. "We did a lot of work with him, getting him to rotate his hips, but the progress was slow. Then, one day, almost like a bolt out of the blue, Shawn put it all together."

ginia University was a close second with 112, Glenville State had 38 and West Virginia Tech had 18. Porta Stokes copped two first place finishes: the 100-yard dash with a time of 11.9 and the shot put with a toss of 29' 1 1/2". Patti Stephan also won two first place ribbons: the 100-meter hurdles in 17.7 and the high jump of 5'. Lynn Miller took first in the javelin with a throw of 89' 6 1/2". Two Frostburg relay teams won: the 440 relay and the 880 medley relay teams.

Saturday's Sports

At press time, on Saturday, April 24, the Frostburg State College Rugby teams met the University of Maryland. The "A" squad lost a hard fought match against Maryland, but the "B" team won in their match.

Also, the lacrosse team dominated Morgan State by a score of 17 to 9.

At the same time, Frostburg's baseball team squeaked out a 4-3 win over Towson State, and the winning run was walked in the bottom of the ninth.
