County. The Wicomico River has its source entirely in this County at Salisbury, which is the head of Navigation, while its lower part divides it from Somerset County.

Wicomico County was created by the Constitution of 1867, out of parts of Worcester and Somerset Counties. It contains about 400 square miles, and is watered by the Nantuxek, Wicomico and Pocomoke

Rivers, and the Wicomico Creek which is navigable for large schooners.

The soil in the Western part is a stiff clay subsoil, with a dark loam, the center is high and sandy, while the Eastern part is a black loam or red gum soil, well adapted to the growth of Corn, Oats and Small to the growth of Wheat, Corn, Hay, &c.

and most important town on the Eastern Shore. Its commerce is extensive, and its mercantile and manufacturing pursuits are carried on with great activity. It has nine churches, eight schools, about fifty stores and twenty manufacturing institutions of various kinds. It is on the line of the Eastern Shore Railroad, an extension of the Delaware and Philadelphia, Wilmington &

Pocomoke Railroad, which connects this place with Green City, Berlin and the intermediate points.

Ulcerated Sores.

The healing and purifying qualities of

KELLER'S ROMAN LINIMENT, make it the best article for the speedy and safe cure of ulcerated sores.

A Stitch in the Back

Is caused by a sudden wrenching of the spine, and produces violent and acute pains, making it very difficult for the person to move. It should not be neglected, as the curvature of the spine is often brought on by neglect of this common complaint.

Sore Throat and Quinsy.

The causes which usually induce Sore

Throat are those which give a sudden

check to perspiration, and thus obstruct

Nature's regular work, quickly producing, in consequence, an inflammatory condition, which involves the tonsils, and rapidly spreading over the whole mucous membrane of the fauces will cause Quinsy.

Inflammation of the Breast.

This distressing complaint may be cured, or entirely prevented by the timely use of this remedy. It has never failed,

when applied at the commencement, or

before the gathering takes place.

Weakness of the Ankles and Joints.

Strains and chronic pains, cold and external injuries, are the chief causes of this complaint. The muscles are relaxed,

in many cases making it difficult to move.

By a free use of this Liniment a certain cure will be effected. As a

Horse and Cattle Lotion

It is invaluable to Farmers, Express Companies, Stage Proprietors, well appointed

Livery Establishments, and all who own

or use Horses and other Stock, immedi-

DOMESTIC BLISS.

There is a sacred spot on earth,

Which antedates our joys above;

'Tis where we sit, when toil is o'er,

With those we love.

Oh, in waking dreams, I sit,

With the dear darlings of my life,

And gaze upon those treasured gems—

My child and wife!

The fleeting pleasures of the world,

Like dawning shadows, fade away,

And give us glimpses of the bliss

Which waits above.

Oh, wedded love! God's dearest gift

To render all his creatures blest,

'Tis only 'neath its smile we taste

A perfect rest.

THAT TERRIBLE JUVENILE

Colonel Grahame was seated in the parlor awaiting the appearance of Miss Grey. He was a noble-looking man, scarcely past life's meridian, though an empty coat-sleeve told of an arm lost in the defense of his country. His thoughts were evidently not rose-colored to-day, for his fine face was clouded with melancholy.

His revery was interrupted by the entrance of the household pet, Lulu, who had been crying, as her tear-stained face bore evidence. The Colonel took her upon his knee.

"What's this? my little friend in tears?"

"I've got to have a tooth out," she said, pointing to a loose pearl which was being displaced by a new-come.

"What a misfortune! let me see."

The child parted her rose-bud lips, and Colonel Grahame touched it gently but firmly, and lo! out it fell.

"It wasn't so bad after all, was it,

Miss Lulu?"

Lulu looked at him ruefully.

"Do you think another'll come?"

then her face brightened suddenly as a cheering thought struck her, and she whispered: "If I'd taken laughing as I'd have a lovely tooth."

Colonel Grahame looked somewhat bewildered.

"Taken gas! pray tell me, Lulu, what difference that would make?"

He bent his head to receive the low-spoken confidence.

"Annie Aunt Mamie took it, and she's got the prettiest set you ever saw—so white and straight. Her tooth were awful crooked before!"

Just then Annie came in when she saw what was entertaining Lulu.

She gave him her hand with a welcoming smile. It was easy to see he was a favorite with her, as well as with her little niece.

Several times through the evening

she noticed him studying her face in abstracted way, and at last he recalled him about it. He answered playfully, and with an effort threw off the impression the child's prattle had made upon his mind, and resumed his usual courteous, entertaining manner.

He had long loved Mamie Grey,

though he had been careful to con-

Mamie uttered a cry of delight as she entered the bower of bloom and fragrance, and they spent a pleasant hour in searching out and admiring the rare blossoms, of which the colonel knew the name and peculiarities of every one, and described them in a way which made Mamie think him a miracle of entertaining erudition.

After a time silence fell upon them.

Mamie felt that the eyes which dwelt so persistently upon her face were brilliant with an expression new to her, and unwonted

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1877.

A bonus "Vice President is a Senator, and can judge of the election and qualification of Senators, and vote on their admission."

W. A. WHEELER.

The difference between Wheeler and Patterson: The latter bought his election, while the former had bigger reasons than Patterson to buy for him.

Conover has been conned-over, and turned over so much, that nobody knows which side he is on, and but for the matter of a partisan vote in the Senate, nobody would care a cent which side he was on, so he was not on their's.

The contest in the United States Senate this week, has been waged with all the bitterness and venom of which the Republican party is capable. Edmunds, who once in a while during his career in the Senate has risen a little above the low partisan. Since the death of his chief (Morton) now pitches in, and is the chief bulldozer. What little dignity he once was capable of falsely assuming, entirely forsook him during the late contest for the admission of new Senators. The great fear of Edmunds and his party is the happening of an event which will leave them in a minority, an event as certain as day follows night. Providence has already pointed his finger in that direction, and men will follow in the wake, either in sentiment or to the tomb. There has been too much rashly used by this party to keep it self in power, and the idea now of opposing men who have been duly and legally elected to that body, and favoring the admission of others who are not entitled, is an outrage upon our institutions, which, if persisted in and sustained, will eventually establish a disregard for all decency, law, order or right. Then we will have no government worth a fig. At this writing we do not know whether Butler, Spofford or Kellogg have been admitted to the seats, or some one who was not contending for the place, but one thing is certain, the country has lost all respect for the statesmanship of Mr. Edmunds, who has shown himself a fit subject to command the bloody shirt brigade. Morton's mantle has fallen upon a fit successor, and if Blaine will only stand by Edmunds this winter, we may expect a lively campaign. Yet, some of their fuglemen have scented the powder from afar and are deserting them. Patterson and Conover, men for whom we have not the most exalted esteem, are beginning to show signs of revolt like cowards often do when justice begins to stare them in the face, are trembling, and are about to turn state's evidence by making a full confession of their past sins, and voting on the side of justice. Chickens will come home to roost, and it will be a wonder if more conscience stricken radicals do not soon long for the paths of virtue and of peace, since they see that a fearful retribution awaits such knaves as some of them are. Whatever else may happen, we predict that ere the end of the long session, the Democrats will have a majority in both Houses of Congress, and the Executive will be in complete harmony therewith. But those who think the events of this winter at Washington will be void of interest, had as well direct themselves of such a delusion. Storm after storm will follow each other in rapid succession before the political sky assumes that radiant, serene aspect, calculated to inspire the people with confidence and hope. Yet behind all these dark clouds, let us hope there is a silver lining, which ere long will be revealed by the gentle breeze of justice and equity, when guilty partisans in high places will be rebuked, and honest men will be rewarded and trusted.

Hon. James U. Dennis.

The Salisbury Herald boasts the name of Hon. James U. Dennis for President of the Senate of Maryland. While we agree with the Herald in every particular as to the fitness of Mr. D. for the place, we are disposed to believe that he can serve the Eastern Shore better on the floor of the Senate. There are questions likely to come up during the session which will have to be met bravely, and fought incessantly, or the Eastern Shore will lose considerable of its power in the State, and Mr. Dennis' qualifications as a ready and forcible debater, and his reputation as such will ever stand in the way of usurping power. While we would at all times like to see him promoted, we must say we are not willing that his valuable services should be lost or curtailed in the least. While we have many good men in the Senate from the Eastern Shore who might fill the chair with credit to their counties and value to the State, we have none from this side of the Bay, in our opinion, who could grapple so successfully with the wily politicians of the other parts of the State as can Mr. D., Col. Lloyd, Mr. Humphreys or Mr. Miller, either of whom would make a good presiding officer of the Senate, and perhaps either of the other honorable gentlemen from the Eastern Shore. But we hope it may please Mr. Dennis' friends to advise him to remain upon the floor of the Senate, not so much for himself as for the section of the State he so ably represents.

The Particulars of the Wreck of the Huron.

NORFOLK, VA., November 26.—The steamer Bonita, Captain Kane, arrived this morning at 9 o'clock, from Nag's Head, having on board four officers and thirty seamen, rescued from the wreck of the United States sloop Huron, and also eight dead bodies taken from the surf on Saturday. An interview with one of the rescued gives the following information: Left Hampton Roads about 11 A. M. on Friday; discharged pilot at the capes at 1 o'clock. At that time a stiff breeze and heavy sea running from the southeast. During the afternoon the wind steadily increased, and sea also increasing. By night the wind had increased to a gale. About 8 o'clock the jib and flying jibbays were carried away, while the gale was fearful; went to bed at 8:30; was aroused about midnight by the quartermaster calling Master French, heard French ask him how was the weather; the quartermaster replied bad; I dozed off again, and was aroused about 1:10 by the thumping of the ship when she struck bottom; ran on deck and found the vessel ashore about 300 yards from land. The surf made a clean sweep across the decks, and the ship broke up very fast. There was no confusion and no signs of fear on board. All the port boats were washed away, and the cutter was lowered and swamped along side. None of the saved were on duty at the time the vessel struck. It is impossible to give the true cause of the great disaster. Some say it was carelessness others assign it to the effort of the navigator to hug the shore and keep out of the gulf stream. When she lost Carrick Light she could not see Body Island Light on account of the fog. Kitty-hawk, the scene of the disaster, is near a small settlement on the dry coast of North Carolina, and is situated between Cape Henry and Nag's Head, being within a few miles of the latter place.

The ship struck about eight miles south of Kittyhawk and two miles north of life-saving station No. 7. The Huron was one of the eight sloops of war authorized by act of Congress, approved February 16, 1873, all of which have already been launched. Her frame was laid September 3, 1875. Her dimensions were: Length over all, 213 feet; length of deck, 191 feet; depth of hold, 16 feet, and she was about 560 tons register. Her battery consisted of one 11-inch pivot gun, four 9-inch broadside guns and one 60-pounder rifle. She was built at the Norfolk Navy Yard, and launched on March 8, 1875, being the first vessel launched from that yard since the close of the war. She was bark rigged, and had a back-acting compound screw engine of 800 horse power. On March 18, 1877, she sailed from Port Royal, South Carolina, on a scientific cruise in the West Indies, having been ordered to Port Spain, Island of Trinidad, where her special work was commenced. During the trip she visited all the important places on the northern and eastern coasts of South America. For this work she carried a complete array of apparatus. She returned from this cruise in August, arriving at Philadelphia on the 17th of that month. After remaining at this port for a short time she sailed South again, and was in Hampton Roads, off Fort Monroe, on the 20th inst.

One Cent a Day!

Economy is the order of the hour, and every expenditure, however small, is expected to give a return in full value. Every family requires one good, reliable family newspaper. If such an article can be procured for less than one cent for each working day of the year, we are not aware of it. A family newspaper should contain a carefully-prepared summary of all the news of the day, both Religious and Secular, and if arranged so that the two departments may be separated and read by two individuals at the same time, so much the better. The Family Newspaper should have attractive reading and information for the various members of a household. Some portion of the paper should be devoted, every week, to religious and moral improvement, to current secular news, to agriculture, commerce, markets, finance, to general literature, &c., with a special department for the young. Above all, the Family Newspaper should be perfectly pure, and free from any contaminating influences in its reading matter or in its advertisements. Too much attention cannot be paid to this feature, when the press is flooding the country with so much that is vile and pernicious. To crown all, the Family Newspaper should be untrammelled by any affiliation with sect or party, and should be free to give all the good news from and about all the world. If such a Family Newspaper can be had for one cent a day, it should be taken by every family in the land. Such a Family Newspaper, in every county and value to the State, we have none from this side of the Bay, in our opinion, who could grapple so successfully with the wily politicians of the other parts of the State as can Mr. D., Col. Lloyd, Mr. Humphreys or Mr. Miller, either of whom would make a good presiding officer of the Senate, and perhaps either of the other honorable gentlemen from the Eastern Shore. But we hope it may please Mr. Dennis' friends to advise him to remain upon the floor of the Senate, not so much for himself as for the section of the State he so ably represents.

Text following pieces of composition were written by three of our little school girls, and their originality is so striking their teacher requested us to publish them for their future encouragement.

SNOW.

The cold days for snow will soon be here, and then everything will be white with the beautiful snow. Snow is nice for those who can enjoy it, but for the poor little children who have no home to go to, and no fire, it is not very nice. It is very pretty before a snow to see the little snow birds hopping about on the ground, they look so lively. And then it is very nice after a large snow has fallen to see the snow on the trees and on the roof of the house. Some snows are a great deal deeper than others. The deeper they are, the more fun we girls have snow-balling and playing out in it at school.

RAIN.

If we did not have any rain nothing would grow. It is very beautiful to go out in the storm after a shower in the summer. Every flower has her mouth open drinking rain water. Even the birds seem glad of it, for they will sit on a limb of the tree and sing so sweetly after a rain. It is not very nice to go to school after a very heavy rain, for you don't mind you will get your feet wet, and may make you sick. It is very nice for the house after a gentle shower, for it makes it then easier to draw the load. Rain makes the grass grow for us to eat in winter. If it was not for rain, we would not have any water, because our wells would be dried up by the hot sun. I like dried fruit in winter, but in summer there is generally lightning and thunder.

INTERTEMPERANCE.

There is nothing in the world worse than an intemperate man. He is disagreeable to himself and all who know him. He is little ones at home, in rags and suffering from cold and hunger, and watching and yet fearing to see him coming, knowing that he will bring them nothing to eat, and that they must turn out of doors to suffer. There are some suffering from the curse of intemperance, but they still go on spending all they make for that which they know will destroy them, and sometimes they carry their families with them. When they come out of the drinking and gambling houses they are fit for nothing but the old fool.

CLEANLINESS.—A distinguishing characteristic of that indispensable household remedy, Keller's Roman Liniment, is its cleanliness. Use it as freely as desired, and wherever you will, it discolors neither flesh nor garment. Its components are gums dissolved in substances most rapidly absorbed by the skin, which it leaves as bright and as smooth as before its application. Rheumatism, Neuralgia, etc., are always cured by it more quickly than by any other remedy.

From Professor A. Jackson, Laval University, Quebec: "I have used a good deal of Keller's Liebig's Liquid Extract of Beef and Tongue Invigorant in my private practice, and can recommend it as extremely useful in cases of debility and weak digestion requiring strengthening nourishment. Dr. L. D. Collier, Agent."

THE YATES ROBBERY

STARTLING DISCLOSURES!

THE FIRM COMPULSED TO MAKE AN ENTIRE CHANGE IN THEIR BUSINESS.

It was given out by some of the evasive neighbors of the enterprising clothing firm of C. Yates & Co., in the Ledger Building, that the reports of a burglary, etc., which have lately filled the newspapers and started the community, were only an "Advertising Dodge." But the facts that three of the burglars implicated have been captured and that over $20,000 of the $27,000 stolen has been recovered, show that it was not an "Advertising Dodge," and go to prove that the firm must be doing an immense business to have $27,000 in their safe after banking hours and after paying off their force of employees.

THEY ARE COMPULSED TO MAKE AN ENTIRE CHANGE IN THEIR BUSINESS.

OF JANUARY 1, 1878.

After not quite two years of unprecedented success in Philadelphia, we find that the immense store in the Ledger Building, with its 70 feet front and a store high, has not capacity enough and that we are compelled to divide our business.

We shall open on January 1, 1878, seven doors west of our present location, in the beautiful store No. 228 Chestnut street, formerly occupied by James H. Orne & Co., a first-class immense establishment for children and boys' clothing exclusively, which will be the largest and most elegant concern of the kind in America.

FROM OUR CORRESPOND

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 28, 1917.

The latest reports from Genl. Grant's estate are concerning a grand ball and ball given in the city by Mrs. Mackay. The scope of the affair thus described: "Mrs. Mackay's mansion cost 1,500,000 francs and the furniture 500,000 francs. Held out on the Place d'Orléans and in a splendid residence. The garden was brilliantly illuminated and decorated with national flags and with emblematic thousand of gas jets. The orchestra, consisting of 36 musicians, was seated in a pavilion built out from the front of the Rue Trinité. The orchestra, in Heracles of timber, decorated the entrance and the entrance, being that money could miss. The taste select was there, a very study and impressive. At the dinner there were covered. The guests were Genl. Grant and the members of the American on and Consulate and their names on the menu was inscribed on small silver tablets." Mrs. Grant's costume was of heavy corded silk with elaborate trimmings. One of her late morning reception toilets is of blackish blue silk, which must be very becoming to her light complexion.

The severe rain of the last three days has done a deal of harm in this vicinity. I know of no locality of our country that subject to such frequent and severe rains as this. The summer showers are literally perfect thunder-bursts—they come with a rush and a roar, lasting but a few minutes, tearing up trees, washing out sewers and disturbing things generally. The mails of Saturday night and Sunday were delayed and accounts of great damage done by the rain have come yesterday and to-day from all surrounding quarters. As for our immediate vicinity, the Potomac has overflowed its banks in some places and the lower parts of the city are flooded. Cellars and basements in many cases have been pumped out by the engines and down by the city market the appearance is that of a mud pond.

The weather is still warm and sunny, but the rain seems to have driven away all threatnings of cold, this had made his appearance in the frost of several nights and relaxed again into the balmy softness of Indian summer.

VENI VIDI VICI

TRADE MARK

LINIMENT.

Rheumatism.

Time and money have been wasted in fruitless endeavors to obtain some embrocation that would prove a cure for this excruciating disease; but all have failed except KELLER'S ROMAN LINIMENT, and that has been successful in almost every instance where it has been employed, whether such has been the inflammatory or chronic type. In Lumbago and Sciatica it affords instant relief.

Neuralgia.

This excruciating painful disease is instantly relieved and rapidly cured by the continued application of this Liniment.

Toothache.

This painful and annoying complaint is instantaneously cured by the application of the Liniment.

Frosted Feet.

The Roman Liniment has proved effectual in all cases where it has been applied.

No instance is known where it has failed in giving immediate relief.

Burns and Scalds.

This Liniment has proved itself to be one of the best remedies ever used for Burns and Scalds. Its quickness in alleviating pain when applied, gives it great superiority over all other preparations.

Ulcerated Sores.

The healing and purifying qualities of

KELLER'S LINIMENT render it the best article for the speedy and safe cure of

ulcerated sores.

A Stitch in the Back

It is caused by a sudden wrenching of the

spine, and produces violent and acute pain, making it very difficult for the person to move. It should not be neglected, as the curvature of the spine is

often brought on by neglect of this common complaint.

Sore Throat and Quinsy.

The causes which usually induce Sore

Throat are those which give a sudden

check to perspiration, and thus obstruct

Nature's regular work, quickly producing, in consequence, an inflammatory condition, which, involving the tonsils, and rapidly spreading over the whole mucous

membrane of the fauces will cause Quinsy.

Inflammation of the Breast.

This distressing complaint may be cured, or entirely prevented by the timely use of this remedy. It has never failed,

when applied at the commencement, or

before the gathering takes place.

Weakness of the Ankles and Joints.

Strains and chronic pains, cold and external injuries, are the chief causes of this complaint. The muscles are relaxed, and in many cases making it difficult to move.

By a free use of this Liniment a certain

cure will be effected. As a

Horse and Cattle Lotion

It is invaluable to Farmers, Express Companies, Stage Proprietors, well appointed

Livery Establishments, and all who own

or use Horses and other Stock, immediately relieving and curing

Scurvy, Ring Bone, Foundered Feet,

Bruises, Corns, Flesh Wounds, Galls of all kinds, Cracked Heels, Sprains, Swellings or Glands, Poll Evil, Splints, Colic, Stiffness, Lameness, and many other Diseases.

KELLER'S

Roman Liniment

Never fails to give satisfaction, and, as a domestic remedy for man and beast, it is incomparably superior to any of the so-called family liniments, salves, etc., as a single trial will convince all.

FOR SALE EVERYWHERE.

Price, Fifty Cents a Bottle.

Poetry.

NEVER SURRENDER.

Sorrow, sorrow, all around;

The world is full of woe;

There's plenty grief for every soul

Whose home is here below.

North or South or East or West,

Wherever you may bide,

You'll find no man who with his lot

Is fully satisfied.

One grieves because he's over stout;

One mourns that he is thin;

Give each his wish, you change the tune,

But cannot change the tin.

The farmer's boy would change his field

And seek the ocean wide;

He'd leave the brown hands of the farm

And plow the billowy tide.

The new arrangement of the Eastern Shore and Delaware Railroad Companies is the thing which has been so long desired. Our citizens can take supper at home in Salisbury, take the cars to Crisfield to Baltimore by boat; spend the day in the city, return at night, and take breakfast with their family at home the following morning, thus being absent from home one day and two nights. Our townsman, F. C. Todd, beat that on Wednesday last. He left home on the early train, went to Baltimore, attended to his business and returned by boat in time for breakfast on Thursday morning.

Remember that J. Cannon & Son have the largest stock of Clothing and Shoes on the Eastern Shore, and that they sell goods at prices below competition.

A FIRE.—The store of Mr. Samuel L. Tull, about two and a half miles of Marion station, this county, was destroyed by fire on Tuesday morning last. The fire was discovered at three o'clock, and was then beyond control. The building had been insured up to within a very few days of the fire, and the loss, which will probably reach $3000, will fall very heavily on Mr. T. Several years ago the same gentleman met with the misfortune of having his dwelling burned, and we are informed one of his children was burned up in it.

As Mr. Tull lost his wife in October, it seems as though he is having a multitude of the bad things of this life all at once.—Somerset Herald.

Organs and Pianos for sale or rent. Apply to Mrs. M. E. Purnan, Cor. Division & Isabella Sts.

The Salisbury Fire company met on Thursday night at the court room. In the absence of the President, Dr. F. M. Slemmons was called to the chair. The committee appointed at a previous meeting made a report that they had been successful in raising a considerable amount of money towards purchasing an engine. Also the committee of correspondence made a report that they had been offered several kinds of first apparatus, some one of which would perhaps be accepted. The meeting adjourned to meet again next Tuesday night, after appointing a committee to procure a site for an engine house.

A full attendance is requested on next Tuesday night, to hear reports of committees, and to assist in the organization of the active membership of the company. Capt. Bedell being absent, this duty was postponed to that time.

The holidays are daily drawing nearer, and the windows of the various stores are fairly ablaze with Christmas novelties, a larger assortment of which has never been in Salisbury. We would say to those who intend personating Santa Claus that Sam'l H. Evans has everything that can be possibly desired. Call.

BURIAL.—Sometime between Saturday night and Monday morning last the office occupied by Justice Fooks, and L. R. Dorman and L. M. Wilson, Esqs., collectors of taxes, was entered by some one. It seems the fellow entered the outer door with a key, and afterwards used the stove shaker to pry open the drawers and desks. In Mr. Dorman's desk he found a shot bag containing a small quantity of nickels and coppers kept to make convenient change. Books, papers, etc., were left undisturbed, showing that the fellow had no notion of going into book-keeping. Suspicion seems to follow one who has been shadowed for sometime, who will be overtaken some of these rainy nights. Look out for squalls, old fellow! The "Red Bird" is not a pleasant place to spend Christmas in, we should imagine.

Go buy a good heavy working suit, Coat Pants and vest for $4.00, at J. Cannon & Son's.

At a regular meeting of the Salisbury Lyceum on Monday, December 10th, 1877, the death of Rev. William Fulton, D. D., having been announced a committee of three, consisting of Messrs. Sam'l A. Graham, Granville R. Rider and Wm. H. Warren was appointed to draft resolutions of respect to his memory. The committee reported the following, which, after appropriate remarks by J. E. Ellegood, J. A. Parsons, L. Malone and W. H. Warren, Esqs., were unanimously adopted:

"Life has been compared to a bridge stretching across a wide stream, over which a vast multitude are struggling and jostling to reach the opposite shore. One by one this multitude drops through and disappears beneath the dark, deep waters of the stream, leaving a vacancy above that is at once filled by anxious pressing crowd, and a ripple which for a little while marks the place of his disappearance. But when a man like Dr. William Fulton dies, we feel that his death leaves a vacancy that cannot soon be filled, but must long remind us of his worth, his ability and his usefulness. In none of the associations with which he was connected, will his loss be felt more deeply than in the Salisbury Lyceum.

Recognized as the most skillful debater and the clearest logician, he was always ready to perform the duties assigned him, and never refused to take the place of an absent or delinquent member, when the interest of the Lyceum required it. His extensive learning, his frank and manly manner, his courtesy and kindness in debate had long ago endeared him to all the members, and now makes his death a loss deeply deplored.

Realizing that our loss, though great, is small compared with that of others, be it

Resolved, That we tender to his family our sympathy in their bereavement, and that we would mingle, with theirs, our tears of sorrow for his death.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased, and published in the newspapers of the Town.

Resolved, That as a tribute of respect to his memory the Lyceum do now adjourn.

A medicine, like a man, is judged by the good it accomplishes. The wide-spread testimony as to the efficacy of Keller's Vegetable Life Drops, and its continuous use wherever introduced constitute a reason sufficiently strong for the endorsement of so valuable a preparation; since no inferior compound, however well managed, could meet with the remotest degree of favor compared with that with which the Life Drops were received.

WANAMAKER & BROWN respectfully announces that their Autumn and Winter Fashions in Clothing for Men and Boys are ready. The great buildings at Sixth and Market are crowded from top to bottom with such clothing as merits the confidence of the people.

WANAMAKER & BROWN'S Cloths and Cassimeres are, in many instances, made expressly for them. No house in the trade confines itself so exclusively to the first-class manufacturers. Indeed, a long and mature experience is necessary to know just what goods to select and make up.

WANAMAKER & BROWN'S Order Department will be found full of fabrics of every good kind, either Novel and Fashionable styles or the plainer and more useful things. Talented cutters, who have been successful for years in our service, are in waiting to make garments according to the ideas of the people who are to wear the goods. Good hands are employed to make up, and only good trimmings used.

WANAMAKER & BROWN'S Ready-Made Department offers every accommodation to those who do not care to go through the process of measurement. The stock in all Departments for Men and Boys is immense and complete, and does not lack in style, workmanship or finish, and the price can be proved to be nearly, if not quite, 25 cents on the dollar lower than the market.

WANAMAKER & BROWN'S Little Boys' and Youth's Clothing has always been well-cared-for and prominent feature of the business. All ages can be fitted, and the styles are not surpassed—the "fit" has always been the subject of admiration.

CONSTABLE'S SALE!

LARGE OR SMALL FARM

To the question whether, as a general thing, small farms are not more profitable than large ones, we answer that it will depend entirely on circumstances. If the raising of vegetables and small fruits or the products of the dairy be the principal object, and the farm is situated near a large city or town, then undoubtedly a small farm is preferable, for the nearer the producer is to the consumer the better his chance to obtain the highest price. But whether the farm be large or small, its good or ill success depends mostly on the man himself, or in other words, on his proper cultivation. Some men can manage a large farm just as well as they can a small one, provided they have the means, for the reason that their capacity for directing is equal to the undertaking. But when the farm is large and the means of cultivation small, a man had better draw in his fences, sell or give away his surplus acres, and confine his operations within narrow limits, especially if he has to depend on himself for the principal part of his labor. And it is to just such cases as we would now more particularly address ourselves.

The difficulty of keeping up extensive enclosures, together with its necessary concomitant, the skimming over large areas in order to make a crop, is sure to invite the intrusions of stock and the inroads of bushes and briars, and thus the already sterile surface rendered still more difficult to cultivate. Such farming is sure to result in poor crops both as to quantity and quality, and had better be abandoned for the more thorough cultivation and heavier manuring of fewer acres. What does it signify to plant fifty acres of corn and only raise as much as can be done on twenty acres, with good seed and proper care and attention? The interest on the remaining thirty acres would more than put the twenty acres in condition to realize as much as from the entire fifty acres cultivated in the usual way. The instances are not rare where thrifty, successful farmers are making more profit from fifty acres of tilled and managed economically, than others realize from four times the quantity, and for no other reason than that the larger farm is not half cultivated, and more expensive in every way to manage.

If careful attention and high feeding produce fine stock, there is no reason why thorough cultivation and heavy manuring should not produce equally remunerative yields and equally profitable crops. It is true there is a point beyond which feeding in the one case and manuring in the other becomes waste; although it is not likely that the ordinary farmer will do too much of either. Barnyard or stable manure is good everywhere, but no farmer is apt to spread it too thick. But to him who would have an ample supply now is the time for him to begin collecting his material from every available source, and by composting it he will have enough by spring to go on his cornfield and garden, besides considering the left to top-dress his grass land or orchard, as may be preferred.

Don't be so foolish. - Old Farmer Pettigill went into his house one day and caught John, the hired man, hugging Mrs. F.

The farmer said nothing, and went into the field.

After dinner he wanted John for something, but John was not to be found.

He went at last into John's room, where the latter was on his knees packing his trunk.

"What's the matter, John?" said P.

"O, nothing," said John.

"What are you packing your trunk for?"

"Going away." "What are you going away for?"

"O, you know," answered John.

"No, I don't know," rejoined P. - "Come give me a reason for your sudden desire to go away."

Local Advertiser.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1897.

This paper has double the circulation of any paper on the Lower Peninsula.

Advertisements—All articles designed for publication must be in the office by noon on Thursday, and should be written in full, and on one side of the paper only.

LIST OF LETTERS

Remaining in the Salisbury Postoffice, Wisconsin County, Md.

DECEMBER 14, 1897.

Persons calling for letters in the following list will please say they are from the Advertiser. Letters not received in the office will be returned to the sender.

Religious Notices.

Rev. T. J. Prettman will preach in the M. E. Church of this town to-morrow morning. Subject—"If." Afternoon at Wesley Chapel. Subject—"Be not Deceived." Evening in Salisbury M. E. Church. Subject—"To Die is Gain."

Go to S. H. Evans and get your presents for Christmas. Everything desirable can be had at his store, so do not fail to visit him.

We call attention to the fact that the Washington Evening Star is another column and commend it to our readers as one of the most interesting papers now published in our country. It contains all the latest news, foreign, domestic and departmental, and is a first-class newspaper in every particular.

PAYING THE TAX.—Our town commissioners are paying in front of Mr. John White's property, and if they can receive pay for doing it. They will inaugurate a spirit of improvement in the side walks, many of which require repaving. Let the good work go on. It is not for the goose if not for the gander, somebody is benefited.

Don't forget to call and see Miss Mary J. Magill's Fine Christmas Goods at new and tastefully arranged show window at No. 33 Main St. Call and see her new millinery before purchasing elsewhere.

Rev. Dr. R. L. Dashiell will deliver a lecture at Crisfield this evening at 7 o'clock. His lecture at Fairmount last night was an interesting one. Subject: "Wanted: A situation; a gentleman's son." The Dr. handles a subject with rare ability, and his manner is remarkably forcible and winning. We hope he will visit our town before he returns home and deliver one of his lectures.

Having determined to change the style of my firm on and after January 1st, 1898, all persons indebted to us on Book Account of 1897, are expected to settle the same immediately.

F. C. TODD.

The county commissioners have granted our Fire Company the use of a house standing on the public square for an engine house. This is the best location in town, as it is central, and also near the lake, so that a supply of pure water can be had for practice with the machine. We hope to see the thing on its wheels in a short time. Let the pumpkin roll.

All over the world Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is making its way, and every place it reaches consuming people are more seldom met. It is truly a blessing to humanity, and on its cost 25 cents.

The store of F. C. Todd was entered on last Monday night by a burglar, who pried on the iron safe till his patience or strength failed him, and then went for the money drawers which contained about forty dollars in silver and small change, but failed to get in, in consequence of not understanding a secret spring attached to the bolt. He then stole or carried off a lot of ginger cakes and a few plugs of tobacco. The thief is pretty well known, and will be long fall a victim to misplaced confidence. Before the robbers again sing the pious jig, he will be safely housed in the "red bird."

Graham Bros are offering Clothing very cheap, and all desiring to treat themselves to a Christmas suit should go at once while the chance is to be had.

The county commissioners were in session on Tuesday last and transacted considerable business.

The following appointments were made: John W. Farlow and Samuel P. Parsons, constables for Pittsburg district. L. J. Hearn, constable for Trappe. Jerry Jones, constable for Leonard and Leonard Morris, road supervisors for Pittsburg district. Henry J. White and Isaac Roberts of Wm. U. road supervisors for Tyaskin district.

They will meet again January 8th for the purpose of passing pauper accounts.

We invite special attention to a lot of Labrador Herring, No. B. Mackerel, No. 1 Shad in half barrels. No. 1 Mackerel by the pound. Also Boneless Codfish. Evaporated Sugar Corn as good as fresh, on the cob. Pearl Barley, very delicious article. Sugar Dripps, the finest made. Old fashioned cut loaf sugar 19¢ per lb., and a full stock of fine family groceries at HUMPHREYS & TILGHMAN'S.

The Lyceum debated the following subject on Monday night: Resolved, "That the Town Commissioners should deny the expense of providing a Fire Engine for the use of the town." Decided in the affirmative. Warren and Ellegood for the affirmative. Parsons and Holland for the negative.

The question for the next debate which comes off on the first Monday night in January is, Resolved, "That Females ought to have the right of suffrage." Malone and Cooper for the affirmative. Graham and Waller for the negative. As the debate is all public, it is expected that a full attendance will be out on that occasion, and especially the feminine sex, as this is a subject which interests them.

Christmas is coming. Buy your friend a present that will be useful as well as ornamental. For instance a handsome box of Letter Paper. Such articles can be found at Collier's Drug Store in any desired style.

After a protracted illness at the residence of his father, (Handy Fooks, Esq.), on Wednesday night last, D. Edwin Fooks, aged 88 years. Mr. Fooks was for a long time agent for Adams Express Company, and by his strict attention to business, and urbanity of manner he won the respect and confidence of all persons having business with him. He was the only son of Mr. Fooks. A daughter, having died several years ago on her return from school leaves her parents entirely alone. They have the deepest sympathy of the community. The remains of Mr. Fooks were buried with Masonic honors at the Parsons' Cemetery yesterday at 2 o'clock, after an impressive funeral discourse by Rev. J. J. Smyth at the residence of the parents of the deceased.

It is expected that every bean should give his girl a Christmas present. Now just step in at Collier's Drug Store and buy her a box of the handsomest Letter Paper ever seen in this market—and all will be well.

At a meeting of the Board of Town Commissioners held November 22nd, 1897, the following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, In consequence of this affliction, he has been compelled to resign a position which has been so creditably filled by him for six years, be it

Resolved, That we, the Board of Town Commissioners for Salisbury, wish to express the esteem and high regard in which he is held by us for the very faithful, efficient and impartial manner in which he discharged the duties of the Bailiff of our town.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published for two weeks in the SALISBURY ADVERTISER.

A. O. SMITH, Sec'y.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL REPORT.—Perhaps it will be of interest to the patrons of the Grammar School to know what their children have been doing for the past term ending December 18th. Some have manifested a great deal of interest and made marked progress. For the gratification of those concerned and encouragement of the scholars, we submit the names of five from each class for publication, who stood the highest, taken in order in the first class were George Wallis, Ella E. Woodcock, Jennie Ward, Woodland Todd, and George Williams; and of the second class were Richard Conway, Stella Dorman, Minnie Tarr, Nannie Parker, Mary Evans.

We have also furnished each pupil with a report to present to his or her parents or guardians. We propose to adopt wholly, and retain the same system in the future as it seems more effectually to work the desired result.

A series of temperance meetings will be held in Salisbury commencing Thursday evening, December 27th. Distinguished speakers from abroad will be in attendance and address the meetings.

Our esteemed friend and neighbor, John C. Hearn, Esq., having been for some time afflicted with internal cancer, left his home here a few days ago to have an operation performed in the city of Philadelphia, but, as was expected by his friends here, the physicians there declined to use the knife, believing that he could not recover. He died on Friday of last week, and his remains were brought down to Laurel, Delaware, on Monday for interment. Wisconsin Lodge of Salisbury, assisted by Hope Lodge of Laurel, Delaware, took charge of the body at the depot, carried it to the M. E. Church in Laurel, where an appropriate discourse was delivered by Rev. W. W. Wilson of this town, assisted by Rev. N. M. Browne, Presiding Elder of Salisbury District, Revs. Strangha, and Williams of Delaware. Mr. Wilson in his remarks from the words "The Lord Gave and the Lord Hath Taken away, Blessed be the name of the Lord," said: "When a little child dies, it is looked to sometimes as a merciful dispensation inasmuch as the trials, conflicts and struggles of the world, while it was not sufficiently identified with the business world to make any impression upon the masses. And when we see the aged who are tottering, as it were upon the verge of the grave, we expect them to die. But when a man like John C. Hearn, right in the prime of life and of manhood was stricken down in the midst of his usefulness, it made a lasting impression, it effected society, and caused a pang of sorrow to fall upon the hearts and minds of the bereaved ones whom he so ardently loved and cherished. John Hearn was no ordinary man, as was attested by the presence of so many persons, who knew and loved him, only as those who are pure and upright are loved and respected." The speaker paid a beautiful tribute to the deceased as he saw him in his family at home, and spoke of his hope for a better life in the world to come. In the audience was many of the best citizens of the town of Laurel, while every large business interest of Salisbury, and every church, as well as every trade and profession was represented in that large and sympathetic congregation, fully attesting that the man, whoever he might be, or in whatever trade or calling he may be engaged, if he is a good and upright man, as was John C. Hearn, he will carry with him to the tomb the sympathies, the presence and the benedictions of the best citizens.

The concluding ceremonies at the tomb were performed by W. M. L. E. Williams of Wisconsin Lodge, assisted by W. M. Barrett, of Hope Lodge, and Grand Master of Wisconsin of the State of Delaware, after which our people took the fast train to their homes.

A bottle of Boecher's German Syrup kept about your home for immediate use will prevent serious sickness, a large doctor's bill, and perhaps death, by the use of three or four doses. For curing Consumption, Hemorrhages, Pneumonia, Severe Coughs, Croup, or any disease of the Throat or Lungs, its success is simply wonderful, as your druggist, Dr. L. D. Collier, will tell you. German Syrup is now sold in every town and village on this continent. Sample bottles for trial, 10c; regular size, 75c.—For sale also by L. M. Dashiell, Tony Tank, Md.
