For and about FSU people

Volume 30, Number 12, November 15, 1999

A publication of the FSU Office of Advancement

Copy deadline: noon Wednesday

Annual Winter Concert to Be Held Nov. 21

FSU's Department of Music presents the Annual Winter Concert, Sunday, Nov. 21, at 3 p.m. in Pealer Recital Hall.

The program will feature Collegium Musicum, the University Chorale, the Emmanuel Episcopal Church Chancel Choir under the direction of Dr. Karen Soderberg, and the Concert Band, Noel T. Kunkle, director.

The University Chorale with the Emmanuel Episcopal Chancel Choir will perform Giacomo Puccini's Messa di Gloria, featuring Kimberly Andrews (piano), baritone soloist, senior David McKinley from Hagerstown, Md., and tenors James Bowser (senior) and Aaron Torgerson (junior) from Leonardtown, Md.

Puccini's Messa di Gloria was composed in 1880 as his graduation project at the Instituto Musicale Pacini in Lucca, Italy. Its first performance won great acclaim for the young composer, but it had to wait until 1951 for its second performance. Despite its liturgical nature one can already detect the great talent for lyricism and dramatic projection which characterize his operatic work.

Collegium Musicum will also perform "Si Ch'io Vorrei Morire" by Claudio Monteverdi and "Dainty, Fine, Sweet Nymph" by Thomas Morley, "Tsen Brider" arranged by Joshua Jacobson and "A Child's Journey" by Michael Horvitt and The King Singers' arrangement of "You Are The New Day" arranged by Peter Knight.

The Concert Band will conclude the afternoon with an evocation of the holiday spirit in Gustav Holst's "In the Bleak Mid-Winter," arranged for symphonic band by Robert W. Smith; Percy Grainger's "The Sussex Mummer's Christmas Carol," arranged by Larry Clark; and the "Coventry Carol" and "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" arranged by Calvin Custer.

Tickets are $5 for general public, FSU faculty and staff; $2 for students; and free for children younger than 15. For information and reservations, telephone the Department of Music at x4109. Tickets will also be on sale at the Box Office on the day of the performance.

Eleanor Smeal to Visit

Eleanor Smeal, president and cofounder of the Feminist Majority Foundation and past president of NOW, will be on campus Thursday, Dec. 2. Smeal will speak at 2 p.m. in Lane Center 201 on "Forging Feminism and Fighting the Backlash."

This event is free and open to the public.

Smeal is a renowned leader in the feminist and civil rights movements. She was also the longest standing president of the National Organization for Women and a key leader in the campaign to ratify the Equal Rights Amendment.

She is trained as a political scientist and was the first to identify the "gender gap" — the difference in the way women and men vote. She is the author of How and Why Women Will Elect the Next President (Harper and Row, 1984). Smeal is known as a "political analyst, strategist and grassroots organizer."

Interested parties should contact John O'Rourke, POSC, x4277, for more information.

Writers Read for the Hungry

This fall, more than 2,000 writers will read from their works as part of Share Our Strength's Writers Harvest, the nation's largest literary benefit to fight hunger and poverty. Locally, the event will be at Main Street Books of Frostburg, with its fourth Writers Harvest Sunday, Nov. 21, at 3 p.m.

This event, co-sponsored by Main Street Books of Frostburg and FSU's Western Maryland Writers' Workshop, will be one of more than 500 taking place in bookstores, colleges, universities and community centers across the country.

The Frostburg event will be a fundraiser for the Western Maryland Food Bank. Tickets are $10 for adults and $5 for students. Tickets are available prior to the event at Main Street Books, 10 E. Main St. in Frostburg, and will be sold at the door the day of the event.

Share Our Strength works to alleviate and prevent hunger in the United States and around the world. To meet its goals, Share Our Strength both mobilizes industries and individuals to contribute their talents to its anti-hunger efforts and creates community wealth to provide lasting change.

Writers Harvest: The National Reading will involve many local volunteer readers who have donated their time and talents to provide an informative and entertaining afternoon for the listener as well as provide an opportunity to raise much-needed funds for the Western Maryland Food Bank.

For more information, call (301) 689-5605.

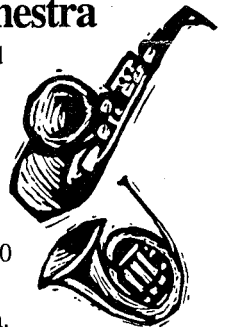

AC and FSU to Present Mantovani Orchestra

Allegany College and FSU proudly present "Christmas with the Mantovani Orchestra and Chorus," a Mainstage Production, Tuesday, Nov. 30, at 7:30 p.m. in the Allegany High School Auditorium.

Mantovani's Christmas concerts are rich in the size and variety of their offerings. This big and dramatic performance will include ballet selections by Tchaikovsky, festive and fun favorites such as "Santa's Sleigh Ride," devotional pieces like "Onward Christian Soldiers" and numerous traditional melodies made special by the indelible stamp of the Maestro's cascading strings. Familiar and loved, the evening's music will entertain like old friends waiting to be heard after a long silence.

The Mantovani Orchestra has been delighting audiences for over 50 years with a sound made famous by its founder, Annunzio Paolo Mantovani. With a string section as its centerpiece, Mantovani would compose, arrange, transcribe and conduct the orchestra molding the sounds that he heard into interpretations of the music he wanted to present to his audiences. This formula produced the unmistakable "Mantovani sound."

By the time of Mantovani's retirement in 1975, he had become a household name in the field of popular entertainment. Late in 1981, one year following his death, at the urging of a family friend, the Mantovani children, Ken and Paula, made their father's library of music available to symphony orchestras. From this, an idea was born to form another "Mantovani Orchestra" and send them on tour. Since 1983, the more than 41 performers have toured steadily, continuing to delight audiences throughout the world.

The Orchestra is led today by Charles Ellis, a conductor who has led the concerts of numerous symphonies including the Baltimore Symphony, Rochester Philharmonic, Jacksonville Symphony, East Texas Symphony and South Bend Symphony, among others. In addition, he has conducted operatic productions for the Boston Lyric Opera, the Goldovsky Opera Company and Boston Summer Opera Theatre.

A native of Boston, he holds degrees in music from Indiana University, New England Conservatory and the Johns Hopkins University. He resides in Baltimore where he is a member of the Mason-Dixon Baseball Umpires Association. Ellis is thought to be the only person ever to conduct a concert with the Baltimore Symphony and umpire a ballgame at Camden Yards.

For further information on this event, contact the Allegany College Continuing Education Office, (301) 784-5108.

Tickets are $12 for adults, $8 for children, ages 17 and younger. Seating is by general admission. Tickets may be purchased at Allegany College, Continuing Education Office, Mondays through Thursdays, 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Fridays, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., (301) 784-5108; FSU Lane Center Box Office, Mondays through Fridays, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., x4411; Main Street Books of Frostburg, (301) 689-5605 and Book Center of Cumberland, (301) 722-2284.

This performance is presented in association with the Allegany Arts Council. This event marks the first time that Allegany College and FSU have joined forces to offer a unique and entertaining cultural event to the people of Western Maryland.

University Theatre Offers "The Glass Menagerie"

University Theatre will present Tennessee Williams' "The Glass Menagerie" on Nov. 19 and 20 and Dec. 2, 3 and 4 at 8 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center Studio Theatre. A Sunday matinee will be Nov. 21 at 2 p.m.

Williams' work, often described as being "translucently autobiographical," tells the story of the Wingfield family through the "memory" of son and narrator, Tom. Meet Amanda, the mother, a daughter of the Old South who is out of step and out of time in the tumultuous world of the 1930s, along with her daughter, Laura, a frail misfit whose fragile existence is defined by her cherished collection of delicate glass animals.

Originally produced in 1944, this play has charmed both theater professionals and audiences for nearly 55 years. It continues to be one of the most frequently produced plays at all levels of the theater.

For information and ticket reservations, contact x4145 Mondays through Fridays between 1 and 4:30 p.m.

Café Frostburg to Host Paul Skyland

Café Frostburg will host Paul Skyland Friday, Nov. 19, at 8 p.m. in the Lane Center Greenhouse.

Skyland, an individual unique in his sensitivity, delivers his songs through the medium of his hand-crafted acoustic guitar. His fresh approach and intimate rapport with his audiences have established him as a premier artist in the music industry.

People aren't just entertained at Skyland's performances — they become caught up in his music, often discovering a part of themselves in his songs.

This event is free and open to the public. For information, contact the Lane Center Information Desk, Mondays through Fridays, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., x4411.

Senior Multi-Media Exhibition at Roper

Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery will host the opening of "Subvert," a multimedia senior thesis exhibition, Friday, Nov. 19, at 7 p.m. Senior students Jason Mills, Stacey Purdum and Karen Kotapish will be highlighted in this show that illustrates a deviance from social norms and abstract perceptions.

Mills, a graduate of Frederick Community College, has a concentration in clay, although he does not keep himself confined only to that medium. He has exhibited work in Frederick and Annapolis.

Purdum's art is a blend of photography, painting and sculptural elements. She has exhibited work in her home area of Howard County.

Kotapish is concentrating on realistic paintings of the male nude. In addition, she is incorporating sculptural and abstract ideas into her paintings. She has shown in the Frostburg area.

This show, which is free and open to the public, will run through Dec. 1. Gallery hours are Sundays through Wednesdays, 1 to 4 p.m. For information, contact the Department of Visual Arts, x4797.

English Dept. to Host Writer Susan Perabo

The FSU Department of English and the Western Maryland Writers' Workshop will host visiting fiction writer Susan Perabo for a reading on Tuesday, Nov. 16, at 7 p.m. in the Lane Center, multi-use room.

Perabo's first book, Who I Was Supposed To Be, was published this year by Simon and Schuster. Her stories have appeared in Story, Glimmer Train and TriQuarterly and have been anthologized numerous times in New Stories from the South and Best American Short Stories.

The New York Times calls her work "sardonic and moving," and the Chicago Tribune says her collection is a "stunning collection of short gems." Perabo teaches at Dickinson College.

This event is free and open to the public. For information, contact Brad Barkley, FSU Department of English, at x3092.

Celebrate Thanksgiving Before Thanksgiving

Before everyone departs for Thanksgiving break, students, faculty and staff are invited to join together in the spirit of gratitude Monday, Nov. 22, at 7:30 p.m. in Cook Chapel, which is on the first floor of Frost Hall, for an Interfaith Thanksgiving Service. FSU's Collegium Musicum will perform "All Things Bright and Beautiful" and Kim Andrews will be the pianist. Dr. Greg Latta will share his award-winning music. Students and others will share readings from diverse religious backgrounds. There will be informal opportunities to express personal sharing with others. As the semester winds down, come and be lifted up by this memorable event. Questions or comments? Call the Rev. Larry Neumark at x7490. The service is sponsored by the Interfaith Council.

Activities for Life

Youth Gymnastics will be offered for children ages 4 to 12, Tuesdays and Thursdays, Dec. 2 through 16, in the Cordts Physical Education Center, room 170. The beginner class will be held from 4 to 5 p.m. while the advanced class is scheduled from 4 to 5:30 p.m.

This is a great activity for youth that often results in increased strength, balance, coordination and self-confidence. Compulsory routines established by the USA Gymnastics Association will be taught. Dr. Fred Surgent, Amanda Miller and Karen Persons will be instructing the course.

For information and registration, contact the Amy Nazelrod at the AFL Center, x7934.

Water Aerobics will be offered on Tuesdays and Thursdays, Nov. 23 through Dec. 16, from 6 to 6:50 p.m. in the Cordts Physical Education Center pool.

The class is geared towards those who want to increase cardiovascular fitness, flexibility and body strength. It is the perfect activity for those with painful joints or other movement limitations. Water aerobics creates good muscle balance and aids in keeping the muscles limber and strong.

For information and registration, contact AFL Center coordinator, Amy Nazelrod at x7934.

United Campus Ministry

United Campus Ministry will meet at Larry Neumark's house for pizza and a movie at 6 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 17.

Y2Q: Year to Quit

Time for a fresh start. It's time for the Great American Smokeout on Thursday, Nov. 18.

The Great American Smokeout is a national day set aside to pledge to stop smoking for a day. But this year's campaign, "Y2Q: Year to Quit," also provides a chance for a long-term halt to smoking through education, social norming and increasing awareness.

According to the CDC, an estimated 48 million adults in the United States smoke cigarettes. The use of tobacco products results in more than 430,700 deaths each year and, overall, accounts for one in every five deaths in the United States.

Since 1964, the year of the release of the first Surgeon General's report on smoking and health, scientific knowledge about the effects of tobacco use has greatly increased. It is well documented that smoking cigarettes, cigars and smokeless tobacco have serious health consequences.

Prove it to yourself that you can make a healthy decision. Sponsored by the S.A.F.E. Office and the BURG Peer Education Network, stop by the Lane Center on Thursday, Nov. 18, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. for the Great American Smokeout and make a promise to yourself!

Stress-Free Night

AAAAHHHHH!!!!

Feeling school hitting the stretch? Ready to scream? Need a break?

"Stress-Free Night"

will be Wednesday, Nov. 17, in the Lane Center Multi-Use Room at 8 p.m.

Come be a kid again. Playdough, crayons, cartoons, nap time and more. Find yourself carried away.

Everyone's invited to this kids' night. Sponsored by the BURG Peer Education Network. For more information, contact the S.A.F.E. office in 017 Compton Hall, or call x7692.

Modeling Vegetation Distribution Seminar

The next seminar in the University of Maryland Center for Environmental Science Appalachian Laboratory fall series will be "Modeling Vegetation Distribution: Theoretical and Practical Implications." It will be Thursday, Nov. 18, at 3 p.m. in AL IVN Room 109. For more information, call Ed Gates at (301) 689-7173.

"Where Do I Go From Here?"

FSU Recreation Society will host "Where Do I Go From Here?" a career development and goal-setting workshop for FSU students, Wednesday, Nov. 17, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Leake Room of the Cordts P.E. Center. Marvin Billups, president of Maryland Recreation and Park Association, and Alex Gieser, Executive Director of Camp Greentop, will speak.

For more information, call Taffie Wilson at x3017 or Elsie Zengel at (301) 689-5768.

Study Abroad Opportunities

It's Never too Early to Think About Summer Overseas!

FSU sponsors several study abroad programs during the summer months. Students who would like more information should come by the Center for International Education, Fuller House, or phone x3091 and speak with Amy Simes. Or visit our web page at www.frostburg.edu/admin/cie/cie.htm. Scholarships are available for all FSU-sponsored programs through the CIE.

Here is what's offered for next summer: Study in Oxford, England, in August

Students who would like to spend three weeks in Oxford at St. Edmund Hall, Oxford University, and earn credit towards their FSU degree should apply for this program which is co-sponsored by Indiana University in Pennsylvania. Two FSU faculty members are offering courses next summer: Dr. Judy Dieruf (Fine Arts), who also coordinates the program, will be teaching Watercolor in Britain - Art 221, 421 or 621, and Dr. Eira Patnaik (English) will be teaching Greco-Roman Mythology (Engl 290). The program fee includes excursions to points of interest within the area. For more information, visit their web site at www.iup.edu/intserv/oxford.html.

Study/Work Experience in Limerick, Ireland

Social Work and Human Services students are invited to apply for a four-week program during the first summer session in Limerick, Ireland. Students will be placed in social service agencies in the Limerick area and complete up to 100 hours of field experience. They will also have the option of taking one three-credit course. This program is co-sponsored with Hood College, and students may get more detailed information from Dr. Maureen Connelly, coordinator of the program, at x4998.

Take an FSU Course in Germany

Students may apply for a four-week program that will take place at the Schwabisch Gmund branch campus of the University of Maryland, near Stuttgart. The course will be taught by an FSU faculty member, and will take place during the first summer session. More information is available from the CIE at x3091, or from the Program coordinator, Dr. Armond Rossi, x4407.

For more information about the Schwabisch Gmund campus, visit their Web site at www.sg.umuc.edu/

Spend Six Weeks in Ghana, West Africa

Co-sponsored by FSU and the North Carolina State University, students may take part in a six-week program at the University of Ghana, in either Art and Design or the Social Sciences and Humanities. For more information, see the Program coordinator, Dr. Jean-Marie Makang, x3089, or visit the NCSU Web site at www2.ncsu.edu/ncsu/intl_programs/ghana/program.html for Art and Design or courses.ncsu.edu/classes/mds495a001/ghana98.htm for the Social Sciences and Humanities.

Education Majors - Do You Want to Go to Denmark?

FSU is beginning a new exchange program with the KDAS Teaching College in Copenhagen. This semester we are hosting two students from KDAS, and spring semester 2000 we hope to send two FSU students to Copenhagen. If you are interested in this program, please contact Amy Simes at the Center for International Education, x3091, or e-mail asimes@frostburg.edu. You may also contact Dr. William

Bingman in the Educational Professions Dept., x4420, 223 Frampton Hall

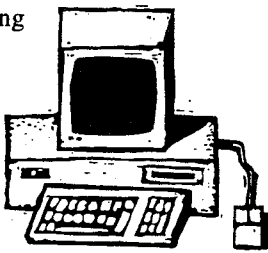

Study Abroad Information Sessions

Students who are interested in studying abroad for a semester, intersession, summer session or full academic year should attend an information session at the Center for International Education, now located at the Fuller House. Sessions will be held each Tuesday at 3 p.m. in the Fuller House library. Students will have access to overseas catalogs, online searching, financial aid information and travel information. Guidance will be provided for application to all study abroad programs. For further information, please contact Dr. Amy Simes, CIE Director, x3091, or by email at asimes@frostburg.edu.

COSC Tutoring

The FSU Computer Club is now offering tutoring for the computer science classes every Monday at 7:30 PM. It will be group tutoring with several of the club members. Anyone may come. Tutoring will take place in the basement of Old Main where our club room is located. See our Web site for more information: goliath.frostburg.edu/~compclub

Department of Social Work Sets Info Sessions

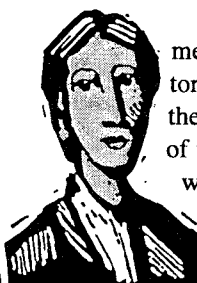

The Department of Social Work will hold information sessions Thursday, Nov. 18, and Tuesday, Nov. 30, both from 3 to 5 p.m., for persons interested in a career in social work. The meetings will include information on the curriculum requirements of the social work program at FSU.

The sessions will be at the Department of Social Work Offices in room 029, Guild Center, on the FSU campus.

The session is designed for people who want to learn more about the social work profession and FSU's undergraduate social work program. For those who intend to apply to the FSU program, the session serves as orientation to the major and provide details about admissions criteria, course requirements, curriculum planning, social work licensing and continued study beyond the undergraduate level.

Those who plan to attend are asked to call the Department of Social Work at x7497 at least one day in advance. For information, contact Department Chair Kathleen H. Powell, M.S.W., at x4695.

Celebrating Women of Color's Advancement

Women faculty members and administrators are invited to join in the 13th annual celebration of the advancement of women of color sponsored by the American Council on Education's National Network for Women Leaders in Higher Education. This year's luncheon and program will be Wednesday, Dec. 8, 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., at Prince George's Community College. Registration and a check for $30 are due by Nov. 30. Registration forms and a sign-up list for shared, free transportation are available from Bonny Griffith in the Office of the Provost, Hitchins 213, x4212. Let us celebrate together!

Display for Veterans

Check out the display on Arlington National Cemetery and Veterans Day on the third floor of the Ort Library. See if you can discover four wars or conflicts in which the United States participated but are not included in the display.

The display includes information from the Ort Library collection as well as other sources of information.

Faculty, Staff Notes

Melodie Gale, Academic Counselor-Student Support Services FSU, has been recognized by The University of Maryland at College Park for her continued devotion and hard work as a faculty mentor of the Ronald E. McNair Post Baccalaureate Achievement Program. The McNair Program is a grant-funded TRIO program based at UMCP.

The three programs included at FSU are Student Support Services, Ronald E. McNair Program and Upward Bound. On Nov. 3, Gale was presented with a UMCP Faculty Mentor plaque. The award was presented by Dr. Nthakoana Peko, Associate Director, McNair Program, UMCP.

Dr. Mikal Crawford, Education Professions, and Dr. Lynn Wiljanen, Career Services, recently presented a workshop titled "Creative Tools for Our Journey: Self as Model" for the 10th Annual Meeting of the University System of Maryland Women's Forum held at The Inn and Conference Center at College Park.
