THE HAND OF FATE.

On a cold, blustering night in March a young girl, apparently not more than 16 years of age, slowly wandered her way along a country road, situated about five miles from the village of Oakdale.

Her appearance betokened extreme poverty. She was dressed in an ill-fitting suit of rusty black, and her shabby black hat was so old and worn that it seemed to penetrate the darkness with almost perfect effect.

Her hair had been unluckily exposed to the elements of the storm and hung in frozen strands almost to her waist. Everything about her seemed to be in a state of decay and ruin.

As she pursued her journey her heart sank within her, her head reeled as if in a drunken stupor, her weary limbs began to fail, and at last she succumbed to the piteous cold and an exhausted and unconscious condition to the ground.

On the road with rapid strides came a farmer, Hawkins and his dog, Nemo, and as he hurried along he stumbled over the prostrate form.

In an instant he saw that the girl was dead, and he turned back to his home, where he was waiting for his wife, and he did not return until the next morning.

In a few moments a lantern was seen in the distance, and a woman came out, and she found the girl lying on the ground.

"Who's there?" "I'm your mother," responded the farmer, as he recognized the voice of his hired man, and for God's sake, said the woman, "will be too late."

Fritz approached, and together they lifted the insensible form, and a few minutes later the old man and woman arrived at the old homestead. It was long past the usual hour for supper, and Ruth Hawkins, being alarmed at her husband's protracted absence, had been waiting for him in the kitchen.

When she saw the girl lying on the ground, she was so much affected by the sight that she did not know what to do.

"Mercy's sake, father, what have you there?" exclaimed Ruth, as she sprang from her seat, and, opening the door, saw the girl lying on the ground.

"Do not waste any time in asking questions, wife, but bring some brandy as soon as possible," he replied.

With a quick hand she took a glass and filled it with brandy, and she handed it to her father, who gave it to the girl.

Meanwhile Ruth had returned to the room with the brandy, and with kindly hands she endeavored to arouse the girl, and succeeded in forcing her to sit up.

The girl opened her eyes, and she saw her father and mother, and she knew that she was in her home.

"What shall I call you?" asked Mrs. Hawkins as she placed a caudle of brandy on a table near the girl.

"Call me Lena," replied the girl, as she tried to raise her head from the pillow.

The hospitable couple watched the stranger curiously, trying to solve the mystery that hung around her. Those white hands had never opened, and there was a certain grace about every movement which impressed them with the idea that she was of gentle birth, and that she was a noble soul.

"Your mother," replied the girl, as she tried to raise her head from the pillow.

THE NORTH CAROLINA ASYLUM SCANDAL.

A dispatch from Raleigh, N. C., says: "Great interest is taken in the investigation now going on before the board of directors of the insane asylum in the charges preferred against Dr. Eugene Grison, superintendent, by Dr. Rogers and J. W. Thompson, stewards. The specifications are immorality, cruelty and brutality to patients and misappropriation of the funds of the State. Dr. Grison has been superintendent for twenty years, and is known as one of the ablest men in the profession in this State. He is now vice-president of the American Medical Association. Dr. Rogers and Thompson made the charge verbally at a meeting of a month ago. Dr. Grison at once declared that the two must be compelled to prove their charges before the board. The result of this demand is the meeting of the board now in session. Either Dr. Grison will be degraded and driven from his position or Rogers and Thompson will be found to be malicious. F. King, a carpenter, and Emanuel Jones, a colored boy, have been examined, and they swore to one act of immorality on the part of Dr. Grison with a female attendant, who is now inmate of the asylum at Morganton. It is believed by most people that the whole case is the result of a conspiracy to ruin Dr. Grison."

THE NORTH CAROLINA ASYLUM SCANDAL.

A dispatch from Raleigh, N. C., says: "Great interest is taken in the investigation now going on before the board of directors of the insane asylum in the charges preferred against Dr. Eugene Grison, superintendent, by Dr. Rogers and J. W. Thompson, stewards. The specifications are immorality, cruelty and brutality to patients and misappropriation of the funds of the State. Dr. Grison has been superintendent for twenty years, and is known as one of the ablest men in the profession in this State. He is now vice-president of the American Medical Association. Dr. Rogers and Thompson made the charge verbally at a meeting of a month ago. Dr. Grison at once declared that the two must be compelled to prove their charges before the board. The result of this demand is the meeting of the board now in session. Either Dr. Grison will be degraded and driven from his position or Rogers and Thompson will be found to be malicious. F. King, a carpenter, and Emanuel Jones, a colored boy, have been examined, and they swore to one act of immorality on the part of Dr. Grison with a female attendant, who is now inmate of the asylum at Morganton. It is believed by most people that the whole case is the result of a conspiracy to ruin Dr. Grison."

The Eastern Shore as a Health Resort.

Dr. C. W. Chancellor is preparing a book setting forth the advantages of the Eastern Shore as a place of residence on account of its freedom from certain diseases and the peculiar conditions which, in Dr. Chancellor's opinion, serve to make it exceptionally salubrious. The work will be entitled "The Eastern Shore of Maryland, Its Climate and Sanative Advantages." From the headings of the various chapters it is evident that the subject will be treated in a comprehensive and interesting manner, with comparisons of local conditions on the Eastern Shore with those of the most famous European health resorts. Dr. Chancellor has given expression on various occasions to very strong views in support of the theory that the Chesapeake-Delaware peninsula is especially favored by nature, not only as a fertile and productive section, but in most if not all the qualifications demanded for preserving health and restoring those who are either threatened with or broken down by disease. The old-fashioned notion that the Eastern Shore is especially subject to malarial complaints is vigorously combated by Dr. Chancellor, who holds, on the contrary, that, compared with other localities, it is especially exempt from such diseases. His conclusions, as embodied in his forthcoming book, will doubtless be read with great interest by Eastern Shoremen who have long known that their peninsula was the garden spot of the world, but had no idea that it was so admirably adapted for a sanitarium. —Baltimore, Sun of Wednesday.

A Bad Year For The Goodyear.

The Goodyear Rubber Boot and Shoe Company of Providence, R. I., was forced to assign last Sunday under the pressure of attachments. Ex-Governor Augustus O. Bourn, the newly appointed Consul General at Rome, was a member of the old firm on the Goodyear company was founded, and was worth $300,000 of stock in the concern. The present crisis was precipitated by his calling a meeting of the directors to agree up his claim. The Sears Commercial Company then took alarm and filed an attachment for $100,000. The works had been shut down for some time, but the assets of the company were supposed to equal the liabilities. The creditors represented by the Sears' company wished to have Bourn's claim considered after the assets had been liquidated. This morning Ex-Governor Bourn clapped on two attachments, one of $20,000 on his own account and one of $40,000 as trustee of the estate which holds claims against the company. The Providence History Company also attached this morning for $16,000. This made a burden altogether upon the Goodyear company of $71,800 worth of attachments and they therefore assigned to Francis Colwell. The business will be wound up though perhaps not without litigation.

Watermen Stood Pat With Mahone.

A number of gentlemen were gathered at Chamberlain's telling poker stories the other day, when one of them said: "One of the most interesting of poker I ever saw in this city was played not long ago in a room at the Arlington Hotel, where several gentlemen well known in national politics were in the party. All the hands had been dealt and about $500 was in the pot before Mahone drew. Only he stayed in. They were General Mahone and Colonel Henry Waterson. General Mahone held two pair and drew one card. Waterson stood pat. Mahone bet an even hundred. Waterson saw the hand and raised. Mahone saw that Mahone bet that amount and raised it another hundred. Waterson saw that and raised it a thousand. Mahone laid down and asked Waterson to let him see the cards, but Henry said: 'No; if you want to see what I have got you must pay for it,' and he raked in the pot. Afterward he told his friends just what he had. It was a cool bluff, and he hadn't a card in his hand higher than a queen, but he took several thousand dollars of the Virginia gentlemen's money through using his nerve at the proper time."

The Situation at Johnston.

The Board of Inquiry has expressed itself as well satisfied with the work that is being done there. The commission sat at Crescen last Tuesday. Checks of $10 each have been distributed to every sufferer by the flood that the local Finance Committee has been able to reach so far. General satisfaction is expressed at the allotment of business places on the park. The State's force has been reduced to five hundred men this week, who were placed under the command of Major George A. Ames, United States Army, who assumed charge of Colonel Douglas. The work will be done under the supervision of the sanitary corps, as General Hastings, who has been ill, will only visit the place once a week hereafter. The workmen are still tugging away at their endless task, and the hot weather is beginning to tell on the surroundings. The stench in places is becoming unbearable. By the liberal application of disinfectants, however, the air is kept comparatively pure.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Buckle's Arnica Salve and Electric Balm, and have handled remedies like as well, or better, than we have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. E. M. Humphreys, Druggist.

John Kelly was hanged at Canandaigua, N. Y., for the murder of Eleanor O'Brien.

The Dolls' Lawn Party.

An altogether unique affair was the Dolls' Lawn Party held last Tuesday in the beautiful grounds surrounding the residence of Dr. E. W. Humphreys. The evening before a heavy rain had fallen, and the grounds were in the best of condition. The guests, who numbered about fifty, were all dressed in the latest fashion. The party was given by the Dr. and his wife, and was a most successful one. The guests were all very much pleased with the arrangements, and the party was a most enjoyable one.

You are cordially invited to attend a Dolls' Lawn Party to be held to-morrow morning, between 8 and 12 o'clock, under the big awnings in Dr. E. W. Humphreys' lawn. Bring your doll with you. We especially desire that the Salisbury dolls have a chance to become better acquainted with each other. No live babies nor refreshments allowed.

In response to the invitation, by times in the morning, could be seen happy-faced little girls, from all over the city, tenderly carrying in their arms, or rolling in carriages, their precious little dolls. There were dolls of all ages, sizes and varieties. Brown eyes, blue eyes, green eyes, and no eyes; flaxen haired, brown, black and red haired, and no hair at all—big, little and medium sized—from the infant in the long "slip" to the debutante in party dress.

Parties Given.

A reception committee—Ruby Dorman, Miss Powell and Bettie Humphreys—received and provided comfortable places away from the melting rays of the sun. Soon thirty-two little girls and twenty-two dolls made the grounds alive with merriment. The bad species of three children ones reminded us, that, "There is no such thing as a free lunch." Then came their turn when a carriage procession, single file, was formed and abreast of them an infantry line composed of mothers who were not so fortunate as to possess equipages; but carried the children in their arms.

Three times around in a circle marching right foot first, was a picture which our city photographer, Mr. Gordon, has been requested to take, and for which purpose the happy little party will again, in the near future, be called together on the same spot.

Many passing the grounds stopped and admired the beautiful scene, convinced that, "There's nothing in life, half so happy as the innocent heart of a child."

Another Johnston.

Tues. N. Y., July 9.—There are reports here that three big dams were washed away near Johnston, and that crowds of people got on a bridge to watch the flood and it was carried away and several people were drowned.

A telephone message from Johnston says:

"The town is in total darkness. Nine bridges were washed away. The electric light plant has been washed away, also three skin mills at Gloverville. One body has been recovered. The water is three feet in the village of Fonda. At 12 tonight rain is falling in torrents in Johnston and the flood is assuming a terrible aspect. Mills and sheds are being carried rapidly away. It is beginning to rain here and threatens to be a heavy storm."

Johnston is the county seat of Fulton county, New York, and is situated on the Fonda, Johnston and Gloversville Railroad, four miles north of Fonda, a station of the New York Central Railroad, and on the Cayuga river, about twenty miles west of Saratoga. The population is more than 5,000. The town has two banks, ten churches, three weekly newspapers, an academy, and a variety of manufactures, particularly those of gloves and mittens.

The Southern Soldier.

At the close of the war the Southern soldier returned to find his home ruined and his fields devastated. His friends and neighbors were scattered, the labor system was overthrown and the commercial life of the South was destroyed. In twenty-five years all this was changed, chiefly by the old soldiers. They threw all their energies, all their zeal into the work, first for self-support, and next for the up-building of their section. No pensions for them; no help from the Government; but they succeeded in making a permanent condition of respectable beggary. Even the maimed and those whose bodies were wasted by disease entered the struggle for existence with the least expectation of assistance from any quarter, and as a result we see a work accomplished more marvellous, more honorable, more enduring than any of their achievements on the field.

Armed Accepts the Medal.

A letter has been received in Pittsburgh by the treasurer of the fund subscribed to purchase a medal for Major George A. Ames, United States Army, who assumed charge of Colonel Douglas. The work will be done under the supervision of the sanitary corps, as General Hastings, who has been ill, will only visit the place once a week hereafter. M. E. S. S. Excursion.

The new excursion steamer, "Emma Giles," has been chartered by the Asbury M. E. Sunday School for an excursion from Salisbury to Delmar, on Thursday, August 1st. Passengers will be received at all wharves along the river. This promises to be one of the largest excursions of the season. The "Emma Giles" has a capacity for about 1500 people. The excursion will be made on the Salisbury and Delmar, and return, to connect with the boat at Salisbury. Also the Wicomico and Pocomoke, from Berlin. Although the summer has been a large crop of both, but prices have not been very good.

Our prediction about the base-ball outlook seems likely of fulfillment. A growing interest is now manifest. Recent.

B. C. Springs, July 11.—Thinking that probably a few lines from our little village of about four hundred quiet, peaceful citizens would be out of order, providing you desire to have a spare corner, I will proceed to give you a few items for your most worthy sheet, about which I have often heard many complimentary expressions.

First, history may record but little about us for the first half of 1880.

Farmers have gloomy prospects for this year, but the hope in the old adage, "the darkest hour is just before day," affords consolation.

The strawberry crop after our farmers but little, but our energetic citizens are slow to give up.

We have five stores in the town, all doing a thrifty business.

Mr. J. E. Bacon is doing a thrifty business with his store and dairy.

The Wilson boys are enjoying a large lucrative trade, and at this we wonder not, for they are members of a family noted for their big, kind, liberal hearted generosity. They are most genial and kind, and never say no when requested to contribute to a benevolent cause.

The store of Wilson & Bounds has recently received a coat of paint, and Mr. John T. Wilson has remodeled a large two-story store-house with a heavy glass front.

We have two physicians—Dr. Masters and Wilson; the latter has a very extended practice.

A new principal for the public school will be elected, as Mr. Thomas J. Wilson is resigning to attend to his mercantile business. Mrs. Wilson, the assistant teacher, will be retained. She is very popular with the patrons as well as with the children.

It has been rumored around in your paper sometime ago to be held here August 3d, had been decided against, and that there would be no camp-meeting here on said date. It is all false. The camp-meeting will commence August 3d, as announced in your paper. It promises to be a successful one, as the pastor, Rev. S. J. Baker, is securing the very best of pulpit help. We have a beautiful grove. The housing tent will be in the hands of one of the best citizens in the town. The friends of the camp extend an invitation to everybody to come and tent with them in this beautiful grove.

TYASKIN, July 5.—I suppose the readers of the Advertiser would like to know how we spent the fourth in old Tyaskin. Well, the Improved Order of Red Men had a grand rally at the K of P. Hall. They had made ample preparations to accommodate thousands of persons with dinner and supper, that was for the inner man, and for the intellectual man—eminent speakers from afar. This rally was advertised as "Grand Hunt," which came off as I will tell you about directly. I arrived on the ground about 11 o'clock and found about two hundred persons, including the Order of Red Men and their wives and families. On the platform were the speakers—Rev. Mr. Stevens, of Del., and Mr. Mulligan, of Talbot county, and one old chief, who was giving an account of the early life of the Indians. In front of the stand was the Delta Island brass band, which discoursed some very nice music, and I can truthfully say they play the best of any county band I ever heard; and, strange to say, they were all single men, at least.

Mr. Stevenson, after the chief was through, made a few remarks, followed by Mr. Mulligan. Then old Mammoth, or whatever his name was, called upon several of his braves to come up and shake themselves, but there was only one of his tribe that could stand the fire. One of the braves remarked to me afterwards that if he had got a pint of fire-water under his belt he would have given them a howl from away-back, and I thought to myself that perhaps his voice

CORRESPONDENCE.

Items Gathered from the Various Sections of the County.

DELMAR, July 11.—Miss Effie Pennwell is visiting her aunt Mrs. Edward West.

Miss Nellie Matthews of Philadelphia is the guest of Miss Rosa Parker.

A number of young folks were entertained at Mr. W. C. Truitt's Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Lillie Parker of Wilmington.

Mrs. George W. Nichols died very suddenly last Sunday afternoon. Death was attributed to an affection of the heart.

The excursion to Ocean City for the M. E. Sunday school will be given Thursday, July 25th. That for the Baptist School, August 1st.

ROCKAWALKING, July 11.—As previously announced in the columns of your paper, which everybody out here reads, the people of Rockawalking M. E. church will hold a festival on the church grounds next Wednesday afternoon, the 17th.

We propose to make the occasion one of interest to whomsoever may be present. Speaking is expected from Rev. T. E. Martindale, music and recitations will be furnished by the school.

Supper, such as will delight the taste of any who may partake, will be served from 5 to 7 o'clock. Tea and other refreshments will be in abundance.

We desire the presence of the young people of Salisbury and the county.

V. S. GORDY.

PARSONSBURG, July 10.—Our fourth of July celebration would have been a success, but for the weather; a goodly number gathered despite the threatening appearance of the sky, and part of the programme was carried out, though one of the speakers had to be covered with an umbrella.

On account of the storm two weeks ago, children's day services, were postponed at Zion M. E. church, until tomorrow (Sabbath), 21 p. m.

We propose raising an excursion to "Ocean City" on Tuesday 23rd inst., taking in Phillips and Waleston witches, also Pittsville, we hope this will be an inducement to a grand day to go with us, and enjoy day by the sea side.

The Parsonsburg Grand Band will accompany the excursionists. This ordinarily healthy community, has been visited with considerable sickness lately. W.

TYASKIN, July 9.—Well, friend ADVERTISER, it is now some weeks since your columns gave forth any of our effusions; we've been taking vacation—never mind how and where.

We plain, practical folks have sufficient of the patriotic in our natures to show itself on occasion. We had some Fourth of July despite the prevailing moisture. Ah! that last word puts us in mind to talk some about the weather for the rains have made our corn and other crop look mighty sickly.

The shipment of berries, and other fruits, potatoes, etc., has been active, the great bulk of such produce goes to Baltimore. Wild blackberries are about done, whooberries are still on hand. There was a large crop of both, but prices have not been very good.

Our prediction about the base-ball outlook seems likely of fulfillment. A growing interest is now manifest. Recent.
