ACME BLACKING is cheaper

at 20 cents a bottle than any other Dressing at 5 cents.

A LITTLE GOES A LONG WAY

because shoes once blackened with it can be kept clean by washing them with water. People in moderate circumstances find it profitable to buy it at 20c a bottle, because what they spend for blacking they save in shoe leather.

It is the cheapest blacking considering its quality, and yet we want to sell it cheaper if it can be done. We will pay for a recipe that will enable us to make Wolff's Acme Blacking at such a price that a retailer can profitably sell it at 10c a bottle. This offer is open until Jan. 1st, 1893.

$10,000 Reward

EVERYBODY'S GARDEN.

All along the way is everybody's garden. There the wild rose blossoms through the bounded by wild fences, and ever stretching onward.

It is God's own garden. For it gives him praise.

There blossoming grasses and yellow turn of green and white.

And flowers small and yellow turn of green and white.

Quaint daisy heads are there.

And golden wild and white.

In everybody's garden each flower's the love best friend.

All along the way is everybody's garden.

Come out and gather posies; the very air is sweet.

Come out with hearts of gladness, ye big and little children.

In everybody's garden, made for our strolling feet.

Let it be a little better.

The fragrant wind that sighs.

The tiny clouds that hover above us in the sky.

The bird's song high and clear.

In everybody's garden the world once more is new.

—Wm. G. Gladwin in Christian Union.

"CALL IT SQUARE"

It is remarkable what sizable romances small bits of territory are capable of producing under favorable conditions.

Through centuries but six or eight acres, Rattlesnake island forms the scene of quite an interesting episode along the coast.

From its peculiar formation the island is generally supposed to have derived its name from the rattlesnake.

It was supposed that the rattlesnake was bested in consequence of the insupportable quantities of the rattlesnake which rendered it impossible for the rattlesnake to keep its head above water.

From these fastnesses they were wont to wriggle forth into aggressive prominence, hissing and clicking their rattles.

STATE CONVENTIONS.

Democratic Convention. Will send an Un-structed Delegation—Great Enthusiasm for Cleveland.

The Democratic Convention of Maryland met at Ford's Opera House Wednesday and elected delegates to the National Convention, to be held at Chicago June 24th, as follows:

Delegates at Large:

Arthur P. Gorman, of Howard county, United States Senator.

Frank Brown, of Anne Arundel, Governor of Maryland.

Charles J. M. Smith, of Baltimore city, ex-Archbishop of Baltimore.

Barnes Compton, of Prince George's county, Representative in Congress from the fifth district.

L. V. Baughman, of Frederick county, ex-Comptroller of Maryland.

J. Freeman Rasin, of Baltimore city, ex-Naval Officer of the port of Baltimore.

John S. Wirt, State Senator from Cecil county.

George M. Upshur, of Worcester county, ex-Speaker of the House of Delegates.

Delegates from congressional districts:

First District—Richard D. Hyson, of Kent, and State Senator Levin L. Waters, of Somerset.

Second District—Murray Vandiver, of Harford, Speaker of the House of Delegates, and Frank T. Shaw, of Carroll, ex-Congressman.

Third District—Frank A. Furst, of Baltimore Dredging Company, and James Bond, clerk of the Superior Court of Baltimore.

Fourth District—John Gill police commissioner of Baltimore, and Lloyd L. Jackson, of Harford, ex-Senator.

Fifth District—Thos. H. Hunt of Howard, and F. M. Cox of Charles.

Sixth District—Asa Willison, ex-postmaster at Cumberland, and Buchanan Schley, of Hagerstown.

Election for the presidential ticket were selected as follows:

Election at Large—Pere L. Wickes, of Baltimore city ex-judge.

John Walter Smith, of Worcester county, State Senator.

First District—Wm. D. Massey of Caroline county.

Second District—Fred. W. Baker, of Harford.

Third District—John Hannibal, of Baltimore city.

Fourth District—C. Ridgely Goodwin, of Baltimore city.

Fifth District—James Revelt of Anne Arundel.

Sixth District—W. V. Bonic, of Montgomery.

The politicians and delegates were at work early in the morning and everything was being manipulated with a view to leaving as few more spots as possible after the convention's work should be done.

The many candidates from the Eastern Shore desiring removal in the selection of delegates and electors was the uppermost theme of discussion, and it is said that the slate was made and unmade several times before it was fixed as presented to the convention. The friends of U. S. Senator Gibson urged his nomination as a delegate at large as against ex-Governor Jackson. It is said that Senator Gibson did not wish to be one of the delegates, and the subsequent withdrawal of the ex-Governor kept his friends from presenting his name. Both of the friends of the Wisconsin county democracy tendered ex-Governor Jackson their aid in his candidacy, but the other Eastern Shore candidates had leaders nearer home to whose interests they were committed, and probably the warmest feeling engendered among the delegates grew out of this hostility. Senator Gorman called on ex-Governor Jackson, and said the leaders wanted the ex-Governor to go to Chicago as a delegate at large, it having been decided to double the number of delegates at large. Governor Jackson did not like the idea of having only half vote, and he declined to allow the use of his name. Before the convention assembled he closed his headquarters and left the hotel. This complication having been solved, the completion of the slate was effected with little difficulty. E. H. Roe of Talbot county, who had been mentioned as a district delegate and who is a strong Gibson man, was voluntarily declined. The donor of delegate at large was offered to State Senator John Walter Smith of Worcester. Mr. Smith was compelled to decline on account of business engagements which will prevent his attending the national convention. He was made elector at large for the Eastern Shore and ex-Speaker Upshur was selected as satisfactory to the Gibson and Smith forces. Caroline county secured a representative in Wm. D. Massey, presidential elector; Somerset county in Delegate Waters, and Kent county in Delegate Hyson. The additional delegates at large were conceded to be entitled to their election and their candidacies caused little discussion after it was decided to double the delegation, thus providing places for all.

The sitting event in the proceedings of the convention was the Cleveland question. The delegates from Dorchester, Queen Anne's, Wicomico, Frederick and Washington counties numbering twenty-two votes, had been instructed in their county conventions for Cleveland, and most of them endeavored, to carry out their instructions, although they had to stem a powerful current of opposition. Cleveland name was never mentioned without the most spontaneous applause. The name of Gorman was also heartily cheered.

The contest as to giving formal expression to the Cleveland sentiment and outlining a policy for the delegates to Chicago looking to Cleveland's nomination was opened by Dr. Joseph T. McGill, Jr., of Frederick county. Dr. McGill had a difficult time in having his resolutions of instructions heard. Some of the delegates endeavored by yelling to drown his voice, and several persons were called for points of order. When order was restored and the resolution read it met with great applause from the supporters of Cleveland. It was under a resolution submitted by Dr. McGill in the Frederick county convention that the delegates from that county were instructed for Cleveland. That resolution states "that the convention hereby resolves as to President Cleveland's administration and instructs the representatives from Frederick county to the state convention to use all honorable means in their power to secure the election of delegates from the State of Maryland at large to the national democratic convention favoring the renomination of our ex-President." The resolutions were defeated and the delegates go as anti-Cleveland men.

Diocesan Convention.

SHOW HILL, Md., June 7.—The twenty-fourth annual convention of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Eastern Maryland, held at All Saints Church, Show Hill, today.

The morning session was devoted to appointing a committee and examining credentials. At the afternoon session twenty-five ministers and about the same number of lay delegates were present.

The following committee was appointed to confer with the Maryland Diocese on the subject: Bishop Adams, Rev. A. B. Batte, Rev. Dr. Barber and Chancellor James Alfred Pearce.

At the night session Bishop Adams read his annual report, and the rest of the evening was devoted to missionary work.

All Saints Church, where the present convention is held, is an historic structure, worthy of note. It is not less than one hundred and fifty years old, although the date of its erection is uncertainly ascertained, the church records having been destroyed in the fire of 1834, which consumed a large portion of Show Hill. The bricks were brought over from England and paid for in tobacco. In removing a part of the wall for the erection of a new chancel last summer a brick stamped 1741 was found. The parish was organized in 1802. The first edifice was erected near the banks of the Pocomoke river about one hundred yards distance from the present structure. A little bell which now hangs in a tree near the front entrance of the church, and which is still used to call the congregation to prayer, was presented to the parish by Queen Anne. At one time the bell hung in a small bell tower, over the front door. This was removed when the roof was slated, as it was out of repair, and detracted from the appearance of the edifice. It is the intention of the congregation to erect in the rear of the church a new bell tower, which will add to the dignity of the building, and will contain not only this historic bell, but possibly a larger one or a set of chimes.

All Saints Church, while not conspicuous for architectural beauty, attracts the attention of strangers by the peculiar color of the brick, the great number and sizes of the windows, and their wide, flat framework, and the buttress at one corner, which is an unusual sight.

Last summer an addition was made to the church and a recessed chancel, a vestry room and a room for the Sunday School library. This addition, although modern, is in harmony with the exterior of the church, and the chancel greatly improved the interior. A handsome altar and reredos, a chancel rail and lectern have been presented as memorials since the reopening of the church last November. Several other memorials are in contemplation.

The convention on Wednesday elected a standing committee, consisting of Rev. Theodore P. Barber, Rev. J. A. Mitchell, Rev. Mr. Scholten, Rev. Mr. Martin. Delegates to the General Conference were also chosen. The clerical delegates were the members of the standing committee with the exception of Rev. Mr. Scholten. The lay delegates elected were Gen. Hardcastle, Mr. Geo. R. Goldsboro, V. S. Walker and Dr. Wakall.

Among those who attended the convention from Salisbury, were Mr. Harry L. D. Stanford, who went as a delegate, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Perry and Miss Nanette Byrd.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. No cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) cured by our medicine. Dr. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

You've tried Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription have you? You're disappointed. The results are not immediate.

And did you expect the disease of years to disappear in a week? Put a pinch of time in every dose. You would not call the milk pure because the cream doesn't rise in an hour? If there's no water in it the cream is sure to rise. If there's no poison in the blood, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is sure to effect it, if given a fair trial. You get the one dollar it costs back again if it don't benefit or cure you. We wish we could give you the maker's confidence. They show it by giving the name of the doctor, in all cases not benefited, and it'd surprise you to know how few dollars are needed to keep up the refund.

Mild, gentle, soothing and healing is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Cures all worst cases permanently. No experimenting. It's "Old Reliable." Twenty-five years of success.

A great snow storm raged in South Dakota Sunday, west of the Missouri river, at Deadwood the storm had prevailed for ten hours, the snow was 10 inches deep and the temperature had fallen below the freezing point. Such a thing was never before known to occur in that region in June.

A cyclone swept over McCook, Neb., Saturday afternoon doing serious damage to property and injuring many persons. A church in which 60 children were rehearsing for an entertainment, was wrecked and several of the little ones were hurt, some of them, it is thought, fatally.

When you buy your spring medicine you should get the best, and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It thoroughly purifies the blood.

When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. No cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) cured by our medicine. Dr. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. Send for circulars, free.

You've tried Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription have you? You're disappointed. The results are not immediate.

And did you expect the disease of years to disappear in a week? Put a pinch of time in every dose. You would not call the milk pure because the cream doesn't rise in an hour? If there's no water in it the cream is sure to rise. If there's no poison in the blood, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is sure to effect it, if given a fair trial. You get the one dollar it costs back again if it don't benefit or cure you. We wish we could give you the maker's confidence. They show it by giving the name of the doctor, in all cases not benefited, and it'd surprise you to know how few dollars are needed to keep up the refund.

Mild, gentle, soothing and healing is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Cures all worst cases permanently. No experimenting. It's "Old Reliable." Twenty-five years of success.

A great snow storm raged in South Dakota Sunday, west of the Missouri river, at Deadwood the storm had prevailed for ten hours, the snow was 10 inches deep and the temperature had fallen below the freezing point. Such a thing was never before known to occur in that region in June.

A cyclone swept over McCook, Neb., Saturday afternoon doing serious damage to property and injuring many persons. A church in which 60 children were rehearsing for an entertainment, was wrecked and several of the little ones were hurt, some of them, it is thought, fatally.

When you buy your spring medicine you should get the best, and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It thoroughly purifies the blood.

Two hundred dead.

Awful Result of the Disaster in the Oil Region—At Oil City and Titusville.

Oil City, Pa., June 6.—Eighteen miles of death and desolation is the story in brief of the awful catastrophe which has devastated the borders of Oil Creek from Titusville to this point. On both sides of the creek flood and fire have left ruin and wreck, and it will take days before the record of death and destruction can be completed. This is the most awful disaster which has ever come to this vicinity and has no rival in the United States except the Johnsons Creek, raging torrent, a tank of oil undermined and toppled into the flood, a coal dropped from a locomotive passing over the bridge in the city, a series of explosions along the surface of the creek, and houses, men, women and children were instantly wrapped in flames.

The inmates of the houses had but to choose how to die, either drown or be burned to death. There was no escape, and many chose the easier death and jumped into the water; but even there, however, are rising and much of the place far recovered shows that fire helped the work of destruction.

At 6 o'clock this morning the fire had burned itself out, and the flaming oil had passed away. The creek and river, however, are rising and much of the place will be still further flooded. But there is little left now along Oil Creek which has been left practically nothing on which the water can prey. The rising waters interfered with recovering the bodies of victims in Oil City proper.

The fiery flood destroyed one mile of property along the creek and on the west side. Across the creek from the main portion of the city not a house is standing between the creek and the hill, and not a vestige of life can be seen except the searchers for the dead.

Along the east side from the mouth of Oil Creek for a distance of three-quarters of a mile every building, except one along the creek, has been destroyed. This is a frame dwelling-house standing among the ruins. It was in the midst of the flood and fire, and yet it was passed by. The curtains are on all the windows and the moon metal stands on the table, but the former occupants are among the dead. They attempted to escape and were caught in the sea of flame on the east side.

The searching for the dead was stopped at midnight, but was resumed at daylight. At 5 p. m. today 67 bodies had been found. They are lying in the city hall and a temporary morgue on the south side.

The scene is almost too much for endurance. Burned out of all resemblance to human beings, in positions showing the terrible agony, the death came a few of the victims. From various estimates it is safe to say the loss in this city alone will reach 200. Many have been swept away and will never be found, though when the flood abated it will reveal a scene of horror.

The financial loss to this place is hard to estimate at present, but it will be over $1,000,000.

Most of the houses destroyed were owned by the occupants and were worth from $1,000 to $5,000. There were between 250 and 300 houses destroyed besides the various hotels, works and manufacturing. The building occupied by the Derrick newspaper was abandoned, but the paper came out this morning.

Over 300 homeless people are being taken care of and the Presbyterian Church is being used as a temporary home. Heat-rendering and pitiful sights met one everywhere, and tales of heroism and desperate fights with the town-dwelling elements are heard.

Daylight showed the scene in all its horrors, and many strong men turned away sick at heart as they found, even with the water at its present height, and dread the awful tale there will be told when the flood subsides.—Baltimore Sun.

From Friend to Friend

Goes the story of the excellence of Hood's Sarsaparilla and what it has accomplished.

And this is the strongest advertising which is done on behalf of this medicine. We endeavor to tell honestly what Hood's Sarsaparilla is and what it will do, but what it has done is far more important and far more potent. Its unequalled record of cures is sure to convince those who have never tried Hood's Sarsaparilla that it is an excellent medicine.

The mining camp of Jimtown, Col., was destroyed by fire Sunday morning, inflicting a loss of $1,000,000. The little frame houses were packed so closely together in the narrow gulch in which the town was located that all efforts to stop the flames by blowing up the buildings with giant powder were futile.

The brig Bertha Gray, at New York from Turks Island, Saturday, reported that on June 1st, in latitude 33.5, longitude 73, she passed a drifting boat, 20 feet long, of American build, painted white, which was full of water, with a dead body floating in it.

MAIN STREET, SALISBURY, MD.

From the Baltimore Sun of Wednesday we clip the following news item of the thriving community, about thirty-five miles south of Salisbury, known as Deal's Island:

Capt. John Simba, a native of Maine, but long a resident of Deal's Island, Somerset county, Md., died Thursday, 2nd inst.

A great many new dwellings have been erected here this summer.

The crabbing industry is in full operation.

A telephone line is to be constructed from the island to Princess Anne, Md.

Dr. J. Jack Taylor dug and shipped his white potatoes the 3rd inst. The pea crop was a financial failure; the berry crop a success.

A bicycle club has been formed on the island.

Tanper Lodge of Masons has been invited to John Monokin Lodge and participate in the laying of the corner-stone of the Academy at Princess Anne, July 4th. A camp-meeting will be held on Deal's Island in August.

A new Methodist Episcopal church is in course of construction on Holland's Island, just across from Deal's Island.

The Maryland Steamboat Company has had a long wharf constructed at Deal's Island. The wharf on the island is entirely too small.

The berry-growers have increased their acreage about tenfold in this neighborhood.

A policeman will be required here another season to protect empty crates from thieves.

A Jersey cow at Huntsville, Ala., it is said, has broken the record as a rich milk producer, 6,029 pounds and 13 ounces of butter having already been made, with four more days to end her year's trial.

The British admiralty is contemplating placing a first class scientific library on board each vessel in commission. Naval officers favor the plan, as the books will prove useful to all branches in the service.

Children's Day.

Next Sunday will be observed at Trinity M. E. Church South, as "Children's Day." The following is a program of exercises for the 8 p. m. services.

Marching Song by school, singing by entire audience, (standing) three stanzas of "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name," prayer by the pastor; music by the school; Recitation, "Welcome," by Mary Owen; Scripture Lesson; Singing by the school; Recitation, "The Anchor of Hope," by Virgie Gordy; Recitation, "My Measure of Joy," by Stella Dismore; Singing, Recitation, "A Vision," by Ruby Dorman; Scripture Lesson; Basket Exercises by eight boys, with offering and singing; Singing by the school, closing with benediction.

Next Sabbath, the 12th inst., is known as "Children's Day" in the Presbyterian Church. It will be suitably observed in the Wicomico Presbyterian Church. In the morning at 11 o'clock, the pastor will preach a special sermon to the children and in the evening at 8 o'clock, the Sunday School will render the programme prepared by the board of publication. The exercises should attract the parents and friends of the children, and the church will no doubt be well filled upon this occasion.

The Children's Day exercises of the Methodist Episcopal Sunday school will be held tomorrow evening beginning at 8 o'clock, in the church. The exercises will consist of a programme called "The League of Honor." On the platform will be erected a pyramid. Young people known as "Honor Builders" will each bring to the platform and put in place on the pyramid his plank, on each of which will be printed a motto such as "Honor Yourself, Honor the Bible, Honor the Sabbath, Honor your Parents, Honor Christ. Three honor builders, as they are called, will each briefly explain and enforce the principles of their respective mottos which underlie the sign of "Honor" and constitutes an outline of the platform of this wonderful league. The programme will be interspersed with music, vocal and instrumental. Miss Jenny Smith will preside at the organ, Miss Sallie Woodcock, Clara Walton, Minnie Thornton and Julia Ellegood will lead in the singing. Messrs. Elmer Walton and Marion Hearn will lead on cornet, and Messrs. Morris Walton and Arthur Kennerly on the trombone. The platform will be suitably and extravagantly decorated.

The second Sunday in June has been set aside by the Methodist Episcopal Church as the Children's Day, as its significance, and is under the auspices of the Board of Education, a society of that church, organized in 1873 to promote the educational work of the church which it does by lending money to poor but worthy young members of the church, who are ambitious of securing a higher education. It helped over 1000 young men and women last year.

The chief object of the Children's Day exercises is not entertainment, but to enlist the hearty co-operation of all the young people in the educational work of the church. Its motto being: "A collection from every school; A dime from every scholar; A dollar from all who can give it. Thousands from the church."

It is a course in which all parents should encourage their children to take a lively interest.

Municipal Matters.

Bailiff Kennerly arrested last Tuesday a tramp for drunkenness and disorderly conduct and lodged him in jail, where he rested quietly till Thursday morning. On Wednesday Daniel Duxbury was arrested on the same charge and taken before justice magistrate Treadwell and fined. The fines and costs were paid and Duxbury released. Wednesday Mr. Paul Anderson and Mr. J. C. Kelly were fined for driving in the street. This latter act on the part of our new Chief of Police suggests the necessity of more vigorous measures, at least more vigorous action on the part of the authorities, to prevent reckless driving through the streets. On certain streets in the city some of the horse men habitually speed their horses. If there is any ordinance to prevent it we want to see it enforced.

Revisits his old home.

After an absence of nearly a decade, the irreplaceable Mrs. L. Davis revisited his old home, the Springs in a good community and where shipping facilities are ample.

Murphy Shannahan, aged twenty-one, eldest son of John R. K. Shannahan, of Easton, was drowned Tuesday while bathing in Tred Avon river at Deep Point. He went in the river in a good companion, and was in a pool which is known as a dangerous place. Frank White one of his comrades, risked his life to pull Shannahan out and succeeded, but efforts to resuscitate him were unavailing. Deep Point is a dangerous bathing place in the Tred Avon. Six people have been drowned there in the last two years. This incident casts a gloom over Easton. The father of the young man is at Ocean City engaged with the Seaplane Beach Company.

The "Umbrella Company" was incorporated at Albany, N. Y., Saturday with a capital of $500,000. It is thought to be a combination of manufacturers.

White Monday.

White Monday or Summer Fair day was observed last Monday in Salisbury and Quantico. The gala party of Salisbury consisted principally of the colored folks. The Laurel colored band ball came down on the noon train and "bucked" the Salisbury girls on the grounds over the depot. The Salisbury boys swallowed them up in good style. The game was witnessed by many of the colored and Salisbury colored people. The day had a slight tinge of the old time fair. On the Union lot in front of the court house square was a merry-go-round which waited to the music of Little Annie Rooney from "early noon till dewy eve" and raked in a few pennies freshly earned in the strawberry fields. Down town were a few cake and candy stands which attracted attention principally by the loud calls of the owners. Everything passed off quietly and uneventfully.

Death of Mrs. M. A. Young.

All who knew her must have been saddened by the news of the death of Mrs. Mary Anne Young whose mortal pilgrimage ceased Thursday last week while she was with her niece, Mrs. Hammond, of Berlin, Md.

Mrs. Young was a sister of the late Purnell Toddlin who was during his active career, a leading figure in Wicomico business circles. At the age of sixteen Mrs. Young married James R. Young, of Milton, Del. Her whole life was spent in the doing of good works and the loving care of those about her. Her many admirable traits of character won for her the love and confidence of all who knew her. Her remains were interred by the side of those of her husband at Milford.

Hon. E. Stanley Toddlin of this city, is nephew, and Mrs. Levin C. Graham of Philadelphia is a grand daughter, of the deceased.

An Accident.

Mr. Marion Townsend of this city met with a fortune last Monday afternoon by which it was first thought he would lose one of his feet.

He belongs to the carpenter's force of the B. & E. S. R. R., and making an effort to board the three o'clock east bound train at the transfer platform at the N. Y. & P. crossing, when he missed his footing and fell with one heel on the rail. The car passed over it crushing the heel. The heel of the shoe prevented what might have been a more serious wound. Drs. Slemmons & Morris were called and they performed the necessary medical aid. They think they will be able to save the foot.

Baptist Association.

The Eastern District Association of the Baptist denomination, which embraces the entire Eastern Shore of Maryland and several churches of East Baltimore, convened in the First Baptist Church of Pocomoke city Tuesday afternoon. There was a slim attendance of ministers owing to the fact that a number of them were detained by sickness and other causes. Rev. A. C. Fubel, of Quantico church, Baltimore, was elected moderator, and Rev. A. B. Hardcastle, of Longwoods church, Talbot county, secretary. The afternoon was taken up in receiving reports of committees and other business matters.

Unclassified Letters.

The following is a list of letters remaining in the Salisbury (Md.) Post-office Saturday, June 11, 1892:

Whittington Toudson, Mrs. S. L. Brown, Ida E. Morris, Edward Price, Mrs. Stella K. Menick, R. W. Long, Miss Mary E. Mead. It has been the former residence of the said deceased, a LARGE TWO STORY DWELLING, beautifully located, with all necessary outbuildings. The soil is highly improved, very fertile, and no drainage is required. Besides a GOOD WHARF, where all products can be shipped, out of Barren Creek.

Division No. 1, contains 59 ACRES, all CLEAR LAND, and has on it a thrifty peach orchard of 400 TREES, and about 1/2 acre in strawberries. It fronts on the county road leading from the Springs to Vienna.

Division No. 2, contains 126 ACRES, more or less, and is located South of Division No. 1, with a right of way to said county road. It has been the former residence of the said deceased, a LARGE TWO STORY DWELLING, beautifully located, with all necessary outbuildings. The soil is highly improved, very fertile, and no drainage is required. Besides a GOOD WHARF, where all products can be shipped, out of Barren Creek.

Division No. 3, contains 91 ACRES, mostly cleared, RED CLAY SOIL, well adapted to the GROWTH OF WHEAT, CORN, GRASS AND VEGETABLES. It has an orchard of 1500 PEACH TREES, IMPROVED VARIETY, besides FIVE ACRES OF STRAWBERRIES. It binds on Barren Creek, and no ditching is required.

No. 10—All that HOUSE and LOT situate at the Springs, where the said deceased resided at the time of his death. It is nearly new, large and two stories high, with a small Store Room, Barn, Stables, etc., all new. This property was purchased of the subscriber as Executor of Joseph Ratcliffe, deceased, and is one of the most eligible and comfortable residences at the Springs.

No. 11—All that LOT situate on the South side of Barren Creek and opposite the Springs, which the said deceased purchased of the said Trustee as executor of Joseph Ratcliffe, deceased. It contains 7 1/2 ACRES in good condition, and particularly well adapted to trucking purposes, with a Peach Orchard of 200 Trees.

No. 12—All that LOT containing 1 1/4 ACRES which the said Bonds bought of George Waller, and located near the county road leading from the Springs to Vienna.

Persons are particularly invited to examine the above lands as no better real estate was ever offered for sale in this county. It is all located within two miles of Barren Creek Springs on the B. & E. S. Railroad, while the soil is especially adapted to the growth of fruits, melons, berries, wheat, corn, oats and grass, while the neighborhood for peace, order and intelligence is Jewelry Wanted.

 A charming brooch pin is a pink topaz, heart shaped and surrounded by fine diamonds.
 A pretty necklace for a young girl is a row of round dainties, in the heart of which a tiny chip diamond glitters.
 Ear-rings promise to be revived, and some pear-shaped pendants give hints of the hideous dangling ornaments of years ago.
 A brooch formed of two hearts in rubies, with a bow-knot above of tin diamonds, is the latest idea for an engagement gift.
 A pretty watch chain is of fine gold links, set every few inches with alternate sapphires, rubies and diamonds.
 Sleeve links, oval in shape, of white enamel, with a fleur de lis design in the center, are suitable for tailor-made gowns, with which of course, cuffs will be worn.
 Bracelets of topaz or pearl, set in narrow bands of gold, make very pretty inexpensive gifts, as they cost only $8.

That Number Will Soon be a Million.
 Does the average reader realize the extent of the pension service of this country? We do not believe he does. A month and a half ago $27,267,000 were reported on the rolls. The number will soon be a million. That is more than twice the enormous standing army which is to-day impoverishing Germany. It is almost equal in numbers to the united standing armies of Italy, Austria and Germany. From the fact it will be seen that about one in every twelve of the voters of the country will be on the pension rolls a year hence. The cost of pensions a year from now will be about double the total cost of running this government at the time, the war broke out. Are not these figures enough to make the average reader, as well as the average legislator pause and reflect over the situation?—Lancaster New Era.

After the Grip.
 And after typhoid fever, diphtheria, pneumonia, or other prostrating diseases, Hood's Sarsaparilla is just what is needed to restore the strength and vigor so much desired, and to expel all poison from the blood. It has had wonderful success in many such cases.

What She Got.
 He was a Chicago grain speculator, and for a year past nothing had been coming his way except expenses.

Misfortunes never flock by themselves. One day his daughter informed him in a cold and unfeeling manner that if he did not give her a diamond ring worth at least $1000 spot cash she would elope with the coachman.
 "Come to my arms, my darling child," he exclaimed, as the tears of joy poured down his wrinkled cheeks, "come to my arms."
 "Do I get the ring?" she asked, hesitating as she accepted his invitation.
 "Of course not," he smiled delightedly, "you get the coachman. I owe him eight months' wages."
 That ended it.—Detroit Free Press.

For Over Fifty Years.
 Mrs. Winslow's Sore Throat Syrup has been used for children's teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world.

When the Georgia editor tells a snake story it is generally a good one. "Some years ago Judge Simons was presented with a pet snake. One day it swallowed an eight day chick, which could be heard to tick and strike until it ran down, shortly afterward the snake laid 100 eggs. On opening them he found each to contain an open-faced watch in good running order."

Rheumatism cured in a day. "My wife cured for Rheumatism and Neuralgia radically cured in 1 to 2 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes the cause of the disease and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits, 75 cents. Sold by R. K. Truitt & Son, Druggist, Salisbury, Md.

Clergyman: Mrs. Jones, I have called to complain of the way your daughter acted this morning. I was so disgusted.
 "Oh, it is what the district school teaches. The other day she said to me, 'Mother, they're teaching me vulgar fractions.' Now, sir, what can you expect?"

Along the cotton belt—dress goods cottons. The master man has just been there, and with the pencil that fixes prices.
 He's an interesting man to keep close to if you care for bargains. Seems reckless, sometimes, the way he slashes. Often no special reason why this stuff or that should be hit upon for the knife. But he means to keep things lively. Like stirring up the animals in a menagerie, only the picking he does is to prices.

Gingham gets it like this:
 Polka Dots, 50c from 60c.
 Polka Dots, 45c from 50c.
 Striped Cheviots, 37c from 45c.
 Striped Cheviots, 30c from 37c.
 Dotted stripes, 40c from 50c.
 Lace Cheviots, 50c from 75c.
 Other Gingham patterns, not so new, that have been 40c, 50c and 60c are now 35c and 37c.

Cotton Crapes come centering to the same quick music.
 Crocodile pattern, 40c from 50c.
 Plisse pattern, 40c from 50c.
 Cider stripes, 40c from 50c.
 Bedford Cord stripes, 37c from 45c.
 Other Crapes pattern, not so new, that have been 40c, 50c and 60c are now 35c and 37c.

In Yankee Gingham there are the regular 12 1/2 centers, the 25c grade at 15c and the before.

40 kind at 18c—all told of. So of the beautiful Brandenburgs at 20c, the rich Riga cloth at 25c, the web like Mouseline de l'Inde at 30 and 35c, the silky Sateen (French) at 25c (instead of 35c), the filmy Organdies at 37 1/2c.

Across the aisle Galatea and Cunard (30c and 35c) have harbor, and the catchy Como Batiste at 25c is close by.

Cool Linen Lawns 30 and 35c are near neighbors.
 Surely Summerize Dress needs may be simply satisfied.

Ceylon Flannels.
 Fresh caught from the princes of Ceylon Flannel makers in Glasgow. Their regular 60c goods at 37 1/2c.

Not another word needed if you knew who these Ceylon flannel makers were. We may not tell but their name on any woven stuff is like the mint mark on a gold piece, a guaranty of excellency.

But you needn't know. Ceylons to feel the worth of such goods as these. Every thread every tint points to pedigree. Almost Broadcloth to the touch. Grasp a handful. Substance there, and weight, too. Nothing slimsy or sleazy about these Ceylon flannels.

Here are 35 styles and stripes. Made for sale now. With every prettiness and perness of patterns that this season has produced. The difference between 60c and 37 1/2c is like a gift to you.

Somehow there's a chaff comf and stylishness that no other dress stuff can show. The linen lawns are crispier and cooler, the Organdies flatter and more fairly like the satens silkier, but from the fifteen prettiness of a Grenadine tissue to the glittering folds of the lovely Lansdowne there's nothing that can take the chaffs place.

Chaffs softness! Summer luxury. So dainty to drape. Even the 18c half wool challis show their breeding. Printed by artists. More art in them than in many pretentious paintings. More style. Goodness and gracefulness grow with every upward step into the realm of pure wool—37 1/2c, 50c, 60c.

Cotton crape (15c a yard) makes a charming evening costume. Its little cost leaves a big, wide, margin for tasteful, tactful trimming. Here are tans, for instance, which black velvet would make elegant, and these rose pink with white lace would be most lovely. Delicate blues and crumpled creams, softest grays and ivory whites, each and all are beauties well worth buying.

Serge, navy blue serge. Like chevrot for substance. Some of the styles strike the serge superlative—every one is of the welcome sort.

38 inch at 50 and 65c.
 50 inch at 41.
 50 and 54 inch at $1.25.
 54 inch at $1.50.
 50 inch at $1.75.

Perhaps the $1 grade hits the average buyer hardest. The quality is there, so's the style.

The grace of all silk Grenadine grows upon you. Such blacks of such beauty are rare—at such prices unheard of before. No slipperness, no seeming-what-it-is-not. Honest goods, handsome goods.

75c quality plain mesh Grenadine, 50c.
 $1.25 quality plain mesh Grenadine, 85c.
 All silk, 23 and 24 inches wide.

I have kept the rose, but its bloom has faded. The leaves have withered, the scent has fled. And the roses are faded, the roses are faded.

The summer is over, the flowers are dead. And the beautiful rose that was fair and sweet. In a buried depth the fallen rose. And the beautiful rose that was fair and sweet.

GOVERNOR SEWARD'S LOST SET.

He fails to establish his identity and loses twenty dollars.

The other afternoon, when the shadows were growing longer in the streets and the day was taking on a somber hue, a little group of politicians sat in the city hall, each with a cigar in his mouth.

It was the following morning that the governor of the Empire State, Mr. Seward, was in the city hall, each with a cigar in his mouth. It was the following morning that the governor of the Empire State, Mr. Seward, was in the city hall, each with a cigar in his mouth.

It was too far from the town where he was staying to go back that night, and so he accepted permission to stop there. This was cheerfully granted, and after partaking of an old-fashioned country supper the old farmer invited his unknown guest to take a ride across the country with him, having an errand to do in a neighboring village.

With all the civility for which Mr. Seward was just famed, he accepted the invitation, and as they drove along in the old farmer's wagon, the latter began to talk to him.

"Say, you are a book agent?" "No, that I know of," was the governor's smiling rejoinder.

"Perhaps you're a lightning rod man, eh?" "No, sir, you are wrong again."

"Then you're a sewing machine man, no, sir?"

Mr. Seward at once acknowledged the soft impeachment, and then informed the governor of the state of New York that he was a book agent.

This quieted the old fellow for awhile, but at last he could hold no longer, and he began to talk to him.

When the house had again become quiet the young man turned to the young lady and said: "How charming you are!"

"I am so glad you like it, George," she replied sweetly. "What a beautiful place this is!"

"On what?" asked the young man in surprise.

"Why, the charming dress of that young lady in front of us. Is not that what you mean?"

"Oh—yes, yes, of course." "Silence!" between these two souls for the remainder of the evening.

SATURDAY, JUNE 18, 1892.

—The National Democratic Convention will meet at Chicago next Tuesday. At this writing everything points to the nomination of ex-President Cleveland.

The opposition to him, like the opposition to Harrison at Minneapolis, does not seem to be concentrated upon anyone.

The opponents of the ex-President are considering Gray of Indiana, Boies of Iowa, Pattison of Pennsylvania and Gorman of this state. Mr. Cleveland already has a clear majority of the delegates, but must of course, have two-thirds under party rules. It will be difficult, however, to turn down a man who has a majority of the convention. It looks like Cleveland.

—The National Republican Convention which was in session at Minneapolis last week completed its labors Friday evening by re-nominating President Harrison for first place on the ticket and Whitelaw Reid of New York, for vice President. The Blaine strength proved almost insignificant.

The convention was unquestionably Republican; of the kind that would support force bills, robber protection bills or anything else in the interest of the Republican party. Its first act was to elect Major McKinley, the author of the McKinley Tariff Bill, chairman of the convention. This was followed up by the re-nomination of Mr. Harrison for the first place on the ticket. Whatever else may be said of Mr. Harrison, it cannot be said that he is not a representative republican. He is an extreme protectionist. He favors federal control of elections, as provided for by what is known as the Force Bill and was not in sympathy with Mr. Blaine's reciprocity policy. He was nominated by the office holders principally, and the states that usually go democratic, where the federal patronage is all that his party has control of.

—The nomination of Mr. Reid of New York is not looked upon as a strong standstill nomination. He is the editor of the New York Tribune, the capitalists' organ of that city. It has always been used as an instrument to defeat the efforts of organized labor and has of course placed its editor in bad repute with the labor element.

But two facts must not be lost sight of, one that Mr. Harrison was nominated by what may be termed the best element of the party, generally speaking. His opponents, being such men as ex-Senator Platt of New York, Senator Quay of Pa., Mr. Dudley of Indiana, Mr. Clarkson of Iowa and other such men of their class; the other, that the National Committee will have an unlimited supply of money for campaign purposes.

The Baltimore Washington correspondent under date of June 13th says: "Democrats in Washington are disposed to be very well satisfied with nominations made at Minneapolis. The placing of Mr. Reid on the ticket is particularly satisfactory to the men from the South, where it had been feared the Farmers' Alliance movement might attract votes from the democratic party, and were the republicans were talking about the possibility of certain States being carried for the third party ticket. Since the announcement of the republican nominations there has been no more talk of this kind. However, a Southern democrat, speaking of the effect of the nominations, said today: "It had been the intention of the republican managers to break up the alliance movement in national politics in all the Southern States they could not have done so more thoroughly. In the place, they adopted a strong force bill plank in their platform, and then they put up to run on it Mr. Harrison, who is looked upon in the South as the special advocate of that measure, and gave him as his running mate Whitelaw Reid, of New York, the man who is responsible for the publication in the New York Tribune of all the most malignant, untrue and unjust things that have been printed about the South since the war. Harrison with any other man would have been beat enough, but Harrison with Whitelaw Reid will make the South so solid that there will be no hope of diverting a single electoral vote from the democratic column."

HILL'S SUPPORTERS WOULD ALSO WORK FOR CLEVELAND.

New York, June 13.—The chief stock in trade of the anti-Cleveland Hill boomers is the argument, "Cleveland can't carry New York." The World today polls the members of the democratic State committee on the question, will you and your friends give a hearty and enthusiastic support to the ticket, no matter who is nominated at Chicago? All the answers are in the affirmative except that of the chairman, Edward Murphy, of Troy. He was "too busy," he said to give an answer either way. His slight dodging of the issue looks like a promise from a man in the position in connection with the straight-out avowal of his associates on the committee. These answers from the Tammany big guns are of special interest. Richard Croker—Tammany Hall will give the candidate nominated a cordial and earnest support.

W. Bourke Cockran—"That is a silly question. Of course Cleveland will receive the full and hearty support of the State organization in the event of his nomination."

Hugh J. Grant—"Tammany Hall will support the national ticket, no matter who heads it. Has anybody said Tammany Hall would not? The State committee will also do its best to elect the candidate of the convention."

One of Mr. Hill's most vociferous followers is James W. Ridgway, the Brooklyn district attorney. He has beaten the tam-tam in highway and byway for the past two years. His answer says, "Assuming for the sake of argument that Mr. Cleveland is nominated, the attitude of the State committee would be one of loyalty to the party. The State organization will be loyal and enthusiastic in the support of the nominee of the Chicago convention. It is a question of bowing to the will of the majority. All good democrats recognize this foundation principle of democracy. The majority must rule. After the nomination is made it is too late to quibble about this man's personal strength or that one's weakness. Personal disagreements will not influence the leaders of the party to the disadvantage of the candidate, but after all it is the great mass of people who will pass judgment on the work of the convention. Certainly I will do all I can to elect the candidate, whoever he may be."

Such being the case, as stated by the high authority of the members of the democratic State committee, it must look to an impartial outsider that some people seem determined, if they can effect it, that Mr. Cleveland shall not carry New York. The Syracuse Courier hits the nail in the remark: "This will be the answer that the 700 Cleveland delegates will make to the contrary and unreasonable handout from New York and Indiana: 'Cleveland can carry both States if you, who now talk against him, will give him a loyal democratic support. In other words, if you are democrats, Cleveland's chances are all right. If you are something else, what are you doing here?'"

In view of recent editorial comments, the evening republican organ, the New York Mail and Express, says the New York Sun, "is presumable getting ready to support the republican ticket."

A dispatch from Albany says: "It is learned from reliable sources that Senator David B. Hill has decided not to go to Chicago but will remain in Washington or New York City during the convention."

Richard Croker, Edward Murphy and Lieutenant-Governor Sheehan support for Chicago Wednesday. On Thursday the delegates left, and on Friday at least 1,200 picked braves will take their departure.

Robert Kaufman has ordered 10,000 Hill buttons, with the Senators picture set in them, to be distributed in Chicago the last day of the week. There is a much better local feeling now owing to the recent utterance of E. Elery Anderson and D. Cady Herriek, declaring that no compromise candidate is wanted; that if they cannot have Cleveland, Hill will be their choice. This is presumed to be the position now of practically all the anti-snappers except a few extremists who are against Hill for all time.

The Hill boomers are counting on 260 votes for him on the first ballot and 500 Cleveland, but as the States will probably vote on the second ballot, the Hill vote is reduced to 215 and Cleveland's increased to 377, or within 22 of the requisite number.

In this event the vote of Kentucky, Iowa and Illinois would nominate the ex-President unless South Carolina and Virginia, whose delegates are claimed to be equally divided, should cast their 42 votes for Hill.

The nine Cleveland men from Connecticut prefer Hill for second choice, and that is about the way the Hill managers figure most of the delegations. They feel confident that if Cleveland does not win in two ballots his chances are destroyed.

Senator Hill was at the Hoffman House last night and held a protracted conference with Lieutenant-Governor Sheehan and Edward Murphy—N. Y. Correspondent Baltimore Sun.

Let's reason together. Here's a fire, one of the largest of the kind ever, the world over; it has grown, step by step, through the years to greatness—and it sells patent medicines!—ugh!

"That's enough!"

"Talk a little!"

This firm pays the newspapers good money (expensive work, this advertising) to tell the people that they have faith in what they sell, so much faith that if they can benefit or cure they don't want your money. Their guarantee is not indefinite and relative, but definite and absolute—if the medicine doesn't help, your money is "on call."

Suppose every sick man and every feeble woman tried these medicines and found them worthless, who would be the loser, you or they?

The medicines are Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," for blood diseases, and his "Favorite Prescription," for women's peculiar ills. If they help toward health, they cost $1.00 a bottle each! If they don't, they cost nothing!

The United States Courts at Cincinnati and Cleveland, Ohio, have refused to order the removal of members of the white knight to Massachusetts for trial on the indictment found against them in Boston. The United States district attorney at Boston says he will make up his mind what course to pursue when he gets the opinions.

A Day of Fire in Baltimore.

At 2:15 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, while a crowd of busy men were loading and discharging the Bay Line steamer at the foot of Union dock, a cry of fire was raised. Arthur Jones had seen a flash among the hundreds of bales of cotton stored there and given the alarm, which was immediately taken up by his fellow-workmen. At the same time Haden Gentry, the Western Union telegraph manager at the wharf, ran out of his office crying "fire." Almost before the great crowd of workmen on the dock knew it the entire water edge of the Bay Line, or, properly speaking, the Baltimore Steam Packet Company, was a roaring furnace.

Three hours later the ruin was complete, and a damage moderately computed at $250,000 had been done. The immense wooden freight shed lining Union dock 500 feet, the basin front 400 feet and the small dock at the end 250 feet were a mass of debris. Thousands of dollars' worth of baled cotton, hophorns of tobacco, bags of flour, barrels of whisky and rosin and miscellaneous freight was destroyed, and the large brick freight and general offices, a cotton-storage shed, a laundry and private fire and electric lighting plant that were clustered together in a regular quadrangle of the wharves were burnt out, leaving erect only their stant brick walls.

Everything was roasting with the heat of the day when the fire started. How it began no one knows. Spontaneous combustion was suggested by a dozen hypotheses, but there is no certainty about the matter. It commenced almost on the very southeastern tip of the freight-shed and ran thence directly northward along the Union dock side and northwesterly along the slanting basin front. The fire did not stop on the Bay Line property, but went farther to the north and destroyed the oil warehouse of James Corner & Sons, with its contents.

Taking Advantage of the Year. Over the line in Paulding, Ga., there lived a widow whose name, we believe, was Brown. But it is not Brown now. She is there no more, nor is she a widow any more forever. She was fat and fair, but not forty. About three weeks ago there came along a middle-aged widower of fine mien and prepossessing appearance. Certainly he stopped for a drink of water at the well. The widow, in the goodness of heart, kindly gave him the water. Her looks pleased him, and at once to business he went. Neither one ever saw the other before. He asked her if she was married. She told him no, that she was a lone widow.

When an informed man that he was a widower looking for a wife. "Yes, sir, walk in." Here we drop the curtain. In her own language, however, we give the result. "It is sufficient to say this is less year you know, and at 8 o'clock that night we twain were made one. We fixed it all right there and then."

Tomorrow she leaves for his home. Where it is or what sort it is or whether he has one, she knows not. She says "marriage is a lottery anyhow." She was on our streets yesterday as gay as a lark. Now, who can tell the widow "for busy" when she is in dead earnest?—Atlanta Constitution.

Female Jesters. Nothing better illustrates the dullness of society in the Middle Ages than the custom used by all high placed and wealthy persons of keeping a professional jester, or, as it was called, a Christendom, for we read that Cortes found an individual of this profession at the court of Montezuma. Our modern clown, though very different from the licensed jesters of old, owe to them, of course, their origin; but so far as I know, the female jester, who was in vogue before the male, has no present representative.

We are told by Erasmus that in all the great cities of the Continent there was in his time a female official of this description, who enlisted the company as she waited at table with witty claims and repartee. It might be added, however, that she was generally young and pretty. So late as 1858, we read in Mrs. Elmhurst's "Travels" that she found a female jester at Constantinople, who was exceedingly amusing.—London Illustrated News.

Animals' Eyes Flag Train. "Yes, we have a good deal of experience with wild animals," remarked an engineer, but not so thrilling as that of the engineers on western roads when the buffalo was common on the plains. But there is enough still left of wild animals to make it interesting. The eyes of the wolf, coyote, wildcat, jack rabbit, polecat and other animals look like red light when facing the headlight. Did not these animals quickly undecide by turning their heads, an engineer might think his train was being flagged and stop his engine. The wolf, wildcat and coyote are quick to jump from the track, but the jack rabbit is less fortunate. The headlight has a strange fascination for this animal and often it is killed.—Denver News.

An Electrical Finger. An electrical finger for surgical uses has recently been invented. A bulb, attached to a long probe, is double the other skin is flexible. The two layers are connected with opposite poles of the battery, and wires connect the inner layer with the finger tip. Pressure at any point closes the circuit and the electrical current is transmitted to a corresponding point on the finger. The surgeon has thus a means of feeling and measuring things which he can neither see nor reach by ordinary means.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The trustees of Franklin and Marshall college, Lancaster, Pa., have conferred the title of Doctor of Divinity upon Rev. S. W. Reigart, pastor of Wicomico Presbyterian church of this city.
Policeman Kennerly has been busy this week cleaning up the streets. They show much better behind the shovel than in front of it. It isn't a case of labor lost. Continue the good work, friend Kennerly.
The Adams Express business seems to be on the increase here through the efforts of Mr. C. N. Coulbourn, our efficient agent, who looks closely to the interests of the company. He has worked up a new business this year on fruits.

—Messrs. L. E. Williams & Co. are erecting on their wharf west of Camden Ave., a warehouse 30x50 feet, frame, with metal roof. The building will be used for storing cash, doors, etc. The work is under the supervision of Mr. T. H. Mitchell.
—Mrs. Anna Eliza Bond of Baltimore, died at the residence of Mr. S. P. Parsons, of Parsonsburg, at 6 o'clock last Monday afternoon. Her health had been as good as usual, apparently, until a few minutes before her death. Hemorrhage was cause of death.
—One of the lady passengers on the Pratt last Wednesday morning was standing near the rail with her pocket book, which contained about $30, in her hand, when she suddenly lost her grip on it and the much prized article dropped overboard, never to be heard of again.
—Picnics are in the wind just now, that is to say, picnics to raise the wind. One will be held at Shad Point on the 4th of July by the M. E. Church, South, there, and during this peacefully heated term and the present financial condition of the church at that point, we hope a good wind will be raised. Refreshments will be sold on the grounds for the benefit of the church.

—Work was begun this week on the building to be erected by Mr. H. S. Brewington, corner Main and Dock streets, a description of which was published some weeks ago in the Advertiser. Mr. T. M. Simpson has charge of the work. The contract for doing the brick work has been awarded to Mr. Mat. Diharoon. The stone work will be done by Messrs. Ellis & Doward.
—Mr. John W. Smith, a farmer of Parsons district, was found dead in bed at his home last Tuesday morning. He had been suffering some months of a dropsical affection. Heart disease was the immediate cause of death presumably. Mr. Smith was a candidate for the position of county surveyor on the fusion ticket last fall. He leaves a widow, a niece of Mr. John White of this city, and several children.
—Mr. Henry Messick an aged citizen of this city died last Thursday of cancer. He had been suffering several years from the dread malady. Some years ago he had a large one taken from the shoulder which seemed for a time to relieve him. The disease appeared the last time in the form of an immense cancer on the forehead, which hastened his death. He was about 65 years of age, and belonged to the family of Messicks at Nantux.

—A store room located on the road from Pittsville to Powellville, near Friendship church, the property of Daniel Williams and Sewell Dennis, was burned last Tuesday morning. The building was vacated about three weeks ago as store house by Messrs. Williams and Jones. The fire cannot be accounted for. The building was uninsured. Messrs. Williams and Jones had in it about $75 worth of wool, which was also lost.
—Mr. Joseph W. Ward met with a serious accident last Wednesday morning while superintending the driving of the piling for the foundation of Messrs. L. E. Williams & Co.'s warehouse. He was holding the piling under the hammer at the time, and when the hammer descended it ran out of the groove and missed the piling, striking Mr. Ward on the hand, crushing the bones of the left hand to such the little and digit fingers are attached. Dr. Simpson & Morris who attended the case thinks he will be able to save the hand.

—Mr. John Franklin Reigart, son of Rev. S. W. Reigart, pastor of the Wicomico Presbyterian church of this city, was married at noon on Wednesday at this week, to Miss Lily Mary Milfin of North Hope, Barter county, Pa. The marriage ceremony took place at the home of the bride's mother, and was made the more interesting from the fact that a twin sister, Miss Clara Milfin, was united in marriage at the same time to Prof. Snyder of Allegheny, Pa. Mr. Reigart and his bride left today for Europe where they will spend the summer. He holds the position of professor of Psychology in the New York college for the training of teachers.

Local Notes.
The first published report of the R. & E. S. R. Co. has been issued by Receiver Willard Thompson. It is an interesting document to Eastern shippers. It shows that the road can, beyond question, be made to pay.
The report covers a period of eight months and ten days, previous to Dec. 31st, 1891. The net earnings of the road during that time is $17,700.75. This seems to be a very good record for a road. The report of the heavy operations on the other hand are not so encouraging. The report shows a loss of 7,488.08, during the five months and fifteen days the ferry was operated at Bay Ridge. When the route was changed from Bay Ridge to San directly to Baltimore from Clabborne the ferry became self sustaining, even a source of income, some $700 per month. The road does not seem any longer to be an experiment.
The company are at work now getting out a new time table to go into effect next week. The new schedule will provide for a morning and evening train both ways on the road—to Baltimore and to Ocean City.
In addition to these two trains there will be a local train daily from Clabborne to Ocean City and return.
The road under Mr. Thompson as receiver, assisted by Mr. A. J. Benjamin the general manager, has been ably managed.

Oyster Farming and County Roads.
In a speech before the Deer Creek Farmers' Club of Harford county, Mr. B. Howard Haman of Baltimore, says the Baltimore Sun, presented the oyster cultivation and the grounds would really be a lively interest among the intelligent farmers of Harford, Mr. Haman has devoted a great deal of time and study to the oyster question and has become entirely convinced of the propriety of lessening the barren oyster grounds of the state. He has prepared and urged before the Legislature several bills looking to this, but the opposition of the oyster men and dredgers has heretofore prevented the defeat of all leasing bills. Now he is making appeals to the self interest of the oyster men, who do not border on the bay and are equal owners of those which do of the Chesapeake bottoms. He tells the people of these counties that there are some 400,000 acres of barren oyster grounds which can be made productive of vast wealth by cultivation and the grounds would really be taken up at an annual rental of $1 per acre. This sum of $400,000, Mr. Haman thinks, could just as well be divided among the counties for making and maintaining roads. In addition to this, he argues, that the food supply of the state would be enormously increased and occupation given to additional thousands of people, who would be engaged in taking, transporting, shucking and packing the oysters, and all without interfering with the natural oyster beds.

The Annual Turtle Dinner.
The annual turtle dinner took place at Davis hotel in Quantico last Wednesday. The attendance was not very large on account of the being an off year in county politics. In fact it is said that farming and religion were discussed about as much as politics.
Mr. Davis the host served an elegant dinner, consisting of turtle pie, turtle stew, turtle soup, spruce chickens, frogs, and early vegetables.
One of our prominent county officials proved to be the champion turtle eater. How long he had been eating when he began to attract attention no one seems to know, but from that time on he ate 52 and at last his accounts will still calling, "more yet."
Among those present were: Senator Towdlin, Messrs. George Waller, Elmer E. Bradley, Isaac Uman, Levin T. Walter, James L. Beshaw, H. W. Anderson, Capt. L. Leatherberry and others.

The Strawberry Crop.
The Strawberry season opened in this county, practically last week. The weather out the crop short, but there was a sufficient crop, it seems, to supply all demands. Those who had early berries cleared some money on the crop; late berries brought very little clear money.
In Pittsville and Donnell district, where the bulk of the berry crop of the county is grown, there is a general complaint of small profits. In Tysick where the crop is from 6 to 10 days earlier than elsewhere in the county, the growers made money. The pickers everywhere had a "harvest." They did everything in their power to reap the crop, but in many cases they failed to do so. Mr. L. P. Britton of Wangs, says he only got off 80,000 quarts from his patches that bore fully two times that amount. He was unable to get them picked. Altogether the crop was unsatisfactory.

Barren Creek Springs.
Branch Hill Baptist Chapel, about two miles from Barren Creek, was dedicated last Sunday. Rev. D. S. Toy of Crisfield under whom the work was started, presided the morning sermon, Rev. J. B. English of New York preached in the afternoon and evening. Large congregations attended. Large collections were taken. The church is valued at $350 in cash and pledges was raised.
The pastor Rev. Chas. D. Parker was prevented from being present by the serious illness of his wife.
J. S. Eaton, clerk at the House of Commons, was Sunday at home.
Miss Mariana Brattin left Monday for an extended visit in Wilmington, Del.
It has been decided to hold a camp meeting at Hebron, beginning August 5th.

The Strawberry season opened in this county, practically last week. The weather out the crop short, but there was a sufficient crop, it seems, to supply all demands. Those who had early berries cleared some money on the crop; late berries brought very little clear money.
In Pittsville and Donnell district, where the bulk of the berry crop of the county is grown, there is a general complaint of small profits. In Tysick where the crop is from 6 to 10 days earlier than elsewhere in the county, the growers made money. The pickers everywhere had a "harvest." They did everything in their power to reap the crop, but in many cases they failed to do so. Mr. L. P. Britton of Wangs, says he only got off 80,000 quarts from his patches that bore fully two times that amount. He was unable to get them picked. Altogether the crop was unsatisfactory.

Barren Creek Springs.
Branch Hill Baptist Chapel, about two miles from Barren Creek, was dedicated last Sunday. Rev. D. S. Toy of Crisfield under whom the work was started, presided the morning sermon, Rev. J. B. English of New York preached in the afternoon and evening. Large congregations attended. Large collections were taken. The church is valued at $350 in cash and pledges was raised.
The pastor Rev. Chas. D. Parker was prevented from being present by the serious illness of his wife.
J. S. Eaton, clerk at the House of Commons, was Sunday at home.
Miss Mariana Brattin left Monday for an extended visit in Wilmington, Del.

Local Notes.
The first published report of the R. & E. S. R. Co. has been issued by Receiver Willard Thompson. It is an interesting document to Eastern shippers. It shows that the road can, beyond question, be made to pay.
The report covers a period of eight months and ten days, previous to Dec. 31st, 1891. The net earnings of the road during that time is $17,700.75. This seems to be a very good record for a road. The report of the heavy operations on the other hand are not so encouraging. The report shows a loss of 7,488.08, during the five months and fifteen days the ferry was operated at Bay Ridge. When the route was changed from Bay Ridge to San directly to Baltimore from Clabborne the ferry became self sustaining, even a source of income, some $700 per month. The road does not seem any longer to be an experiment.
The company are at work now getting out a new time table to go into effect next week. The new schedule will provide for a morning and evening train both ways on the road—to Baltimore and to Ocean City.
In addition to these two trains there will be a local train daily from Clabborne to Ocean City and return.
The road under Mr. Thompson as receiver, assisted by Mr. A. J. Benjamin the general manager, has been ably managed.

Oyster Farming and County Roads.
In a speech before the Deer Creek Farmers' Club of Harford county, Mr. B. Howard Haman of Baltimore, says the Baltimore Sun, presented the oyster cultivation and the grounds would really be a lively interest among the intelligent farmers of Harford, Mr. Haman has devoted a great deal of time and study to the oyster question and has become entirely convinced of the propriety of lessening the barren oyster grounds of the state. He has prepared and urged before the Legislature several bills looking to this, but the opposition of the oyster men and dredgers has heretofore prevented the defeat of all leasing bills. Now he is making appeals to the self interest of the oyster men, who do not border on the bay and are equal owners of those which do of the Chesapeake bottoms. He tells the people of these counties that there are some 400,000 acres of barren oyster grounds which can be made productive of vast wealth by cultivation and the grounds would really be taken up at an annual rental of $1 per acre. This sum of $400,000, Mr. Haman thinks, could just as well be divided among the counties for making and maintaining roads. In addition to this, he argues, that the food supply of the state would be enormously increased and occupation given to additional thousands of people, who would be engaged in taking, transporting, shucking and packing the oysters, and all without interfering with the natural oyster beds.
